The body of a man has been found tortured and with his hands cut off at an isolated farmhouse in Cartagena. The victim, thought to be Lithuanian, was murdered, police believe, as a message in a feud between rival drugs gangs. Neighbours have told police the premises were used for growing marihuana. The man's killers left his body tied to the wooden post of a garden pergola, wrapped partly in polythene and wearing only his underpants.

The grisly discovery was made by a police patrol who had been dispatched to the location after the alarm was raised by a truck driver.

He was said to have first noticed the body in the morning but assumed from a distance that the man was resting. When he passed by the same location later that day he realised the man had not moved and alerted police. Officers found the man bloodied with multiple injuries to his body, and with his hands cut off.

Neighbours later told police that four men, thought to be from eastern Europe, had been living in the property for more than a year. They also said a fifth man was sometimes seen visiting them.

The men had been using the isolated premises, off the road between El Castillejo and Los Simonetes, for the illegal cultivation of marihuana.

Occasionally the plants could be seen growing through a boundary fence, police were told.

The identity of the dead man has not yet been revealed.

The owner of the property is believed to be from Madrid.

Traffic trauma

LOCAL POLICE in Cartagena have arrested two men after they were caught siphoning petrol from a number of parked cars in the Los Dolores neighbourhood. In a separate incident, a foreign individual was detained for carrying a fake driving licence and false Belgian identity card. He was stopped by traffic police after committing a traffic violation in his high end vehicle.

Port in a storm

THE Alicante Port committee has issued a statement denouncing the lack of Port Police, with patrols reduced to a single officer or not taking place at all. The committee believes that the security of the port cannot currently be guaranteed, describing the situation as unsustainable. The statement also laments the lack of specific training given to officers posted to the port.

DNA doo-doo

CREVILLENT Council has announced that DNA testing will be used to identify dog owners who do not pick up their pets' waste. A genetic record will be created for each dog in the municipality and these will be entered into a database, allowing the authorities to impose penalties for excrement left in public areas.

Gone with the wind and the rain

THE Valencian community is facing yet another clear-up operation due to bad weather, after strong winds lashed the region, bringing rain and hail.

Trees were uprooted and walls and roofs tumbled, while many public parks and gardens were temporarily closed.

In Benitachell, a 50-year-old man was wounded after a wooden advertising board crashed into his stomach after flying through the air, injuring several others.

Further down the coast, homes and businesses in Alicante City centre were left without internet after a particularly strong blast of air pulled up exposed cables in an area where two buildings are being demolished.

All in the line of duty

TWO Local Police officers from Pilar de la Horadada were injured in the line of duty. They were carrying out a normal patrol in the Pinar de Campoverde urbanisation when they spotted a suspicious car parked near a local supermarket.

Several individuals then ran out of the shop and took flight at great speed. As they attempted to leave the car park they rammed the front of the police car before heading to the Orihuela Costa where they crashed, but managed to escape on foot.

Damaged goods

THE president of Alicante Provincial Council, Cesar Sanchez, paid a visit to Callosa d'en Sarria to assess agricultural damage caused by the recent rain and snow storms. His first call was the town hall, where he met mayor Josep Saval plus various members of the farming community.

Fields and access roads dedicated to cultivating loquat were the worst affected, and Sanchez reassured the gathered throng that the provincial council will do all it can to coordinate

SPANISH FACTS OF LIFE...3

Views differ greatly over whether the Spanish are more loving than the Brits. But rest assured on Valentine's Day next Tuesday millions of locals and expats will be revealing their love to special ones.

Viva el amor!

ALTHOUGH not a traditional fiesta, St Valentine's Day is known as San Valentin in Spain, and is celebrated the same way as in the UK. Many Spaniards are convinced that it was only created to boost consumerism, though, and have dubbed Valentine's Day as the Dia de El Corte Ingles (El Corte Ingles Day) in a sarcastic reference to the famous department store.

Certain Spanish regions also celebrate their love on different days of the year. In Valencia, for example, October 9 is the most romantic day, when the Day of the Valencian Community coincides with the Day of Saint Dionysius, the patron saint of lovers. It is customary for

Latin lovers

LATIN countries dominate the ranking of the most romantic nationalities in the world, with Spain coming in fourth behind the sensual samba of Brazil, the ooh la la of France, and the legendary passion of Europe's most convincing Casanovas, Italy.

The UK does not make the current top 10, which also features Argentina, the Lebanon, United States, Sweden, Ireland and India.

A recent history

THE Anglo-Saxon tradition of giving flowers, sweets or other gifts to a loved one was introduced to Spain in 1948 by Jose 'Pepin' Fernandez Rodriguez, the financial aid promised by its regional counterpart.

Brushed off

RESIDENTS of Babilonia Beach in Guardamar del Segura are up in arms over news that the Valencian government will not release the funds needed to carry out desperately needed improvements to their beleaguered homes until July 2018. #### Trio tripped

THE Guardia Civil has detained three Moroccan men aged between 18 and 20 for allegedly committing a dozen burglaries in Santomera, Murcia.

The investigation was opened in November 2016 after police noticed a pattern emerging from a string of break-ins. In particular, all the houses targeted were in Santomera, and the objects stolen tended to consist of small tools and motorbikes.

Skimming the surface

THE national environmental ministry has dispatched its Limpiamar to the stricken Mar Menor lagoon in order to collect floating waste and liquid effluent. The specialised vessel will operate for 40 hours per week and will be based at the Los Nietos marina in Cartagena. The Limpiamar is designed to clean relatively shallow waters close to ports, beaches and coastlines.

Dirty caller arrested

A MAN has been arrested for coercing and harassing women with more than 13,500 sexual calls.

The 44-year-old was arrested in Elda by National Police for making the calls in which he moaned, gasped and panted in a sexual way. He made the calls through a hidden number and a telephone line that was in the name of a deceased person, making it increasingly difficult for police to trace him.

The investigation was launched last July after an underage girl reported she had received more than 400 calls in two weeks in which she only heard moans and panting.

It is reported he made more than 13,500 calls in just 100 days with his calls affecting the personal and professional lives of his victims.

He was arrested for a crime of stalking as police deemed his calls undermined the freedom and security of the victims.

Postscript to ponder

The number of active fishing vessels in Spain, forming the third largest fleet in the EU. Around 50 per cent of these are based in Galicia, with 19 per cent in Andalucia.

Virtually abducted

POLICE managed to stop a father from Zaragoza paying  $\in$ 10,000 to a criminal gang in Chile who falsely told him his son had been kidnapped. They said virtual kidnappings will start with a phone call to the anxious relative who may even hear a third party pretending to be the victim and to have been hurt by the gang.

The kidnappers usually demand immediate payment and victims are often chosen at random with the gang acting aggressively to provoke an emotional reaction. Spain's National Police say telltale signs can be a hidden or concealed telephone number or one beginning with +56, the STD for Chile from where many of these calls have originated.

Murder accused

A NIGHTCLUB janitor accused of shooting dead a man in the Portuguese city of Coimbra has been found hiding in a shelter for the homeless in Galicia.

Spanish police with their Portuguese counterparts swooped on the hostel in Vigo and arrested the man using a European Arrest Warrant.

ITUREN is a town and tiny municipality in northern Spain in the Pyrenees. It's made up of four small hamlets, one of them, also called Ituren, had just 518 inhabitants in 2012.

That's not a lot by any stretch of the imagination. But once a year it leaps to the top of any index measuring the oddest of local customs. Remember Morris dancers? Men with bells, ribbons and pigs' bladders? Well, this lot knock them into a cocked hat. On the first Monday and Tuesday of February its men and boys take part in a procession through the locality dressed in sheepskins and conical hats with ribbons, while carrying whips. But that's not all. Giant cowbells are strapped to their backs.

And as they progress they are confronted by other villagers dressed as witches and demons who must scatter as they walk through. The ceremony, not surprisingly, has a lot to do with good and evil, light and darkness and so on. You may think it's just quaint or done only for the tourists. But some researchers evidently think it could be one of the oldest carnival events in the whole of Europe. It's certainly one of the strangest....

Train crash

RELATIVES of 81 people killed in a high-speed train crash in Spain have received the backing of a highlevel group of MEPs. The Spanish inquiry into the 2013 crash in Santiago de Compostela was not independent, they said. Around 150 people were also injured in the accident. The MEPs said a fresh inquiry should be ordered.

Heroin gang

TWENTY-NINE people have been arrested in the Spanish cities of Madrd, Pontevedra and Ourense as police cracked down on a gang responsible for heroin trafficking in Galicia. Officers found a laboratory where a high-grade drug was mixed before being sold on the streets.

The heroin had come largely from the Balkans, Turkey and the Netherlands, police said. Among those arrested was a Spaniard who will be transferred to prison to serve a 14 year sentence and a Madrid surgeon who hid the drugs when it arrived in Spain.

Bowing out

A BULLFIGHTER'S final departure if it comes in the ring can make national headlines. But the latest sad statistic is the death of a timber salesman from the Wirral in England's north-west who fell in love with the sport and became known as El Niño. Peter Jones fought several times in the summer of 2001 after attending a festival in Salamanca. He finished his short-lived career without serious injury and remained deeply committed to the sport. His death at age 49 was revealed by colleagues at his local golf club.

DOCTORS are among 22 people arrested in Cadiz accused of defrauding more than €250,000 from the Andalucian Health Service. They face charges of embezzlement, fraud and falsifying documents. Police said false claims for prosthetic limbs and other items were made and the equipment often sold on at inflated prices. Many people went without their limbs because of the scam, according to police, who say it operated from 2012 to 2014. Those arrested include a number of medical staff from the Puerto Real and Puerta del Mar de Cadiz Hospitals.

A NORWEGIAN fugitive has been arrested in Torrevieja

A European arrest warrant was issued for the 27-yearold who fled his home country after being charged by police with a crime of raping a youngster under the age of 12.

It is claimed he was assaulting his victim for around a year after gaining the trust of the girl's parents. Taking advantage of the relationship he had with the family he spent time alone with the girl, repeatedly abusing her throughout 2014 and 2015.

After fleeing Norway, an international search was launched. It was believed he could be residing on the Costa Blanca where his mother lives. Police found him hiding at his mother's home in Torrevieja.

Copper Heeler brings relief from arthritis

MANY people have suffered with arthritis over the years, finding no long-term solutions, turning to strong medication to try and ease the pain, and thus putting up with a lesser quality of life. Malcolm Landsman, who had studied magnetic and copper therapy for years, realised he may have hit on the olution to easing the joint pain that so many people experience Copper Heelers are a simple accessory placed inside the heel of the Shoe that gives arthritis sufferers incredible results within weeks. This works by means of replacing the copper in the body that arthritis sufferers lack. We all need certain metal elements in order to thrive and one of those key elements is copper, it is an essential part of the minerals within the body. There are 25,000 sweat glands in the foot alone, and so this is a prime area to absorb copper and utilise its healing properties.

Copper also prevents inflammation around the joints, so there is a feeling of well-being all round. Malcolm has been marketing the Copper Heelers in Spain for more than five years now, and he has satisfied customers spreading the word about their change of life since using them. One lady from Las Siesta wrote to Malcolm only last week to say: "I have suffered for 10 years with the agony of arthritis, but since I have bought the Copper Heelers and worn them, my arthritis has improved in only five days!" This miracle insole has brought joy to many who have been restricted with movement in the past. For more information on the Copper Heelers, please visit the website at www.copperheeler.es or call Malcolm on 966 763 770.

COASTAL PROTECTION: Prevents urban development.

Pavitel Plan pelted

THE Ecologists in Action environmental group has announced it supports Valencia's Regional 'Pativel' Plan to protect the coast, but argues it has left out several important areas.

In a statement it said the plan was necessary to protect what remains of undeveloped coastline adding that the urbanisation of the coastal area since 1970 has caused serious damage to natural areas and their associated species, wetlands, landscape, agriculture and the marine environment. But the group believe "the Coastal Act and the land laws have come too late or have been lax and ineffective to protect the coastline."

