Crash probe goes on

By Matt Ford

Police are probing a road accident in which a Costa del Sol councillor allegedly collided and injured a moped rider while driving around a closed roundabout

The accident on Avenida Antonio Machado in Benalmadena involved the town's Personnel councillor, Beatriz Olmedo, who witnesses say used the new roundabout despite it being closed to traffic.

They say she collided with a man on a moped, with the rider taken to hospital with a gashed leg that needed several stitches.

A large sign reportedly expressly forbade use of the roundabout.

Councillor Olmedo has declined to comment until the investigation is complete. Secrecy of the subsequent police proceedings - described as being conducted in a "cloak and dagger style" - have been criticised by local Spanish media.

However, Local Police Chief Francisco Zamora has said investigations have been "professional."

Ms Olmedo hit the headlines in 2015 after being axed from the Cuidadanos political party over a supposed undercover pact with counterparts on the PSOEled council weeks before being handed an official position as an independent candidate.

BEACHGOERS are advised to be on red alert over the coming weeks after experts revealed that iellyfish are present in above-average numbers across 5-10 per cent of Spain's Mediterranean coastline.

The news comes as the stinging blobs have been reported from Malaga Province for the first time since 2015, as an expert in Alicante confirmed that certain beaches seem to attract them more frequently and in higher densities.

A new EU-funded report compiled by the Spanish Institute of Marine Sciences analysed sting data from more than 70 per cent of the country's 1,200 lifeguard towers and highlighted a series of black spots.

Cesar Bordehore, a researcher at the University of Alicante's Ramon Margalef Institute of Environmental Studies confirmed "we now know that between 5-10 per cent of Spanish Mediterranean beaches show an over-population, and we are now studying these casple being stung.

SPANISH FACTS OF LIFE...22

Spain is the second-largest producer of cork in the world after Portugal, with 27 per cent of the world's 2.2 million hectares of cork forest, and the annual harvest is in full swing.

Popping the cork!

TAKING place from June 15 to August 15 each year, the cork harvest is the ultimate example of an environmentally-friendly industry which still employs ancient methods.

It is considered sustainable because the trees are not cut down to obtain the product, rather the bark is stripped from the trunk by highly-skilled workers known as corcheros who wield specialised tools and must train for around eight years.

Normally working in teams of five, they each have a specific role, from using an axe to strip the cork to stacking the planks in piles or loading it onto mules once it is cut.

At the factory, the planks are boiled in a deep water vat, which renders it soft enough for flattening and processing.

BARK: Is stripped from the trunk.

A fine vintage

THE trees cannot be harvested until they are 30 to 40 years old and have a minimum circumference of 60cm at the base.

After being cut they are left alone for nine-12 years to allow the cork to grow back, the harvest taking place in a different area each year following a cyclical pattern.

The first and second harvests produce low quality cork, but from the third onwards it is of sufficiently high grade to use for the production of corks for around 60 per cent of the world's wine.

Although cork oaks can live for more than 300 years, some even reaching 500, they are not usually exploited after they reach 200 years of age.

ESTEPONA Council has ordered a special investigation after 100 birds were found dead amid suspicions of poison-

THE Junta de Andalucia has announced a  $\leqslant$  340,000 investment to dredge Estepona port following complaints from local fishermen in the area. More than 39,000 cubic metres of sand will be extracted from the port to ensure a five-metre depth so that vessels can enter and exit unobstructed.

Doctor attacked by drunk man

A YOUNG MAN has been sentenced to nine months in prison after assaulting a doctor at a Benalmadena hospital.

According to the police, the accused rang emergency services and asked for an ambulance after he had consumed several litres of beer. The operator told him that they were unable to carry out his request as his drunk condition did not constitute an emergency.

Hours later, the man turned up at the High Resolution and was seen to by a nurse. He then became violent, ripping a fire extinguisher off the wall and spraying a passing female doctor in the eyes.

The doctor pressed the panic button and fled while the aggressor sprayed patients in the vicinity before being held by security guards. The doctor and a patient were treated for injuries to their face and eyes.

In addition to his prison sentence, the aggressor will have to pay  $\leq 250$  in compensation to the victims, and a  $\leq 300$  fine to the courts.

Mecking it official

RUMOURS of their romance have been bubbling under the surface for

And former The Only Way Is Essex star Lucy Mecklenburgh, 25, declared her feelings for Coronation Street actor Rvan Thomas, 33, after the pair were pictured together during a steamy trip to Ibiza.

The love birds were snapped at a nightclub before Lucy paraded on a hotel balcony in a bright red lace-up bikini which left little to the imagination.

Picture purr-fect!

ATOMIC KITTEN singer and reality TV star Kerry Katona has been spotted in Marbella with two of her five kids, Heidi, 10 and Dylan-Jorge, two, where she is enjoying a sun-soaked summer break.

It comes as the former I'm a Celebrity... Get Me Out of Here! winner faces a €270 fine in the UK after two of her daughters were whisked away to Barbados during the school term earlier in the year.

But the 36-year-old is clearly enjoying her as she stepped out in a blue dress with white crotcheting details as her offspring sported identical outfits.

According to The Sun newspaper, she is staying at the home of disgraced businessman Mon Basra, who was handed a four-and-a-half-year jail sentence in 2013 after being found guilty of harassing two women.

Kerry is friends with his wife Rosie, and the pair cemented their love for one another in a social media photo captioned:

"Friends for life!!!"

Up the isle

THEY have been together for two years and their first child was born in December 2016.

Now TV presenter Zoe Hardman, 34, and rugby star Paul Doran Jones, 32, have tied the knot at a lavish ceremony in Ibiza accompanied by their celebrity pals.

Guests included former England rugby captain Mike Tindall, his wife and Queen's granddaughter Zara Phillips, TV personalities Caroline Flack, Matt Johnson and Sarah-Jane Mee, plus singer Heidi Range.

Speaking to Hello! magazine after the star-studded event, Zoe said: "Our friends are like family to us and we wanted everyone we love to be there. I wanted a relaxed, boho vibe, where family and friends could party until dawn. Marrying the man of my dreams on an island we both adore, was amazing."

OUR VIEW

The right to live or die

THE sad story of Charlie Gard has been heartbreaking, not just for his parents but for tens of thousands of people who followed the case.

No parent ever wants to outlive their child and in this particular case, the agony of the parents who have tried everything to prolong his life is quite clear.

The Great Ormond Street Hospital has a fantastic record of improving the life of so many children but does appear to have been involved in a number of legal battles over the rights of parents to keep their children

More than £100,000 (€110,000) was raised by donation to help support Charlie's parents but all of this money and the legal costs of the hospital have effectively been wasted whilst the various court cases were heard.

There is a terrible dilemma here as to who should have the right to decide the life or termination of a child.

The hospital has experts who believe that their recommendation to terminate Charlie's life was correct, yet past cases have shown that miracles can occur as in the case of Aysha King whose parents were arrested for taking him out of the UK.

This is not the first or the last case of this kind, but in the meantime, we certainly feel immense sorrow for Charlie's brave parents.

AN expat is calling on supermarkets to warn shoppers that thieves often operate in or near their car parks.

Pauline Hulme from Calahonda, Malaga, had her handbag snatched containing €600 and personal documents minutes after loading shopping in the car park of a local supermarket.

She discovered the theft after helping two men - possibly of North African origin - who stopped and asked for local directions.

Charity worker Pauline, a Liverpudlian who has lived in Spain for five years, now wants leading supermarkets in southern Spain to hire security men, or erect posters in Spanish and English either in the lift to car parks or at shop entrances warning of the risk of possible theft.

"If I had read such a warning I would have been much more vigilant," says Pauline.

She was robbed after shopping in her local Mercadona car park, and is pleased that the location where she was targeted is now at times staffed by security men.

Looking back on the theft, Pauline said: "I felt utterly sick and it will take me ages to replace what has been stolen.

"The larger supermarkets need to warn people of the danger of theft or hire security men to safeguard their clients against the risk.

"The shop manager was extremely sympathetic and said they have cameras... but even in the police station I was told that theft is rife."

A British man who later found her handbag - but without the cash - told her he had been robbed in a similar ploy two years ago in the same spot, and that he was also stabbed in the arm during the incident.

A few local supermarkets on the coast have signs warning shoppers not to leave valuables in sight in parked cars, but Pauline's call for security staff or 'Beware of thieves' signs is a more focused move.

Peter Stretton, a retired British pensioner from Alhaurin had a similar experience to Pauline last summer. "I attended La Trocha market one Sunday and after I had been stopped by two men asking directions near the market, I discovered my man-bag containing my wallet and phone plus some shopping had been stolen from my vehicle.

"It happened so quickly." James Findley from Denia also told of two recent inci-

"Last summer my wife had her purse stolen from her shopping bag in a shop car park by a passer-by and friends this Easter, who initially flew to Madrid at the start of their visit to Spain, had a wallet stolen on the train from the airport.

"It happened when the husband was distracted while carrying cases and watching his family."

James said he knows of others who have had valuables stolen from their cars while being distracted in car

"With so many visitors police should make people aware with a poster campaign in Spanish, English, and other languages warning that theft is an issue locally.

"This is not detrimental to Spain. It happens in Germany, France, the UK... but so many arrive here in high holiday spirits only to realise hidden dangers."

Officials at various foreign consuls in Spain have over many years warned nationals of the importance of safeguarding against theft, with many family holidays ruined after handbags or bags containing passports, air tickets, and other valuables have been stolen.

TORREMOLINOS Council has begun installing tarpaulins to provide shade along the busy Calle San Miguel after coming under fire from residents, business owners and the opposition over the last couple of weeks.

THE Directorate General of Traffic (DGT) has announced they will not be opening extra lanes this summer to reduce tailbacks on the A-7 motorway.

Last Sunday, a traffic jam stretched almost 30 kilometres along the coast as beachgoers returned home, and experts have warned that unless drivers plan their journeys better, such sights will be common until September.

The DGT has refused to open up the hard shoulder, as it has in the past, claiming that the measure prevents emergency vehicles from reaching accidents in time.

"Increasing the capacity of the road does not increase its safety," he explained.

"Only the information provided to motorists can be improved, so they can plan ahead meaning traffic can disperse more evenly," he added.

Arnaldo criticised the government for their inability to control toll companies who are adding to the problem by raising prices during the summer.

"Malaga will die of success by congestion, tourist entrepreneurs must come up with imaginative solutions to mitigate the toll payment charges to their customers," he said.

Monky business

AN orphaned Monk Parakeet chick has been found in Ojen and the council has appealed for help in finding its owner. Far more likely is that the chick has fallen from a nest and has been picked up by a 'helpful' person but although they are known to be intelligent birds that may be trained, the Monk Parakeet is an introduced species from South America.

Some reports suggest the birds which form colonies can attack other smaller birds and cause damage to crops.

Queen attends local meeting Crowning glory

ALL SMILES: The official photograph of the day with the Queen centre.

QUEEN LETIZIA visited Malaga for the Cervantes Institute annual meeting which was held at the Russian Museum - wearing a striking red dress.

Her Majesty was accompanied by the mayor of Malaga, Francisco de la Torre, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Alfonso Dastis, the Director of the Cervantes Institute, Juan Manuel Bonet, the president of the Diputación de Málaga, Elías Bendodo and the president of the Junta de Andalucía, Susana Díaz who was also dressed in red.

Both ladies were obviously showing respect for the colour of the Institute's logo but it may be that they had overlooked discussing their fashion choices with each other, although the general feeling was that Her Majesty stole

the show

Whilst the presence of Queen Letizia was welcome, she did not make any formal speeches although she appeared to listen with interest to the proceedings and chatted with a number of those present before taking her leave.

Queen Letizia will, later this week, travel with her family to Palma, Mallorca for their annual summer vacation.

Null and void

RESIDENTS of Cacho Pan and Las Tres Marias in Malaga are up in arms after a woman committed suicide by jumping from the A-7 Totalan viaduct which passes above their neighbourhoods.

The incident caused a three-hour traffic delay and prevented them from accessing or leaving their homes, and it was the fourth such case in the last decade

Furious locals are now calling for the council to introduce measures to prevent further deaths.

"The last victim landed just five metres from a house on the Las Tres Marias side of the bridge," revealed a spokesperson, who did not wish to be named, after explaining how the previous two landed on the MA-3202 road.

In addition, the council has come under fire for failing to deal with rubbish being thrown from cars travelling along the busy motorway.

"Everything from cans, bottles, food and broken vehicle parts cover the road side," the resident added.

The locals believe that problems could be solved by increasing the height of the railing at the side of the bridge, which they first requested when it was opened in 2003.

Bucking the trend Horses to be offered breather

HORSE-DRAWN carriages will not operate from 3pm-6pm in a bid to protect the animals from the summer heat in

Councillor of Transport, Miguel Diaz, explained that "it was necessary to put an end to the image of our horses being exposed to the hot summer sun."

Diaz assured that the council "will continue working to provide respect and integrity to the horses that provide our carriage service, while also benefiting the city's tourist image."

In the summer of 2015, pictures of a horse that collapsed due to heatstroke in Marbella sparked outrage from residents and animal rights groups alike. The horse's owner was charged with animal mistreatment, and was banned from animal-related trade for three years.

In addition to the ban, Diaz explained that the council are looking into the possibility of creating a second official shade stop for the animals in order to ensure the horses remain out of the sun while providing minimum disruption to traffic in the area.

Open letter from HMA Simon Manley

GIVEN the success of the Spanish State Visit to the UK the week before last, which, among other things, highlighted the importance of people to people links between our two countries, I thought it timely to return to the subject of citizens' rights in the negotiations on our departure from and future partnership with the EU.

In the year since the EU referendum, I've had the pleasure of meeting many of you across the country, from the Balearics to the Canaries, along the Costas and in Madrid, and our consular teams have met many

I know from those conversations that there has been uncertainty for many of you. My teams and I have listened to your concerns about the future. including about your residency status in Spain, the level of your UK pensions, and your access to Spanish health and other social services, and have noted the questions you have about tax, inheritance, right to work and the implications of applying for Spanish nationality.

At our meetings, on our social media and in interviews. I have also pledged to keep you up to date as negotiations on our exit from the European Union continue. So, let me update you on where matters stand now, in light of the latest negotiation round in Brussels last week.

The UK government has been clear that citizens are our top priority in the exit negotiations. We want an agreement that provides citizens with greater certainty about their fu-

Last week, we held constructive and substantive discussions with the European Commission on the bulk of the issues underpinning our respective positions on citizens' rights. Together we have taken a big step forward.

