Malaga is all set for the party of year

The final countdown is on to Malaga Feria, the province's greatest public party of the year.

More than two million visitors are expected at the annual event which opens just before midnight tomorrow (Friday) with fireworks followed by an appearance by local singer and songwriter María del Mar Rodríguez Carnero.

Known as La Mari, she will officially open the feria at 11.50pm and will appear with her band Chambao 30 minutes later.

The feria origins date back to the 15th century when Malaga was recaptured from the Moors, an event celebrated ever since.

Hundreds of fairground attractions, pop-up bars, dance and music and a tremendous party atmosphere attract scores of thousands - both young and old, Spanish and foreign - nightly to the fair area at El Cortijo de Torres.

And the visitors are not just from Malaga city and nearby surrounds.

Spanish families en-masse from Madrid and many other cities travel south to attend the annual event as part of their holidays, and many from inland areas including resident expatriates as well as tourists from throughout Axarquia and elsewhere throng to join the massive celebrations.

Each day the centre of the fair is the Avenida del Marqués de Larios with its roof swathed in canvas to help protect visitors from the sun.

Away from the special fair ground, events spill across the city with museums opening with special displays and horsemen and young women in traditional attire parading through many streets.

Sullied seas

ALMOST 7,000 kilograms of waste has been collected by Costa del Sol cleaning boats in July. The majority of it was made up of plastic which has come from littering as opposed to sewage.

Sea rescue

A RESCUE operation has retrieved 53 people from a boat 14 miles out at sea near the Malaga coast. Ten of those rescued have been treated in hospital, three of whom were pregnant.

Heli aid

A BATHER suffered a heart attack at La Rada beach, Estepona. The 82-year-old was stabilised and air lifted to hospital via helicopter.

Donkey care

By John Smith

THE president of the Mijas branch of the Partido Popular, Ángel Nozal, has once again put forward his proposals for the care of animals.

He wants to see the creation of a shelter for abandoned animals in the quarry at El Barrio, as well as a purpose built stables for the donkeys used as taxis in Mijas Pueblo.

"The current stables are located in an urban setting where people live and do not meet the sanitary conditions necessary for the animals to be there," said Nozal.

According to the former mayor, a 2014 report made it clear that there was a problem with the current arrangements and this will now be a major part of the party's campaign for the next local elections.

"The refuge will also serve to look after those donkeys too old to continue to serve as taxis where they can live out their lives. In addition, it could become a tourist attraction in its own right as visitors could see the animals for themselves."

Raft rescue for drifters

A WATERCRAFT rescue has been completed after a crew spent the night adrift.

Thirty miles south east of Malaga, two men of Moroccan origin had disappeared at sea.

Their boat had run out of fuel between Ceuta and Gibraltar.

The men sought the help of the Spanish coastguard who sent out two boats and a helicopter in an effort to search for them and they were found in the early hours of the morning after spending the entire night adrift.

Neither of the men suffered any severe injuries and they have since been transferred to the port of Malaga.

Perilous plummet

THE National Police has detained a woman in Malaga after another woman fell to her death from the sixth floor of her apartment. According to investigators, neighbours in the area heard the two arguing prior to the incident, but had not seen the deceased before. Police have detained the accused while investigations determine the cause of the fall.

Hottest day so far

SCORCHING heat reached over 40 degrees on the hottest day of the year so far as yellow warnings were issued. A red hot temperature of 42.2 degrees Celsius was recorded on Tuesday, August 8 to the east of Malaga. Yellow warnings were issued as the increased humidity and lack of wind caused thermometer readings to soar. A drop in temperatures is expected over the coming days.

Give and take

TORREMOLINOS Council has cancelled 21 housing improvements, which were promised in the last election. The PP promised to give €372,000 in grants in a bid to rehabilitate 31 buildings with 658 homes. The council has revoked a majority of the works over claims that the buildings are illegitimate and "did not comply with the contracting procedure regulated in the law for Public Sector Contract," explained Social Service councillor Pedro Perez.

Change of hands

THE Vincci Seleccion Posada Hotel in Malaga centre has been acquired by European investment group Internos Global Investors for €26.7 million. The hotel is located within the historic centre and is fully integrated into the city's old Arab wall. The seven-floor property is one of only two five-star hotels in the capital.

Starlite fights back

STARLITE workers gathered outside Marbella City Hall to protest against the festival's daily licensing which has caused many of them to lose employment. The petition began on change.org and rapidly gained more than 1,000 signatures within the first four hours. Protestors have called for the council to reinstate the previous entertainment licences, which approved the last five festivals.

Child pool trauma

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD boy was trapped by his arm for an hour and a half in a swimming pool at an urbanisation in Teatinos on the outskirts of Malaga.

Firefighters had to break the concrete edge of the pool surround to access the filtration pipe and free the child.

The incident took place in the swimming pool of Jardines de Torre Atalaya.

Eyewitnesses said one of the boy's arms was trapped to the elbow in one of the water filtration holes located on one of the walls of the pool.

Malaga firefighters attended and had to break the concrete from the edge of the pool to release the child with part of the pipe still attached to his arm.

The child was transferred to the Materno Infantil hospital where the pipe was removed and he was kept in for observation.

SPANISH FACTS OF LIFE... 24

Hot weather may be what tourists want, but at this time of year millions of others just pray wild fires will not break out. Ian Relf reports.

Living in fear of fire

SPAIN'S southern residents view long dry periods as frequently a harbinger and sometimes killer, and all too often totally destructive, wild forest fires.

The average total burnt area in the EU Mediterranean countries - Spain, Greece, Italy, Portugal and France - has quadrupled since the 60's, with about 1.5 per cent of woodlands lost annually.

Research shows that rural depopulation leads to an increasing number of wild fires, and climate change - with more frequent droughts and rising temperatures - an added factor.

Arsonists, cigarettes, out-of-control garden fires, barbecues, sun shining off a piece of glass: there are many causes of the terrifying annual wild fires that Spain suffers.

Modern firefighting methods see yellow fire planes and helicopters swooping down to collect sea, lake and at times pool water to then drop on out-of-control blazes... but it is often a mammoth and always scary operation that puts lives and homes at risk, as well as valuable natural surrounds.

FOREST FIRES: Can be totally destructive.

Worst blazes this century!

THE most remembered wild fires in Spain this century include:

2003. A late August thunderstorm in Extremadura led to 35,844.19 acres being destroyed.

2004. In total 29,867 acres of forest burned for nine days from July 27 in Huelva with two elderly people killed trying to leave their properties.

2005. A Guadalajara fire caused by a hiker's barbecue burned more than 13,000 acres and killed 11 firefighters.

2006. A total of 95,947.38 acres of forest burned in Galicia, with 281 fires recorded on August 10.

2009. A July forest fire in Tarragona destroyed 2,718 acres in Els Ports Park, with five firemen losing their lives.

WILD FIRES: Can burn for days.

2012. One fire destroyed 13,000 acres in Empordà, while violent wild fires in Valencia that summer burned 45,000 acres in Cortes de Pallas and Andilla.

Fire awareness

THE regional government has launched a fire awareness campaign across Andalusia in a bid to reduce fires in forested areas. Malaga's delegate for the regional government, Jose Juiz Ruiz Espejo, explained that 60 per cent of fires within the province start in rural areas. The campaign aims to raise awareness on the importance of preening vegetation, preparing evacuation routes and keeping fire extinguishers on-site.

Feria fears

THE Royal Fire Department of Malaga has come under fire by The Andalucian Firemen's Union (SAB) after releasing the Malaga Feria's fire protection plan. A union spokesperson claimed that having only two fire engines and six firefighters is "totally insufficient." The union have stated that the security of the fair has been "compromised" due to the lack of emergency services available.

Social service

MIJAS Council has launched a new Facebook page to ensure that residents are able to report waste issues with ease. The new page will allow the "waste company to have direct and immediate access to information regarding incidents in the area and respond faster to complaints," announced Waste Councillor Jose Carlos Martin.