The Pativel Plan aims to conserve and recognise the value of the region's coastline. It has marked out 6,500 hectares all within 1,000m from the coastline and in this area the plan prohibits certain activities. It prevents urban development although does allow for certain exceptions like golf courses and small sea-facing hotels.

It also identifies different soil types among which are those of greatest environmental, landscape and territorial values and second line areas of the coast that can support sports uses, golf courses and camp sites.

However, Ecologists in Action said the plan does not go far enough and many important zones had been missed. It wants an extension to include protection for local areas such as La Cala Lo Ferri, the dunes of Guardamar, La Mata lagoons, Cabo Santa Pola and the Aguamarga dunes.

OUR VIEW Sapphire anniversary

MANY people look to retire at the age of 65 but Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II at the age of 90 has served an incredible 65 years as monarch which is now a record from any British ruler although amazingly she is only the 43rd longest reigning monarch of all time.

King Sobhuza of Swaziland who was born in the 19th century and lived until 1982 served an amazing 82 years and 254 days but looking at 20th century European dynasties, Her Majesty actually faces no competition.

Quite understandably, she is cutting back on her public duties and it must be remembered that Prince Philip is now closing in on his 96th birthday, so it is clearly important that the royal couple take care of each other's health as they draw nearer to their platinum (70th) wedding anniversarv in November of this year.

There is no question the couple have enjoyed a life of privilege but equally, they (or more correctly the Queen) have been incredible ambassadors for Britain and have been in the public eye for so very long.

We at Euro Weekly News salute and congratulate Her Majesty on this incredible achievement.

Dangerous balconies

PROTECTIVE fences have been installed in camino del Rodalet del Barrio Santa Isabel in San Vicente del Raspeig to prevent pedestrians using the pavement as a number of balconies above are in danger of collapsing. A COSTA BLANCA vicar and a leading churchman had the chance to voice concerns about the British government's plans for Brexit at a top level meeting in Brussels.

Father Richard Seabrook, Chaplain for the Costa Blanca South and Andrew Johnson, Warden for Costa Blanca North, were representing the Church of England here in Spain.

They were among 17 volunteer delegates joined by Bishop Robert at a meeting facilitated by the Anglican church's Diocese in Europe and the UK Ambassador to Belgium, Alison Rose, using a video conference link to the embassy in Brussels for Lord George Bridges, a Minister in the UK government's Brexit Department, who was able to hear and respond to concerns.

Major concerns centred on future health provision abroad and in the UK, pensions affected by the lower rate of exchange for sterling, clergy recruitment and the problems of families with dual nationality.

The Venerable Richard Seabrook

from Torrevieja spoke of a deep fear about the future among older church members in Spain and France. He said this was already affecting peoples' emotional and mental health.

"Up until now people have received excellent medical treatment under the Spanish healthcare system" he said. "But are having to make personal choices now, based on other decisions which have yet to be made. They already face uncertainty because the value of their pensions are reduced by 20 per cent because of the fall in the pound's value since Brexit, their homes are worth less because of the state of the property market and they are worried that if they sell and return to Britain they may not be able to afford a home there."

Andrew Johnson, from Calpe asked if the rights of elderly people returning to Britain for economic and health reasons would mean they would be allowed full access to the NHS, for which most had already paid contributions.

Lord Bridges and the Ambassador assured of the Prime Minister's wish to settle the issue of reciprocal rights for UK nationals quickly after Article 50 is triggered.

After two hours airing the issues, participants said they felt their concerns had been heard but were saddened to have to return to their congregations with very few definitive answers.

CONSUL MEETING: Talking about Brexit in Playa Flamenca.

Consul meets with expats

BRITISH consul, Sarah-Jane Morris, addressed a full meeting room at the Playa Flamenca Town Hall to talk to British expats about Brexit.

As part of the Consul's pledge to keep people as informed as possible about the Brexit developments, the consulate team have been attending numerous meetings addressing residents, businesses and local groups since the referendum vote last summer: "It is important to tell you what we do know and what we don't know" said the Consul whilst admitting that unfortunately there is still many things they don't know.

She explained that since the referendum vote, they have been crunching the numbers to work out exactly how many Brits are living in Spain as she urged people to ensure they are registered on the padron to give them an accurate vision to present back to London. These numbers will be crucial when the negotiations begin to best represent the needs of British nationals living in Spain. Currently figures show around 250,000 British people on the padron in Spain and around 108,000 British nationals are receiving their pensions in Spain.

However there was uproar in the town hall building by some when the padron was mentioned with many criticising the local workings of the Orihuela government team, claiming they are being denied access to getting on the padron.

Some claimed despite having all the necessary paperwork they are still being told by the town hall team that they can't go on the padron. Councillor for Foreign Residents, Sofia Alvarez, who was also in attendance, assured this wasn't the case and pledged to look into individual cases, overseen by the Consul.

In talking about healthcare and pensions, again nothing has yet been confirmed about where people will stand and what the situation will be after Brexit, but Sarah-Jane Morris stressed that the consulate team in Alicante and Madrid were on hand to answer any questions and dispel any rumours as they worked to represent the British nationals in Spain.

No excuses for benefit fraud

The British Embassy Madrid

A BRITON who lived in Mazarron, in southwest Spain, and claimed that being penniless and homeless had left him no choice but to make a fraudulent claim for benefit has been handed two suspended prison sentences and ordered to repay in full the wrongfully claimed cash.

The 69-year-old, Michael Dugdale from Preston, failed to declare that he owned 50 per cent of a property in Mazarron, Murcia when making a claim for Pension Credit in 2007. An important detail which he again omitted on a review claim form three years later, in 2010.

Thanks to an anonymous tip-off via the Benefit

Fraud Hotline, DWP fraud teams based in the UK and Spain launched an investigation into his claim to uncover the truth.

Despite initially denying any wrongdoing, Dugdale was finally forced to admit to the fraud when presented with the Spanish property documents clearly showing that he owned 50 per cent of the Spanish property with his ex-partner.

Dugdale stated that his dire economic situation on his return to the UK from Spain in 2007 had left him no choice but to make a bogus claim for a benefit he knew he was not entitled to.

He pleaded guilty at Preston Crown Court to two charges of benefit fraud totalling over £35,000 and was given two eight month suspended prison sentences for each charge and ordered to repay the stolen funds in full or face imprisonment.

Income-related benefits such as Pension Credit or Income Support cannot be claimed if you live outside of the UK. And if you do live in the UK and make a claim, you must declare any property you own abroad as well as any in the UK. Not doing so is considered to be a criminal offence.

If you suspect someone of committing benefit fraud, call the Benefit Fraud Hotline in Spain on 900 554 440. Lines are open 8am to 4pm, Monday to Friday, and all calls are free and confidential. Alternatively you can report benefit fraud online at www.gov.uk/reportbenefit-fraud.

Airport misses the train

By Linda Hall

THE national government's €495 million bounty for Spain's local trains overlooked three vital Alicante City projects. The biggest disappointment was the hoped-for rail link between the city and the airport. This was first discussed seven years ago but the project does not enter into Ministry of Public Works plans.

The airport, Spain's fifth-largest, handles 12.3 million passengers a year and space was provided for a railway station when the new terminal opened five years ago.

Armando Ortuño, an urban planning expert and Alicante University lecturer, maintained that the airport is the worst-connected on Spain's Mediterranean coast. The Alicante-Murcia line is only one kilometre away and the €50 million cost of a NO RAIL LINK: Between the airport and Alicante City.

branch from the IFA fair complex would be offset by a potential seven million passengers each year.

Modernising the Alicante City-Murcia line which serves 3.6 million passengers each year remains on the back burner. This is one of the few lines in Spain that has missed out on electrification and its diesel trains serve a metropolitan area that is one of the country's most-populated.

The Alicante City to Villena shuttle, promised long before the AVE high speed train arrived in 2013, was another Ministry omission.

Two civic groups, Elche Piensa and Iniciativas Ciudadanas platform (PIC) based in Alicante called on the Ministry to rethink its plans for the airport. They also asked for local trains to use the AVE station now under construction in Elche and improved rail links for the Alicante-Elche-Crevillente area.

Elderly man forced into dark for weeks

A MAN who has been living for 15 days without electricity, has had his power put back on after news of his financial struggles spread.

The 83-year-old had been in the dark for more than two weeks and confessed he was living alone and with little resources.

The elderly resident of the Virgen del Carmen area of Alicante City, had accumulated a debt with the power company of  $\leq 1,500$ that he was not aware of. It is reported that a previous carer who had been helping him had not been paying the electricity bill and had been keeping the money.

However, the electricity company said

THE company reforming the hotel in Arenales announced that it was 'practically unviable' to continue the project.

It had encountered continual obstacles in its attempts to transform the frontline building into a four-star tourist complex, Princesol said. The Environment Ministry there had not been a contract since 2013 and so he was not in the system and the supply was ended due to non-payment of the outstanding debt. They have now contacted Alicante Town Hall asking for him to be included in the list of vulnerable clients and the city has pledged to take care of the debt and will assess if he needs more home help.

It was another carer who raised the alarm after finding him struggling and sleeping with three blankets to try and stay warm. She had brought him a flash light and a cane to help him move around the house and reported he was very happy to be back in the light.

Blame game

in Madrid and its Costas, its coastline protection department, were responsible for the delays and holdups, maintained Elche Council's spokeswoman Patricia Macia. Two months ago, Elche's mayor Carlos Gonzalez had asked for a meeting with Costas without having obtained a reply. "We call Costas every 10 days to remind them," Macia said.

Tasha Lynch appeal fund

THE Paul Cunningham Nurses (PCN) Charity has been attending to the nursing care of a very brave and positive young lady, Tasha Lynch, for the past four months.

Tasha, sadly at the age of 23, is suffering two very rare viruses, Myasthenia Gravis and Transverse Myelitis.

With Myasthenia Gravis, the immune system blocks the communication between nerves and the muscles. Both these incurable diseases damage the autoimmune system causing it to attack healthy tissue. In simple terms the nerves are not telling the muscles what to do.

This then can lead to issues with mobility, eating, swallowing breathing and speaking. Tasha is currently being fed through a tube and also has a tracheostomy which allows her to breath.

Tasha has these long-term

illnesses, and has now been discharged from the hospital and will require a far more prolonged and specialist nursing care than is normally required with other patients.

Tasha, sadly at the age of 23, is suffering two very rare viruses, Myasthenia Gravis and Transverse Myelitis.

The charity does not normally deal with long-term care. With this in mind it is appealing to the general public to help raise much needed funds to enable PCN to continue with Tasha's particular nursing costs.

The charity has added the Tasha Appeal collection tins within its shops in Quesada, La Marina, Playa Flamenca and Almoradi. It will also be holding events in Tasha's name to help raise some extra funding, which is required urgently.

Should you wish to donate to this very special lady, please drop by to one the shops. Or telephone the office on 966 790 363 to make your donation, or organise an event.

PCN has already prepared two special events for the Tasha appeal. The first will be a Paul Cunningham Event at The Club, Quesada on February 18 with Abba Elite and will have the Tasha Appeal collection tins available for all who wish to donate. Should you wish to reserve a seat for this event, please telephone the Club on 966 717 028.

The second event organised will be a charity fun quiz night on March 28 at MJs Bar and Restaurant, Quesada at 7.30pm. Ticket price will be €7.50 and will include a one-course dinner. There will also be a raffle during the evening and all monies raised will be for the Tasha Appeal Fund. For more information call 865 665 231.

PCN would like to thank the Euro Weekly News for its continued help and also everyone for their generous support for the charity and for this special appeal.

FIRE CREWS: Attended the accidents to release the drivers.

Two die in separate accidents in one day

ALICANTE Province suffered two fatalities in one day in two separate car accidents.

The first accident occurred on the A-70 in Alicante. A 43-year-old woman died when two cars collided head on at the height of the Madrid exit. Fire crews rescued the woman who was trapped in her car but she later died in hospital. The driver of the other vehicle, a Kia Sportage suffered minor injuries.