There is a much clearer understanding on the detail of the positions on both sides and significant convergence on the key issues that really matter to citizens. You can read this technical note which compares the

SIMON MANLEY: Has pledged to keep you up to date as negotiations continue.

UK and EU positions on these issues here. It is clear both sides want to move towards an agree-

As you know, on June 26, the Prime Minister outlined to Parliament an offer to protect the rights of EU citizens in the UK. We are entering the negotiations with the European Commission and the other 27 EU Member States constructively and we therefore hope that the EU27 will offer reciprocal treatment for British nationals resident in the other Member States.

Many of you will have seen press reports of our June 26 offer, whether in the UK or Spanish media. I hope you will also have read the detailed proposals which are set out in 'Safeguarding the position of EU citizens in the UK and UK nationals in the EU' (https://www.gov.uk/ govern ment/policies/brexit) and I would encourage you to sign-up for email alerts (you can do so on the Home Office gov.uk page) to receive updates, to ensure that you are receiving information and guidance from official sources.

The first key element of the new proposal is residence status and working rights. Until the UK's exit, EU citizens in the UK will continue to enjoy all the rights they currently have under EU law; they can continue to live and work in the UK just as they do now.

The same rights also apply to vou. British residents in Spain. You can continue to live and work here in Spain as you always have done. After the UK's exit from the EU, we are proposing a reciprocal deal that would protect the right of UK nationals already in the EU to continue to live and work in the EU. We hope that the European Commission and the 27 other Member States will agree to this

The second key element is healthcare, pensions, education and access to benefits. It is our intention to treat EU citizens with settled status in the UK in the same way as if they were UK citizens for the purposes of access to education, benefits and pensions.

For you, the government has announced that the UK will continue to export and uprate the UK State Pension and provide associated healthcare cover within the EU issues which I know from my conversations over the last year were important to many of you.

At the moment, those of you who are UK pensioners and resident in Spain access healthcare through the S1 form. This means the UK reimburses Spain the cost of providing medical treatment.

After the UK leaves the EU, we want to continue your healthcare entitlements on the same basis. Healthcare in Spain was indeed one of the case studies cited in the detailed proposals made by the British Government on June 26 (see link).

Subject to negotiations, we want to continue participating in the European Health Insurance Card scheme meaning EHIC holders continue to benefit from free, or reduced-cost. needs-arising healthcare while on a temporary stay in the EU and vice versa for EU EHIC holders visiting the UK. We hope the European Commission will agree to this.

The British government has repeatedly said that, until exit negotiations are concluded, the UK remains a full member of the European Union and all the rights and obligations of EU membership remain in force. You can continue travelling throughout the EU on your UK passport, without any visa requirements.

You can continue to access Spanish healthcare and draw your UK pension. If you have any difficulties accessing those rights, do please let our Consulates know

I will continue to engage with you and listen to you, as will my consular teams across Spain. In the meantime, please follow me on Twitter (@Si monManleyFCO) and access the Embassy's social media (@UKinSpain on Twitter; British Embassy Madrid and Brits in Spain on Facebook) to keep up-to-date with developments.

Sex pest used social media Online threat

ARRESTED: Man created a fake profile.

A MAN was arrested for allegedly grooming minors to have cybersex with him in Malaga.

The 48-year-old would reach out to his targets on Facebook - where he had more than 5,000 friends, mostly minors - and immediately attempt to get their phone number in order to videochat.

Police created a fake profile, of a supposed 15-year-old in Malaga, and reached out to the suspect.

The man began attempting to convince the 'girl' to send him nude pictures, and offered to put €30 of credit onto her phone.

He then added that many other girls her age did the same, and some of them were earning €60 a week doing it.

Police then tracked his address through the profile, and arrested him in La Linea de la Concepcion.

Three hard drives, a tablet and two mobile phone memory cards were seized from his home by investigators.

Authorities said all conversations held between the suspect and the 15-year-old were sexual in nature, in one instance he even sent her pornographic footage to try and convince her to engage in cybersex.

He was sent to prison where he is awaiting trial for the corruption of minors.

Parking fine

THREE men have been arrested by Local Police in Malaga after being caught stealing from vehicles near the Plaza Mayor train station.

Investigators were able to find the thieves after viewing CCTV footage from the nearby shopping centre car park which showed one of the individuals, aged 32, breaking into a car.

Police detained and searched the perpetrator, who carried a stolen mobile phone, a micro SD card and a car key.

Seven hours after the initial arrest, officers were called back to the shopping centre by a security guard after he witnessed another two breaking vehicles throughout the complex. They watched as one of them stole a backpack from one car, and then attempted to break into another.

Officers intercepted the thieves on Avenida Montserrat Caballe and transferred them to a nearby police station.

THOSE who live within the San Roque borders will benefit next vear when they come to renew their annual car taxes.

As part of its commitment to save money for residents, the council has decided to charge the minimum required by law for the two main categories of vehicles which will see a reduction of 11 per cent to €34.08 and €71.94.

In addition, those who are registered disabled will see a further discount as part of the council policy of making life easier for those suffering from disabilities.

Other types of vehicles including tractors and motorcycles will also see a reduction in the tax charged and this is the start of a number of reviews of different taxes over which the council has an element of control.

Also in its sights are the cost of cemeteries and also general rates and urban tax.

Mouth of Rio Guadiaro blocked again

THE ongoing row between the San Roque Council and Cadiz Council over the blockage of the mouth of the Rio Guadiaro continues.

According to the environment group Verdemar-Ecologistas en Acción, actions speak louder than words and for the second time in two weeks came to the rescue by sending in a team armed

It wasn't just this team that became involved but local residents from the Sotogrande area also joined in when they learnt of the need to open up the channel to the sea yet again.

The environmental group thanked the residents as well as the group of youngsters who pitched in to undertake the back breaking work which meant that the necessary nutrients could flow into the river from the sea to feed fish which could die otherwise.

The organisation criticised the inactivity of the authorities but confirmed that it would always be there as a last resort should it be needed in the fu-

Golf wonderkid prepares for international tour

BRITISH golfing ace Oliver Strang is getting ready for tournaments around the world.

Caceres-based Oliver began playing golf with his father, Christopher, when he was just three years old and quickly got the hang of the sport, and soon after joined the Michael Campbell Golf Academy near Puerto Banus Marbella

There his coach, Phillip Tanham, honed Oliver's skills and he began to win junior tournaments, including finishing top in his age group for the Wee Wonders competition, which has qualified him for the St Andrews Tournament in August, and the most recent Chinnydipper competition with -1 par.

Thanks in part to his sponsors, Chinnydipper, Sam Oliver, ClubFace-Golf, J Kellett Foods and Diamonds & Pearls Events Management, Oliver will also be able take part in the American Golf Junior Championship in England in August, as well as the Paul Mcguinty Trophy in Portugal, the US Kids Golf tournament in Wales, Spain's Chinnydipper Pro Tour and the St Andrews Wee Won-

After a hectic August schedule, the aspiring pro golfer hopes to also to take part in the Venice Tour in Italy in September and, should he qualify, a tournament in America in the beginning of 2018.

The youngster dreams of becoming world number one and playing in the Masters Tournament.

Christopher Strang told the Euro Weekly News: "He is a busy boy, his coach is amazed with how good he is.

"He has the drive to be the best and loves the game."

Christopher also recommends any parents with children interested in golf enrol them into academies like the Michael Campbell Golf Academy so that they can learn "discipline, sportsmanship and enjoyment in the game of golf."

Oliver has a Facebook page,

Oliver Strang - road to the Masters, where videos of him training attract thousands of views and a large number of supporters in his dream.

Everyone here at the EWN Media Group wishes Oliver the best of luck on his road to the

Saturday night fever in Mijas

MIJAS erupted last Saturday night into a disco inferno to the 'Sounds of the 70s,' an upbeat, high octane, spectacular revue produced by the Costa del Sol's favourite showman Johnny G in conjunction with Spotlight Events.

Revellers young and old travelled from all parts of the coast up to the picturesque village of Mijas to its fabulous open air theatre to enjoy a great night out under the stars.

Sensational performances from Johnny G, Alexandra Avery and the Mania Dance Group allowed guests to relive the golden days of the 70's as they guided the audience through the archives of a musical era that changed the world.

This included the classic rock of Rod Stewart and Queen, the glam rock of Abba, Elvis and The Bee

OPEN AIR: In the picturesque village of Mijas.

Gees, the soul of Tina Turner and Candi Staton, and the classic disco funk sound of Tavares, Rose Royce, The Trammps, Barry White, Donna Summer, Gloria Gaynor and many more! All of these great bands and artists, along with their timeless songs, had one thing in common the decade of the 1970s, and together their music forms one definitive sound: 'The Sound of the 70's.'

Headlining this sensational show was a fantastic Abba tribute performed by the dazzling Amelinde Hernandez and Juliet Williams

For those that missed out on this spectacular event. the next show from Spotlight Events in the Mijas Auditorium will be 'The Elvis Presley Memorial spectacular full night of 70's music was enjoyed at the Mijas Auditorium.

Concert' for one night only on August 16, marking 40 years ago to the day that Elvis Presley left the building for the last time.

Since then many have tried to emulate the great man but Spotlight Events are lucky to have living here on the Costa del Sol one of Europe's very best Elvis impersonators in Johnny G. So for Elvis fans everywhere the only place to be on August 16 is the Mijas Auditorium to pay homage to the king in the Elvis Show you really don't want to miss that day.

The show stars at 10pm and tickets are well priced with concessions for groups and children 12 and under. Plus coach services to and from Mijas from Marbella and Torremolinos with pick ups along the way are also available. For further information call 607 717 595 or go to www.live musicmijas.com.

Party in the park

I THE PSOE opposition inspect the improvements.

CAMPAMENTO BEN-ITEZ, Malaga, has opened its gates after being closed since April for maintenance work.

Mayor Francisco de la Torre explained that the council had installed bins, benches and tables over the last couple of months as well as two information points for tourists.

cleared fallen also branches and pruned trees in the area in a bid to improve the appearance of the park.

Environmental councillor Raul Jimenez stated that visitors cannot have barbecues, ride motorcycles or discard cigarette ends in the area.

"We want it to be a very natural forest, as if Council services have you were experiencing the countryside." he said.

Campamento Benitez, located near the Plaza Mayor train station, will be open throughout the day with a 200-place car park to accommodate the park's visitors.

The PSOE opposition party has criticised the park for "innumerable deficiencies," due to the lack of lighting and the absence of public toilets.

DANGEROUS: The bridge in its current state.

Bridge over troubled water

MALAGA Provincial Council is to spend € 200,000 to replace a broken footbridge over the River Guadiaro to provide better access to the Cueva del Gato (Cat's Cave).

Deputy Councillor for Public Works, Francisco Oblare, explained that the works will take several months to complete.

After the existing structure is demolished, contractors will begin clearing vegetation from the river banks in order to improve water circulation in the area and reduce the risk of future flood damages.

The new bridge will be constructed using metal rather than wood in a bid to prevent it from collapsing as the previous one did.

The initiative aims to boost visits to the stunning cave, which sits between the village of Benaojan and the Sierra de Grazalema Natural Park.

In addition to the main works, information panels will be dotted throughout the area to encourage visitors to take care of the natural environment.

been arrested in Puerto de la Torre after trying to run down a pensioner and two motorcyclists.

The Guardia Civil were called to Avenida Lope de Rueda after a 75-year-old man was forced to take refuge behind a telephone pole to avoid being crushed under the car of the accused.

According to police sources the man showed up at his ex-wife's home, who had taken out a restraining order against him, but was unable to find her. Upon leaving the scene, he spotted the pensioner leaving a nearby chemist and began to ram him with his vehicle.

According to an eyewitness account, the accused attacked him three times with his car, hitting a nearby property with such force that the gate came off its hinges.

"If he didn't hide behind the telephone pole, he would be dead," explained the wit-

The victim explained that in the past the two had disagreed on multiple occasions.

"He said that he had come to kill him, and explained that the same person had come to his home and threatened him with a knife just weeks ago," added the witness.

During the police chase the accused knocked two victims off their motorcycle, however neither were seriously in-

Busted in Banus

A BRITISH man, working as a promoter for a local bar was arrested in Puerto Banus for offering to sell drugs to a plain clothes policeman.

He first offered cocaine at €80 a gram and then nitrous oxide (laughing gas) at €20 per bulb but was rather taken aback when the officer revealed his true identity.

After arresting and searching the 25-year-old he was discovered to be in possession of two bags of cocaine, 14 bulbs of nitrous oxide, 20 balloons from which the gas would be inhaled and €300 in cash.

Nitrous oxide is traditionally used for carbonating drinks and making whipped cream, but when inhaled can give mild feelings of euphoria, although it is a general anaesthetic and can cause burns to the face and in a worst case scenario asphyxiation.

Price steers tourists to car hire choice

SIX out of every 10 British holidaying abroad and seeking car hire choose the cheapest vehicle available.

Additionally many look for early deals and generally go for the cheaper locations, including Spain and Portugal.

This is spelled out in findings from research company Mintel which has offices worldwide, including London.

A Mintel report on car hire just published advises hire firms to change their marketing strategies to appeal to tourists looking for a leaner holiday package where every penny counts.

Transparent pricing and special deals would go far in appealing to this new demographic, the report says.

Also, overall British holidaymakers are losing some of their appetite for car hire when travelling abroad with steep prices and bad experiences taking their toll, making a car on holiday now viewed by many as an unnecessary expense.

The Mintel findings reveal that the number of British tourists hiring a car abroad has dropped 6 per cent in 12 months to 33 per cent in 2017.

Young tourists have led the change in habits for while more than 40 per cent aged 18-24 rented a car when travelling abroad in 2016, this year the figure is under 30 per cent.

> Many British holidavmakers now view car hire on holiday as an unnecessary expense.

Bad experiences and the perception of being ripped off is partly blamed with four in 10 saying they were charged more than expected, and almost as many claiming a negative experi-

The research indicates that the car hire industry is now exposed to the same market forces that have transformed flights and accommodation. Low-cost airlines and a thriving tourist home rental industry have knocked major airlines and hotels from their previous perch.

Though appetite for car hire may be waning, cars themselves haven't lost their magic. Researchers found that the majority of British like the idea of a road trip abroad with friends and family.

Almost nine in 10 of those with incomes above €56,000 have considered the idea, with this group also more likely to crank their car choice up a gear, with 65 per cent saying they would consider hiring a sports car to give their holiday an edge.