Brits in the sun laid bare in The Secret Life of the Holiday Resort - Years ago we would go to an all inclusive holiday for adults only in SPAIN and it really didn't go anything like described on this post. We had a relaxed week away and no chicken nuggets and chips, warm wine or beer and no screaming kids or running for a sun bed at 6am, it was relaxing! And didn't see any body peeing in the pool! Sue Alchin

I watched it and felt so glad that I wasn't one of those poor people who would go to an all inclusive holiday in a massive hotel where everyone follow like sheep. It's hilarious in the mornings, you see them all standing at the bus stop with their wrist bands on. Lol. Just need a cattle prod to put them all back in there again!! Melissa Baker

Foreign vessels still welcome to fish in UK waters after Brexit says minister - The EU quotas are to ensure fishing is sustainable. Do not reduce this issue to a 'blame' contest. Overfishing in ALL waters is a serious threat to long term stocks. Geoff Kerr

Deaf man waits seven hours as Almeria hospital uses loudspeaker to call his turn - Poor man! How mean and ignorant of the staff, surely a member of staff walking through a few times would have noticed he was still waiting and could have checked to see if he was being attended to or not and if not got the ball rolling, or at least the reception should have been more alert. I was in a similar situation in a UK A & E, it was quickly noticed and I was seen, they had lost my first report papers! I do hope this will not be put down to 'one of those things'! Elizabeth Saunders

We shouldn't be dictated to (Leapy Lee) - I rarely agree with his self opinionated comments thus it came as no surprise to read his current one. Brexit was, is and will be a disaster. I really do fear for today's youth who will have to face up to its consequences. I do hope that as people become aware of its impact on the country that a second referendum becomes necessary in order to extricate ourselves from this mess. Nancy Elliott

Hard-hitting video of animal abuse released by political party in Spain - I stopped watching after a very short while. These vile humans should be named, shamed, prosecuted and severely punished. I'd probably end up in serious trouble myself if I saw this happening but I actually wouldn't care. Karen Poland

HIGHS BUT NO LOWS: Severe weather warnings have been issued

TRIVIA FROM AROUND THE WORLD

On Good Friday in 1930, BBC radio reported "There is no news." Instead, they played piano music.

Continent names all end with the same letter with which they start, ie Africa, America(s), Antarctica, Asia, Australia, Europe.

Iceland Parliament is the oldest still acting parliament in the world. It was established in 930.

Did you know?

People clink their glasses before drinking a toast because in earlier times it was common for someone to try to kill an enemy by offering him a poisoned drink. To prove to a guest that a drink was safe, it became customary for guests to pour a small amount of his drink into the glass of the host. Both men would then drink it simultaneously. When a guest trusted his host, he would only touch or clink the host's glass with his own.

New nose

TWENTY-THREE-YEAR-OLD TOWIE star, Yazmin Okhellow, has landed at Malaga Airport following her recent nose job in Turkey.

The Only Way is Essex stunner showed off plenty of leg and an impressive tan in a black dress as she was greeted by co-stars Lauren Pope and Mario Falcone. Yazmin, who is going out with boyfriend, James Lock, jetted to Turkey last month for surgery to her nose and now plans to spend the next few weeks on the Costa del Sol, where she will be filming scenes for the reality TV show as well as soaking up the sun.

SARA SAMPAIO, the 26-year-old Victoria's Secret model, has been spotted soaking up some rays in a glamorous red bikini aboard a yacht in Ibiza.

The Portuguese-born brunette showed off her stunning figure as she chatted with friends and dried herself off following a dip in the water. The only one of her friends to venture into the water, the model appeared to have been checking out the local marine life, holding a pair of goggles in one hand.

The catwalk star is currently enjoying a tour of Europe over the summer, having already visited Italy and Spain. Before coming away, the star was hard at work, shooting several campaigns for underwear company, Victoria's Secret, as well as appearing in a promotional video for Justin Bieber and David Guetta's latest song, 2U.

SPAIN'S Queen Letizia cut a summery and stylish figure strolling through the streets of Palma, Mallorca with her family this week.

The stunning 44-year-old is staying in the city with her husband, King Felipe VI and their daughters, Leonor and Sofia, aged 11 and 10, at the family's royal residence, Marivent Palace.

The family were taking a day trip to Palma's Can Prunera Modern Museum when they were snapped by photographers. Queen Letizia, a former journalist, is known for her laid-back style, opting to walk to the cultural site rather than be driven. Wearing a white Adolfo Dominguez dress she was first spotted in in 2011, the mother of two greeted locals and tourists as she made her way through the city.

LAID-BACK: Queen Letizia.

LIZZIE CUNDY: Looking toned.

WAG Style

LIZZIE CUNDY, the 47-year-old former wife of footballer Jason Cundy, has been photographed aboard a yacht off the coast of Mallorca.

The mother-of-two, who was recently forced to deny an affair with ex-UKIP leader, Nigel Farage, looked toned in a bandage-style bikini.

DOLPH LUNDGREN: Handsome.

Action man

EXPENDABLES star, Dolph Lundgren has been spotted sharing a very modern family holiday in Marbella with ex-wife, Anette Qviberg, and daughter Ida, aged 21. The Swedish muscle man was photographed in barely-there blue swimming trunks, cutting a handsome figure. The star split with his wife of 17 years in 2014.

Cocaine cover up

By Sean Campbell

AN attempted cover-up has been thwarted by police.

Bursting through a toll whilst being chased by police, a male driver of a moped was witnessed throwing away an entire kilogram of cocaine onto the road.

The female owner of the moped had walked into a Malaga police station to report it stolen but investigators later found the driver had been her boyfriend who she was attempting to cover for.

The officers also discovered the driver was a resident of an open prison. He only had to spend nights there because he had an employment contract which was proved to be false. The false document has also led to the arrest of three police officers.

Following the arrests two homes in Torremolinos and Malaga were searched which were found to have €2,440 worth of steroid and anabolic substances, tools for cutting narcotics, seven phones and a sword.

By Sean Campbell

A DRUG network has been eradicated as 25 were arrested.

Guardia Civil have stopped the group who provided transport and storage services that aided the transportation of drugs to other gangs.

More than five tons of hashish,

Dealers dismantled

14 boats, five tractors, three watercraft, four trailers, 13 vehicles, €45,000 in cash and multiple mobile phones have been seized in the operation.

The Hacinados operation, carried out in the Campo de Gibraltar, dismantled the group who specialised in the transportation of drugs from Morocco to Spain.

The operation has been led by EDOA (Organised Crime and Anti-drug Team of the Algeciras Command) and directed the Anti-Drug Office of Campo de Gibraltar.

OUR VIEW

The Brexit clock keeps ticking

WITH the clock fast running down to Brexit, a former head of the diplomatic service has indicated that things are not going well.

According to Sir Simon Fraser, there is no clear position and he feels that differences between cabinet ministers are causing delays in putting together a cohesive strategy.

As the UK economy seems to be taking a bit of a knock with retail sales down three months running and the Bank of England adjusting forecasts to show a reduction in growth, the pound has also suffered against the euro.

The Irish government isn't happy about possible border options and MPs can't even agree whether Britain should make a 'divorce settlement' to leave the European Union, let alone how it should be.

Simon Manley, the British Ambassador in Madrid is doing his best to keep people informed but it's certainly an uphill struggle for him as the reality is that there is plenty of speculation but nothing definite for him to confirm.

In the meantime, the EU Brexit negotiator has also suggested that the British position falls far short of expectation and he feels that the British government doesn't really know what it wants.

Drug kingpin arrested

By Sean Campbell

A RUSSIAN leader closely linked with the Estonian Mafia has been arrested in Spain.

National Police, Guardia Civil and Estonian police worked together as part of the Fulcrum-Carinatus operation to apprehend the head of the Kemerovo outfit in Mijas, Malaga.

He was affiliated with the number one of the Estonian Mafia - a group who specialised in arms, drug and human trafficking, extortion and prostitution - a powerful leader who was assassinated last September in Tallinn, Estonia.

The Estonian authorities had been investigating this criminal group for more than two years, but the death of the mafia leader opened up a power vacuum which saw rival gangs fight for control.