A few hours later and another collision occurred between an Audi and a Peugeot in Cox. Again, fire crews were in attendance to release the driver of one of the vehicles, but the 47-year-old man passed away. The driver of the second vehicle was taken to the Vega Baja hospital with slight injuries.

The accident happened in the town just 100m from a supermarket in an area where it is possible, although not allowed, to travel at high speeds and speed is being considered the possible cause of the accident.

THE government was urged to impose a tax on department stores and big shops to subsidise public transport.

This suggestion, included in what is now known as the Alicante Declaration, came from the Atuc association, which represents the city's urban transport operators.

Pair jailed over waste plant body

TWO of the three men accused of the murder of a man whose dismembered body was discovered in a waste recycling plant in Elche, have been remanded in custody as investigations continue.

The body of the victim, a Spanish citizen, aged around 60 years, was found last September by a worker at the recycling plant in Elche.

It is believed he was killed at his home and dismembered and mutilated before being thrown in to a rubbish bin in Torrevieja which then arrived at the waste plant in Elche. It was here that an operator discovered a head on September 1, 2016 which led to an intensive search which then found legs and intestines.

One of the detainees, a Spanish national, has an extensive criminal history. The other two are Colombians, arrested as alleged 'collaborators and accomplices' according to the High Court of Valencia, although one of the men has not yet been brought to justice.

The victim lived on Orihuela Costa but owned several parking lots in Torrevieja, and it is believed that a dispute over these could have played a part in his death with the crime motivated by money.

Death of bees is worrisome for food chain

AS the first flowers on the fruit trees begin to appear, millions of bees are at risk of dying.

According to Greenpeace and the Association of Beekeepers of the Murcia Region (AARM), the use of "very toxic" pesticides during these early buds, causes millions of bees to die.

Murcia is the region where these pesticides are most used and the third most affected by the loss of pollinators, according to data collected by the environmental organisation.

Greenpeace experts have witnessed the "great mortality of bees this year" particularly around the Mazarron area with the AARM asking the regional authorities to act "urgently" and prohibit the use of pesticides during this flowering period.

The AARM said these products are like "atomic bombs" that not only kill crop pests, but also bees which are the main allies of farmers acting as wild pollinators.

A report prepared by Greenpeace warns that Murcia agriculture is the third most threatened in Spain due to the loss of pollinators.

Carlos Zafra from AARM acknowledges that the problem is "worrisome" because it affects a "fundamental link in the food chain."

PESTICIDES: Kill crop pests and the bees.

The organisation has called for a peaceful concentration in front of the Ministry of Water, Agriculture and Environment of Murcia on February 16, to highlight the problem and their concerns.

Britain beyond Brexit

THE British Ambassador to Madrid, Simon Manley, visited Marbella on Friday February 3 as a guest of the British Chamber of Commerce in Spain (BCC) to present his view on the topic 'Britain beyond Brexit.'

A packed room at the Marbella Country Club listened to representatives of the BCC, and Marbella Mayor Bernal before Mr Manley rose to give his address.

As was to be expected, he was not in a position to give any concrete information concerning the British government's negotiating position nor could he confirm the future of expatriates in Spain, but he was very upbeat and confident in his expectations and explanations.

He commenced by saying that the government had made it clear it intends to respect the will of the people, as the majority had voted to leave the European Union and now that the initial White Paper giving the government the right to invoke Article 50 has been passed, the next step will be to obtain a final vote from the Houses of Commons and Lords.

The next two years are important to all Britons and whilst we have to face change, this is the chance to create a new future in a respected and tolerant Global Britain.

The Ambassador acknowledged that negotiations will be difficult as we are all sailing in uncharted waters and we need to remember that any negotiation will have to take into account not just what we want, but what the rest of EU wants as well.

> We share the same values and will continue to work together both in business and on a per-

Free trade is important and it is worth reflecting on the fact that Britain has done much to help the creation of Spain in the past, both through investment, industrialisation and as allies during a number of wars in the 19th century in particular.

One thing that the British government is committed to is to settle the situation of expatriates and the EU as quickly as possible, as it understands how worrying this lack of knowledge can be.

With 18 million tourists from the UK spending €16 billion a year in Spain, coupled with British purchases which show a €10 billion imbalance in favour of Spain, there is no question that Britain is an incredibly important market and trading partner, especially as it has such a large population of expatriates as well.

According to Mr Manley, capitalism is about the share of wealth and neither country needs new trade barriers to make relationships difficult and with British companies investing €66 billion in Spain and employing 250,000 people, there is every reason to expect Spain to want to negotiate a decent agreement.

The government understands that many people felt let down when they were unable to vote in the referendum, but that is changing for future general elections and the Embassy and its consulates around Spain are reporting feedback from expats to the government which will help to inform negotiations.

THE Partido Popular's president and secretary general in Torrevieja rejected the council's 2017 budget, alleging 'irregularities.'

Eduardo Dolon and Joaquin Albaladejo described the budget as "totally fictitious and clearly detrimental to Torrevieja."

They were drawing attention to the Aquopolis water park and suspected defects in the town hall's agreement to extend its contract for occupying municipal land by another 15 years. "The town hall that continually bewails its lack of staff is the same one that managed in 28 days to resolve the details of the most important patrimonial contract ever signed by extending a non-extendable contract," Dolon declared.

Albaladejo also wanted to know the whereabouts of the €2 million investment promised in May last year: "They don't appear anywhere on the contract," he complained. CHEESED OFF: Eduardo Dolon.

Three months without vital care

DEPENDENCY care services have been missing in San Miguel de Salinas for more than three months.

The social worker who performed the service is off sick and the work has not been covered, a situation denounced by the San Miguel Arcangel Neighbourhood Association.

The association has approached the councillor for Social Services demanding the immediate restoration of the service that is "of vital importance for the quality of life, mainly of the elderly and their families."

They also complained about the length of time it takes to process applications and assess those people in a situation of dependency and needing help.

SALT LAKE: Releasing the water in three different spots will prevent a concentration of salt.

Fresh water dilutes salt lake

By Linda Hall

APPROXIMATELY 3.6 million cubic metres of excess water must be removed from Torrevieja's salt lake.

The water has a salt content of 170 grammes per litre and the operation must be completed without harming the marine environment, particularly the meadows of Posidonia or Ocean Grass.

Seawater contains 30 grammes per litre and the residue from the desalination plant contains 70, hence the need to protect the local ecosystem.

The 3.6 million cubic litres are only a fraction of the 11 hectometres of fresh water that entered the 1,400-hectare lagoon during torrential rain in December and January, said the salt processing company, Salins du Midi.

Unless excess water is removed their annual production of 700,000 tons will be affected, the company explained.

They already have permission to evacuate one million cubic metres via the canal linking the lagoon in Torrevieja with La Mata's and are currently discussing ways of removing the remainder with the Generalitat.

The company hopes for permission to release the excess water through the Acequion into Torrevieja bay and via the desalination plant's outlets as well as the canal that channels off agricultural irrigation water to the Ferris area.

Releasing the water in three different spots will prevent a concentration of salt, Salins du Midi explained.

A LONG-TIME resident of Mojacar showed up for the busking efforts organised by the Bradley family. Tony Christie, best-known for his recording of 'Is this the way to Amarillo,' helped support Fin and Richard Devlin.

So Fin & Rich Devlin busked today for Leo the Lion. Tony Christie called by and very kindly donated and offered to share Leo's story on his social media

Former Real Madrid footballer supports Leo

FORMER Real Madrid defender and Spanish youth team player, Leo Bermejo, is the latest celebrity to support the fight against cancer of his four-year-old namesake, Leo 'the lion' Bermejo.

As well as sharing the player's name, young Leo loves football and his favourite team also happens to be Real Madrid.

Bermejo, the player, a tough leftback in the 90's, shared a tweet posted by the Euro Weekly News asking him to help the youngster in his fight against cancer.

The tweet said: 'Could you RT (retweet) to help a young football fan like yourself? His favourite team is Real Madrid!'

LITTLE Leo Bermejo is made of the right stuff. He cannot talk but he is a happy, energetic four-year-old who just a day ago underwent a long operation at Merseyside's famous Alder Hey Hospital.

The surgeons' task was to cut away the tumours in young Leo's brain that have hampered every step of a life that has barely started.

As his mother Karen says, Leo is a fighter. "He is so happy and when you see him he is playing and laughing. He does everything."

But the tumours Leo is battling are caused by a rare cancer that mostly attacks children, boys in particular and often those under four.

And when they grow they grow very fast. This is why this brave voungster can't speak because they have already dam-

But Leo, who has fought back after one major operation now faces his toughest battle of all.

Once the Alder Hey surgeons have done their work, there is no more that can be done for him anywhere in the UK. Conventional radiotherapy would be too damaging to his young brain.

His only hope, and the option that offers him the chance of ridding himself of the tumours once and for all, is a treatment called proton therapy.

And the specialist unit which has worked on SPNET tumours before, is in the US, in the Mid-

The characteristic is that the tumours grow and grow fast. They are located in the cerebrum, the part of the brain that governs Leo's speech, his emotions, his voluntary muscular movements and even his ability to reason and solve problems.

SPNET tumours are extremely malignant. After Leo's first operation in Pamplona, the western state of Oklahoma.

"It's Leo's best chance," says Karen. "Proton beam therapy is his only remaining option.

"Oklahoma is the best possible place for this kind of treatment so I have to do everything I can to get him there."

US specialist Dr Andrew Chang has already been in touch with Alder Hey and is waiting for Leo to recover sufficient strength to make the trip to the US.

"With proton therapy," says Karen "Leo can still progress. He will have the chance to learn again, to move his right side and regain some speech.

"And he won't have the problems that will affect his organs in the future.

"This is Leo's last hope for a life and we have to take it."

The other hurdle that the family need to cross, with the help of an army of supporters from Spain, the UK and in some cases, far flung parts of the world, is the money. And that is where you, our readers and advertisers, come in.

To pay for his stay and the several bouts of treatment he needs, team Leo - that's mum, dad Jose and sister Sofia, along with their family friends and his supporters like every one of us - they need to raise €175.000.

The plight of this little boy, who will not give up, has touched the hearts of thousands. When Euro Weekly News found out we began featuring the plight of this brave family in our papers and on the web.

with advertisers who have so generously answered the call, the total on Leo's gofundme page is climbing inexorably towards the  $\in 175,000$  total.

But we still have some way to go. And that is where you come in. If you can help Leo get the treatment that could mean the gift of life, then all the details are on these pages. Together we can get Leo the treatment he so deserves. Any donation, big or small, will make a huge difference.

signs that they were re-emerging took just nine weeks. And they do not stay in the same place. Once the tumours have been removed, conventional radiation on a young brain is damaging. So for Leo the answer is proton therapy. At high energies, the positively charged protons can destroy cancer cells without being so damaging to Leo's body.

The treatment allows the surgeon greater control when delivering the right dose. There are thought to be less than 40 such specialist units in the world and there is nowhere in the UK with such a facility.

One of the few such treatment centres is in Oklahoma where you, our readers and advertisers, are helping to send Leo!

She added: "I feel so much stronger with all of this support behind our family."

Celebrities have been helping out, many of them retweeting to keep Leo's profile as high as possible.

EWN Exclusive British Ambassador Manley speaks to E

By John Smith

THE British Ambassador to Spain, Simon Manley holds an incredibly important position now that Britain intends to leave the European Union as he represents the UK in one of its most important European trading partners and whilst in Malaga on Friday February 3 granted Euro Weekly News an exclusive interview.

Mr Manley spent the day travelling between Madrid, Malaga and Marbella firstly to visit the English Cemetery and then to discuss Brexit at a special event organised by the British Chamber of Commerce in Spain.

He is often mentioned in the media but generally articles concentrate on what he is saying today and in this interview, he agreed to give more of an insight to the man himself and his history prior to his appointment as well as his current role.

He entered service with the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in King Charles Street, London in 1990 and has worked his way through the service with two postings to the Embassy in Brussels, one to the British Consulate in New York, two periods of secondment to the European Union and most recently a return to London where he was Director of European Affairs and Head of Counter Terrorism in the FCO.