Car hire firms should capitalise on this by better advertising their product, the report concludes. Emphasising cars as a means of transforming a standard holiday into an independent adventure free from the limits of distance and bus schedules, would encourage people to spend more on the car they really want.

If hire companies can manage this they will tap into a huge market. The research found that 63 per cent of Brits have holidayed abroad in the last three

MEETING between scaffolders and the mayor.

Out with the old

SCAFFOLDING workers who used to be employed by a contractor at the CEP-SA oil refinery in San Roque have appealed to the mayor for assistance.

When the company for which they worked closed down, it was expected that the workers, some of whom had been on site for more than 10 years, would see their contracts simply carried over to the new contractors.

This however has not been the case as since December 2016, the new contractors have been employing younger, less experienced workers who do not have the same level of seniority or history of work within the CEP-SA refinery.

Mayor Juan Carlos Ruiz Boix has agreed to continue to discuss this matter with all parties including the municipal government and hopes to find a solution with will be acceptable to evervone.

A LOCAL POLICE officer rescued three people from a burning house on Calle Rafael Alberti in Malaga.

According to witnesses, the police officer was patrolling the area when he heard cries of help coming from the building. Without waiting for backup the policeman entered the block of flats and rescued two women, aged 18 and 33, and a 35year-old man. National Police arrived and instructed the remaining residents to wait on their balconies until the fire departments arrival.

After the blaze was extinguished, the officer was taken to an ambulance to be treated for smoke inhalation.

THE WINNING work by Zosen and Mina

SECOND PLACE mural by Efrén Calderón.

Artistic duo wins Mural Competition

AFTER the painting of 11 murals on walls of properties around Estepona, a jury has decided who has won the First International Murals Competition of Estepona

The work done by Zosen and Mina Hamada has won the first prize of € 10,000 and the artwork painted by Efrén Calderón has been awarded the second prize of €5,000

There are now 50 murals painted around the town making Estepona an open air art gallery with plenty of scope for expansion.

Zosen and Mina Hamada are two visual artists from Argentina and Japan whose artistic repertoire includes murals, paintings on canvas, illustration, installations, serigraphy and book publishing

Efrén Calderón has spent years in the world of graffiti, alternating his street pieces with other projects and he has been involved with Maus Malaga, La Termica and Espacio Cienfuegos.

The mayor of Estepona, José María García Urbano, has highlighted the quality of the artistic works that have been executed and that "already form part of the cultural heritage of the town."

NEW LAW: No killing.

THE Balearic Parliament has approved a law for bull runs which prohibits the killing of the animal during the spectacle.

Strict regulations will be brought into place for bull runs, where the animal cannot be harmed in any way, alcohol cannot be sold, those under-18 cannot attend and flags cannot be used.

Runs are also limited to 10 minutes per bull, and 30 minutes total. Blood doping for both professionals and the animals has also been prohibited, and the bulls must spend 48 hours in a pen - rather than a small compartment where they are kept in the dark before a run and taken directly to the starting point of the

The new law has faced harsh criticism, with some calling the law "unenforceable" and unconstitutional. Ciudadanos spokesman Xavier Pericay has also gone as far as to call the changes "traitorous" by attempting to "ban a culture without people realising."

HOLIDAY SICKNESS: There have been many false claims.

BRITAIN'S government has hit dozens of illegal firms suspected of encouraging fake holiday sickness compensation claims.

The Ministry of Justice has found a total of 34 unlicensed firms believed to be fuelling the surge in numbers of bogus claims being made by British tourists.

Six warnings have been issued as well as two investigations, and six websites have been

It also found evidence of solicitors carrying out malpractice and has informed the Solicitors Regulation Authority.

A further 40 firms offering no-win, no-fee services were also issued with 'compliance

Despite the crackdown, the Association of British Travel Agents (ABTA) has questioned whether the crackdown will stop company owners from carrying on as be-

ABTA's director of public affairs Alan Wardle said: "While it's great this action has been taken, we need to make sure the owners of these companies cannot simply set up shop again and carry on as before"

A British couple were recently ordered to pay thousands to Thomas Cook after making a fraudulent compensation claim from their trip to Gran Canaria.

Do you have a mortgage in Spain?

IF you do, maybe you have a Ground Clause or 'clausula suelo,' and you have been paying for years extra in your monthly payments for your mortgage that could add up to thousands or Euros.

What is a ground clause?

It is a clause in which some Spanish banks have fooled its customers telling them that their loans are charged at a variable interest rate when really they have been charged a higher minimum interest.

What is the legal situation with the ground clause?

Currently a European Court judgement has declared the total retroactivity of the ground clauses claims. Also take note that you can claim even if your mortgage is can-

By other way, Spanish government has created a national law in order to regulate Ground clauses claims.

Must the banks return what you paid in excess?

Not at all, the new government law does not really oblige banks to pay back, what the law established is a system prior to the judicial claim where, after a client's claim banks are required to inform of the amounts paid more for the application of the ground clause and say if they agree with the cusDespacho Jurado Grana Abogados tomer's claim or not. So really what the law says is that the bank must inform about amounts paid in excess and give the chance of a deal to the parties.

If you are interested in finding out if you have been subjected to the clause and if you are paying more, we just need copies of the following documents:

- Copy of mortgage deeds.
- Mortgage statement from beginning to

Kindly feel free to ask for a free appointment in order to get a valuation of your case, you won't pay solicitor fees until you get your money back, get a judgement or we eliminate your ground clause.

Owen Andrew Thomas (1962-2017)

Formerly Benalmadena and latterly of Algeciras

THE Euro Weekly News was deeply saddened to hear of the recent passing of our exeditor Owen Thomas.

We extend our profoundest sympathies to his family at this difficult time.

A former colleague who was at EWN during the time Owen was with the newspaper and who still lives near Benalmadena, informed of his death said:

"Oh how terrible. What a dreadful tragedy. Owen was generally unassuming, and a real-

Michel Euesden - publisher of EWNMG is deeply saddened by the loss to the community of such a fine young man. Owen came to us many years ago as an editor and was highly respected by his peers and managers alike. Although he moved on he remained in touch and was always delighted by the progress of the paper he started working in the Euro Weekly News.

In recent weeks he came back to visit us with a view to returning to his roots in early October. Owen will always be remembered by us all as a TRUE GENT with a passion for reporting news to the expat community he thought so much of.

Our prayers and thoughts are with his family.

Production pick-up Spain

FINANCE

AS part of an agreed €80 million plan, the Nissan plant in Barcelona will start to produce the new Mercedes X-Class pick-up truck.

By the fourth quarter of 2017, the Catalan factory will be producing three different vehicles for the Daimler, Nissan, Renault alliance and expects to have produced a total of 90,000 vehicles during the

Spain's cost of living

IF you have ever complained about the cost of living in Spain, think again as it has some of the cheapest prices in Europe for some products.

Whilst it comes in the middle of all 28 countries in the European Union according to a report from Eurostat, the EU statistics agency, it is one of the cheapest for alcohol, cigarettes and clothing.

Conversely, it is considered one of the most expensive for mobile phones, internet connection and furniture.

Perhaps unsurprisingly the cheapest places to live are the former commuBy John Smith nist states whilst Denmark and Ireland are the most expensive.

The figures have been compiled taking costs from 2005 to 2016 into account and comparing a basket of different products and utilities against each country.

Although Spain has a number of major fashion houses, shoe designers and stores such as Zara it actually comes out as the cheapest in the EU for unbranded clothes and shoes.

In addition, the country is fifth cheapest in the Eurozone for the purchase of cars, vans and motorbikes with the knock on affect that public transport is also lower than many oth-

Having seen the housing bubble burst and despite a general return of confidence, renting and buying properties are much below the European

Food and entertainment whilst cheap are more expensive in comparison to utility costs, although they have been growing considerably over the past two

Popular deposits dropped

OVER a two month period prior to its enforced takeover, Banco Popular saw deposits of €9.3 billion withdrawn from accounts.

Much of this movement was caused by commercial funds and Spanish municipalities pulling out which helped in turn to see the rapid drop in the bank's credit rating.

No details of June withdrawals have been released by the Spanish Banking Association as yet, but it is assumed that the June figures would have been worse.

This is intended to prevent any discriminatory attitude," said Minister of Equality Dolors Montserrat after announcing a pilot scheme to remove photographs plus details of age, sex and name from CVs.

MINISTER of Employment Fatima Báñez.

More support for young unemployed

THE Spanish government has committed a further €837 million to youth training taking the total to €3.2 billion until 2023.

This was revealed by Minister of Employment Fatima Báñez who also confirmed that a proportion of this ing would come from European funding.

With more than 500,000 poorly educated and unemployed young people not contributing to the economy, the government is anxious to improve their options by encouraging employers to take on trainees who will be learn skills as they work for a period of 18 months

During this period of training, the government will pay €430 per month towards their salaries and if then transferred to long term contract, the government will also pay their employers up to €4,800 a year for three years.

According to the minister, Spain is leading the way in the creation of youth employment in Europe although it recognises that it still has a long way to go.

» BUSINESS EXTRA

Poverty trap

Spain earn less than € 15,566 per annum whilst 12.6 per cent earned the minimum wage of €7,783 per year. These surprising figures have just been released by the National Statistics Institute (INE).

Court fees

THE prize money received by Garbiñe Muguruza for winning the Women's Championship at Wimbledon was € 2.45 million. For many years men were paid more than women but this has now been equalised to ensure parity between the sexes.

Hotel offer

BAD BANK Sareb is offering 209 commercial properties for sale including 37 hotels and apartment hotels. With tourism continuing to grow, these established, relatively inexpensive and ready to operate hotel properties are expected to be popular with investors.

Spanish economy still growing

THE International Monetary fund (IMF) had some good and bad news for Spain in its latest forecasts.

Thanks to consumer spending and better than expected tourist numbers, the IMF has increased its growth forecast for Spain from 2.6 per cent to 3.1 per cent for 2017 and has indicated that even this figure could be exceeded by the end of the year thanks to government reforms..

With this good news, comes warning that despite a reduction in unemployment, the Spanish figure of 18.7 per cent is only better than Greece within the eurozone and worse than the average of 9 per cent.

UNABLE TO FACE THE THOUGHT OF JAIL Disgraced banker has committed suicide

FORMER chairman of Spanish savings bank Caja Madrid, Miguel Blesa, was found dead at a country estate in Cordoba after shooting himself.

Blesa, who was released from prison pending an appeal against a sixyear prison sentence after being found guilty in the 'tarjetas black' banking scandal, was discovered with a bullet wound in his chest from a hunting rifle and an autopsy confirmed the belief that death was caused by suicide.

He was on a hunting trip with friends and reportedly said he was going to move his car, when a gunshot was heard.

According to reports from Europa Press, Blesa's inner circle said he was not depressed or feeling defeated in the days leading up to his

The former Caja Madrid boss was one of 64 people accused of misusing €12 million of Caja Madrid and Bankia money between 2003 and 2012.

They were accused of using company credit cards for personal expenses such as luxury holidays and parties without ever justifying them or declaring them to tax authorities

Miguel Blesa had allegedly established the 'corrupt system' while head of the bank before handing the reins over to Rodrigo Rato - also one of the 64 accused - in 2010.

Caja Madrid was once one of Spain's largest lenders, with an estimated seven million customers and annual earnings of over €2 billion during the real estate boom.

In 2011, it merged with other banks to form Bankia, but just one year later needed billions of euros from the state to stay afloat, and eventually asked the EU for a bailout where it received €41 billion.

This was not the first time that he had flirted with scandal as he had spent 15 days in jail in 2013 with regards to overpayment for the purchase of a Florida bank and was only released when his lawyers had the judge thrown off the case which then collapsed.

A former friend of many politicians who sinecures with his bank, Blesa had fallen so far from grace - especially after boasting about his extravagant life style - that he grew a beard and wore dark glasses in public.

Possibly the final straw may have been that his assets including pension payments had been partly frozen and his properties were used as guarantees to the courts.

BBVA Bank best app

A SIMPLE app from Spanish bank BBVA has been voted the best mobile banking app in the world, leaving 53 leading international banks standing.

The research which was undertaken by Forrester, an international research and advisory company, studied 54 different criteria ranging from ease of registration, security, speed and ease of login to availability of advice and sale of products.

The average score out of 100 for these mobile apps was 63 and the success of the BBVA app at 87 simply left much larger and wealthier banks in the shad-

At the end of the day, customers want to be able to undertake their transactions and manage their accounts with the minimum of difficulty and it would appear from this study that BBVA meets the criteria.

SWEET SUCCESS FOR CANDY Wonkandy cracks Middle East market

TWO Spanish entrepreneurs were looking for a way to establish a successful business after the collapse of the Spanish economy and came up with a brainwave.

Although neither Andrés Pérez nor Fátima Pereyra who met in Sevilla knew anything about the sweet market, they decided that there would always be an outlet for good quality sweets that were produced from the best ingredients and were packaged attractive-

Thus in 2010. Wonkandy world of natural candy - was born with production outsourced to a range of manufacturers leaving the pair to concentrate on marketing and sales.

The home market was still weak despite their launch of an outlet in Sevilla but they discovered that the business could be nurtured through foreign sales and the signing of franchise arrangements.

What really helped the business take off was when their product was picked up by Harrods in Lon-

Candies like jelly beans are generally non Halal because they contain gelatine which is often made in part from pork bones, so they adapted their recipes and obtained a certificate from the Spanish Halal Institute which allowed them to develop business in many Muslim countries.

Now they export to 20 countries around the world and have a number of franchised outlets throughout Spain with some 60 per cent of their income being derived from exports.

With steady growth the company is continuing to expand and is filling a niche role which they hope will see their brand becoming one of the largest exporters of Halal sweets as well as appealing to those who are gluten and lactose intolerant.

Spanish public debt up

THE Spanish public debt almost tripled to €1.087 trillion since the start of the economic crisis in

It is still more than 100 per cent of the Gross Domestic Product (difference between income and expenditure) of the country but as income has increased, the negative effect is slightly less than this time last year.

This debt compares with the 2008 figure of €390.6 billion in 2008 but is still considerably less than the USA, Japan and the UK.

GROWTH OF THE WORLDWIDE COURIER

Deliveries quicker and easier

THE world of the courier is relatively new but now accounts for a significant amount of business and sees turnover of hundreds of billions of euros worldwide.

For centuries, goods were delivered by sea and then by horse and carriage to stores and individuals, with efficiency and speed of delivery increasing with the introduction of trains, vehicles and aircraft.