The Kemerovo network - with origins tracing back to a Russian industrial city - was involved in a number of criminal activities but mainly focused on drug trafficking and was in the process of establishing base of operations in Spain to launder profits. The head honcho settled in Spain as he feared he may have also become the victim of an assassin.

CAUGHT: Leader of the Kemerovo network is arrested.

Cooperation between Spanish and Estonian authorities revealed that the head of the organisation was residing in Mijas surrounded by security measures. It was from there he gave instructions for coordination of the drug market in Estonia.

Once sufficient evidence was obtained, simultaneous arrests where three other leaders - including the second in command - in Tallinn were also apprehended.

At the property, police found accounting documentation, wads of hidden cash, an axe and a host of electronic data. There was also a large knife that the detainee hid under his pillow.

Stab in the dark

AN early morning knife fight at Sitio de la Calahonda in Mijas saw two young men, aged 21 and 27, end up in hospital with stab wounds.

More jobs

UNEMPLOYMENT is on the decline as the numbers have fallen to less than 10,000 without work for the first time in nine years. Mayor, Jose Bernal wants this figure to decrease further in future.

Good habits

MALAGA schools are promoting healthier living for their students and ditching unhealthy ways of the past. Educational centres supported by public funds have developed programmes to promote better health and well-being this year.

A MAN has been sentenced to almost nine years in prison for making repeated death threats.

The 44-year-old man will face eight years, 10 months and a day in prison for mistreating and threatening to kill his former partner.

Malaga Criminal Court dismissed the appeal filed by the accused against the sentence handed down last November as the trial judge reached the same conviction.

The accused maintained a relationship for a year with the victim in Madrid, which ended after an episode of abuse. A domestic violence court prohibited him from coming within 500 metres of her and granted a protection order.

The victim tried to make a new life, completely uprooting to Malaga and getting a new job but despite the protection order, her ex-partner called insistently on the telephone, demanding that she had to see him.

She agreed out of fear and when they met up, he punched her in the mouth and put a razor against her neck, taking a number of her belongings including her mobile phone and car.

The victim reported the incident to police and changed her telephone number but the accused used the stolen mobile phone to make several calls to her contacts in order to discover her whereabouts as well as making further death threats against her boyfriend at the time.

He again called the boyfriend and arranged a meeting. When the victim heard of this, she informed the police who apprehended her ex-partner and found a knife on his person.

The defendant has been convicted of several counts of abuse, obstruction of justice, violent robbery and intimidation with theft of vehicle, serious threats and breach of injunction order.

In addition, he must compensate the victim with €140 for injuries suffered and €12,000 in damages.

Chinese cheats

A CHINESE couple has been arrested in Estepona by National Police for the suspected theft of 3.93 million Yuen (€496,000) from Chinese investors.

Officers were alerted to the possibility one of them may be in Estepona and having identified the 39-year-old woman, they arrested her under an international arrest warrant issued by the Chinese authorities.

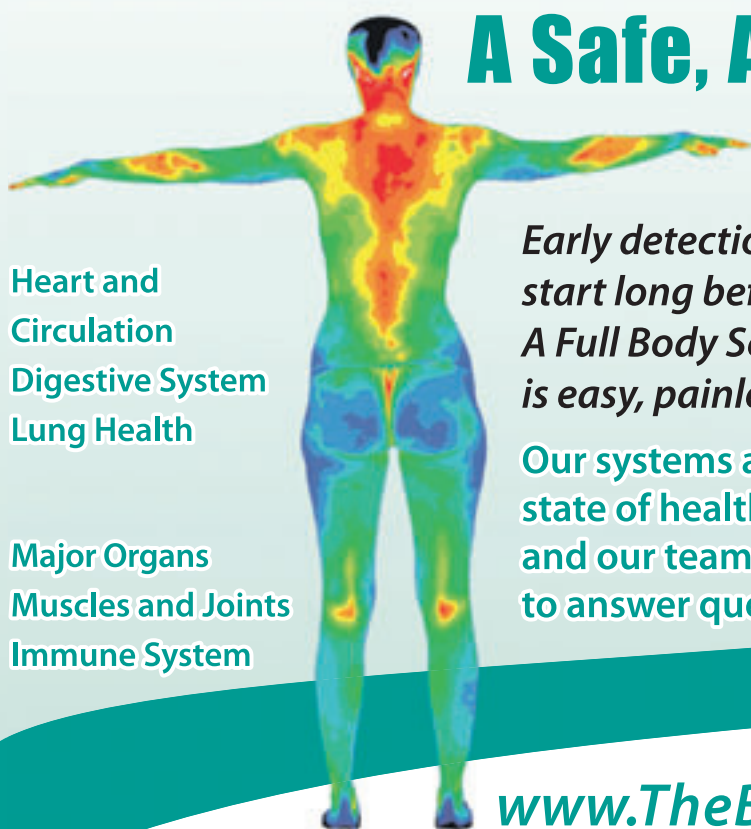

After her arrest, her 35-year-old husband became involved and it was discovered he was also wanted for fraud and he was arrested as well.

According to the warrant, the couple had offered to look after investments through a Chinese company, promising a 20 per cent return, but once they received the deposits they simply cleared the account and tried to disappear.

Feeling blue

SMURF TOWN: Smurf images removed.

A SLEEPY, typical Andalucian white village became world-famous as a Smurf Village (pueblo pitufo) when it was completely painted blue by Sony Pictures as part of a campaign to promote the Smurfs' movie six years ago.

But now all images, statues and references to the tiny blue characters will be removed from the village in the Serrania de Ronda (Malaga) after the estate of the characters' Belgian creator, Peyo, demanded royalties.

Pierre Culliford's heirs

asked for 12 per cent of the profits from sales and activities derived from the use of the 'Smurfs' name.

An agreement could not be reached between the town hall and the estate, so from Tuesday August 15, there will be no more references to the small blue figures, which will be removed.

However, the houses will remain painted blue.

Juzcar's main source of income is tourism it and receives an average of 50,000 visitors a year, thanks to the Smurfs.

Iranian smuggling gang in Malaga dismantled

OFFICERS of the National Police have arrested 14 people who were involved in people trafficking from Iran, charging €25,000 per person.

The investigation, which involved British, Portuguese and Spanish police, as well as Europol, discovered that a gang was working in Spain to provide fake Spanish passports to Iranian nationals who then travelled to the UK.

The headquarters of this highly organised operation was in Malaga, and it was here that the illegal immigrants would stop en-route before travelling on to other European destinations, where they would catch flights to the UK.

Just one year ago, German authorities detained four Iranians with fake Spanish passports - at Hamburg airport - who were trying to fly to Britain, and discovered that the flights had been booked through a travel agent in Malaga.

Spanish officers then followed the cyber trail and discovered that the gang had procured accommodation, so that as the immigrants were smuggled into Spain, they were looked after until fake documents and flights could be arranged.

FAKE DOCUMENTS: Checking some of the seized passports.

As officers arrested 14 members of the gang in Malaga, they gained intelligence that the leader was booked on a flight from London to Sao Paulo in Brazil and, after issuing a European Arrest and Surrender Order, British authorities were able to detain him at Heathrow.

Upon searching the premises of those arrested, officers discovered weapons, money, 30 Iranian and 10 Spanish passports and records of a number of Iranians who had been smuggled to the UK.

Subsequent to this, a further 42 people were arrested in Malaga Province, as they were believed to have sold their Spanish papers to the gang for figures ranging from €500 to €3,000.

Finally, 44 Iranians were detained across Europe, all in possession of fake passports.

Ronda victims in India bus crash

FOUR Spanish nationals died when the minibus they were travelling in collided with a container truck in the Chittoor area of southern India.

Police said their local driver also died in the accident.

Six other Spanish nationals were also injured, one of them critically.

Police said, "There were 11 people, including the driver, in the minibus."

"The driver of the container truck lost control while negotiating the curve, and collided head-on with the minibus."

The deceased were identified as Vincent Prez, Josefa Moran, Francisco Pedrosa and Nieves Lopez.

Three of them were from Ronda, and the fourth victim was from Granada.