Whilst one might assume that the role of counter terrorism would sit with the Police and Security Services, the Foreign Office also has to have a very close involvement in such matters especially when British citizens suffered as happened in both Bali and Mumbai.

In the days when the government would simply pick a new Ambassador to post overseas, many were the times when the 'old boy network' came into play, but for several years the majority of such posts have been advertised as new jobs and candidates appointed on merit.

This was the case with Simon Manley who had to spend four months in a language laboratory to ensure that his Spanish was completely up to date.

Spain is one of the most important positions in the diplomatic service worldwide, with more consulates than any other country because of the size of the expatriate population and the enormous amount of trade which occurs between our two countries.

His role is just not just a commercial one nor indeed as an observer of expatriate and tourist needs, as a lot of this is dealt with at ground level with the consulates, but because of his background he has close relationships with the Spanish government over matters of security and there is also considerable co-operation in matters of criminality.

Putting words into his mouth, a general conversation confirmed that it is a little frustrating for him to be unable to give any guaranteed information concerning Brexit and how it will affect Britons in Spain as until negotiations are completed no one knows what the results will be, although it is government policy to try to have the case of expatriates agreed at the earliest opportunity. Part of his role is to try to explain to the government and civil servants in the UK, the hopes, expectations and fears of those British passport holders living in Spain and the need for their wishes to be incorporated into any Brexit negotiations.

The International Cofradia needs you

THIS year will be the 13th vear that the Paso of Jesus in the Garden of Olives (Cofradia de Nuestro Padre Jesús en la Oración del Huerto de los Olivos) has been carried through the streets of Torrevieja during Holy Week by the International Cofradia.

To carry the Paso effectively International Cofradia require about 100 men, each year needing to recruit approximately 20 new members to replace those who for one reason or another are unable to take part.

This is a fantastic opportunity to participate in one of the most important events in the local Spanish cultural and religious calendar. Those who have carried the Paso in previous processions will testify to the fact that it is a unique experience and one everyone will remember for the rest of their lives. You do not have to be super fit to take part; most of the members are retired and certainly not in the 'first flush of youth.'

It is particularly important this year that International Cofradia recruits more new members than they traditionally have because they are anticipating losing quite a few of their existing team. If they are unable to assemble around 100 people they will be forced to push the

Paso during the processions rather than carrying it and that would be a great disappointment, not just to International Cofradia but also to the many thousands of people who line the streets to watch the processions

If you are interested in taking part please contact David McLachan on 865 661 937 who can provide further details or go along to to the first official meeting of the International Cofradia which will be held on Thursday March 2. This is principally for registration of existing and new members.

The group will then meet each Thursday on March 9, March 16, March 23, March 30 and again on April 6 when the Paso will be taken down to be parked behind the Inmaculada Church in the centre of Torrevieja ready for the Easter processions during Semana Santa.

The meetings will be held at the Semana Santa Museum on the outskirts of Torrevieja starting at 7.30pm. The subscription fee for membership has been kept at €35.

If you are an existing member please make sure you attend the first meeting and if you have not already done so, why not bring along a friend to become part of this unique group of people. Existing members who are not taking part this year should bring their uniform to the first meeting or contact Paul Mutter on 671 218 285

THE success of Grand Theft Auto, one of the best-selling computer games of all time which was created by a team of two Scotsmen and an Englishman saw their company Rock Star Games become a subsidiary of Take-Two Interactive which has an annual turnover of €2.2 billion.

Now Take-Two, the Nasdaq listed company has announced that it will be taking over Spain's privately owned Social Point which produces games for mobile phones and tablets and will be paying €163 million with the balance in Take-Two shares.

Horacio Martos and Andrés Bou co-founded Social Point in Barcelona 2008. The company has gone on to become one of the world's leading developers of online social games.

Since Social Point's inception, Horacio and Andrés have remained faithful to their original vision of connecting players through social gaming, and providing the most enjoyable, immersive playing experience. Prior to founding Social Point, they qualified at the same universities before working as computer analysts and consultants in the tech sector.

One of their games, Dragon City has become extremely popular and some 50 per cent of all downloads and revenue comes from the USA which is why the company appealed to Take-Two, especially as it has 50 million followers worldwide.

This is a major step into the mobile gaming world for the American company as it looks to continue its growth and market domination.

Bartering in Asturias

THANKS to the decline of the coal mining industry in the autonomous community of Asturias in northern Spain, unemployment rocketed with few opportunities for the younger generation unless they moved to larger and more prosperous areas.

Those who have remained however have looked to the past and are producing various food and drink products in the traditional ways and have developed a form of bartering which allows them to move their products on, even if finances are strained.

There is even an online bartering community known as Rastru which allows members to offer their goods in exchange for those that they need.

Quote of the Week If you mop the floor, or you're the managing director, a nice pat on the head goes down well occasionally. Just as a kick up the backside is required sometimes." The late Sir Ken Morrison founder of the supermarket chain.

Phones used for Olympic medals

OLYMPIC MEDALS: Some of the winners.

AN idea originally raised last year has been turned into reality as the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Committee has announced that its medals will be made from metals obtained from the recycling of old and obsolete mobile phones.

They expect to need to produce 5,000 gold, silver and bronze medals and with a need for two tons of metal to allow this, they hope to obtain as much scrap material as possible, especially as Japan does not have large deposits of minerals and metals.

Anxious to show that it is committed to sustainable production, the committee hopes to reduce costs by collecting these old phones from offices and stores starting in April of this year.

One saving already in place is that the gold medals are no longer made from gold, but are silver which is gold plated as silver costs around  $\in 16$  per troy ounce, whilst gold costs €1,100 per troy ounce.

THE Spanish National Institute of Statistics has revealed that inflation in January 2017 was 3 per cent, which is up from 1.6 per cent in the previous month and was caused mainly by the increase in the cost of electricity and fuel oil.

Insider trading investigation

AFTER announcing the German and London Stock Exchanges were considering a merger, financial investigators flagged up the fact Deutsche Boerse CEO Carsten Kengeter purchased stock in the Boerse to the value of €4.5 million prior to the announcement. This now means German prosecutors are investigating Herr Kengeter on suspicion of insider trading although he and the Boerse insist he was simply exercising a right to purchase the shares before the merger had been discussed.

Bank of England rethinks forecasts

By John Smith

THOSE who predicted that the UK economy would not be adversely affected by the Brexit decision were dealt a blow by the Bank of England which gave a very gloomy forecast immediately following the referendum decision.

The Bank expects the economy to sustain reasonable growth over the next three years.

Now just over six months later, the situation is definitely reversed with the Bank having to completely review its growth forecast upwards yet again to a figure of 2 per cent for 2017 which is only marginally lower than the forecast in May 2016 when it was assumed that Britain would remain in the EU.

The Bank had previously said that following the referendum result, its actions had done a great deal to stave off a possible disaster and now suggests that higher internal spending by the government as revealed in the Chancellor's last budget review has helped to make the figures look better than expected.

Looking further forward the Bank also expects the economy to sustain reasonable growth over the next three years thanks to a stronger than expected world economy, cheaper credit options and a decision by the British public to reduce savings as borrowing is cheaper.

These revelations therefore accounted for the fact that there was no hike in the interest rates which continue at a low of 0.25 per cent, although many analysts expect this to be increased sooner rather than later.

Wages have not increased according to expectations so that any cut in unemployment is currently unlikely to see an increase in inflation which is still at an acceptable level, but this is subject to the pound recovering further against the dollar and euro and with the expectation that consumer spending will begin to tail off.

Should inflation begin to increase above acceptable levels then there is little doubt that a speedy increase in the base rate will be implemented.

In many ways these announcements come as something of an embarrassment for both the Bank of England and Governor Mark Carney who recently indicated that he would not leave his post until Brexit has been completed.

If the government and industry cannot rely upon forecasts from the most influential of financial institutions in the UK, then the economy itself could be damaged, especially at a time when Britain is trying to negotiate itself out of the EU and into new trade deals with countries worldwide.

Now that approval has been given in Parliament for the government to proceed to invoke Article 50, the next step will be to review the contents of the White Paper covering the government's overall strategy for Brexit and market reaction to that may well give a strong pointer to how accurate these latest forecasts may be.

Saving their bacon

AFTER reports that due to the appalling weather in parts of Spain there would be a shortage of a number of vegetables and fruit in British supermarkets, news is now coming in of a bacon shortage in the USA.

There may well be a sudden surge in downloads of the video game Aporkalypse - Pigs of Doom, but there has been something of an online panic as Twitter users worry about the latest news from the US Department of Agriculture that reserves of frozen pork bellies had fallen significantly.

It appears that despite President Trump's fear that the country is being swamped by Muslims, that sales of pork bellies from which American Bacon is mainly produced have risen considerably.

America has been experimenting with bacon recently and the advent of bacon cheesecake, ice cream, smoothies, cupcakes, doughnuts and popcorn coupled with the introduction of all-day breakfasts by major chains has meant that most fresh pork meat has been sold rather than frozen and put into storage.

According to the Department of Agriculture report, stocks have dropped from 22 million kilos to just over eight million kilos in a year which has triggered some fear about prices and scarcity of tasty porcine comestible.

BACON SHORTAGE: This little piggy went to market.

Whilst it is possible that Danish producers will be looking to increase their production, representatives of American pig councils have acted swiftly to advise that the number of pigs in America is greater than ever, although there may be some short term price increases,

On a more serious note, any shortage which results in price rises must be considered counter-productive and in Zambia several years ago, there were a number of deaths when one particular type of maize was in short supply and many people refused to consume an alternative and different coloured maize which was supplied as aid by the US Government.

A different fashion connection

NOW that Sports Direct seems to have ridden out the tide of negative publicity about its treatment of staff, owner Mike Ashley is reported to have gained control over an 11 per cent stake in fashion chain French Connection.

It would appear that he now has access to 10.7 million shares in the company which may be ripe for a takeover by using an unusual form of investment known as a 'contract for difference' which gives him a very strong position to either benefit from a sale to a third party or if he wishes to make an offer himself.

The bulk of his new shareholding came from asset managers Schroders and it is known that Sports Direct which owns a number of clothing brands such as Lonsdale and Everlast offers a number of French Connection items in its stores.

The main shareholder of French Connection with 42 per cent is founder Stephen Marks, but he has been under considerable pressure from a consortium of business shareholders as the company has been making consistent losses for the last five years.

The introduction of Mike Ashley could mean that French Connection could well be ripe for a significant change in its fortunes in the not too distant future.

Bla Bla Car says ha ha

A COMPANY which was founded in France and has offices around the world, Bla Bla Car has just fought off a claim made in court by the Spanish Confederation for Bus Transport (Confebus) which asserted that it was improperly acting as a transport company.

It argued that car sharing of this type was helping to depress the market for bus and coach journeys and therefore should be banned in Spain.

Bla Bla Car, however denied it was a transport company but simply a social network that brings together drivers and passengers who wish to share the cost of their journey and it makes a charge for the introduction.

The matter was heard before a Madrid court which ruled those drivers using Bla Bla Car are not employees of that company, nor are they in the main professional drivers touting their business for hire and reward.

In addition, it ruled they were not looking to make a profit from the journey but were simply sharing the costs incurred.

Confebus does have the right of appeal against this service and city councils who feel that this business undermines their local bus services could also decide to take action against the company in the future.

Losing mental capacity whilst living abroad

MANY UK expatriates living in Spain own properties in the UK and have pensions and investments in the UK. They rely on their UK assets to maintain their lifestyles (and those of their families) in Spain. If they can no longer manage their affairs in the UK due to a loss of mental capacity, it can cause many difficulties.

You can choose a person or people, who you trust, to act for you when you are no longer able.

The best way to avoid the legal and practical difficulties that can occur with the loss of mental capacity is to plan for it in advance by drawing up a document called a 'Lasting Power of Attorney' ('LPA').

An LPA must be made while you have full mental capacity.