The introduction of the Universal Penny Post in 1840 was the start of a whole worldwide revolution which allowed for cheap and speedy delivery of post and then parcels nationally and internationally.

Now, couriers, who were first set up to transfer important documents across the world in a quick and efficient manner are growing in size, value and importance helped in the main part by the introduction of online shopping.

According to a recent Mintel from the UK, don't worry, there will be a courier company ready to deliver it in a matter of days and suppliers are able to strike such good financial deals with them that often delivery is free and certainly more efficient than local postal services.

Britain needs transition deal

THE co-Chief Executive of major US financial operation Goldman Sachs International wants to see the British government agree a Brexit transitional

He argues that unless this happens quickly and is of a significant period then his company and many others will simply have no option other than to reduce their work force in the UK and increase recruitment across the European Union.

Richard Gnodde, the most senior employee of the company outside of the USA told the BBC that he was wasting money making contingency plans when he doesn't actually know what the British government intends.

With 6,500 UK based employees the company is just one of many that is pressing for information from Brexit Secretary David Davis who has recently left Brussels without any agreements of any significance

Losing mental capacity whilst living abroad

MANY UK expatriates living in Spain own properties in the UK and have pensions and investments in the UK. They rely on their UK assets to maintain their lifestyles (and those of their families) in Spain. If they can no longer manage their affairs in the UK due to a loss of mental capacity, it can cause many difficulties.

You can choose a person or people, who you trust, to act for you when you are no longer able.

The best way to avoid the legal and practical difficulties that can occur with the loss of mental capacity is to plan for it in advance by drawing up a document called a 'Lasting Power of Attorney' ('LPA').

An LPA must be made while you have full mental capacity.

What is an LPA?

An LPA is a legal document that enables you to appoint one or more attorneys to act for you when you are no longer able to act for yourself.

Your attorney can be a professional,

such as a solicitor or a family member or

Why should you get an LPA?

You can choose a person or people, who you trust, to act for you when you are no longer able.

If you lose your mental capacity and do not have an LPA, then your family (or the authorities) will have no choice but to make an application to the Court of Protection to appoint a 'deputy' to look after your affairs, which can be time consuming and costly.

Will my LPA be recognised in Spain?

Unfortunately there is no international type of LPA which is guaranteed to work in both the UK and Spain.

The advice we give to our clients at Stone King, is that if you have assets in both Spain and the UK, your only safe option is to appoint attorneys in both ju-

Do what is best for Charlie

LEAPY LEE SAYS IT OTHERS THINK IT

HAVING raised six offspring, all of whom I love most dearly, I have the utmost sympathy for the parents of little Charlie Gard.

Unfortunately, as deeply as this young couple obviously love and cherish their little mite, it is now, in my opinion, time to let him go.

I am of course writing this before the court's decision on the matter, but I personally feel that even if this new American neurosurgeon can do anything to prolong his life, all the experts agree, the chances of him enjoying an existence even remotely approaching normality appear to be just about nil.

To me the adoration of his parents has now become somewhat misguided. Blinded by emotion they are, I feel, in danger of evoking a desire to prove themselves morally right, both in the eyes of the law and their numerous sympathisers than do what is right for their little boy.

EMOTIONAL TURMOIL: Charlie's parents face crucial decision based on emotions or morals.

Please, if you truly love him, as I'm sure you do, let him pass. Invest the money raised by the caring public into research, or a new hospital wing. Some kind of memorial to celebrate his short time among us.

But for mercy's sake let him go.

Give your own torment some closure. Begin again, bring a new little miracle into the world. Look to a bright new future knowing you did all you could for little Charlie.

I get a little peeved by the attitude of a number of the Grenfell survivors. I don't have to reiterate how sympathetic I feel for the traumatised victims of this disaster and can understand their anger that it was able to happen in the first place. But I truly believe the authorities are doing all they can to sort out this most com-

I also know how difficult it is to please everyone; but to hear that out of 300 offers of accommodation, only 14 have been accepted, does make me think that perhaps the co-operation with people trying to help is somewhat lacking on the part of the

I was particularly put out by the attitude of a number of attendees at the initial meeting of the investigation committee. 'You're not one of us Mon,' screamed one dissenter at enquiry conductor Sir Martin Moore-Bick. Just what is that supposed to mean? That Moore-Bick is not an ethnic, multi-cultural immigrant of non-British decent? If Moore-Bick himself had uttered the same statement, he would have been labelled a racist and could possibly have faced prosecution. It would be more respectful to the memory of those who perished to bury all racial and social grievances and just allow those selected to complete this enquiry in the quickest and fairest way possible.

LEGALLY SPEAKING Driver's performance

AS part of a new series, we answer some common driving questions, kindly provided by  $members\ of\ the\ Guardia\ Civil\ based\ in\ Torrevieja, Costa\ Blanca, who\ set\ up\ the\ N332\ web$ site and Facebook page to help break down barriers.

A MOBILE app which assesses and records a person's driving performance has revealed that drivers in Spain don't quite perform as they believe.

DriveSmart is the mobile app that measures the driving style of the user and compares it with the assessment of other drivers. The survey revealed that drivers in Spain believed themselves to be generally 'good drivers' however, after the analysis of the results it revealed that they are actually even better than they thought.

To run the application it needs to be activated at the beginning of the trip and then it automatically collects the data on a person's driving performance using the phone's internal sensors such as accelerometer, compass and GPS for example, without the driver having to use or manipulate the phone during the journey. Drivers are asked to create a profile before and after the trip, depending on the characteristics and conditions of the road. DriveSmart evaluates the journey and shows results on how the driver performed behind the wheel and how they could improve.

In the self-assessment only one in three Spaniards considered themselves to be a 'good driver,' while 12 per cent thought they were 'excellent.' Only 1 per cent said they were a 'bad driver.'

However despite these modest results, the app gave these drivers an average rating of 95.99 out of 100, an improvement on the ratings of 94.6 from last year. Across the regions, drivers in Cantabria scored the best with an average rating of 97.7, followed by the Canaries and Baleares with 97.55 and 97.44 respec-

Is chimney flue legal?

My neighbour in the Community has fitted an outside chimney flue to some type of internal fire. My house is a three-storey terraced house. The neighbour had a canopy above his ground floor window, over the short original flue. This area is now very black. Now he has extended the flue to above the first floor. The bedrooms of my house and the other neighbours are exposed to smoke or fumes from this flue. By the black deposit already left on his wall, this could be very toxic. In England this would not pass building or public health regulations. What I would like to know is, to which authorities do I report this?

K.A. (Costa Blanca)

In a Community of A. Property Owners, you should first discuss this flue with your President or Administrator. Your neighbour should have obtained permission from the Community in order to place anything on the outside of his wall.

You and other affected neighbours can also bring up the matter at the AGM, by asking the President to put it on the official Agenda. If none of this gives results, you have final recourse to your town hall.

THURSDAY THOUGHTS

By Angus Silvie, Axarquia

Impressive six-pack

IN Spain as in all countries around the world, a small and sadly unrepresented sample of people suffers from what I call Hideous Face Syndrome. I am myself a victim of this circumstance. For men this means their appearance has denied them the chance to know what it feels like to have girls either flirt with them, come up of their own volition and say hello when on a night out, or give out green light signals instead of the big red stop signs they are used to. The only exception to this rule applies to handsomely challenged men of great wealth and exceptional self-confidence, who can act like magnets for young attractive ladies. Damn them! I repel instead of attract.

But do good-looking and normal-looking people ever pause to consider what life must be like for those who don't possess their good fortune? It must be difficult for someone who is able to go out and hook up with a member of the opposite sex at will to have any understanding of what it is like for those of us who know that all attempts to get lucky will result in rejection. We have the same urges, the same feelings, yet we are destined to be forever watching the same fortunate people snaring and discarding partners while we smile weakly and churn up inside.

In warm climes like the Costa del Sol, a grotesquely-faced man parading hopefully in his speedos whilst sporting an overhanging belly is starting with an extra disadvantage when it comes to enticing a partner. Not that my impressive six-pack helps me much, as when I open my fridge and reveal my six cans of beer, ladies are not as delighted as I had hoped. But at least the beer can help to drown your sorrows, until it results in you gaining an unwanted beer belly. Oh well. Cheers!

WHERE HAPPY MEMORIES LIVE ON

HE Costa del Sol is synonymous with luxury living in the sunshine.

It has increasingly become the most favoured location in Spain for foreigners seeking the perfect climate, topping the Spanish ranking with around 3,000 hours of sun per year.

The mild weather combined with a plethora of amenities and property ranging from townhouses in Mijas to the sprawling La Zagaleta in Benahavis, arguably the most exclusive housing estate in Spain, have together set the region in stone as a target for expatriates chasing the dream plus the super-rich and famous alike.

But the accolades that led the area to become Number One with many global celebrities have not been won overnight, rather the foundations have been strengthened over many decades.

It began in the 1940s with Spanish aristocrat Ricardo Soriano, Marquis of Ivanrey, who opened the hotel El Rodeo in Marbella in 1945, before his nephew Prince Alfonso de Hohenlohe, whose godfather was King Alfonso XIII of Spain, built the prestigious Marbella Club Hotel, the Costa's first luxury lodging, in 1954.

The area became fashionable with the world's jet-set and many celebrities continue to buy property here today.

Importance of insurance

A SPANISH property association has warned that an astonishing number of people across the country lack adequate buildings insurance. Arrenta also believes around four in five buildings insurance contracts are old, with high premiums.

They advise that owner communities across Spain seek out help from impartial insurance brokers who can offer an expert assessment of the true cost of fixing up community pipes or cleaning graffiti. Analysis from Arrenta also found that the vast majority of property owners in community buildings have no idea what their buildings insurance coverage includes or how much it really costs.

Arrenta's findings come amid other surveys which reveal that huge numbers of property owners in Spain do not even have home insurance. A general lack of awareness about the benefits mean that millions of people forego it entirely.

The latest data is in for the first quarter of 2017 and shows a price increase of 7.7 per cent over Jan-March 2016. With respect to the last quarter, from Oct-Dec 2016, prices increased by 4.4 per cent, moderating the total decline from the highs of 2007 to just 22.8 per cent.

Meanwhile purchase figures for the first quarter show that 113,738 transactions were registered, which is the best quarterly result in six years. It represents a huge increase of 21.8 per cent on the final quarter of 2016, and a year-on-year increase of 14.4 per cent.

Among the new mortgages signed, the average debt stood at €116,182 and fixed-rate mortgages accounted for 38.7 per cent of the contracts. Once again the vast majority of homes sold were secondhand, though new build numbers continue to rise, and at a faster rate.

Price rises also saw another symbolic milestone reached in Spain's superb recovery. Property prices across the country are now comparable to 2004, well before the crisis and at a healthy time for the Spanish market before the sharp rises from 2006-2008.

Spain has suffered economic uncertainty since 2008, but there are encouraging signs for the property market.

Money is flowing into the Spanish property market from sun-bound Brits who continue to cement their dominance of the country's foreign buyers market.

In the first guarter of 2017 foreign nationals purchased roughly 15,000 properties in Spain. That amounts to a 13.1 per cent share of the total market, following on from last year's average of 17 per cent.

Among the foreign buyers, Brits accounted for 14.5 per cent of purchases, by far the largest national contingent. French buyers secured the second highest share at 9.6 per cent, putting Brits well ahead in front.

The next largest nationalities by share of the market were the Germans on 7.7 per cent, Belgians on 6.9 per cent and Swedes on 6.3 per cent, the latter two with less than half the British share.

The data shows 2017 is so far following the exciting trends set in 2016 which saw foreign buyers continue to flood into Spain, snapping up properties and helping the market soar to fresh new heights.

This year analysts expect foreign buyers to purchase more than half a million homes in Spain, the vast majority secondhand. That would reflect a remarkable rise from roughly 300,000 in 2013.

Brits are leading that charge and have so far defied the pessimistic expectations surrounding Brexit. Across the board property portals have reported increased numbers of Brits expressing serious interest in Spanish property after the vote.

LIVE the Clean

By Christopher Clover

HE Internet has become by far the most useful tool for those looking to buy properties and a net-based property search is usually the first step taken by any potential buyer. But, is it the right second step, once one sees a few desirable properties on several sites, to contact and make appointments with all the agents offering those properties, agents you don't know or may not have even heard anything about, some of whom do not even identify themselves correctly on their sites?

Perhaps another option to consider, even while looking at everything on the net, might be to seek out as a first priority a really qualified, experienced agency to work with that has a large direct inventory of the kind of property you are looking for.

Additionally, choosing such an agent will assure that they pull out all the stops to spend plenty of time with you to get to know you and your special requirements as well as possible, sharing with you their market knowledge and recent comparable sales actually made, and who will eventually find just the right property for you. If it's not in their own inventory they will go out and find that special property through their colleagues in other agencies on a commission-sharing basis.

Choosing a lawyer

Experts recommend that purchasers of property in Spain retain a qualified solicitor to represent them and qualified financial advisors to deal with tax issues. Once you have made a decision to purchase property here, even though you may not have found that special property yet, establishing a relationship while you are in Marbella can be immensely useful if you start negotiating a purchase after returning to your country of residence, as it is clearly more difficult to choose a lawyer long distance.

Getting the basics into place

Having a lawyer, NIE number (an identity number issued to foreigners in Spain) in place, and bank account opened strengthens a buyer's position when negotiating as IF YOUR
TOO LOW IT WILL NOT ENGAGE

Sea view apartments or a white Pueblo... the choice is vast.

he or she can put down an immediate deposit if an offer is accepted, since all the other details will have been taken care of already.

Negotiating a purchase

A good agent will also be immensely helpful to you in negotiating the purchase of a property you are interested in buying. It is important to remember that if your offer is too low it will not engage the interest of the seller, and might actually prove counter-productive.

An articulate offer will generally capture the attention of a vendor. We recommend getting all your points together, rather than negotiating 'piece meal.' Make your offer in writing if possible (of course, subject to contract). Points to include are not only the price, but also the deposit amount and when you are prepared to pay it, when you are prepared to complete the transaction, what you understand to be included in the price (for example furniture and fittings if applicable), and an often neglected point - that all technical equipment and installations should be in good working order. Also, if you have a second choice property you should certainly advise the vendor of this fact.

Your lawyer can also be consulted during the negotiation to ensure that the terms of the offer meets his or her legal criteria, and on occasion will also become actively involved in more complex negotiations.