Ronda Town Hall flags flew at half-mast, and three days of mourning were announced by the mayor.

More than 500 people stood for one minute's silence outside the town hall.

The group had travelled to India to see development activities in villages in Anantapuramu district, initiated by the Rural Development Trust which was run by a group from Spain.

India has some of the world's deadliest roads with more than 150,000 fatalities annually due to poor roads, badly maintained vehicles and reckless driving.

Tennis stars to serve up classic

THE oldest tennis tournament in Andalusia is set to return for its 33rd instalment.

Thirty athletes from across Spain are expected to participate in this free competition which has a prize of €800 for the winner.

The 33rd edition of the Baca Optical Tennis Tournament is to be held at the Plaza de Toros hotel in Ronda from Monday August 21 to Saturday, August 26.

Skilled players are expected such as the 2016 champion, Alejandro Garcia, who stands at number 73 in national rankings, as well as Daniel Monedero, who sits at number 76, and has won the tournament seven times previously. Jorge Hernando, ranked 52, is also likely to participate.

The runner-up will receive a prize of €400 and semi-finalists are set to receive €200 each. In addition, those who reach the quarter finals will get €100.

The tournament began back in 1984 and is a continuing tradition in Andalusia.

It forms part of a revival of local sport, alongside the 101km-in-24-hours marathon event, that is held annually in May, attracting over 7,000 participants.

Games begin at 6pm each night, and entry into the contest is totally free to watch.

Basketball elites coming to Costa del Sol

A PRESTIGIOUS international basketball tournament will return for its seventh instalment.

The Costa del Sol Tournament of Basketball is coming to the province of Malaga once again.

Real Madrid, Unicaja and Alba Berlin will face each other in Archidona, Torrox and Rincon de la Victoria on September 7, 8 and 9.

The contest is one of the most prestigious pre-season trophies in national basketball.

Dates had to be brought forward to accommodate the Supercopa of Spain on September 22 and 23 in which both Spanish teams will participate.

Previous editions have attracted international competitors of the highest level such as Russian Khimki, Belgrade Partizan, Benetton of Treviso, Armani Jeans Milan, Cibona Zagreb and, last year's winners, Fenerbahce.

Unicaja lead the trophy ranking with two previous championships but Real Madrid - the most prestigious basketball outfit both nationally and internationally - are by far the star attraction.

Alba Berlin are an ambitious club with a huge amount of tradition and the addition of one of the emerging German Bundesliga talents, complete with a competitive new manager, is set to make it an event not to be missed.

With such big names coming to such small municipalities, a great level of excitement has been created in the likes of Villanueva del Trabuco, who will host Real Madrid or Archidona who will be receiving Alba Berlin.

Basketball is fast becoming one of Europe's most popular sports with several major competitions now taking place on the continent including ACB League Endesa and the Turkish Airlines Euroleague.

Port-side hooligan

LOCAL POLICE have arrested a man in Puerto Banus for the alleged crimes of violent robbery and another for damage to property.

The first incident occurred on the Plaza Antonio Banderas. The accused allegedly robbed a man as he was attempting to open his business, using force and intimidation which resulted in the victim sustaining a neck injury.

Minutes after the crime was reported, officers found the accused and took him to the National Police Corp Station (CNP).

Just moments after the patrol was back on the streets, they arrested another man for allegedly breaking the door of a fast food store in the same area.

According to investigators, the accused threatened employee after being asked to leave the premises, and proceeded to break the establishment's glass entrance. Shortly after, police received reports of an altercation on Plaza Antonio Banderas, with one of the individuals matching the description.

Finally, officers detained the accused and transferred him to the CNP with the other alleged hooligan.

Repairs for local schools

PERFECTION is the aim for school repairs.

Marbella will undertake repairs in eight schools within the municipality that were badly damaged by the storms of last December.

In most of the education establishments the repairs will consist of demolishing and rebuilding walls affected by the adverse weather last winter.

Over €650,000 will be spent on repairs.

The centres that will benefit from these works are the CEIP Vicente Aleixandre, Xarblanca, Juan Ramón Jiménez and Valdeolletas of Marbella, Platero de Las Chapas, José Banus of Nueva Andalucía, Fuente Nueva of San Pedro and the school Los Olivos of Marbella.

Wish you were here!

POLICE across Europe are sending innovative summer postcards to dangerous criminals on the run.

However, the exact addresses of the fugitives are unknown so they're appealing to members of the public to try and track them down.

The postcards can be viewed online at www.eumostwanted.eu/summerncampaign and feature Europe's Most Wanted fugitives, who have committed serious crimes in 21 EU countries.

"Share these postcards, send your leads. For these fugitives, holidays are over!" Europol said in a statement.

Traditional investigative measures have so far not led to the suspects and they are all believed to be hiding in a different country to where the crime was committed.

Europol are inviting the public to sharing the online postcards and provide information that could help them complete the last piece of the puzzle so that we can apprehend reach the fugitives and put them behind bars.

LETTER LOOSE: Example of one of the postcards.

They say, "While most of us are enjoying a well-deserved summer break, criminals are not taking time off from crime.

"Holiday destinations have proven to be popular hiding places for criminals on the run from law enforcement. They might even have chosen the same destination as you..."

"That's why your information can be vital to catch some of Europe's Most Wanted fugitives. Law enforcement across Europe, through the European Network of Fugitive Active Search Teams (ENFAST) and Europol, are asking for your help to find out their exact locations, to ensure they take responsibility for their serious crimes."

Crowdsourcing the search has been proved to be very successful in tracking down fugitives in the past.

Since the launch of www.eumostwanted.eu in early 2016, more than 2.5 million unique visitors have visited the website.

Thirty-six criminals featured as most wanted fugitives have been arrested, of whom at least 11 were apprehended as a direct result of information provided by the public via the EU Most Wanted platform.

Four of the fugitives turned themselves in after appearing on the list.

Europe's Most Wanted was initiated by the ENFAST community, with the full support of Europol.

The members of ENFAST are all specialised in locating criminals on the run who are suspected, or have been convicted, of serious crimes and are subjects of European Arrest Warrants.

The majority of these criminals have committed murders, fraud or other serious offences, or are trafficking drugs.

Charged with 50 thefts

A MIDDLE AGED couple have been arrested and charged with 40 thefts in Cordoba and 10 more in Malaga.

The smartly dressed couple entered a number of small shops and whilst one chatted with the proprietor or assistant, the other rifled through wallets or stole small items like mobile phones.

As the National Police received more complaints of similar thefts, they realised that all were connected and then came a breakthrough as one of their victims spotted the car that they were driving and noted the number plate.

Prior to making an arrest, officers also recognised that the same couple had been reported undertaking similar thefts in Malaga and alerted colleagues in the city.

The couple are now charged with 50 separate acts of theft after being apprehended outside of another store which it is believed was to be their next target.

Dumpers detected

SPANISH newspapers have run headlines associating Gibraltar with the illegal movement of waste into Spain but a Guardia Civil report suggests this is just one of 43 countries involved.

Operation Tyson which was coordinated by Interpol has traced the dumping of 1.5 million tonnes of illegal waste across boundaries by criminals around the world.

More than 1,000 Guardia Civil officers and Tax Authority officials made a number of spot checks of operations in Spain as well as at the borders.

The Head of the Nature Protection Service (Seprona) was the main point of contact and national coordination with the INTERPOL authorities in the operation.

Two ships carrying 6,600 tonnes of metal waste were detected with much of it being discharged into the sea without any safety measures.

ILLEGAL DUMP: Discovered in Spain.

Unrecorded ground plastic material was found in another vessel sailing from Dakar (Senegal) carrying waste without authorisation or knowledge of its origin and composition.

One company was discovered to be storing 136,000 litres of used vegetable oil and 32,000 litres of wastewater without details of their origin and without formal authorisation.

Three Spaniards have been arrested for alleged trans boundary movement of waste from Gibraltar to the town of Medina Sidonia in Cadiz Province.

All those detained and investigated in this operation face imprisonment of between six months to five years if found guilty and offenders must repair the environmental damage caused.