What is an LPA?

An LPA is a legal document that enables you to appoint one or more attorneys to act for you when you are no longer able to act for yourself. Your attorney can be a professional, such as a solicitor or a family member or friend.

There are two types of LPA: 'Health and Welfare' or 'Property and Financial Affairs'

An LPA must be made while you have full mental capacity. It is therefore important to make one while you are in good health.

Why should you get an LPA?

You can choose a person or people, who you trust, to act for you when you are no longer able.

If you lose your mental capacity and do not have an LPA, then your family (or the authorities) will have no choice but to make an application to the Court of Protection to appoint a 'deputy' to look after your affairs, which can be time consuming and costly.

Will my LPA be recognised in Spain? Unfortunately there is no international type of LPA which is guaranteed to work in both the UK and Spain.

The advice we give to our clients at Stone King, is that if you have assets in both Spain and the UK, your only safe option is to appoint attorneys in both jurisdictions.

It's a big and nasty world out there folks

LEAPY LEE SAYS IT

CAN'T quite believe I'm doing Trump again this week but the man is such wonderful column fodder, I find him almost impossible to resist.

At least the court order, reversing his blanket ban on travellers from seven Muslim countries proved one thing. That no man, even the president of the United States, is in fact an island.

Hopefully the overruling by the federal judge, finally convinced the naïve whingers ('one dangerous finger hovering over the red button' etc) that there are a considerable number of factors involved before decisions of this magnitude can be implemented, even in a retaliatory mode. Dr Strangelove he ain't! more blatant, and somewhat less subtle, I also agree with Trump that, if the situation calls for it, most countries are very capable and do most certainly engage in assassinations, including the UK.

Although Russia may be a little

To my mind there is no doubt that Stephen Ward, who featured in the Christine Keeler/Mandy Rice scandal of the 60's was topped, before he could blow the whistle on one or two characters (highly rumoured to be royalty) being participants in the sex orgies involved. I am also convinced that the tragic Dr Kelly was murdered on orders from the government, prior to revealing the lies and false information concerned in the weapons of destruction issues that ultimately led us into the war on Iraq.

James Bond and his licence to kill appointment is actually not far from the truth. I think the assassins of the CIA and British secret service, are far more lethal and mercenary than the romantic 007 ever was. So full marks to PDT for once again speaking out. However shocking his state-again speaking out. However shocking his statements may seem, my message to the so-called patriots, who think their countries are whiter than white and couldn't possibly be involved in such unacceptable practices, I say get a life.

It's a big nasty world out there, and we just may need big and nasty people to make sure we survive in it.

Keep the Faith. Love Leapy. Leapylee2002@gmail.com

See Joe Longthorne with his full band live in concert

JOE LONGTHORNE was born into a show business family: his parents were both travelling show people. When he was six he came first in a talent show and his prize was a toy motor car. At 14 he landed a part in Yorkshire Television's series, Junior Showtime, and remained with the show for over two years.

He then turned professional and earned a living in northern working men's clubs. It was through the London Weekend Television series Search For a Star in 1981 that Longthorne was first launched onto the British televiewing public as a singer and impressionist and his success on the show led to appearances at the London Palladium and a month-long season at London's Talk of the Town.

The following year Longthorne received the Variety Club's award for most promising artiste. In 1985 he was invited to headline a season at the Drury Lane Theatre in Chicago, Illinois. He made a further breakthrough on British television in 1987, starring in Live From The Palladium and Des O'Connor Tonight. Longthorne also released three platinum albums for Telstar, The Joe Longthorne Songbook, Especially for You and the Joe Longthorne Christmas Album.

It was around the time of his appearance at the Royal Variety Performance in 1989 that he was diagnosed with lymphoma. After responding to treatment Longthorne embarked on a tour of Australia and appeared on The Mike Walsh Show.

Longthorne continued performing into the early 1990s with sell-out performances at the Royal Albert Hall, the Sydney Opera House and the London Palladium. His music videos Live in Concert and A Man and His Music were steady sellers in the 1990s but financial problems from past mismanagement led him to bankruptcy in the latter part of the decade.

His illness degenerated into leukaemia and he underwent a bone marrow transplant. In 2006 Longthorne performed again at the London Palladium and in 2007 the Variety Club awarded him their Lifetime Achievement Award, which placed him amongst past recipients such as Frank Sinatra, Judy Garland, Ella Fitzgerald, Wayne Dobson, Freddie Parrot Faced Davies and Gary Wilmotts. In August 2009, Longthorne appeared in a tribute show to Don Black at the London Palladium. He currently lives in his adopted hometown of Blackpool.

Joe with his full band will be playing at the Benidorm Palace on April 9, with special guest support by Rebecca Holt. For tickets and information contact the Benidorm Palace Box Office on 965 851 660 or www.heatwavepromo tions.com or call 629 056 720.

LEGALLY SPEAKING Clamping down on repeat offenders

AS part of the series, we answer some common driving questions and keep you updated on the latest driving and road news kindly provided by members of the Guardia Civil based in Torrevieja, Costa Blanca, who set up the N332 website and Facebook page to help break down barriers.

OURENSE: The DGT has seized vehicles from repeat road safety offenders.

A TOTAL of 22 vehicles have been seized in Ourense, in Galicia, north western Spain.

The DGT took the vehicles from repeat road safety offenders. Although seemingly extreme, the action was taken on account of the severity of the repeat offences. The public prosecutor said each of the owners would have potentially had their vehicles seized for accumulating at least three consecutive convictions in a two year period for various crimes, such as drink and drug driving, or driving without a valid licence.

Of the vehicles seized, 19 have been scrapped. The remaining three are being held as evidence on account of continued investigations being carried out.

The Guardia Civil arrested 362 people in Ourense in 2016, all for serious offences against road safety. The majority were related to alcohol with 204 drivers arrested for driving whilst over the alcohol limit.

As well as clamping down on offenders, it is hoped it will enhance road safety for users. Last year, across the Spanish road network system, there were 1,038 fatal incidents in which 1,160 people lost their lives. A further 5,067 people needed hospital treatment as a result of a traffic accident.

Befuddled by English language

COMPUTERS are now such an integral part of everyday life you can't imagine being without them but they can also be annoying so and sos when they decide to go wrong. Well not even when they go wrong, just when they do not do what you want them to do.

I have an iPhone and use iCloud to store my photos and other bits and they are meant to automatically download to my PC which is quite new and runs on Windows 10. This means that I should have all my photos available on all my devices ... except I haven't because, for some reason, they won't show up on my PC. I've tried everything. I've installed the latest updates of everything.

I then checked on the internet and it told me to uninstall everything and do this, that and the other but still it doesn't work. I got in touch with Apple and they said it was a Windows problem and guess what Microsoft said? Yup, spot on, they said it's an Apple problem. So after all that I am no better off.

I've probably spent a month trying to sort it out (not all day everyday) but I've basically given up on it because, to be honest, I can't be arsed anymore.

The English language befuddles me sometimes. For instance, what's the difference between a serviette and a napkin? They are both the same aren't they? The dictionary says they are, so why have two words for the same thing? And, of course, a napkin is also what we put babies in. How about afters, dessert, pudding, sweet? Is it a class thing? I have 'afters' and the snotty cow that lives over the road has dessert? Just wondering...

I often get grumpy with restaurants as you know. I make no apology for it as they continue to do the most stupid things to wind me up. One of my favourite places closes in November and reopens again in February so we popped in for something to eat. When I looked at the menu the prices on quite a few items had gone up. Now, of course you are wondering, how would you know?

You wouldn't remember the prices of stuff on a menu and you are quite right I don't. In fact, I didn't have a clue what the prices were except instead of having new menus printed in their break, the idiots just tippexed out the old price and wrote the new one in. Seriously, how dumb is that? I would never have known but now I've got the hump, not because the price has gone up, but because of their laziness in disguising their increases.

I will be on Talk Radio Europe Friday 10 at 11.30am having a bit of a Trump grump. Listen, call in or email mikesenker@gmail.com.

ZARAGOZA:

Your day of travel starts with a short stop in Teruel. Centred around the Plaza de Torico (meaning small bull), Teruel is the smallest provincial capital in Spain. Street cafes line the sides of the square. From here it is only a short walk to the cathedral and the Mausoleum of the lovers of Teruel whose actual remains can be seen in the church of San Pedro.

Arriving in Zaragosa, this city, by comparison is much larger. Sitting on the banks of the longest river in Spain, the River Ebro. Here on the banks of the river the towers and domes of the Basilica de Pilar rise majestically above the city. A Moorish Palace which was built in the 11th century by the Benihud family is open daily to the public. A low-cost hop-on hop-off tourist bus is available. The ticket also gives free entry to many museums. Mini cruises on the river are generally also available. With so much to see and do, it would be difficult not to enjoy time in this active city and fortunately you have a free day in which to enjoy everything it has to offer.

A day away from the city takes us to Monasteria de Piedra. The main church and cloisters still stand in an area of outstanding natural beauty. Amongst the normally arid countryside of this area you suddenly find this lush green fertile oasis which surrounds the monastery. Caves, the 'mirror lake,' the 50 foot high 'horsetail waterfall' streams, and rivers make for some very beautiful surroundings. Lunch in a local restaurant with panoramic views of the lake add to the pleasure of the experience and is included in the price.

Finally, there is no need, when it comes to wine, to introduce you to the famous Rioja name. Logroño, the capital of the Logroño region is also home to some of the finest bodegas in the area. This pleasant little town offers a notable Cathedral and is particularly famous for its tapas bars. The highlight of this day though has to be a visit to one of the largest and bestknown bodegas in the country.

Surrounded by vineyards on all sides, in one room alone 7,000 barrels stretch as far as the eye can see. After the guided tour relax for a moment on the balcony of the bodega sipping a glass of the finest Rioja whilst surrounded by the vineyards which produced the grapes.

This excursion from David's Coachtrips ticks all the boxes, all excursions are included as are entries to Monastery & Bodega.

Five days, four nights, 4* City Hotel on a bed & breakfast basis: May 23 - 27. Only 309€.

This excursion will be accompanied by a well-informed English-speaking courier who will help you to make the most of your visit. Great value for money and an experience not to be missed.

Trump's state visits will fit in nicely

Nora Johnson Breaking Views

lora is the author of popular psychological suspense and ime thrillers and a freelance journalist. To comment on any of the issues raised in her co to to www.euroweeklynews.com/3.0.15/nora-jof ed in her col

DONALD TRUMP has provoked massive hysteria recently, particularly concerning his proposed state visit. However, as Brexit Britain prepares to launch itself back into the big wide world of global commerce, isn't it time to take a more pragmatic view - just as we did with the state visits of the leaders of China and Saudi Arabia?

And as for Her Majesty who has been asked over the decades to host tyrants, dictators and despots such as Presidents Mobuto (Zaire) and Ceausescu (Romania), she'll take a brash billionaire from New York effortlessly in her stride.

However, one question remains for the future: what happens when Trump's burnt through all his political capital and his frustration about his isolation starts to show? Will he accept the limitations of his position, or go down a slippery, more authoritarian slope?

And if he does, should the UK condone it by pretending nothing's happened?

The answer to that surely lies in his campaign. When the Republican Party 'ditched' him, he just turned on them and kept going, seemingly incapable of backing down

On this side of the pond, someone else who seems unlikely to back down is the former Portuguese police chief, Goncalo Amaral, who falsely accused Kate and Gerry McCann of covering up their daughter's death.

With Portugal's Supreme Court throwing out their libel case against him, Amaral could now sue them for extensive damages.

Nonetheless, it seems we are no nearer to discovering the truth about Madeleine. Just as in my latest crime thriller, No Way Back, (as you know, all profits to Costa del Sol Cudeca cancer charity), a Kate McCann-like figure is so obsessed with closure and peace of mind in her unending search for the truth about her own missing daughter she'd maybe contemplate blackmail, even murder. Whatever the outcome. Kate McCann surely needs closure, too. Whether she finds it only time will tell. Who knows what the future holds ...