The purchasing process

Actually purchasing a property in Spain is a relatively straightforward procedure. The 'last word' in property ownership is the property registry, which will show immediately if the seller owns the property free of liens and encumbrances. Most frequently, unless an immediate payment of the full purchase price is made, a private contract of purchase is drawn up wherein the details of the purchase are reflected the legal description of the property, purchase price, form of payment, date of completion, date of possession, etc. Upon signing the private contract, a payment on account of the purchase price is always made which can vary substantially according to the terms of the sale and the date of completion.

A quite normal deposit for completion within 30 to 60 days would be 10 per cent of the agreed purchase price.

New properties which are unfinished obviously are paid for over the construction period, and all payments on account before finishing must be guaranteed, according to LAW 38/1999, by a bank or insurance company: if the property is not finished by a certain date, a purchaser has the right to reclaim the monies paid, plus legal interests. Additionally, another law obliges the property developer to arrange a 10-year insurance policy with respect to any basic building defects with the purchasers as beneficiaries.

When the entire purchase price is paid for the property, the seller will issue the public deed of conveyance (escritura) to the purchaser, free of liens and encumbrances. This deed is issued before a Spanish Notary, is passed from the notary to the tax office to be assessed for Transfer Tax if the property is a resale or second-hand property, or assessed for Stamp Duty if the property is sold directly by the developer. It's then presented to the Property Registry for inscription. A provisional inscription in the registry is made immediately upon issuance of the deeds.

Where luxury is par for the course

NESTLED in the hills between Benahavis and Ronda, La Zagaleta is a development which caters for those who can afford to live the Marbella lifestyle but want privacy.

The development has some of the most attractive and tastefully built villas designed by international architects in a range of different styles from the palatial to the modernistic and it is also possible to purchase plots on the site from which individual dreams may be built.

This is not just a traditional urbanisation but a real centre of excellence which offers two private golf courses, reserved for members of the community with each having its own club house offering a range of services.

If residents require traditional Spanish fare, Asian cuisine or simply a drink and a snack, one of the two clubs will be able to satisfy their needs.

That however is not all that is available as there is a riding school, 30 kilometres of bicycle and hiking trails, tennis and paddle courts and a property service where residents can obtain maintenance.

LA ZAGALETA: For those who want privacy.

Benahavis has so much to offer

JUST above the pretty little town of Benahavis is the Benahavis Hills Country Club which caters to owners of the newly built villas within its boundaries.

It is not a large development but the 36 detached villas and four townhouses are built to very high standards and have exceptional views of the surrounding countryside.

The club which was created for both these home owners and and local residents who want to enjoy a lifestyle not just somewhere to exercise offers a range of services.

It's not just a place to exercise or relax it also has some of the very best food in the area through the Hills Café.

The Club also boasts a spa and offers beauty treatments by a number of experienced and well trained staff.

Spanish home sales hit 9-year-high in May

Up, up, up they go - the Spanish property market's remarkable recovery has continued into the summer, with the latest official data from national statistics institute (INE) showing that home sales in May reached a nine-year-high...

According to the official figures, the 44,782 home sales registered in May this year is the single-highest monthly figure since September 2008, and is a massive 22.9% increase on May last year. And this is no mere isolated month. The first five months of this year combined have seen 191,537 properties bought and sold in Spain - a total that is 11.8% higher than the same period in 2016. For a longer view, the INE data also reveals that, for the 12 months up to the end of May 2017, home sale transactions number almost 425,000, which is an encouraging 11.9% annual increase.

Whichever way you look at it, you've got to admit that Spain is having a pretty successful time of late and things are looking very encouraging indeed.

And despite the ongoing uncertainty of Brexit, from holidays to homebuying Britain's enduring love affair with Spain continues apace. According to Spain's College of Property Registrars, last year a huge 33.92% of the properties sold in Málaga province were purchased by foreigners, the lion's share of whom continue to be British.

Based on our own experience, sales made to UK nationals were down from 36% of the total pre Brexit (January - June 2016), to 29% post Brexit (July - December 2016), which continues into

But while the British market remains in pole position, other nationalities have more than made up for its weakening demand. The dramatic and sustained upturn in Spain's economic fortunes and improving job market, for example, mean that Spanish buyers accounted for 17% of yourVIVA's sales in 2016 - putting Spain in second place - followed by Swedish buyers (12%), Belgian buyers (7%), while German and French purchasers were in joint 5th place with 5% each.

The Costa del Sol property market is now becoming much more balanced with Danish, Norwegian, Dutch, American, Russian, Finnish and Irish buyers also forming part of the increasingly cosmopolitan mix, a bit like the team at VIVA, as we speak all of your languages.

And with a network of 8 regional offices all along the Coast and inland too, we have an incomparable portfolio of properties - of all shapes, sizes, types, prices and at every location.

We would like to ensure that you always feel at home with VIVA.

Let's talk currency

Paying for your child's tuition fees? Learn how to save money on your currency transfers

Putting your child through higher education can be seriously costly, with tuition fees and living costs typically amounting to tens of thousands of pounds in just a few years.

If you're living abroad but transferring money back to the UK to fund your child's time in University, the process could be made costlier still if you're using your bank to manage the currency

A new school of thought

When it comes to transferring money overseas, moving your funds through your bank seems like the logical choice on paper. But in reality, what should be a quick and simple task can end up taking considerably more time than it should.

If you're looking for a simpler and speedier alternative, consider the benefits attached to using a leading currency broker. Whether you need to make regular, smaller currency transfers or have a large lump sum to transfer. currency experts can help you save time and money. They can also help you understand the volatility of the currency market and teach you how to time your currency transfers effectively.

For example, while the EUR/GBP exchange rate initially strengthened considerably in the wake of the UK's vote to leave the EU in 2016, the pairing has experienced significant fluctuations ever since. This exchange rate movement can make planning your transfers a bit of a pain. With complex Brexit negotiations due to extend for the next two years, the EUR/GBP exchange rate will remain unstable, so it's important to be prepared for sudden

Do your sums

One major advantage to using a currency specialist like Currencies Direct is that they don't charge transfer fees (unlike many banks) ensuring that the money you're sending to the UK is not reduced by unnecessary costs. Transfer fees can quickly add up if you make frequent transfers, so you could end up saving hundreds of euros a year.

By using a currency broker you can also ensure that you're getting the most competitive exchange rate for your transfer, meaning you'll get more for your money.

Revise your options

Using a currency specialist also takes a lot of hassle out of the transfer process, as you can set up payments 24/7 from the comfort of your own home and arrange for them to be made automatically on pre-set dates.

You can also make instant or 'spot' transfers whenever you need to, so you don't need to wait to move the money if your child needs some emergency funds.

Another option you might want to look into is a forward contract, which gives you the ability to fix an exchange rate for up to two years in advance of making a transfer - protecting your funds from negative market movements.

By doing a bit of research into the different transfer options available you can eliminate the hassle and get more from your currency transfers. Find the services that suit your needs and you'll quickly discover how much you can

At Currencies Direct, we've helped over 210,000 customers save on their currency transfers since 1996. Just pop into your local Currencies Direct branch or give us a call to find out more about how you can save money on your currency transfers.

Star (price) Wars

NEWS that Michael Douglas has slashed the asking price for his Mallorcan estate by a third puts him in elite company among celebrities trying to shift their Spanish properties.

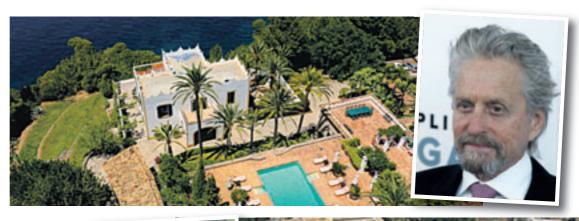

The Hollywood star reduced his demand for s'Estaca, an 11 bedroom, 10 bathroom affair furnished with 'indescribable luxury' according to the sales pitch, from €50 million to €40 million. This summer it went down again, to €36.5 million.

Douglas invested heavily in the historical property and appears determined to make at least some profit. But he's not the only star perhaps holding out for more than the market can muster.

On the mainland disgraced former England manager Sam Allardyce is still trying to sell his Costa Blanca villa. Big Sam's Moraira property has five bedrooms, a wine cellar, lift and terrific views.

He went there for time to 'reflect' after his sacking just months into the England job and ended up deciding to sell the place. It has been on the market for €4 million since spring, with no serious interest recorded.

Back in Mallorca, another sporting star is desperately trying to raise funds. Former tennis champ Boris Becker has been declared bankrupt, making his island villa a key asset likely to be seized and sold.

Michael Douglas reduces price.

Boris Becker desperate to sell.

Sam's property has great views.

A family dedicated to real estate for over a century

Panorama, as many know, is Marbella's longest established Real Estate Agency, founded in 1970, with a reputation for providing a highly professional and quality service to its buyer and seller clients that stands alongside those of the best agencies in the world.

FOUNDING FATHER: B B CLover in 1904.

PIONEER: Bill Clover in 1985.

FAMILY AFFAIR: Chris (c), Katinka and Alex.

HAT most people are unaware of is that Christopher Clover, Panorama's owner and Managing Director, comes from a three generationold family of real estate agents and entrepreneurs. The fourth generation of professionals, Christopher's children, Alex and Katinka, have also recently joined Panorama.

Here is an abridged chronology of the company's amazing story.

1904 - B B Clover opens his first real estate agency headquartered in Chicago on Evanston Avenue (later at 69 W Washington Avenue in the Chicago Title and Trust Building) followed by a second branch in the town of Itasca with the intention of developing Itasca into a desirable place to build a home and enjoy a comfortable suburban lifestyle.

1925 - One of the first golf course developers in the United States, B B Clover built a golf course and a clubhouse on the land originally owned by the first settler in the area of Itasca. The Itasca Country Club still stands today as one of the most luxurious establishments of the Chicago suburbs.

1926 - B B Clover's grand plan to develop Itasca as a glamorous Chicago suburb in the 1920's included building a handsome half-timbered commercial building, today a landmark in the town's Historical District.

Panorama opened its first real estate office in Marbella in 1970.

1939 - Williston L Clover moves to Charlottesville, Virginia and becomes a Black Angus Cattle Farmer and Tennis Professor at the University of Virginia. Williston H Clover, Chris's older brother, was born.

1952 - B B Clover and his son Williston (Bill) L Clover open the Clover Realty Company in Charlottesville, Virginia. The company is still in business today, although under different ownership, in its original building in the town's historical Court Square.

1966 - Panorama International Ltd. is formed in Washington DC and is the first company to offer international properties and developments to investors in the United States.

1968 - Bill Clover acquires Panorama International Ltd.

1970 - Panorama International opens Marbella's first international real estate office in the Edificio Capitol at Avenida Ricardo Soriano, 1.

1971 - Christopher Clover joins his father and brother at Panorama International in 1971 in Washington DC.

1973 - Christopher Clover takes over Panorama International's offices in Marbella

1975 - Christopher Clover forms an independent company, decides to transform the long-term goals of the Marbella office, and begins the marketing of prestige properties in the area.

1990's - Panorama capitalises on its success and reputation and opens offices in the most prestigious areas of Marbella, at the Puente Romano Hotel and directly opposite the Marbella

1995 - Panorama launches one of the first Internet websites specific to the Marbella area.

2001 - Alex Clover joins Panorama to help fine-tune the company's image and implement a series of internal improvements. Today he is Listings Consultant and Advisor to the Company.

2004 - Panorama launches its magazine 'The Marbella Property Magazine.' In addition to the award-winning market report written by Christopher Clover, it contains other interesting articles both for buyers and sellers, as well as an excellent selection of properties differentiating itself from most real estate magazines which are mere catalogues of properties.

2008-2009 - Panorama continues to expand its 'dream team' with the appointment of Sean Cannon, Frédéric Saubadu, Walter Fernández Romer and Vedran Canjuga as Sales Consultants, Sorin Mailat as Rentals Consultant and Alfonso Muñoz as Administration Assistant.

2010 - PANORAMA CELEBRATES 40 YEARS IN MARBELLA!!. Alfonso Muñoz is promoted as Sales Coordinator and Carolina Alaniz joins the team as Receptionist. In Memoriam: Bill Clover, Panorama's Founder.

2011 - Luis Gallardo joins the team as Sales Consultant.

2012 - New members to the Panorama team include: Mariano B Cusimano as Sales Consultant, Margarita Garvayo as Assistant to the Sales Coordinator, Lorena Alaniz as Receptionist and Carolina Alaniz becomes PA to the Managing Director.

We can help with NIE and residencia

SHOULD you apply for NIE or residency?

New arrivals in Spain are surprised at how often they will be asked for their NIE number. Whether they are opening a bank account, buying a mobile phone or changing utility bills into their name, they will be asked for this number. Everyone who lives in Spain, whether full-time or part-time will have to get their NIE but the confusion often arises when the term 'resi-

Golden Leaves International

If you are staying for more than three months, then you need 'residencia.'

What is an NIE?

NIE or 'Número de Identificación de Extranjero,' is a foreigner's identification number. You will be asked for your NIE when signing contracts, petitions, you will need it to work in Spain and for your SIP health card.

By law, the decree (Real Decreto 338-1990) says everyone, regardless of their nationality or being a resident or non-resident, who has any 'official business' in Spain, must have a fiscal number - So anyone who has professional, economic or social interests in the country will need a NIE

What is the difference between an NIE and 'residencia'?

Whether you need an NIE or 'residencia' will depend on how long you intend to stay in Spain. If you stay for less than 90 days at a time, you need an NIE number. You will need to make an appointment at your local Oficina de Extranjero or police station, where you will be asked to fill out a modelo 790-12 form and asked to produce your passport and copies.

If you are staying for more than three months than you need 'residencia', which means filling in the EX18 application form. In both cases, you will get your NIE number but 'residencia' means you are issued with a 'Certificado de Registro de Ciudadano de La Unión' - certificate of registration in the EU Foreigners Register in Spain - which does not have an expiry date. Your NIE number is for life but the expiry date is put in to encourage people to take up residency.

Getting residency is more complicated than an NIE because you need to prove you are self-sufficient. Each office has different procedures and you could be asked for bank statements proving you are getting a pension paid in or proof that you have funds to support yourself; evidence of private health care; work contract; passport plus copies; completed EX18 form and the receipt to show you have paid the modelo 790-12.

Even if you have 'residencia' it does not mean you are a Spanish tax resident. That is a different matter, although if you live most of the year in Spain then you should be a tax resident in this country.

Please get in touch if you would like help to get your NIE, 'residencia' or to discuss becoming a tax resident in Spain.

Would you want to eat your words?

STICKS and stones may break my bones but words will never hurt me may no longer be true.