Interpol's estimates point to crime against the environment as one of the fastest growing problems on the international scene, mainly because of the widespread economic benefit of specialised criminal networks operating in this area.

Spain does have a large waste removal business and also imports and exports waste but there are always those who will fly tip and create illegal land fill sites without taking notice of the law.

Currently most of the imported waste comes from the EU but there is also regular import and disposal from the USA, Israel, Argentina, Colombia, Honduras, Uruguay and Oman.

SOTOGRADE

Sotogrande in San Roque, Cadiz Province, ranks among the most luxurious residential developments in Europe, with world class architecture and sports facilities.

Kicking addiction

MORE than 100 people paid €100 to attend the annual charity dinner organised by the Montenebral association, which this year was held at La Parilla Restaurant.

This important charity dinner attracts residents and regular visitors who enjoy a dinner, dancing, auction, raffle and DJ whilst raising much-needed funds for those who are in need.

The Montenebral Therapeutic Community is a resource that helps rehabilitate those who are addicted to alcohol, cocaine or other drugs, and acts in association with the Andalusian government.

Rugby club gains new sponsor

SOTOGRADE-based Estate Agents, Holmes Property Sales, has been announced as the main sponsor for the Straits Rugby Club, which is about to start its pre-season campaign.

Having served the Sotogrande area for 30 years with both property and marina sales, it has a reputation for assisting local clubs and the agreement will run until the end of the 2019 season.

Golfers can help

GOLFERS who would like to help raise funds for a worthwhile charity should enter the competition at the Almenara Golf course next Tuesday.

Aiming to raise funds for the Matagalpa, Nicaragua Maternal and Child Health Programme in association with Childhood without Borders, the competition, which will be run under individual Stableford rules, costs €100 to enter and is being held on the public holiday of the Assumption.

Following the competition, at 8.30pm there will be a cocktail party on the Almenara premises, which will cost €40, and a very special raffle where tickets will cost €10 each.

Prizes include two travel packs of El Corte Ingles, tickets for next season for Atletico Madrid matches, Atletico Madrid signed shirts, a capsule coffee maker, sunglasses, fashion, bluetooth speakers and much more.

Equestrian raid of the full moon

SOME 20 horses took part in an 18 kilometre test of endurance which started at the Paseo del Parque in Sotogrande and ran to Guadalquivir.

The appeal of the race is that it begins at sunset on the last virgin beach of the Mediterranean, with Gibraltar and Morocco as a backdrop, together with the full moon.

All funds raised were donated to the International Centre for Missing and Exploited Children and Peace Player.

Although this race is normally longer, the decision was made to restrict it to 18 kilometres, with the winner being chosen from the first arrivals, who were attested by veterinary surgeons as being in the best physical condition.

This is the third race of its type on the local beaches, and it was organised by Sotogrande based company, E3, which is associated closely with equestrian tourism

In 1978, the International Equestrian Federation (FEI) recognised this kind of race as an international sport and, nowadays, more than 353 official competitions are held in 49 countries around the world.

Passage renewal

PASEO MARITIMO in Marbella will be fully renewed.

FOUR THOUSAND metres of railing is to be renewed after last year's storm which cost €25 million.

The Paseo Marítimo of Marbella is to be repaired following the damage which saw it deemed a catastrophic area.

It is being carried out during the height of tourist season so as to take advantage of the better weather as such an exhaustive stretch would be difficult to repair out of season when the weather is less pleasant.

Mayor, Jose Bernal, said: "These works of conditioning respond to our purpose of maintaining the Paseo Marítimo in the best conditions possible because it is one of the great tourist attractions of Marbella."

The work is being carried out by teams of between seven and eight workers that come from council staff.

Each railing will be sand blasted to eliminate all rust and repainted with the original paint.

University of Malaga (UMA) students have created a movement to raise awareness of the sexual mistreatment of children.

The campaign is focused on parents and will include information days as well as a media announcement and information packs being sent to educational centres and associations to raise awareness of a problem that, in most cases, originates within the family.

Thirty-five per cent of girls and 20 per cent of children are sexually abused worldwide according to Unicef findings.

from the Ministry of the Interior, 3,730 minors were sexually abused during 2014. A figure that only represents the cases denounced and sentenced by a judicial sentence.

In Andalucia, 1,169 children were treated during the year 2015 in the Programme for Evaluation, Diagnosis and Treatment of Minors Victims of Sexual Violence.

In a presentation the students said: "The problem of sexual abuse of minors is that it is one of the most invisible mistreatments. Most of the time it is hidden via deception, manipulation or threats. The child does not contact the authorities due to fear of the aggressor. This causes most of the assaults not to be reported and, therefore, the exact number of children affected by this situation cannot be known."

UNDER DISPUTE: The old fire station in Fuengirola.

32 year argument settled

DECADES of quarrel between municipalities are to come to an end.

Countless instances of controversy and clashes between the municipalities of Fuengirola and Mijas will finally cease as an agreement between both administrations has at last been reached as to the ownership of the old firehouse.

It has been occupied to date by the consistory of Fuengirola but next September it will be given to Mijas, who intend to renew and renovate it within a month.

Various ideas have been put forward for the edifice, including a sociocultural building and a concert venue.

A sociocultural building would serve the demand of groups and associations of Las Lagunas as well as provide a space for shows of the Pena Flamenca El Gallo.

The conflict dates back as far as 1985 where both municipalities were believed to have formed a consortium whereby Mijas would assume the cost of the facilities and maintenance and Fuengirola would cover the cost of the service but a high court ruling suggested there never was such a consortium.

The High Court of Justice of Andalucia ruled in favour of Mijas and has stated that it does not owe any debt to Fuengirola.

Both municipalities have partaken in friendly discussions and from the good attitudes of these proceedings an agreement has finally been reached.

The property is considered by the General Plan of Urban Planning (PGOU) as public equipment and has an area of 762 square metres in addition to the possibility of three floors in height.

Building boom will see local area thrive

MALAGA will soon benefit from an iconic new construction.

Navis Tower will mark the entrance to the Teatinos (a Malaga neighbourhood) and will consist of 67 houses across 13 floors.

The ground floor of the building will be for commercial uses and pedestrian access to the tower. On the first floor will be a place for owners and residents, and there will also be a pool.

Promoted by the construction company Aelca, the edifice was designed by the study of HCP Arquitectos Asociados and will begin at the start of 2018.

The building will be an iconic spectacle, created to look like a ship's bow.

Alejandro Pérez, from the HCP study, said:

"This building will be a visual landmark because of its location and high elevation above the environment."

This project is intended to serve as a symbol of the renewal of the construction sector in Malaga. Already built in the Teatinos is the Urban building, promoted by Inmobia, and Momentum Reim have recently begun works on 297 homes with Neinor promoting a further 114.

Fair discussion

IN anticipation of the opening of the San Roque fair which runs until next Sunday, representatives of the council and various law agencies met to discuss plans. Parking and traffic control were of particular importance.

New hotel

THE new Hotel Catalonia Ronda which cost €7 million to upgrade is due to open within the next few weeks. Not only is it a building to be proud of but it is creating new jobs.

Best food

MORE than 1,500 people saw 137 dishes prepared at the culinary festival in Alhaurin de la Torre. Thirty-five judges awarded 10 different prizes.

Starless skies ahead

ORGANISERS of the Starlite Festival in Marbella have threatened legal action against the town hall and begun talks with neighbouring municipalities after a huge fall out with the local council.

The 45-day summer festival attracts international artists who perform to 'intimate' audiences of no more than 3,000 people at the site of the former Nagueles quarry, which creates a natural amphitheatre.

Enrique Iglesias, Lenny Kravitz, Lionel Richie, Laura Pausini, Ricky Martin, Andrea Bocelli, Julio Iglesias, Tom Jones, Pet Shop Boys, Alejandro Sanz, Bryan Adams, Tony Bennett, Plácido Domingo and Anastacia have all performed there.

But this year there have been disagreements over licensing at the event, with the town hall insisting that the festival must close at 2am from Monday to Thursday and at 3am on Fridays and Saturdays.