And, finally, to return to Trumpland on foretelling the future, one former news anchor who appeared on Sky News during US election night coverage declared: "I couldn't foresee this result." Her name? Krystal Ball.

Nora Johnson's psychological/ suspense crime thrillers 'No Way Back,' 'Landscape of Lies,' 'Retribution,' 'Soul Stealer,' 'The De Clerambault Code' (www.norajohnson.com) available from Amazon in paperback/eBook ( $\notin 0.99$ ; £0.99) and iBookstore. All profits to Costa del Sol Cudeca cancer charity.

DONALD TRUMP: Has provoked massive hysteria recently.

Hospitals make mistakes as well

MY wife died early last year after being treated with chemo at a Spanish hospital.

My wife was very well before the last treatment, she was strong and apart from the breast cancer very healthy. On the day of her treatment I sat with her, she was well. The following day she was gardening, cleaning, cooking and she was well. The next day my wife got ill, was taken to hospital, when I was allowed in the medico said there was no point going to her bed as she was dead.

He said they had done their best to save her but the chemo was too strong for her heart, he asked me if I wished to see her body and that is all he said. I was told I could collect the body at any time and to get an undertaker.

There was no inquest, my wife at her family's request was sent to the UK for burial. I am very concerned as the chemo should not have been so strong, a mistake was made and there should have been an inquest as my wife died very suddenly. Killed, I believe, by the medication.

I know whatever I say will never bring my wife back, but I write this letter to inform others that a hospital that can kill without any comeback is very frightening: the hospital can be very cavalier in their treatment and not worry about the results. In the UK with all its faults if a person dies suddenly there is always an inquest, but here there seems to be no concern.

Stephen (Almeria)

No sympathy

I FEAR the Palma Airport taxi drivers are on the road to nowhere with their protests over the planned new bus routes to tourist resorts.

As a dad who frequently travels from the UK with a family of five, and is fleeced for two taxis as a result, I have little sympathy with the drivers. Not when they trouser the thick end of £100 for two taxis to Magaluf one way. Not when some of them bid skywards of €300,000 for a Calvia taxi plate this summer - a record I'm told.

I applaud the extra choice people will now have as to how to get to their holiday destination. Taxi drivers would be far better served exploring ways of meeting the needs of their everyday punters - rather than robbing them. >> Photographs for possible publication should be sent by email with a full caption to: photonews@euroweeklynews.com

TRAINING PROGRAMME: Is needed to inform cyclists how to behave on the roads.

Cyclists have to abide by the rules

IT appears that Mojacar wants to promote cyclist groups for winter training. Not a bad idea for the local economy, but there needs to be a training programme for these cyclists and a set of rules published for them on how to behave on the local roads.

The groups do not obey some of the basic rules of the road: give way at roundabouts, overtake on the left, keep to the speed limit, give way at pedestrian crossings.

Top of that wishlist is having taxis and private hire cars that seat more than four persons. Of course, the real fun and games will start when the super consumer-friendly Uber hit Mallorca. I - and many of your readers I suspect - can't wait.

> Richard Chew (Calvia and Yorkshire)

Just jealous

AN article recently stated motorhome users avoid campsite fees by wild camping along coastal areas. The article referred to Aguilas and San Juan.

What the critics fail to comprehend is we motorhomers contribute to the local economy by patronising supermarkets, restaurants, bars, and fuel stations etc., all along the Spanish coast. This also contributes to Spanish taxes!

When we need to empty and refill our services, we pay small fees at the local service stations. The majority of us are considerate by not parking in front of local residences. We dispose of our refuse at the dedicated collection points, clean-up our pet faeces, and generally leave the areas as we find them. We enjoy the freedom that our vehicles allow us.

Campsites are congested, expensive, and do not obey health and safety regulations, to name a few! Perhaps the people that object to our presence are jealous of our way of life, they are certainly NOT local businesses.

Yes there are the Coastal laws that do not allow camping on the playas. However, if we do not erect awnings, or put out tables and chairs, we are not breaking camping regulations. Many towns and villages all over Spain provide free facilities to encourage motorhomes to stay in their area.

I own a motorhome and live locally. My pleasure is exploring different provinces all over Spain. I also spend 30+ passed behind and in front of him and only inches away.Yes, let them train here, but they should also respect other road users especially whilst on the town's roads. I asked a local cycling tour guide why groups disregarded print biased objections!!

the rules. His answer was a Gallic shrug.

Last season I saw in Garrucha an elderly gentleman stranded in the middle of a crossing whilst a group of

Dave (Turre)

Anti-Mr T

DON'T be fooled. Trump is a long long way from being squeaky clean. I have dug very deeply in to his past and there are so many things in there that lead me to believe he is no better than the Clintons.

He has had dealings with organised crime in the past and more recently many people are still wondering why a rape case against him was so suddenly dropped. Of course Trump denies everything. But as a notorious lady once said several years ago about a certain prominent member of the government accused of an indiscretion, "Well he would wouldn't he?" Vivienne Pimm

Pro-Mr T

WE should be thankful to those who gave the hacked emails to Wikileaks, otherwise the general public would have had no idea about the extent of the corruption and the dubious donations to the Clintons. The Clinton Foundation even accepted $25 million from the terrorist funding Saudis.

There was the Whitewater property investigation during which Vince Foster mysteriously died before he could help with enquiries, etc etc. CNN even rigged the debate in Hilary's favour.

No doubt these revelations contributed to her loss, though of course the Russians are blamed! At least with Trump what you see is what you get and he could even avert WW3.

Robert Segal (Palma, Mallorca)

Do we care?

OH how I love reading the Letters page in the EWN every week. RJ Dworakowski lamented like a modern day Mr Chips about incorrect grammar in a speech from Theresa May. Very commendable, but do we care about pronouns after prepositions, whatever they are? No!!

The content is the key and making the point understood surely. No doubt he will be berating me about this little piece. Don't bother sir. Secondary Modern was my final college of knowledge.

Then there's another letter from (Mr Name Withheld ) telling us all to stand up and be counted. Embrace it he says. Stand high enough and it will now make a difference. OK Mr Name Withheld. I'll show you mine if you will show me yours!!

Valentine's Day pampering for you or your loved ones...

MEDCARE doesn't just offer medical and dental services - it also offers other luxurious treatments which can make you feel better about yourself. Why not have a look through our wish list below and contact us for more information if anything catches your eye or to buy gift vouchers for friends or family.

Teeth whitening

Nothing says 'I love you' like a beautiful, warm smile; so let your smile shine this Valentine's Day with Medcare's special offer on teeth whitening at the reduced price of €195 which is valid for the whole month of February.

Teeth whitening really can make a dramatic difference to your overall appearance and confidence, so whether you are sharing special moments with a long-standing spouse or trying to impress a new partner, you will feel your best on Valentine's Day and beyond.

A lovely smile is so important that dating website match.com found that nearly 60 per cent of men said the most attractive feature in a woman is a beautiful smile, with 71 per cent of women saying nice teeth is the most important feature in a man. So, it's such a shame that so many adults are unhappy with their stained, crooked or missing teeth.

Ann, one of Medcare's patients says: I smoked heavily for more than 20 years and once I stopped I started to really notice how stained my teeth were. I knew from a friend that Medcare were offering a teeth whitening service, so booked an appointment. It only took about 45 minutes and, I must admit, I am amazed at the results.'

Have a look at our video for more information https://youtu.be/x96h3ytktXA. Beauty products

Why not treat yourself or your partner to Medcare's recommended medical-grade skin care products and beauty make-up. Medcare stocks both Glo and ZO products which are dermatologically-developed, offering medicalgrade skincare. Available only through doctors, these products are producing excellent results for all skin conditions, types, ages and genders.

Good daily skincare will complement any facial treatments you choose to have, or can make a difference even if used alone. However, most over-thecounter skincare products do very little to prevent aging or rejuvenate skin. Usually, they will do little more than provide temporary hydration which will have a slight plumping effect.

The best skincare products contain ingredients such as retinol in strengths and formulations often only available from medical aesthetic clinics. These will work on skin at a cellular level and make real and lasting changes to the skin's structure, treat various skin conditions and have a long-term anti-aging effect.

With Valentine's Day being about matters of the heart, why not book in for Medcare's heart health check promotion for the special price of just €75. Heart disease is one of the biggest killers in the developed world, yet with early screening it can be prevented.

Medcare's heart check includes blood tests to check for cholesterol, a blood pressure check, BMI assessment and consultation with the Practice Nurse. Patients will also be offered an ECG which records the rhythm and electrical activity of your heart - it's painless and only takes a few minutes. Call our Practice to make an appointment on 966 860 258 or email doc tors@medcarespain.com.

And what about a few more tips to make Valentine's Day special - dark chocolate has been shown to help prevent heart disease as it contains flavonols. Spice up your Valentine's Day meal by adding some chilli. Researchers have found that compounds in chilli peppers can lead to lower levels of bad cholesterol and therefore reduce the risk of heart disease. A bad relationship can be bad for your heart with stress increasing the risk of heart attack by 34 per cent, so make sure you take care of each other.

Invest in your health

SOME people are mainly focused on the price when they look for a health insurance and they decide to contract the cheapest one, but... Watch Out!

Inexpensive health insurances are available on the market at the time of contracting the policy, but as the person gets older the price of the policies drastically increases considering the change to a higher age bracket.

ASSSA does not increase the price due to age, which means that the premium will remain the same age bracket that you contracted at the beginning. In the end you will pay a lower amount and your insurance as a result will be cheaper.

A further point to consider is the written contractual guarantee of no cancellation. If there is no guarantee and the Insurance Company cancels the policy, it may occur that contracting another insurance becomes complicated due to age or the development of some diseases.

ASSSA guarantees under contract that your policy will not be cancelled, therefore you can have the peace of mind of being provided with a lifetime coverage.

Health is the best investment we can ever make and as such should be treated, not as the purchase of the cheapest choice by the time of contracting. Other factors to consider are the solvency and experience of the Company, the customer service, easy access to medical assistance, medical network and coverage offered.

ASSSA puts at your disposal its solvency and more than 80 years of experience to provide you with the best personalised attention in your own language and the best health care any time you need it.

Don't wait any longer. Invest in your health with ASSSA.

DOCTORS SURGERY: Many people have fears of a physical examination.

Are you scared of going to the doctors?

DO you put off that trip to the doctor for fear of bad news? If you do, it seems you are not alone. A report suggests that a third of us delay appointments with middle-aged men being the worse culprits.

Women in general are more likely to attend screenings and seek medical help, with men more likely to suffer symptoms for longer.

The report by 2020 health said many had fears of the physical examination and the hospital and medical environment and around a third of those questioned avoided the doctors because they had a fear of finding out they may have serious illnesses such as cancer.

Researchers said smokers. heavy drinkers and those who are overweight, were less likely to want to hear bad news about their health and feared they would be told to change their lifestyle.

"Start improving the Quality of your Life today!'

Whether you run a restaurant or work as a freelancing web designer, anyone who is self-employed and has a small business runs the risk of underestimating the psychological challenges of working self-employed. This often results in the listed symptoms (see box), but successful coping without professional help is difficult. Further negative effects on professional success and private life are the consequences.

Why especially do self-employed people often suffer?

In addition to the professional qualifications, the difficulties to independent work are to be found above all in psychological resilience and self-organisation. In contrast to an employee, the self-employed often does not have financial security, predictability of working time and structure of the work. Unfortunately, the successful handling of these uncertainties is often not given. In particular, non-regulated working hours (especially in the restaurant business), no weekend or holiday, easily end in a burnout.

What can be done?

The support options are diverse and are individually tailored. One of them is working more intensely psychologically on dealing with anxieties

Seek help if ..

• ... your professional activity worries you also in the actual leisure time. • ... you have anxiety issues or panic attacks (dizziness, tension, headaches, sleeping problems, heart problems etc.).

... you need alcohol or medication to switch off in the evening. •... you are having problems in partnership and/or family. • ... you hardly meet friends or have hobbies due to professional overload.

and worries. Helpful exercises and instructions that bring success do exist. Others suffer more from the unstructured nature of their activities and therefore need coaching to improve their self-management etc.