According to Dr Masaru Emoto, Japanese researcher, the truth is that words can actually do a lot of harm, to us, to those around us and to the environ-

His studies and experiments have shown that our words have so much power they can even alter the molecular structure of water - a substance that covers 71 per cent of our planet's surface and makes up some 65 per cent of the adult human body, which renders his discoveries very relevant and more than significant.

By understanding and sharing the conclusion reached by Masuru from analysing frozen water droplets, (from distilled water samples in a controlled environment and from taps, lakes and rivers etc) under a powerful microscope, we can realise that even our intentions and thoughts, words and prayers can either resonate in harmony with the beauty of nature, or not.

Many of us say words without thinking, such as "I hate being stuck in traffic," or "I hate being late," but as it turns out, saying the word "hate" carries an energy that can turn a frozen drop of water into ugly, sinister looking shapes when observed under a microscope.

Polluted water when frozen and examined in the same way creates the similar ugly patterns in dull opaque colours as did the water exposed to an abusive word or phrase.

Dr Masaru Emoto believed water contains messages and showed that water exposed to harmonious, classical music and positive affirmations produced brilliant, unique, diamond formations and, that prayer could transform ugly polluted water molecules into beautiful snowflake and diamond crystals after being blessed; a message of hope in itself.

So dare we ever speak a negative word again? Perhaps by trying this simple experiment at home will help you decide. I found it hard to follow through as I didn't like insulting even the jar of rice, but if you can go through with it, you'll be amazed at the results - I promise!

1. Put some boiled rice into three separate jam jars.

2. Label one jar with the words I LOVE YOU, another with I HATE YOU and the third, leave blank.

3. Pour tap water into the three jars, covering the rice and seal with the lid.

4. Separate the jars (@ 30 cms apart) and say the corresponding words written on the jar directly to that jar, every day, for 30 days. (Ignore the unlabelled jar).

When you see the results, what the negative 'vibe' has done to the rice, then take a moment to think: so what's it doing to me, to my body? What does that look like on the inside after a lifetime of subjection to these negative energies?

If you take a look at the image of a bad jar of rice after completing the experiment, I think it's obvious that it could be pretty nasty to actually have to eat our own words.

It's holiday time again. Have you got that Liberty feeling?

ONCE again, summer is here with a vengeance. Temperatures soar and with the influx of tourists, you have to keep your wits about you at all times when driving.

Holidaymakers who rent a car, may also be driving on the opposite side of the road to their home country, like the British, so you need to be extra vigilant and try to anticipate their possible mistakes. One very common incident happens on roundabouts where drivers take the wrong lane. For example, if you want to carry straight on then it's best to take the outside lane, and if you intend to turn left, take the inside lane.

What many people do, is take the outside lane with the intention of turning left but the driver on the inside lane who is going straight on, has to be very careful to avoid a collision with the vehicle going all the way round.

Aside from the inevitable increase in traffic accidents with the huge influx of tourists from around the world, you need to make sure your car is up to scratch too.

For example, always make sure that your tyre pressures are correct by checking them at least once a month especially as road surfaces become very hot indeed and will affect the pressures. Needless to say, check the tyres too and make sure they are in good condition with enough tread. Also check the car's radiator water level; the last thing you want is to overheat if you're stuck in a queue and worse still have to wait for a breakdown truck. It's also illegal to run out of screen-wash so keep this topped up.

Driving with flip-flops or shoes without backs is not permitted either. Obviously seat belts must be worn all round and children need safety harnesses. And stating the obvious too, mobile phones must not be used for speaking (unless using a built-in hands-free device) and definitely

"It won't happen to me...!" Will you be worry-free, or risk a travel trauma?

WHO doesn't love a holiday? Whether visiting family or friends, or getting away from it all on a rural retreat, Travel Insurance may be the last thing on your mind when planning your next break. After all, it's tempting to think "it won't happen to me"... but trust us when we say "it just might..."

As we approach peak holiday season, we see plenty of examples of Globelink customers needing assistance while away, so don't leave yourself out on a limb for your next trip.

Last year UK Insurers paid out a whopping £365 million for overseas medical treatment, cancelled trips, stolen baggage and other travel troubles. But it's not just about financial protection. Did you know that most Travel Insurance Policies have a 24/7 Emergency Assistance Service to help with emergencies while abroad?

They are the unsung heroes of Travel Insurance who become your closest friend if you have a travel mishap. Assistance Companies have experienced multilingual teams to handle any situation our intrepid customers throw at them, with specialist Doctors to monitor and advise on all medical cases and medical repatriations.

Whether it's holiday tummy, or a serious, life threatening illness or injury, they are there 24 hours a day to arrange emergency treatment, cover costs and find flights if you need to rush back for an emergency at home. This requires a mind boggling array of skills including empathy, ingenuity, efficiency, tact and diplomacy in equal measure. Calls are often from very distressed customers with loved ones ill or injured and the team must show compassion, whilst also obtaining the information necessary to validate insurance cover and arrange the right support.

Here are two recent genuine examples of Globelink customers who called for help:

#1) Whilst in Nashville, Mr D called the Assistance team because his wife had a fever. A hospital visit was arranged and Mrs D seen by a doctor. The assistance doctor and treating doctor agreed that Mrs

D was not fit to travel home to France as planned the following day. Medical costs of £3,750 were covered and the assistance team stayed in touch until Mrs D was well enough to travel. Flights and transfers home were then duly arranged and paid for. Mr D later wrote "sincere thank you to everyone who helped get my wife home safely after her illness. The quality of service, speed of response, friendliness and dedication have been truly impressive." Great feedback from Mr D.

#2) James, aged 21, was injured in a boating accident in New Zealand and suffered a fractured shoulder and broken leg. He was admitted to hospital and throughout his stay the Assistance team kept in touch and supported James in completing all necessary accident forms and formalities. Medical costs were covered too

The team also kept James' parents in Spain updated of progress, which was invaluable due to time difference. Once James was fit enough to travel, all repatriation arrangements were made, including an attendant to accompany James on the journey home to provide assistance every step of the way. Flights, transfers and medical costs of £13,750 were covered by his Globelink policy. James' father subsequently wrote thanking the Assistance team "for their support and professionalism which was second to none." Can't get better than that!

So do yourself a favour and don't skimp on getting decent travel insurance to protect you and your loved ones. Take as many trips as you like in a year with a Globelink Annual Multi Trip policy, starting at under £60 at www.globelink.co.uk.

Globelink Travel Insurance: for people living in the EU. Trusted for 20 years by our customers. Get an instant quote and secure cover with www.globelink.co.uk, or call (UK) +44 1353 699 082.

Share your best Travel Tips with glob elink@globelink.co.uk. And thanks for the great tips you have emailed already! Next month we will publish our favourites.

Adele at La Sala

■ NIKKI RAE returns to La Sala Gibraltar on Saturday evening with her incredible Adele tribute act. Looking and sounding like Britain's incredibly successful singer, Nikki takes time to explain the story behind some of Adele's most emblematic performances so that the audience becomes part of the event. For booking details visit www.lasalagibraltar.com.

Beach recycling

■ THE government has deployed 26 recycling units across six beaches. Each recycling unit contains four bins to take care of all forms of recyclable waste as well as general rubbish. Litter on beaches is a significant environmental problem. It can cause injuries to people on land and if in the sea, becomes marine litter.

Nuclear submarine repair cost millions of pounds

By John Smith

INFORMATION has been released concerning the cost of £3 million for repairs following a collision between HMS Ambush and a merchant ship last year.

The £1 billion nuclear submarine was submerged and sailing away from Gibraltar when it struck a chemical tanker some three nautical miles off Gibraltar and had to make a very speedy return for damage assessment.

After a week of review, the unloading of weapons and a number of complaints from Spanish observers about the possibility of radiation leaks, it was decided that no significant damage had been done and the submarine set off back to the UK for repair.

It has now been suggested that the accident occurred during a training period for potential new submarine commanders which would explain a possible reason for its sensors being unable to alert the pilot to the imminent collision.

Whilst the damage was dismissed as negligible, the overall bill which was actually £3.4 million when miscellaneous equipment and accommodation costs are added will however have to be paid by the British taxpayer.

Continued crackdown on cigarette smuggling

WHEN a reporter from the Gibraltar Broadcasting Company was filming at Western Beach, his cameraman noticed two young men running along the beach carrying heavy bags.

They filmed the unexpected events which saw the men dash to a hole in the border fence, clamber through and throw the bags over the Spanish fence to a number of people who were waiting and the bags were loaded onto a motor scooter which shot off.

Probably because this video received massive social media exposure, plain clothes officers from Customs and Excise visited the beach the following day and saw the same men plus a third running and carrying heavy bags.

In total three men and two women, all Spanish nationals were arrested and 209 cartons of cigarettes worth £4,000 and a scooter were seized.

Subsequent to this, the hole in the fence has been repaired, increased surveillance has been announced and there will be a general strengthening of legislation concerning the possession of commercial licences to sell tobacco.

Samaritans Helpline

■ THE Samaritans have now opened a new anonymous telephone line in Gibraltar thanks to a generous donation to the group from the government. This money will assist the Samaritans in training volunteers who will then man the dedicated phone line. Chairperson Mrs Marielou Guerrero thanked the government for their enthusiasm and support.

Brexit and Spain

JUNIOR BREXIT minister Robin Walker responded to a question in Parliament saying that the UK government has not met with Spanish counterparts to discuss Gibraltar. As far as the UK is concerned, Gibraltar is part of the UK exit negotiations with the European Union and Britain will have full regard to its interests without separate reference to Spain.

Division Two

MIDFIELD player and international Liam Walker has been signed by Notts County, the oldest professional football club in the world which plays in League Division Two. The Gibraltar international who was previously with Portsmouth has been on trial with the club, playing in preseason friendlies against Nottingham Forest and Wigan Athletic, and has impressed enough to be offered a contract at Meadow Lane.

Microbead ban

FOLLOWING widespread condemnation of the use of microbeads in personal care products, the Gibraltar government has announced plans to consider ways of banning their importation. These little beads of plastic are found in a whole range of facial and body scrubs but they cannot be filtered at treatment plants and therefore end up in drinking water or in the sea forming pollutants.

Dastis's Campo visit to discuss the future

ALERT to the fears that exist in the Campo de Gibraltar over the forthcoming Brexit, Spanish Foreign Minister Alfonso Dastis will visit various towns there in September.

It is common knowledge that Gibraltar is the second largest employer of Spanish workers in the Campo and it is believed that at least 10,000 people make the trip across the border to take up work every day.

A high proportion of these workers hail from La Linea and the surrounding towns and with the relative poverty of the local councils, any threat to the livelihood of these workers has worried the councillors and made them work together and meet with the Gibraltar government to discuss the future.

Put brake on rising tolls

Your story AP7 takes its toll (Issue 1969) highlighted that it is illegal for the motorway operators to increase charges when business improves... and yet this has been going on for years to my knowledge.

I have always felt sorry for touring foreign holidaymakers who, wishing to perhaps reach their final destination as fast as possible, find themselves (unwittingly) paying more than twice as much as if they used the same road out of the main summer months.

Local residents at least know and therefore have the option to steer clear of such profiteering, unlike tourists.

It is time to put the squeeze on the toll road operators so they stop cheating summer users.

Give new builds parking spaces

WITH the recession appearing to now be well behind us, there is an obvious resurgence in local construction.

While many might question the need for more new apartments with seemingly the majority often left empty for much of each year by foreign owners - I doubt Spain will ever ban construction while extra focus is given on selling the remaining unsolds.

If new builds are therefore set to continue, why does the Spanish government not make it law that every new property MUST have allocated either a private parking space, or a garage.

Fines and tough regulations hit Spain's beaches

WELL, we have police cycle along the boardwalk here, and they never seem to see the infringements we see. Guess funds are not low enough just yet?

Best not to smile when in the sea.

Mike

AS a resident I tend to avoid the beaches this time of year however maybe the local authorities should give due consideration to where the bulk of their income is derived... it's not olives and oranges!!!

As far as pee'ing in the sea!!!! Only the judiciary of Marbella could come up with such a redicilously unenforceable rule.

Sewage scandal in Axarquia

THE thing they don't mention, and never mention is the village of Maro 4km away from Nerja, and under the municipality of Nerja, dumps its sewage in the sea RIGHT AT THE COAST, in between La Caleta and Playa de Maro, which has been declared the best beach of Spain.

There is a sewage waterfall right next to the real waterfall where tourists go to swim.

True dilemma

WITH regard to the letter Sharp lesson from family nanny (Issue 1672)

My vies to the writer C Walker are:

What a dilemma your lawyer and accountant friends must have had to realise that the children's 'Nanny' sat in, as you put it, in the 'power throne' when the family went on holiday!

Maybe a better solution might have been leaving the nanny at home, then the 'tough nut' lawyer, (your words) and her accountant husband could have spent the holiday giving the children their undivided quality time without worrying if the nanny would leave, or hold them to some kind of emotional ransom.

Modern times you said, seems more reminiscent of olden times to me.

Shut up shop

RE the letter on Summer Sunday opening (EWN Issue 1671), this has been allowed now for many years, and is allowed for July, August, September. also at Christmas and Easter times. I would not want the shops to start opening every Sunday, as they are open from 10 am-10 pm Monday to Saturday, which I would think is enough time for anyone to do their shopping, so I hope Spain does not follow other European countries.

Clear the air

APART from the obvious effect on local traffic movement, bad enough in itself, there is another, more insidious penalty being imposed on residents and visitors alike.

Pollution, now known to cause countless premature deaths and impaired lives but, probably because we have become used to it over the years as an inescapable consequence of 'progress,' largely ignored.

Where I live, in Altea, particularly at this time of year, the fumes around the N332 from the traffic queues are eye watering. More than incongruous considering the much vaunted 'exceptionally clean air' for which this area is famed, just a few metres away on the promenade!

The Beauty Expert

Onychomycosis (foot fungus)

What is onvchomycosis?

Onychomycosis is a fungal infection of the nails (mainly the toe nails) which affects 18 per cent of the adult population (and up to half above the age of 70).

What causes onychomycosis?

The key risk factors that can lead to the onset of onychomycosis are: ageing, moisture, other skin diseases (such as psoriasis, ringworm and athlete's foot) and genetic susceptibility.

Given that the perfect breeding ground for fungus is moisture and heat, there is a greater risk of developing onychomycosis during the summer months.

What are the symptoms of onvchomycosis?