Final licences were granted

LICENSING DISPUTE: Early closures could force organisers to look for another venue.

just 72 hours ahead of the first concert.

Marbella's mayor Jose Bernal, guaranteed the town's support 'as long as the leisure area of the festival complied with the laws.'

But this week the police enforced the 2am closure of an open-air club that had been operating until 6am.

Organisers hit back and accused the town hall of an 'obstructive' attitude and said they would take legal action to 'defend the interests of the festival.'

They went on to say how they had made a significant contribution to local tourism and would commence talks with other towns that were interested in staging the festival next year.

Gas canister explosion

A FAMILY has been rushed to hospital after a gas canister exploded at their home in Palma, Malaga.

National Police, firefighters and health services attended the blast after emergency services received several reports of an explosion in the area.

The mother, aged 38, and her son, aged 17, were the most badly harmed out of the family of six, and are being treated at the Regional Hospital after sustaining burns to more than 40 per cent of their bodies.

The father, aged 43, was taken to Virgen de la Victoria Hospital in Malaga with burns to his lower body, while his daughter, aged nine, was treated for smoke inhalation at Malaga's Childrens Hospital.

Security councillor, Mario Cortes, commented that the blast may have been caused by a poorly connected gas canister.

COLLAPSE: The man died after being taken to San Pedro de Alcantara police station.

Dead on arrest

A 34-YEAR-OLD Romanian passed away in San Pedro police station after he was arrested for carrying a butterfly blade.

The victim was arrested in Marbella after police pulled over his vehicle, which carried two other occupants.

After finding that the vehicle documentation contained discrepancies, the three were transferred to the police station.

Upon his arrival at the station, the man collapsed and began to have a seizure.

An ambulance was immediately called to the scene but, unfortunately, they were not able to revive him.

Investigators have been unable to say what caused the man to have a seizure, but they have launched a full post-mortem investigation.

Perverse punishment

A 60-YEAR-OLD man has been hospitalised in Marbella for allegedly abusing a minor in the area.

According to National Police, the accused is suspected of having abused the 15-year-old, who suffers from a mental illness, between some bushes in the neighbourhood.

Apparently, the detainee is a well-known transvestite who gained local fame during the 70's.

Investigators have officially detained the accused, but have been unable to interview him as the injuries sustained from vigilantes have so far prevented him from speaking.

THE latest car sharing trend is coming to Malaga.

After huge success in Madrid, the company behind it all, Emov, has set its sights on Malaga, and plan to meet representatives of the city.

Cars can be rented by the minute, and this service is 100 per cent online.

Trend setters

Users simply download the app, register, enter their payment data, find the nearest car in the locality and unlock it, all with the mobile app.

The vehicles are not tied to specific recharge points, they can be left in any free space in blue parking zones.

Emov have their own points of fast charge, recovering 80 per cent of battery in 28 minutes.

No play playground

A MARINA playground is to be destroyed.

The Ministry of Culture has rejected the request for it to remain until September and ordered that it be removed.

The decision has been made because the esplanade playground occupied a protected area, according to the Law of Historic Heritage of Andalusia.

Made up of trampolines and an inflatable castle, the installation was located less than 50 metres from the Bermeja Tower, which was declared a property of cultural interest in 1985.

The regulations establish a minimum protection environment of 50 metres around this type of monument, a distance intruded upon by the play area which was authorised by the council.

Following the protests of the Torremuelle Neighbourhood

Association, the councillor in charge of Puerto Marina, Encarnacion Cortes, alleged that the park was moved from its initial location of Puerto Marina shopping centre to the entrance of the port area, because it blocked the view from the windows of nearby premises.

The matter has been transferred to several plenary sessions between Benalmadena neighbours, who questioned the criteria for the new location, and the People's Party, who criticised the visual impact that the facility had over the marina.

The other two towers in the area have also encountered problems: The Torre del Muelle has faced prosecution after the owner of an adjoining restaurant carried out building work without permission.

Torre Quebrada has had part of its security fence broken and is surrounded by weeds.

MALAGA PORT: Proposal is inspired by the luxury marinas of Miami.

Moor room for mega-yachts

A MULTIMILLION expansion to Malaga Port will make room for more mega-yachts.

The proposal is inspired by the luxury marinas of Miami and would enable the mooring of around 40 extra berths, as well as a new yacht club and heliport where the boat house is located.

Luna, Lady M, Octopus, Tatoosh and Prince Abdulaziz are some of the most luxurious mega-yachts in the world, who have visited the capital already.

The owners of vessels such as these - valued at several million euros - say they choose Malaga due to the attractiveness of its port and city, its security as well as competitive prices.

The Port Authority of Malaga has been working for several months on a project to reform the Marques de Guadiaro dock (between the docks one and two) and turn it into a new marina, which would have capacity for an additional 40 boats between 40 and 100 metres in length.

The project will be undertaken in phases and largely depends on the initiative of the Port Authority, with the approval of State Ports Authority. The proposal will go to public vote, as has been done with other projects such as the new hotel.

There are already investment groups from Spain and the United States that are interested who would fund the construction cost that will soar above €50 million.

UNION GENERAL DE TRABAJADORES has criticised an 8 per cent increase in occupational accidents in the first half of 2017 amounting to 8,279 since January 1.

Brits in the sun

CHANNEL 4 TV's new three-part series 'The Secret Life of the Holiday Resort' about the great British summer holiday has hit the small screen in the UK.

The programme takes a look at the great British holidaymaker abroad - at Holiday World Resort Benalmadena - the largest all-inclusive resort on Spain's Costa del Sol.

From setting alarm clocks at 4am to get their towels on the sun loungers first, to consuming up to 6,000 calories a day at the all-you-can-eat buffet, it lays bare Brits taking a break in the sun. Some of the guests confess to urinating in the pools.

Lion TV was commissioned by Channel 4 to make the three-part series about the great British summer holiday.

Filmed last summer when the UK voted to leave the EU and when a record 10 million Brits flocked to Spain, the observational series was produced during the busiest weeks of the season.

The series also follows the army of 5,000 staff and what it takes for them to keep 3,000 guests happy, serving up to four tonnes of bacon, five tonnes of chips and 6,000 litres of beer a week.

Executive producer Lisa Edwards from Lion TV says "It's been a fascinating summer to make a series like this - with the Brexit vote and fears about terrorism. The chance to observe British holidaymakers in one of the biggest resorts on the Costa del Sol was an unmissable opportunity.

The programme is now being broadcast on Friday evenings at 8pm (UK time) on Channel 4.

July drug arrests

JULY was a good month for the National Police seizures of drugs, which saw 16 people arrested and six distribution points closed.

Raids took place in Cartama, Fuengirola, Malaga City, Mijas pueblo, Torremolinos and Velez-Málaga resulting in large volumes of narcotics being seized.

The haul included 11,500 grams of marijuana, 250 grams of hashish, 18 grams of cocaine and six grams of heroin as well as 199 grams of MDMA and 25 grams of ecstasy.

Officers also confiscated 26 marijuana plants, €1,094, three knives and a vehicle.

Night in White

THE first White Night will be held in La Linea on August 19 with a number of cultural events taking place in different parts of the town.

Sexy fish

RESIDENTS of La Linea were worried that a large orange stain in the local waters was the result of an offshore oil spill. Experts advise that it is simply an excess of anchovy and sardine eggs.

Bad buses

DUE to breaches of contract, management of the bus service in La Linea operated by Los Amarillos will be cancelled with a fine of €35,000 imposed. Operations will continue for four months to find a new contractor.

Fury at poor dog beach placement

STUART WRIGHT, a Euro Weekly News reader has written in on the issue of Fuengirola's dog beach saying:

"A number of years ago a dog beach was opened opposite the BP Petrol Station at the Marbella end of Fuengirola. A good idea, without doubt, but the location was ill thought out for a number of reasons.

This area of beach is smack bang between Club La Costa World and the IPV Palace Hotel which are two of the biggest holiday accommodation destinations in the area. It is also right next to the main coastal dual carriageway!