Self-employment

Also, interactions between anxiety and uncertainty on the one hand, and poor self-management on the other, easily end in a vicious circle. Therefore, a holistic approach is necessary to cover all these aspects. Here, new "tools" are learned, the use of which will be helpful in many professional and private situations.

"SOMETIMES, during what appears to be an otherwise perfectly normal day, something happens that touches your heart, some seemingly innocent encounter or conversation takes place and it quietly changes everything."

The words of Louise Brandley, owner of Looking Good Boutique, speaking of a day in September 2008 when she met Sue Weeding at the Easy Horse Care equine shop near Rojales. They were flippantly talking about her establishing a rescue centre and that was the beginning of a complete life change for Sue and her husband Rod as the Easy Horse Care Rescue Centre (EHCRC) was later formed.

Louise said she will never forget that day and has remained committed to helping EHCRC as much as she can and has even roped in international designer Joseph Ribkoff to support them. Looking Good's most popular designer brand has continually supported events hosted by the boutique over the years to help support the charity and this year have gone one step further. The Canadian designer has donated 20 garments for the store to sell, with all the proceeds going to EHCRC.

They have all been priced at  $\in$  149 even though some retail at  $\in$  300, giving customers the chance to grab a real bargain, as well as helping a worthwhile cause.

Joe Belloc, Spain's Sales Director for Joseph Ribkoff has even accompanied Louise to the Rescue Centre to personally see first hand the work they do in rescuing and caring for the numerous horses and donkeys. After seeing their daily struggles he felt compelled to help: "It is amazing for an international company to bother about a local charity," said Louise who will get the chance to personally thank Mr Ribkoff himself in June as she travels to Montreal in Canada to help celebrate the 60th anniversary of the clothing empire.

Joseph Ribkoff was one of the original designers to grace the windows of Looking Good in La Zenia when it first opened 15 years ago and their love affair has continued ever since. Louise said she, and her many customers, love his designs for women of all ages and size. Louise uses her years of experience knowing her customers to personally select the new season lines from Joseph Ribkoff and as the boutique continues to be the designer's biggest presence in Spain, they regularly receive test pieces to see how customers respond to them.

The collaboration between Joseph Ribkoff and Looking Good will continue for many years to come, but this popular boutique in La Zenia also hosts a range of other brands, specialising in cruise and special occasion wear. They are also pleased to welcome their new lingerie section with professional bra fitting service.

With an unrivalled reputation for service, quality and excellence, make Looking Good Boutique your number one destination for beautiful clothes and accessories. Look out for the monthly fashion shows being held at Looking Good Boutique throughout 2017 with the next one taking place March 3 at midday.

App to predict illness

IT seems there is an app for everything nowadays, particularly relating to your health from checking your blood pressure, to predicting the best times to try and conceive. But what if an app on your phone could warn you if you were about to get ill?

Well this could soon become a reality as scientists in America are working on a smart device that can warn you up to half a day in advance gathering information from wearable health trackers which monitor heart rate and body temperature.

The team at California's Stanford University is University working on the app, and have tested the theory on 43 volunteers who wore a smart watch for up to 11 months. Analysing data the they found that as people start to become ill

their heart

rate and skin temperature went up and their blood oxygen levels dropped. By using this information it can give the user a first warning that something isn't quite right.

By getting this heads up people could plan better and prevent aggravating the illness and hopefully have a quicker recovery.

The app could also be used to track the health of the elderly or those with chronic illnesses, such as diabetes and act as a warning system for carers or mily members.

The scientists are confident the app will be on the market within the next few years.

NEW APP: Could be used to track the health of the elderly.

Nursing crisis hits the UK

THE NHS in the UK is reporting a staff shortage with some 24,000 nursing vacancies currently available across the country. The number of nurses moving to the UK has fallen.

It comes as the number of European nurses moving to the UK to work has fallen by more than 90 per cent since the Brexit vote in June last year. The Royal College of Nursing said it relied on EU nurses and was calling for guarantees that EU nationals within the NHS can remain working in Britain after Brexit.

At the end of last year, plans were also announced by the government that posts will be filled with some 2,000 apprentice nurses as part of a new nursing scheme that will see young people combine on the job training with studying for a degree.

SPECIALIST: Doctor Luis Perez Belmonte.

THIS week we've asked the doctor about hip pain, a common problem for many especially in the colder months.

-What are the most common causes of hip pain?

There are many things which can cause hip pain. The most common is osteoarthritis of the hip, when the components of the joints like bones and tendons degenerate over time. Other common causes are infections or injuries.

-Are there any specific exercises to help prevent or improve the pain?

There are different exercise routines which can help to control the pain and stop it from progressing. Yoga and pilates exercises and certain exercises in the swimming pool, especially low impact ones, can help a lot.

-Many elderly people seem to suffer from hip pain. Is it something which we will all suffer in the end, in other words, is there no way to avoid it? Over time deterioration of the hips is inevitable and osteoarthritis is bound to appear. This appearance can, however, be delayed or the severity reduced with certain rehabilitation exercises and by avoiding being overweight and following a balanced diet.

-How can hip pain be cured, is there any medication?

Pain-killers, anti-inflammatory medication and muscle relaxers can be used to help keep the pain under control. Physiotherapy is also vital to help control the symptoms.

-Will surgery be necessary in the end?

Sometimes and with the pass of time the damage produced is so severe and causes so many symptoms, especially pain and mobility limitations, that surgical intervention is required. This often consists of implanting a prosthesis.

Hospital Quirónsalud Torrevieja offers complimentary 2nd opinion consultations

THE Unit for Oncology at the Hospital Quirónsalud Torrevieja will attend patients who request a consultation for a multidisciplinary and personalised second opinion free of charge from February 6-10.

This initiative takes place within the framework of the events promoted in the hospital on the occasion to mark World Cancer Day, held every year on February 4 under the auspices of the World Health Organisation and within the Plan of Prevention Quirónsalud Torrevieja 2017.

For this initiative, a contact telephone number has been specially activated (+34 966 92 57 33) to which all persons interested in requesting this complimentary consultation can call. The patient must provide all the available documentation - analysis, markers and explorations - to obtain the maximum usefulness from a visit, from which a diagnostic report will be issued.

The director of the Oncology Platform at the Hospital Quirónsalud Torrevieja, Dr Antonio Brugarolas, stressed that "if patients at the limit of their therapeutic possibilities are treated in a multidisciplinary and personalised organisation their success rate is increased by 25 per cent. This situation is considered infrequent in traditional oncology (less than 10 per cent of the cases) "because it is a very complex task that surpasses the knowledge of a specialty and can only be approached with the help of the different specialists." The Oncology Platform at the Hospital Quirónsalud Torrevieja is a national and international reference centre in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. The platform is integrated by a team of more than 30 first class professionals who offer a comprehensive and individualised care plan to cancer patients from the first diagnosis offering the most advanced technology and several pioneering healing programmes.

THEATRE: Regular trips stimulate the brain more.

Theatre trips could prevent dementia

ENJOYING activities such as going to the theatre could help prevent dementia.

Scientists claim that engaging activities help cut the risk of mental decline as they stimulate the brain more, helping to protect against and prevent mild cognitive impairment (MCI) which is the stage between decline from aging and dementia. Symptoms include becoming forgetful, repeating yourself and problems with reasoning and problem-solving.

The new study followed almost 2,000 adults over the age of 70 who were were cognitively normal at the start and were monitored until they showed signs of developing MCI.

During this time their activities and hobbies were analysed and it was found that regular theatre goers developed MCI symptoms later in life.

Meanwhile, another study has reported that women's brains start going downhill in their 50's and not in their 60's as previously thought.

The findings were based on a study that followed more than 2,000 healthy women in their 40's, for 10 years.

Studio 32's record charity donation

STUDIO 32 are delighted to announce that their recent production of 'A Christmas Carol' raised over €3,500 for local charities.

Studio 32's chairman Philip Wilson is pictured at San Fulgencio Town Hall presenting a cheque for €2,210 to Benjamin Villena Rodriguez, President of the San Fulgencio Alzheimer's Society. Benjamin thanked Studio 32 for their continued support of the charity, which provides help in the community to families and individuals dealing with Alzheimer's.

The rest of the money raised by Studio 32 is being divided between the theatre, Caritas and the music school of San Fulgencio.

Chairman Philip said: "Studio32 was set up four years ago to bring high quality full-scale musical theatre to the Costa Blanca, and through doing so enable us to support local charities. Everyone in the company worked extremely hard to make this show a great success and I'm very proud of them all. As a result, in the last year we've raised over €7,500 and we will continue to support AFA San Fulgencio and local good causes in the coming year."

WITH GARRY WAITE

HANKS to the client that contacted me a couple of weeks ago.

A year or so ago he came to Spain to buy a restaurant/pub. He succeeded in buying a relatively well-established premises and has run it (under management) with some success, but is not happy with the way things are now going. Having been open since the beginning of last year he has reached stagnation and wanted my help to revitalise the operation if possible.

We sat down to discuss where he felt that things were going wrong. Most clients come back with the same answer, "We need more clients!" Often that is not the main problem. Costs are normally the base problems of most businesses. Overstaffing, wrong type of staff, no control over food and beverage costs/sales.

The problem with opening a business without knowledge can be dangerous. Even if you have some experience in the industry in your home country, you soon find out it is different in a foreign country.

After all you need an Indian scout in Indian country!!

We started with his figures. I asked him if he was making money and he said yes. But a closer look showed me that this was not the case.

Without doing a full stock take I did a guestimate based on purchases and sales and a rough idea of stock-in-hand. It showed that sale of food had cost 45 per cent. Ideally it should be around 35 per cent or lower. Wine sales were good, but again with his prices he should have been making 75- 80 per cent. The bar was much the same.

Analysing these figures would help to understand where the losses were.

CULINARY DIRECTION: The choice of menu and chef is inseparable.

Kitchen management was the first area to look at. The Chef was not passionate about what he was doing. Therefore he had no care for his product. His costings were wrong and his wastage too high.

FOR MY WINE spot this week, I'm travelling further than the Ribera and Rioja wine producing areas. How many of you were aware that India produces wines?

Viticulture was believed to have been introduced to India by Persian traders some time in the fourth millennium BC. Historians believe that these early plantings were used mostly for a style of grape juice rather than the production of an alcoholic beverage. Some religious text mentions at least one alcoholic drink that may have been wine related - Sura - which seems to have been a type of rice wine that was fermented with honey. The first known mention of grape-based wines was in the late fourth century BC.

The modern wine market in India is small; annual per capita consumption of wine in the country is a mere nine millilitres, approximately 1/8000th that of France. Winemaking has existed throughout most of India's history but was particularly encouraged during the time of the Portuguese and British colonisation of the subcontinent. The end of the 19th century saw the phylloxera louse take its toll on the Indian wine industry followed by religious and public opinion moving towards the prohibition of alcohol. Following the country's independence from the British Empire, the Constitution of India declared one of the government's aims was the total prohibition of alcohol.

Several states went dry and the government encouraged vineyards to convert to table grape and raisin production. In the 1980s and 1990s, a revival in the Indian wine industry took

Instead of utilising his ingredients he would throw away items that could make money in the right hands. One of the problems was that the owner, while not having any kitchen experience, enforced a menu that he thought was commercially viable, on to the Chef who had a lot more to offer and had explained to his boss that the food he was being made to serve had little artistic content, very high costs and little room to increase on profitability.

I had decided that the problems were not all down to bad kitchen management - although this certainly needs looking at - but more a lack of culinary direction.

We are at this moment in deep discussion on how to improve the quality and performance of this operation and I will keep you informed on our progress every week in this column.