Onychomycosis typically starts with discoloration or distortion of the nail. In general, the nail will turn vellow and become thicker. Because the infection initially causes no pain, patients are often slow when it comes to consulting with their GP, and when they do onychomycosis has spread to all of the patient's toenails. As a result, it is advisable to seek advice as soon as the initial symptoms are observed.

What treatments are there for onvchomycosis?

Onychomycosis infection is conventionally treated using antifungal drugs or topical antifungal preparations. Nevertheless, the treatment period is long-drawn-out.

In the case of drugs, the drawback is that they have to be administered over an extended period in order to be effective and they are contraindicated for some patients.

The third option is laser treatment, which is safe. painless and effective. Only three or four sessions are needed in order to clear up the infection. It is a highly appealing alternative solution for both doctors and patients as there are no side effects and no post-treatment recovery period is required.

ATENZIA: Has launched a campaign which includes advice and recommendations to help stay cool in the heat.

Beating loneliness this summer

SOME 1.9 million people aged over 65 live alone in Spain, a figure which has increased. That's according to the latest Continuous Household Survey of the National Statistics Institute Atenzia, Spain's 24-hour tele-assistance service, has launched a campaign to help combat loneliness during the summer. They said the summer can be particularly lonely for the elderly as the heat can weaken their physical state and increase their vulnerability. They are also affected by the loss of their social network as friends, relatives and caregivers go on holiday.

As a result, Atenzia has launched its summer campaign which includes advice and recommendations to help stay cool in the heat. avoid fraud and increase security and have organised workshops and activities to promote socialisation.

Just last week Alicante hosted a security at home workshop in collaboration with the National Police with advice given to identify situations of risk and to know how to deal with them.

This week in Zaragoza, a workshop includes guidelines to enhance memory and mathematical skills including games such as bingo which

MANY adults are turning away from gyms due to back pain.

Around two-fifths of adults in the UK said they avoided exercise because of pain in the lower back according to a survey of more than 2,000 adults which was commissioned by the British Chiropractic Association.

However they said that the spine is naturally strong and moderate exercise, when done correctly, can help to build and maintain its strength and posture and actually protect you from further pain in the long run.

Meanwhile the Association reminds people that changes in lifestyle are also affecting back health, with fashion maybe more a concern than hitting the gym.

Current fashions are changing the way women walk and this is having a detrimental impact on their health. Skinny jeans for example, restrict the movement of the knees and hips which puts extra pressure on the back. High heels are also often criticised for the pressure they put on feet and back when walking.

Are you one of them?

Mobile phone use has also recently been highlighted as a cause of back pain with people hunched over looking at their phone screens.

Back pain is one of the most common ailments with four in five people expected to suffer at some point in their lifetime. So what can you do to help prevent aches and pains in your back but still want to work out?

Be safe. If you exercise at the gym make use of the professional staff they have. When signing up for the first time, everyone should be shown how to use the equipment efficiently and safely by a qualified instructor.

Don't overdo it. Your body can do a lot and whilst you need to push it at times, remember you are not an Olympic athlete and listen to your body. Take things slowly, particularly when starting out and ask an instructor to advise on a safe way of training to push yourself without going beyond your body's limitations

Warm up and cool down. Most injuries are caused not from the actual exercise itself but from the body's muscles not being correctly warmed up and cooled down before and after.

Try yoga. Yoga is now being widely recommended by experts to strengthen the back and medical professionals are even 'prescribing' it to ease pain rather than handing out painkillers and medication.

Good posture. Even if not at the gym, you can practise stronger back health. Try and correct your posture, stand up straight, don't slump over your desk at work and use a chair that provides firm support for your lower back with knees ideally a little higher than your hips when

Gentle exercise is necessary and needed when pregnant

EXERCISE: Reduces chance of a Caesarean

WOMEN who exercise when they are pregnant can reduce the chance of needing a Caesarean by 10 per cent.

Evidence gathered from around 12,500 women in 16 countries found that mothers-tobe who do gentle exercise during their pregnancy such as aerobics, walking or using a bike machine, and eat a healthy diet are more likely to have a natural birth.

Currently, around one in four births in the UK are by Caesarean which, although regarded as very safe, can carry the risk of complications.

Experts said that many women wrongly believe they should be 'eating for two' when pregnant and 47 per cent of women put on too much weight, raising the risk of a Caesarean. But regular exercise significantly reduces the mother's weight gain and babies are not at risk from exercise. Although, it is always advised to stop exercising if you feel unwell or become so breathless you cannot talk.

Heat rash

SPECIALIST: Doctor Luis Perez Belmonte

WHAT is heat rash?

Heat rash is an eruption of red skin that can sometimes be itchy but generally doesn't have any symptoms. It usually appears in areas where skin rubs on a surface, and from high body temperatures in areas such as the armpits, inner thighs, elbows, knees and also in the torso where more sweat accumulates

What are its symptoms?

Usually heat rash appears as patches of bumpy, red skin in areas where the body sweats the most. In general it does not tend to hurt, however the areas can become itchy and irritating when they are still wet from sweat or from wearing tight fighting clothes. It very rarely gets infected.

How can you treat

Heat rash tends to dissipate without any treatment, however in some cases ointments with antibiotics and anti-inflammatories help reduce the swelling. In extreme cases corticoids or antihistamines may need to be used to combat swelling and itching.

Who are the most likely to get heat rash?

Anyone can get heat rash however those who are most at risk tend to be people with very light skin, children and the elderly.

Can it be prevented?

You can prevent, or reduce the frequency of heat rash. Firstly it is essential to keep your skin clean and completely dry. Fresh cotton clothing avoids irritation caused by rubbing. Always keeping your skin hydrated also helps, as well as avoiding overexposure to heat and staying in cool areas.

Display of Dali artwork still on

THE Municipal Library in Alhaurín el Grande is hosting an exhibition of printed works from the 1980s by Salvador Dali until Wednesday August

There are 32 prints produced in different media, 10 of which are dedicated to the story of the Man of La Mancha, Don Quixote and the balance take in the artist's general feelings of surrealism linked with eroticism, mysticism, religion and Freudian psychol-

The exhibits have been made available by the Contemporary Centre of the Provincial Council of Malaga, La Térmica and have been travelling through Malaga Province to great acclaim.

"It represents in a fantastic way the work of this brilliant painter, this worldknown artist, one of the most internationally recognised. We are grateful to the Provincial Government for having given us this exhibition to have it here, and we are delighted to welcome it," commented the councillor for Culture on the opening of the exhibition.

The exhibition can be visited until Monday to Friday from 9.30am to 1.30pm and then 4pm to 8.30pm and Saturdays from 9.30m to 1.30pm.

From Tuesday August 15 however it will be closed in the afternoon and on Saturdavs.

UNLIKE some restaurants which offer a mix of different Asian dishes badly, Top Thai (named after chef Mr Top) just offers exceptional Thai food.

The original concept when the restaurant was first set up was to offer good value, tasty and genuine Thai food from a restaurant run by a family that understood the cuisine but success brought the need to expand.

Moving from a kiosk, the newly decorated Top Thai Restaurant in the Centro Plaza of Nueva Andalucia with a terrace for the summer and room to seat up to 80 guests was opened in 2013 and is constantly busy.

The restaurant is simple, clean and friendly with tasteful Thai inspired decoration and a staff who understand the food that is being offered whilst presenting the traditional Thai politeness to all that they serve.

The menu contains a mixture of the traditional with a few unexpected dishes added but each of the recipes are based on one or more of the Thai main ingredients including coriander, chilli, lemongrass and shallots as well as some of the aromatic sauces that Thailand is famous

Mr Top continues to oversee all of the preparation of the food and is proud that Top Thai is rated one of the very best restaurants in the Nueva Andalucia/Puerto Banus area by TripAdvisor, based on guest's reviews.

Parking is easy in the Centro Plaza car park although there is a small charge made, but for most people the ease of access far outweighs the low cost.

ENJOY THE BLUES: José Fernández 'Lito' playing the white guitar.

Free blues night in Mijas

SPONSORED by the council, three established local blues bands will appear in Mijas Pueblo next Saturday.

There will be no charge for entry to the Miguel González Berral Auditorium. Doors open at 8.30pm and all will be admitted until the venue is full, with the first band due to appear at 9.30pm.

For those who enjoy the blues, be sure to catch the Lito Blues Band featuring José Fernández 'Lito' on guitar and singer from New York Suzette Moncrief.

Also appearing will be Richard Ray Farrel, another American blues artist who makes his home in Malaga and has 12 recordings under his belt.

The third band making up the evening is the Vargas Blues Band with Javier Vegas showcasing his new album Hard Time Blues.

This is the first Mijas blues night since 2014 and a large and knowledgeable audience is expected, so don't miss out.

Enjoying a White Weekend

FROM Friday August 4 until Sunday, Alhaurin el Grande will live up to the concept of a typical White Town.

The council is cooperating with the Association of Merchants and Innkeepers in the town to celebrate a White Weekend which will see music, cartoons and family fun.

There will be four bands playing in the Camino de Malaga, 20th Century Band, Flashtime, Money Makers and Thomas Onfield's Secret with two appearing on Friday night and two on Saturday.

Children will enjoy cartoons and a number of costumed Super Heroes will encourage them to take part in a number of games and adventures.

It is important that local people and visitors enjoy this annual event and in order to encourage people to come to the Camino de Málaga, dress in white and participate in the party, there will be a raffle.

Results will be released a week after the event, but alongside meals, drinks and ice creams, there will also be a main prize of a short trip for

This is part of an ongoing promotion by the council to ensure that residents enjoy the summer, visitors discover a little more about the town and local businesses benefit from the additional trade.

Raising funds to help fight cancer

MAYOR JOSÉ BERNAL has announced that the 34th Grand Gala will take place on Saturday August 5 at the Royal Golf Club in Guadalmina.

Phone 952 837 708 - 696 869 638

Appearing with the president and vice-president of the Spanish Association Against Cancer (AECC) in Marbella, Maika Pérez de Cobas and Princess Beatriz de Orleans the mayor explained that this annual event had been going on for 34 years.

He explained that the work of the association helps those who need it most and is involved in research and palliative care for people suffering from this disease, as well as support for families.

The traditional charity auction will be held, by Michi Primo de Rivera, in which gifts valued at more than €15,000 in addition to the traditional box donated by Gómez & Molina Jewellers will be raffled.

The Gala del Cancer is one of the most important events of its type in Spain with tickets costing €300.

GOOD FOOD, GOOD WINE AND GOOD FRIENDS WITH GARRY WAITE

OOD poisoning is one of the most dreaded illnesses and is a nightmare for hoteliers and restaurateurs. But, despite the UK having the highest food handling standards, caterers are still making hazardous mistakes in the kitchen according to the Royal Society for Public Health (RSPH).

Here in Spain we also have very high standards for handling and storage. But despite continuous training and impressing on staff how important food hygiene and handling is, basic mistakes are still made. Most of those mistakes could be avoided if common sense (that wonderful oxymoron) was

Personal hygiene - or lack of it - is one of the many causes of illness but the handling of food can be far more dangerous. Bacteria thrives at temperatures of between 5°C and 63°C so buffet restaurants which leave their dishes out for more than an hour or two is one practice putting people's health in danger. Never did like buffets or carverys!!

Kitchens that leave food out too long without preparing it or returning it to the fridge is another. Cross contamination when preparing different foods. Preparing raw chicken then picking up another product without washing hands thoroughly.

Chopping boards that are used for the same products. Restaurants have different colour boards for different preparations. Fridges are checked regularly but staff have to be aware that the food inside should be probed as well.

There is an ad on TV at the moment for

I remember when I employed a young chef, who had been working in a UK hospital, many years ago he said he was disillusioned with hospital kitchens as the standards of hygiene were not up to what he had been taught at college. The final straw, he said, was when the chef told him to unwrap the frozen chickens, put them on trays and put them straight into the oven. Well they do say in the UK if you want to get ill, go into a hospital.

Imperial, it certainly is

WHEN I first came to this part of the world we had little choice at the time but to drink Rioja. That or we were sufficiently uneducated as to the other wines available, although most restaurants and supermarkets relied heavily on the wines from this area. One of the wines that was among our favourites - and I can't remember the last time I drank a bottle - was CVNE. Which is also the name of the bodega (Compania Vinicole del Norte de Espana). While CVNE itself was a good drinking wine the bodega produces some of the finest Riojas available, quality price into consideration The best known being Imperial and Viña Real.

I suppose the reason we liked these wines, having been more accustomed to drinking French wines, was that Imperial had a very Bordeaux style and the Viña Real, Burgundy. Years 2009/2010 are two of the best vintages in the Rioja; and the Gran Reservas of both these wines have made their mark on the wine buffs; With Robert Parker and James Suckling both rating them in the high nineties. While buying a very quaffable CUNE roble or crianza will only set you back seven or eight euro, the Gran Reservas will be a special treat at around 50€ a bottle. Saludos.

This sucks!

CHUCK IT: Plastic or biodegradable? SUCK IT.

IN a bid to further reduce the amount of plastic that litters our world, some pub chains in the UK have replaced their plastic drinking straws with biodegradable paper straws. The Liberation Group claims that it is the largest pub group to make such a move, phasing plastic straws out from all of its 100-strong pub estate across the Channel Islands and the West Country.

Explaining their decision, Liberation pointed out that plastic straws are made from polypropylene - a petroleum product designed to last forever. The straws are particularly harmful to marine life, with more than one million sea birds and a hundred thousand marine mammals killed by plastic waste each year.

As discussed on this page over recent months, there are more than five trillion pieces of plastic floating in the world's oceans, according to a 2014 study published in a Public Library of Sci-

Marine experts fear there could be more plastic than fish in the ocean by 2050, measured by weight, according to a factsheet from the Ellen MacArthur Foundation, a UK-based charity working to end waste in the economy. As part of Plastic Free July, the Liberation Group is supporting the local 'Straws Suck!' campaign. The campaign involves stopping the use of plastic straws and switching to biodegradable alternatives. Liberation pubs will be encouraging their customers to join the campaign and cut plastic waste through social media and on its pub blackboards with the #refusethestraw hashtag.

Jayson Perfect, - great name - managing director - Pubs and Inns said: "Our pubs use millions of straws each year, so we see the switch really benefiting the environment. Plastic straws are a blight on our coastlines, marine life and our oceans. This is a problem which is entirely avoidable. As an Island company who supports many charitable organisations, I feel we also have a moral obligation to support helping marine mammal life Liberation Group's move follows a similar one by Oakman Inns and Restaurants, which banned plastic straws in April this year. It also offers eco-friendly alternatives.