Dogs cannot read and they do not know that they can only operate within a certain area but, to make matters even worse, a few weeks ago they cut a new staircase up the embankment from the dog beach directly to the very edge of the dual carriageway.

In the last week alone, two dogs have been killed to my knowledge (possibly more).

My wife witnessed one of them, when a small white dog on the beach got spooked by something and shot straight up the steps into the path of cars and was hit by a number of them in quick succession.

According to my wife, the owner was completely hysterical and tried to climb over the crash barrier to get to her deceased dog. Two men, fortunately, managed to pull her back and they then stopped the traffic enabling the owner to retrieve the body of her dog. A brave move, but think of the shunts that could have caused half way back to La Cala?

Then, yesterday, a large black and brown dog was killed and just left against the central barrier.

It is bad enough that these dogs are being killed but people in cars are also going to be casualties of this madness at some point down the line.

Most of the people who use this dog beach are locals who walk up from Fuengirola, so the larger piece of beach next to the river estuary, well away from the road would surely be a far better location.

Or, for that matter, almost anywhere other than where it is.

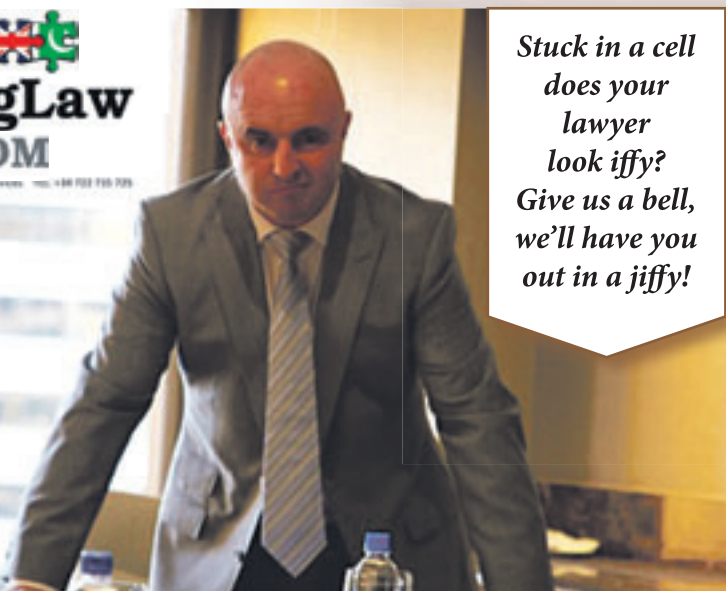

Dogs are dying now but drivers and their passengers are in danger of being drawn into this utter madness!

ADANA to appear on Danish television

ADANA (association for the rights of abandoned animals) helps many lucky dogs find new homes elsewhere in Europe and they were delighted to learn that they now have help in spreading the word in Demark.

Linsse, as she is known, a hugely popular Danish television 'reality' star, has a holiday home in Marbella and is a great animal lover.

Linsse volunteered to help out and a lucky ADANA dog travelled to his adopters in Copenhagen thanks to her.

Because Linsse is so well-known in Denmark, her involvement has generated publicity that will surely help them find more homes for their dogs in Denmark and elsewhere in Scandinavia.

ADANA and residents send a big thank you to Linsse!

NUISANCE: Residences Pierre & Vacances hotel pool where action has been taken.

THIS summer, residents of the Bel Air neighbourhood in Cancelada, Estepona, breathed a sigh of relief when, after two years of complaints to hotel manager Miren Bilbao, during which time nothing was done to curb the excessive late night noise from entertainment at the Residences Pierre & Vacances hotel swimming pool, legal action was eventually taken by the community, and the hotel was ordered by the Benahavis Council, the licensing authority, to stop the night-time events.

Residents who live opposite the hotel complain that the hotel is still not complying fully with the regulations, as there is still excessive noise during daytime aerobic sessions around the pool, with loud music above the permitted 55db level.

But residents are still unhappy with the hotel, as increased tourism has brought record numbers of guests to the mid-priced, French-owned hotel, and new complaints of rubbish and thoughtless and dangerous parking.

"It's quite common for hotel guests who don't want to pay the hotel's parking charges, to park outside residents' garage exits, blocking their cars in, sometimes for days. Guests park on yellow lines, on private land, on crossings and in dangerous spots in this wholly residential area," said long term resident Mary Page.

Residents also complain of rubbish, including cans, bottles, half-eaten take-away food causing an increase in rodent and cockroach infestation.

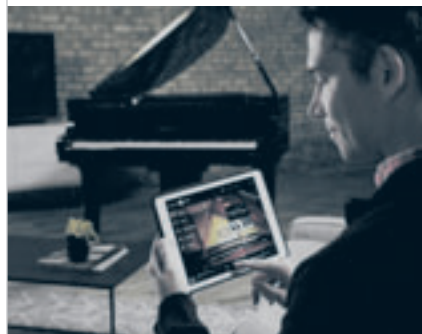

At a recent meeting of the community's residents association, many years-old complaints were raised about the hotel.

The community's managing committee has pledged to take steps in conjunction with the police and local authorities so that conditions will improve by next summer.

Lux Mundi coach excursion to Cáceres, Mérida and Badajoz

PLEASE come and join friends of Lux Mundi on a joint excursion to Cáceres, Mérida and Badajoz from both Torre del Mar and Fuengirola centres, from Monday September 25 until Friday September 29 inclusive.

There will be a four-night stay in four-star Hotel Agora Cáceres on a bed and breakfast basis. This modern hotel is located next to the Plaza Mayor and is a two-minute walk from the old town.

Travel will be by coach on the Monday with stops for breakfast and lunch en route, arriving early afternoon in Cáceres. The rest of the day and the following day there will be free time to explore this interesting city in western Spain's Extremadura region, founded by the ancient Romans with a mix of Gothic and Renaissance architecture, with cobbled medieval streets, fortified houses and palaces.

On the Wednesday there will be guided visits of both Mérida and Badajoz. Mérida was founded by the Romans in the first-century BC with its famous and still-used Teatro Romano, which has a double tier of columns rising onstage.

The ancient Puente Romano will also be visited, a 792m bridge spanning the Rio Guadiana and Badajoz situated close to the Portuguese border with Arab walls, the Alcazaba, Plaza Alta and interesting monuments.

On the Thursday morning the group will travel to the Monastery of Santa Maria de Guadalupe, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, where there will be a guided visit and afterwards the coach will travel to Trujillo where the afternoon will be free to explore the sights and to have lunch.

Trujillo contains an important group of churches, castles and manor houses that are built around the Plaza Mayor square and which are declared property of cultural interest.

The return journey will take place after breakfast on the Friday with stops en route for coffee and lunch, arriving back in Torre del Mar at approximately 5pm.

Ticket Prices: €348pp double room, €398pp single room.

Deposit of €100 due when booking at the centre along with the number and expiry date of passport, DNI or residence card. Final payment is due before the first week of September.

Included in the price are all travel expenses, insurance, four nights bed and breakfast and all guided visits.

Departures: Viñuela (football pitch) 7.20am, Algarrobo 7.45am (Lidl), Caleta 7.50am (Vets), Torre del Mar 8am (bus station).

FLASHBACK: Packed scenes from the 2016 Mad Bear Festival.

Mad Bear Beach Festival

TORREMOLINOS welcomes the 11th Madbear Beach festival, which opened yesterday and runs until next Wednesday. Last year saw an influx of more than 6,000 large and hairy gay men (known as Bears) into the town for the festival which will include visits from numerous specialist DJs and culminate in the election of Mr Mad Bear 2017.

Every night will see special events at this important festival which attracts visitors from all over Europe and is once again supported by the local council which wants Torremolinos to be seen as the 'welcoming gay tourism' destination for Europe.

Little rockers prove big hit

YOUNGSTERS: Age proves no barrier for young rockers Devils in the Sky.

ONE of the world's youngest rock bands has been formed in Malaga.

The group of six little rockers aged between eight and 14 years old aim to bring an end to reggaeton (Spanish dance music).

Named Devils in the Sky, the band take their influences from AC/DC, Iron Maiden and the Rolling Stones but the moment they really got noticed was when they uploaded their cover of the song Toxicity to YouTube.