The wine producing areas tend to be in the middle to the south of the continent although the Punjab and Kashmir in the north, are quite prolific producers. India produces Sparkling wines, Whites and of course Reds. While there are locally grown grapes, the majority of the reds are Caber-

• ON THE OTHER SIDE of the coin, there is a restaurant in Madrid that really lives up to its' name. The Robin Hood. Its mission is simple - to charge the rich and feed the poor. Paying customers at breakfast and lunch foot the bill for the restaurant to serve dinner to homeless people, free of charge! The restaurant opened in early December, and is run by an 80-year-old Catholic priest, Ángel García Rodriguez, whom everyone knows simply as 'Padre Ángel.'

Outside, there's a sign listing the house rules: Patrons are allowed to sing as they please, as long as it doesn't disturb other customers. They can use the free wi-fi and borrow a cell phone if they need to make a call. They're free to bring their own food and order only drinks, if they prefer. Or they can take over the kitchen for a birthday party or other special celebration.

You see there are still a few good people in this world!!

• ON THAT NOTE I will bid you farewell until next week and should aspiring restaurateurs need some help or advice, please do not hesitate to contact me. A toast to Good Food, Good Wine and Good Friends.

Neater Heater stops cold winters spoiling your dream

NINE years ago two British expats, Richard and Tony, were looking for affordable heating when they stumbled, accidentally, on a brand of Norwegian convector heater that couldn't be bought in Spain.

Not only were these wall-mounted heaters discreet and stylish, but they were also packed with 'Es': efficient, effective and economical.

Recognising a huge gap in the market that these attractive affordable heaters would fill, Richard and Tony established Neater Heater which has been heating the Casas and Apartments of shivering expats ever since then.

"We all come out to Spain for the good weather and lifestyle," says Tony "yet everyone is caught out by the cold winter nights in their spectacularly non-insulated Spanish homes. We all come from the UK where we had radiators and fires, and that is what most British expats still want.

A decent oil or gas central heating system is going to set you back thousands of euros just to install it, so most people opt for unhealthy gas estufas, or electric heaters. The problem with most electric heaters, is that the cheap ones are always expensive to run, and ugly, whereas any decent ones always cost a fortune to install.

Neater Heater can have most homes up and running with affordable, stylish, economic Neater Heaters, for less than €1,000. The cost obviously depends on the size of hose and the size of heaters. Or they can be bought individually according to your refor, and found, businesses that were happy to become agents for Neater Heater

"We hope to cater for all types of Customer." explains Richard "Some people are comfortable with computers, and are quite happy to buy from our online shop, with free delivery. But many want to shop in the traditional way, look at the heaters and talk to someone about their requirements.

These customers can go to one of our numerous outlets from

An ornamental tree with fruit

By Graeme Tyrrell

IF you want an attractive ornamental tree that also provides fruit, you may consider growing a loquat tree. Loquats are a handsome tree with well-structured branching easily maintained with minimal pruning.

The large thick leathery feather shaped glossy leaves are attractive all year round. They flower in autumn under the right conditions and the fruit forms over winter. I have several different varieties growing for the fresh loquat fruit that ripens in spring. Spring is a time when few other fresh fruits are available off the tree. Different varieties ripen a little earlier and later allowing the harvest season to be extended. They are hardy when established, needing minimal watering in summer and provide a heavenly scent throughout the garden in autumn.

They are not usually a large tree, tending to be three to five metres high at maturity with an equal spread but they can grow to 10 metres in good soil conditions. They grow well in natural soils with some compost added and mixed into the surface soil at planting time.

In colder climates the tree is grown as an ornamental species. It will not flower without hot summers and the fruit fails if the frost bites them, but the tree is hardy. In the warmer Mediterranean climate they will flower and produce delicious fruit. The small white flowers are heavily perfumed.

They flower prolifically in autumn, displayed in bunches in a grape like fashion. This gave rise to their botanical name Eriobotrya which refers in Greek to the woolly grape cluster appearance of the flower panicles forming in groups.

The yellow to orange coloured fruit individually resemble an apricot. They grow in bunches however usually ripen progressively rather than all at one time. Different varieties have varying characteristics in colour, size and taste, but in general they have a smooth skin with delicious flesh surrounded by a very large seed or multiple seeds in the centre.

There is an art to eating them. The easiest way is to pull or cut off the stem and squeeze the other end so the inner fruit pops out without the skin. It takes practice and juicy varieties can be messy for beginners but handy to learn if you have a big harvest.

The fruit tastes like a scented tropical flavour. There are various recipes for using the fruit that have been developed in China, India and Japan where it has been popular for centuries. It can be used in pie recipes, as iam or jelly, for sweet sauces. chutneys, and even to make fruity wine and liqueurs.

The leaves are used in herbal medicine for various health benefits taken as a tea and much research has been done on their healing properties.

Trees are readily available in Spain and are known as nisperos. They are a well-accepted exotic fruit popular in the Mediterranean region and they grace many country homes and urban landscapes in Spain.

A little break at Mountain View

ouseSit Match

AT Mountain View Cat Hotel, they understand that your cat is an extension of your family and as such, when staying at Mountain View, your cat becomes part of their family.

Established since 2006, they have welcomed thousands of feline friends into the cattery over the years, giving them a home from home experience with each one leaving their footprints in their hearts.

Run by Carol and Paul Davis, the pair have immense pride in their work. For them, this is not a business, it is a way of life, having 17 cats of their own. They go out of their way to ensure your cats and kittens are specially cared for and have a lovely little holiday there as you enjoy yours.

Carol has many years of veterinary care working with her local vet in the UK as well as running her livery business, and this has led Mountain View Cat Hotel to developing a positive reputation for being able to care for elderly cats or cats with specialist care needs or needing medication.

Carol said they understand the needs of these felines and often welcome cats from outside the area with some owners travelling for hours to leave their pet in their care: "We also invite people to come and view our facilities and see the environment and get a feel for it.'

Located between Hondon de las Nieves and Hondon de los Frailes, Mountain View can care for up to 37 cats at a time. Each gets to stay in a centrally heated house which is large enough for two or three cats or, if your family is bigger, double or treble units are available.

Cats from other families are never mixed together and all cats will have a turn in the alley way and any extra space available will be offered to them. Carol and Paul watch and observe them closely to note any possible change in state of mind or behaviour, allowing them to act quickly to put this right. The cats have toys, duvets, cat baskets, grass boxes, outdoor litter boxes, scratchy polls and some units even have a day house. Bowls, food, water are provided, and their diet is according to your requests.

They do have isolation units if needed and it goes without saying that every unit is disinfected, all linen laundered and litter boxes sterilised.

They provide whatever your cat needs and will even update you with photos on WhatsApp

A NEW study carried out in Scotland by the SPCA and the University of Glasgow has revealed that reggae and soft rock are the preferred sounds of dogs in shelters.

Heart monitors were used on shelter dogs to keep track of their stress levels while different musical genres, including Motown, pop, soft rock, classical and reggae were piped through the kennels.

Although in a similar way to humans the results showed that different dogs preferred different musical styles, hinting that hounds have their own tastes for more than just lamb chops. reggae came top of the list for reducing stress levels. Professor Nell Evans said: "Overall, the response to different genres was mixed highlighting the possibility that our canine friends have their own individual preferences. That being said, reggae and soft rock showed the highest positive changes in behaviour."

Following the study, the SP-CA is planning to install sound systems in its kennels.

As Evans pointed out, this will help dogs cope better with the stress of institutional isation.

World's favourite cars

By Matthew Elliott

THE world's most popular cars in 2016 have been revealed. Despised by Jeremy Clarkson, the Toyota Camry took 10th spot with more than 660,000 registrations last year. It was bested by Japanese rival the Honda Civic which sold some 668.000 new cars courtesy of rave reviews.

The Volkswagen Polo and Toyota RAV4 both clocked up more than 700.000 new registrations across the world. The Golf saw almost a million registrations while Ford managed around 1.6 million with the F-Series and Focus combined.

Toyota's Corolla shifted almost 1.3 million new cars, making it the most popular model in the world. The Japanese firm counts three of the top 10 most popular cars as its own.

Interestingly at the same time Volkswagen has officially overtaken Toyota as the world's biggest car manufacturer. The Germans produced a staggering 10.3 million units in 2016, over 100.000 more than Toyota. VW has benefited from a strong ad campaign in China where the fall out from the emissions scandal has had very little impact.

BEING a crash test dummie may well be more appealing than commuting into London each day. Which is why Volvo is recruiting British volunteers to test drive its new autonomous 4x4.

The trial is targeting busy professionals who drive into west London but would rather while away the hours working than moseying along at a snails pace.

'Drivers' will be able to work on their laptops or make calls while the car uses 3D maps, sensors, and GPS to navigate its way to the capital. The XC-90 will come at a steep price and a similar trial is already underway in Gothenburg.

The cars can drive legally on motorways and dual carriageways at present, but drivers will have to take over full control once in the city limits.

Documents must be originals.

Update on SMGS

SMGS'S first visit to Las Ramblas for some time found 38 members and two guests taking part in a stableford competition on a course that members seem to either love or hate.

Extremely difficult pin positions and teeing off from some whites, as well as the usual Las Ramblas timber encounters, led to some very average scoring. Only six members beat 29 points, with the stand-out score of the day going to John Aitchison (40).

One match was held in SMGS's 2017 doubles match play competition, Mike Jordan and Mike Inns beating Phil de Lacy and Keith Stevenson four and three. Results:

Bronze category: 5th Kyree Skarsmoen (24 on CB), 4th Chris Hamblett (24 on CB), 3rd Brian Butler (28), 2nd Norman Padmore (34), and 1st Norman McBride (35).

Silver category: 5th Mike Jordan (29 on CB), 4th Karen Simpson (29 on CB), 3rd Russell Bailey (35), 2nd Ken Flaherty (36) and 1st John Aitchison (40).

Gold category: 5th Bjorn Pettersson (27), 4th John Osborne (28 on CB), 3rd Tony Smale (28 on CB), 2nd Steve Higgins (29), and 1st Barry Roehrig (35).

DIFFICULT COURSE: Led to some very average scoring.

The Abacus was won Paul Cobain. Nearest the pins on the par 3's (open to all): Alan Williams (6), Ken Flaherty (10 and 14) and Karen Simpson (12). The best front nine was won by Alan MacDonald (18) and the best back nine by Glen Rapley (15).

Best guest prize was won by Keven Mitchel with a sound 31 points.

Our thanks go to the staff at Las Ramblas golf course.

Keep up to date with all SMGS matters by logging on to www.smgs.org or simply give Theo Boelhouwer a call on 694 494 824 to find out more about the society and its weekly golf get-togethers. Next Wednesday the society will be at El Valle.

Los Nietos Golf Society

THE Los Nietos Golf Society February monthly medal was recently played at La Serena.

The course was in excellent condition and the group of 22 players were blessed with good weather. With prizes prizes for the overall winner, longest drive, nearest the pin and handicap categories results were as follows:

Overall winner: Brian Smith 40 pts (16)

Longest drive: Iian Furness (12)

0-20 hdcp: Mick Lockley (17)

21-36 hdcp: Steve Ingledow (32)

Nearest The Pin: Tony Hayman, Alan Mc Nicoll, Vic Beatie.

After the golf the group returned to El Frailie to enjoy a social evening.

The next venue is El Valley on March 1. Anyone wishing to learn more about upcoming events should contact Iian at casabromley@hotmail.com.

Medal haul for swimmers

THIS year Palma de Mallorca was the venue for the Spanish Masters Open Winter Swimming Championship. The event saw a record number of participants last weekend as 1,424 masters swimmers descended upon the Olympic Municipal Pool in Palma.

A total of 166 swimming clubs presented swimmers of all ages from 21 to 91, in 40 different races. Local swimming club, Club Natacion Elche had four swimmers in the competition and together they won seven medals; five golds, one silver and one bronze.

Beth Altabas won gold in the 400m (70+ category), 800m, 200m, 100m and 50m freestyle events. Vicki Connolly won bronze in the 800m freestyle (50+ category) and Javier Sanchez won silver in the 50m breaststroke event in the 30-34yrs category.

Despite having only four swimmers representing the club it ranked 68th overall out of 166 clubs.