MANY people have miniature jungles on their balconies and roof terraces but if you're not particularly green-fingered and want to have a crack at 'growing your own,' mini herb gardens are a great way to start.

Balconies can be perfect as usually, they get plenty of light and sunshine to help out even the most novice gardeners.

Although many supermarkets sell herbs, they have probably been sitting under fluorescent lights for a while so try to buy from a garden centre instead.

Herbal life

If space is limited, try to buy the same amount of potting mix as you need for your pot. Leftover bags of soil just take up space.

Herbs can be planted in any sort of container - window boxes, troughs or even a bucket - as long as they have holes in them for drainage. Small buckets are great, as they can be taken straight into the kitchen for cooking.

It is easier to plant one herb per pot. If you do mix them in a pot, don't put rosemary and mint together as they have a tendency to take over.

Picking the leaves of your herbs will encourage further growth and you will be rewarded with well-established plants. Herbs like a lot of water, at least once a week, but more during the summer heat.

Lovely Lantana - a colourful shrub

GRAEME TYRRELL

IF you are looking for an attractive, colourful shrub or trailing ground cover with a long flowering season that is hardy, requires minimal soil improvement, is low moisture tolerant and attracts butterflies then you should be considering Lantana.

There are two forms, Lantana camera, the shrub and Lantana montevidensis, the trailing species. Lantana is also known as Wild Sage, Yellow Sage, and Shrub Verbena as it is a member of the Verbena family of plants.

The strikingly bright coloured flowers that form in groups come in many different shades including orange, red, yellow, white, pink and lavender. The colours may vary depending on climate, location, maturity of plant and once pollinated, the colour of the tiny individual flowers change (typically from yellow to orangish, pinkish, or reddish) giving the effect of multi-coloured flowers.

Lantana tolerate a wide range of climatic conditions, including drought, different soil types, heat, humidity and salt, making it a very suitable addition to a Mediterranean garden. Its downside is that it produces abundant seeds and may escape the domestic garden and colonise open areas where it can become invasive. It is best to prune off as many berries as possible before they mature to reduce the distribution of seed.

Many consider it poisonous due to animals consuming large quantities developing fatal liver conditions. Generally the toxicity is very low if accidentally consumed in small quantities, which is not recommended of course, but there are few reports of major incidents from people accidentally ingesting the plant, suggesting it is considered only mildly irritating to most people. Still take care not to allow children and adults to consume any parts of the plant.

It grows well in a container with a well drained potting mix placed in a position with plenty of sunlight. The container should not get too hot though as this will damage the root system. In the garden the shrub looks good alone or in groups and the trailing species makes a great ground cover and overhanging plant on terraced retaining walls or slopes with their white and mauve flowers.

Water them regularly while getting them established but don't saturate the soil. It prefers some moisture but dislikes water logging. Once established they will need to have moisture in the soil to do well but do not need excessive watering.

Keep the plant compact by pruning back a third of the growth in late autumn when the flowering is finished. Regularly deadhead the berries forming after flower petals drop.

The shrub can be shaped into a miniature tree form, or standard. Select a strong branch and remove the other side shoots allowing the branch to become the main trunk to grow and form a canopy of flowers and leaves on its top branches.

It is a lovely plant that I have grown for years to brighten up the sunny areas of my garden and attract a wide range of butterflies to add more life to the garden without much effort.

It's the itchy and scratchy show

ACCORDING to a UK report commissioned by pet food manufacturer Nature's Menu and carried out by The Leadership Factor, two thirds of dogs suffer from some sort of health issue, which include allergies.

The summer season brings fabulous opportunities to take our beloved canine pal on those long walks and days out together, but alongside the need to watch out for protection from excess heat; is to keep an eye on seasonal allergies.

All pet-owners are aware of the need to keep fleas at bay particularly in the summer breeding season, but there are unseen triggers within their diet including brown rice, chicken fat and potato starch. Their environment also contains allergens such as pollen, dust and seeds that can set off our furry friend's cycle of itching.

If allergies that manifest themselves through itching (known as 'pruritus') are left untreated, there is a risk of secondary infection occurring, which is more expensive in the long run.

Scratching should not be seen as acceptable ongoing behaviour from our pets. Prevention is better than cure, both for our bank balance and the well-being of our companions. It is advisable for pet owners to remain watchful.

Work in the way of being a pet owner?

WOULD you skip work or a prior commitment if your pet was ill? It seems there's a trend emerging where our animals are taking priority, and some employers are enabling this too.

A report by Animal Friends pet insurance, which surveyed 2,000 British workers found that 42 per cent told their boss it was a family member that they had to stay home and look after, whereas it was actually their furry friend.

When breaking down the statistics, it seems this reluctance may be a generational trend, 40 per cent of 18 to 24 year olds compared to just 18 per cent of people in the over 55 age range.

Just like parents of human children, pet owners must weigh up the disruption and expense of leaving someone else to take care of matters. Dog sitters, pet taxis and cat visitors are not an insignificant cost if friends or family are not able to help. Grandparents are often called to look after animals as well as children.

CHARITIES

ACE CHARITY "El Refugio" in La Cala de Mijas is a registered charity. We have on average 275 dogs in our care and we receive no help from the Town Hall or the Andalucian government. We desperately need foster homes and adoptants for our many dogs, especially the small ones and puppies who do not do well in a big shelter. We are grateful for any help offered, including donations of food and blankets. Visiting times are from 13.00 to 15.00 and you can always turn up or make an appointment by calling Denise on 669 018 736. Our website is www.ace-chari ty.org where you can view all the dogs in our care. (93320)

www.euroweeklynews.com

ADANA THE ANIMAL SHELTER IN ESTEPONA. We always need volunteers to walk and socialise with our dogs and help with cleaning. We also need good homes for our animals that you can see on www.adana.es. Kennels open every day 10-1.30, Camino de Casares, near Parque de los Pedregales, Estepona. (5 minutes from the Poligono) For more information call 952 113 467, available from 10.00am until 14.00pm. (93319)

SEPE the horse and donkey charity is open to the public week-ends from 10.00 to 5.00. Volunteers are much needed in all departments and are welcome at anytime. For our riding for the disabled classes, we are also in need of extra helpers. We are nationally registered by the Spanish Ministry of the Interior (164640) but only with your support can we give the equine a voice. If you can just commit to 2 or 3 euros a month it will really help make a difference. You can find us at Lauro Golf Equestrian Centre, Alqueria, Alhaurin de la Torre. Tel. 608 258 info@sepeonline.net www.sepeonline.net (93321)

AT SOS ANIMAL REFUGE we have dogs, young and old looking for homes. Some of our dogs have been with us for some time and would love to find a cosy spot to curl up in and a knee on which to rest their heads. If you have room in your heart and home we would love to hear from you. We do not put our dogs to sleep - no matter how old, they are safe with us. For day to day needs and to pay for veterinary care, we much appreciate the support we receive. We desperately need items to sell on our market stall to help raise funds and are happy to come and collect. So if you are having a clear-out, please contact us on 605 227 155. If you would like to know more about re-homing, please call 653 257 875. Visit our website www.sos-animals.org or please phone Sandy on 952 385 923 or 666 814 056 if you would like to make a donation or help in any way. (93317)

JAGUAR'S new baby SUV set pulses racing during a London launch show when stunt man Terry Grant entered the Guinness Book of Records with the world's longest ever barrel roll in a production car.

The brand's latest addition. the E-Pace SUV, fired a very loud warning shot to future rivals the BMW X1 and Audi Q3, Set to replicate the success of the now iconic F-Pace, Jaguar's second SUV is much more compact and affordable. Available later this year prices begin at around €35,000.

Buyers can choose between 150hp, 180hp, and 240hp diesels, and 250hp or 300hp petrol-run engines, the latter of which can hit 100kph in 6.4 seconds and a top speed of 243kph.

There are five seats, with each having its own USB plug. There is 4G capability, four sockets, and a roomy boot offering 577 litres of space, while the glove box has 10 litres. Wheels are 19

Black box is boss

INSURANCE companies have developed a new black box which not only tracks the speed of drivers, but employs context to decide whether the speed is safe. A driver travelling down a winding country road at 70kph may be penalised even if the speed limit is 100kph, if the box determines that most people take the road slowly at 50kph.

New drivers, especially in the UK, are most likely to be affected by the new technology. In order to reduce skyrocketing insurance premiums, many allow a black box to be installed in their car, which monitors their driving habits.

The contextual speed technology is aimed at drivers who may feel compelled to reach the speed limit, even when more experienced motorists know it is unsafe.

SPV RACING with drivers Alvaro Fontes and Andy Cummings finished fifth after starting in pole position in the Michelin Le Mans Cup at the Red Bull Ring near Salzburg in Austria

Andalucian driver Alvaro Fontes put on his best performance in the Michelin Le Mans Cup of 2017 in the team's Ligier-Nissan JS P3 LMP3 together with Brit Andrew Cummings.

Although the team had not previously raced at the Austrian track, they quickly adapted and gradually improved the speed of the car during free practices. The best was to arrive on Saturday in the qualifying session where Fontes secured pole position for the two-hour race with a perfect last lap, beating the Norma-Nissan M30 of DKR Engineering and the second best Ligier from N'Race.

Team manager Lars GV Lindberg: "We are so happy with this result, it was really nice to see the speed of the drivers and our Ligier all through the weekend. Now we are all looking forward to continue the season on August 26 in Paul Ricard, France."

Classic Car Club of Andalucia

The ninth birthday celebrations

OMING soon, in September, the Club reaches it's ninth birthday and, as usual, will celebrate that with two great events. There will be a party with live music on Tuesday the 5th at Treetops in El Chaparral.

Then, on Saturday the 9th, there will be a special classic car run organised by Ian and Carol Giles, which will finish at Avanto Beach Club near La Cala where a lunch party will be held. Already that amazing rock-n-roll band 'The Memphis Trio' have been booked to provide entertainment for dining and dancing. Lunch will be served outside on the terraces overlooking the beach and pool area which is terrific fun and provides a wonderful atmosphere. Don't miss this

The monthly classic car runs are open to paidup members of the CCCA with a genuine classic car ie a car that is either over 25 years old or has a particularly strong provenance or pedigree that the Club will accept. The Club does stretch the point to encompass 'modern classics' wherever possible and, as such, will permit such things as modern Porsche 911s, Aston Martins, Rolls-Royce, Morgan, Bentley, certain Jaguars and similar vehicles.

Whilst the club wants to encourage membership, and doesn't want to deter genuine enthusiasts, what it doesn't want is modern silver boxes!

There is no fixed definition of what qualifies as a classic car and this is something that is debated ad infinitum by classic car enthusiasts but, a general rule, is that the car must be 25 years old, in good condition and with some history or provenance. A 'modern classic' is even more difficult to quantify! Generally accepted are such things as the Mercedes E-Class, coupe and Motoring correspondent Ian Giles reports on the latest news from the Andalucia Classic Car Club, the most successful such society in the area and probably in Spain with over 600 members.

cabriolet, the Jaguar XK and XKR, the Alfa GTV, SL Mercedes, and such similar vehicles.

Some cars are accepted as classics irrespective of age and an example would be the Lotus or Caterham 7, any Morgan, Ferrari, Bentley, Lotus and many low volume production cars.

Investing in Classics

Classic cars are, without doubt, an excellent investment and regularly outperform tangibles such as art, wine, gold and silver etc. Unfortunately, there are too many people out there trying to palm off simply 'old' and 'tired' cars as classics and expecting the same returns that other treasured, genuine and immaculate cars are getting. There is a lot of 'tat' out there masquerading as a genuine classic. A visit to a classic car auction will quickly highlight this! If you're looking to buy a classic to enjoy driving, and have as an investment, it's not a bad idea to enlist the services of a professional or, at least, a knowledgable person from the world of classic cars

Classic cars need not be expensive, especially when taking those first steps into such ownership. I regularly advise potential new CCCA members to start with something inexpensive and reliable. A great example of this is anything Mercedes from any recent decade. The 80's are providing the cheapest cars at this moment and E-Class

coupes and cabriolets can still be bought for around £5,000. Mazda MX-5's are the bargain of the year in my opinion. Any year is acceptable to this Club but early versions are ridiculously cheap at the moment. I'd snap one up while the going is good. They will rise soon. Mercedes SL models from the 90's are still quite reasonably priced but they are set to rise and, in fact, have already started to do so. Grab one now before they sky-rocket!

I see in a recent issue of the magazine 'Classic Cars' that they had a feature on classic car bargains for those using big V12 engines. Very interesting was the range of cars available that could provide huge entertainment together with good investment credentials. The price range was from £5k - £40k. These cars included Jaguar, Ferrari, Aston Martin, Mercedes and BMW. Not bad at all!

For anyone interested in acquiring such classic machinery, membership of a classic car club is essential and there is only one to consider in southern Spain...

Until next time.

Hot stuff but the CCCA keeps going!

THE weather may now be at its hottest of the year but the CCCA keeps on with its programme of events regardless!

Many clubs close down for the summer months but the CCCA considers continuity to be essential and even its July and August events are very well supported. The classic car run in July produced around 90 happy participants and the August events promise to be well supported.

What's coming soon?

THE Club has it's regular monthly dinner on Tuesday, August 1 at 'Treetops' restaurant at El Chaparral Golf Club where dinner is served out on their beautiful terrace which generates a gentle breeze and a marvellous 'ambiente.' Non-members are very welcome to attend this social evening, as are guests.

The classic car run for August is being planned now by CCCA member Claudia Langer and will take place on Saturday August 5. Final details have yet to be announced but it seems the event will start near Torremolinos and finish near Marbella. As always, a good lunch will be a major part of the package! To participate in the classic car runs, membership of the club is necessary. More information will be sent to members by email nearer the time.

Further information on Classic Car Club of Andalucia events can be found on the Club's website www.cccandalucia.com. Membership of this vibrant club is open to anyone owning a genuine classic car here in Spain. Saca tu coche clásico del garaje y diviértete con el.

U3A Costa del Sol is looking for a pitch on which to play Walking Football.

Trialled by the members and enjoyed so much that they have been looking at several pitches to hire for the coming season.

Some have been unsuitable and some are available at prices of up to €80 for an hour.

They hope to include it in the U3A activities, but it is taking some time to find a suitable venue and they are appealing to anyone who has access to a five-a-side pitch, or something similar on their urbanisation, which may be available at a discounted price.

If you can help, please contact Alan on 695 354 or email alancampbell66@outlook.com.