The fast-paced hit by US metal outfit System of a Down is notoriously difficult to perform but the young hell raisers managed to nail it as their video proved popular with almost 3,000 views.

They began rehearsing in school as a hobby but their internet fame has earned them the opportunity to play a number of local live shows on a summer tour.

A crowd-funding campaign has been launched as the youngsters aim to release their first EP entitled It's a New Age. The songs will be sung in English and address the issues that most affect them, such as problems of adolescence or bullying. The band said in a statement:

"We want to teach our generation that there is music besides reggaeton. If this project makes only one person stop listening to it, then it will be worth it."

The title track of the EP will be played for the first time for the public at Sala Catarina de Marbella in December.

With less than a month to go, they need €4,500 to reach their target on the website, Verkami.

DENMARK

STUBBORN: The late Prince (left) had requested not to be buried next to his wife.

Separate burials

PRINCE HENRIK will not be buried next to his wife Queen Margrethe, as officials say the Prince was unhappy at never being her equal being named just a Prince rather than King.

Human rights

HOMELESS foreigners in Denmark are threatening to go to the European Court of Human Rights claiming the clampdown on the Roma community in Copenhagen is unjust.

No smoking

A PROPOSAL to make beaches smoke-free has been welcomed by a cancer concern group, however, there are doubts over how such a law could be enforced.

Stop and search

COPENHAGEN police have extended a stop-and-search zone which was in place since July 20, in an attempt to stop gang-related crime, following a series of shooting incidents in the city.

GERMANY

Deal done

CARMAKERS have agreed to new engine management software which will improve emission filtering systems and help cut harmful emissions. It comes following the diesel emissions scandal.

Jail term

PROSECUTORS have deemed the former Auschwitz death camp guard is fit to go to prison. The 96-year-old was convicted of being an accessory to murder.

No stags

THE town of Regensburg is taking action against rowdy stag and hen parties as more than a dozen establishments have signed up to an initiative to ban them.

Bad eggs

EGGS contaminated with an insecticide are being recalled as thousands have been found in German states. It comes after contaminated eggs were found in the Netherlands and Belgium.

FRANCE

Roman find

ARCHAEOLOGISTS have discovered the ruins of an ancient Roman neighbourhood near Lyon in south-eastern France. It seems the town was abandoned after fires.

Popularity poll

A POLL of registered voters has shown the popularity of new President Emmanuel Macron, is already fading as his approval rating plunged with 49 per cent of those questioned saying they 'disapproved' of the job he was doing.

No fly

AIR FRANCE has expanded its 'no fly zone' area around North Korea after a relatively near miss between a North Korean missile and an Air France flight. Experts say if the jet had taken off minutes later it would have been very close.

Bill approved

PARLIAMENT has approved Macron's new labour bill which is the first major reform during his presidency which aims to tackle unemployment in the country.

BELGIUM

In remembrance

ROYALTY mixed with veterans and relatives in Belgium in honouring the soldiers who died in the battle of Passchendaele during the First World War for the 100th anniversary. It was a 103-day battle in western Belgium.

Illegal immigrants

OVER 3,000 illegal immigrants have been detained in West Flanders since the start of the year. This equates to an average of 100 a week since January.

Sick leave

THE number of workers on long-term sick is slowing down thanks to a number of measures taken by the government to get people back to work quicker. Just under 370,000 people have been on sick leave for more than a year.

All change

THE former Los Angeles Dodgers co-owner Jamie McCourt is now being considered by President Trump to be the US ambassador to France rather than Belgium as previously thought.

NETHERLANDS

Binned baby

AN abandoned baby was found in a rubbish bag near the theatre and the law courts in Rotterdam.

Police have launched an investigation.

Two drinks

TO prevent underage drinking in particular, alcohol abuse prevention lobby Stap, wants festival organisers to limit attendees to just two drinks from the bar. This would then stop them from buying for the under 18s.

DNA delay

A MASS DNA test to help find the killer of an 11-year-old boy who was taken whilst camping in 1998, will now not take place until next year. Around 15,000 men will be asked to voluntarily take part in the project.

Rent rise

OUTSIDE the big cities, property rent prices are rising fast. A report has shown that rents rose by an average 10 per cent in the smaller cities in the second quarter of 2017.

SWEDEN

Festival rapes

POLICE are investigate four cases of rape at a music festival in Emmaboda. Eleven other women reported sexual abuse. It comes after organisers of another music festival called off next year's event following cases of sexual violence.

Bank AI

SWEDISH banks are leading the way in the use of artificial intelligent (AI). It is hoped that using AI for more menial tasks, staff will have more time for more complex tasks.

Nato exercise

THE military is set to hold the 'biggest military exercise in decades' with Nato to try and strengthen the country's defences amid growing fears over Russia. More than 19,000 Swedish troops will take part.

Unusual sale

PERHAPS not the country's most popular property, but an estate agent has on its books a rather unusual find; an atomic bomb proof bunker complete with a decontamination centre and Star Wars-themed floor for sale starting at 995,000 kroner.

NORWAY

Mistaken identity

AN anti-immigration group in Norway mistook a picture of empty bus seats for a group of women wearing burkas. The photo was posted in on a Facebook site titled 'fatherland first' and has been criticised for fuelling Islamophobic hate.

Swan song

AFTER reporting last week that a swan which had attacked young children, was to be relocated, it has now been revealed that the aggressive swan has been killed after a new attack on a 16-year-old girl.

Lightning strike

SUMMER storms left one man being taken to hospital after being struck by lightning at the Vollen Marina near Oslo. He only had minor injuries.

Private preference

NORWEGIANS are the lowest users of public transport in Europe, tied at the bottom of a study, along with the Portuguese. Norwegians seemingly prefer private transport and drive an average of 33km in their car every day.

CHILLY: Snow has only just melted in Murmansk.

Weather chaos

FREAKISH summer weather is causing confusion across Russia. In Murmansk the snow has only just melted, in Moscow dozens have died in hurricanes. Oddly, Siberians are basking in record temperatures reaching almost 40 degrees. Scientists say Arctic winds and southern heatwaves are mixing to create chaotic conditions.

Mercy plea

A GAY Uzbek journalist working for Russian investigative newspaper Novaya Gazeta is facing deportation after his asylum request was rejected. Khudoberdi Nurmatov is being supported by Amnesty International from a Moscow detention centre. He faces years in prison in Uzbekistan where homosexuality is a serious crime.

Botched escape

FIVE Moscow gang members made a dramatic escape attempt from court, grabbing the guns of security guards before fleeing. They were gunned down by armed court police, killing three of them. They were members of the Grand Theft Auto crew which executed drive-by shootings on Moscow's ring roads.

Big brother

VPNS, known as internet proxy services which allow users to sneakily visit banned websites, have been officially outlawed by President Putin. The decree strengthens the Kremlin's control of the internet and makes it nearly impossible to surf the web anonymously, or visit unapproved websites.

Pin-up smash

A BIKER girl, who became a smash hit on social media posting pictures of herself performing stunts on her monstrous BMW S1000RR while wearing raunchy outfits, died in a crash near Vladivostok. Olga Pronina, aged 40, has thousands of online followers and 20 years racing experience.

Wicked west

A TOP Russian bishop has called on parents to stop their children going to the west for travel or education. Metropolitan Hilarion, a renowned Orthodox theologian who himself studied at Oxford University, said young people return to Russia with diluted principles and poisonous ideas.

Holiday tax

TOURIST taxes are being imposed in Russia's southern summer holiday resorts. Adults staying in key resorts can be charged up to 100 rubles (€1.4) a night during their stay. The new tax operates in four regions, Crimea, Altai, Krasnodar Krai, and Stavropol Krai.

LUXURY: Tourists to be taxed in Sochi beach resorts.

Barcelona energy

THE Barcelona City Council takes the matter of energy production very seriously and plans to set up a public company to develop green energy.

Prior to this, however, it is introducing 12 large pergolas in public areas which will not just provide cover from the sun, but will have solar panels on their roofs in order to generate electricity which will power street lighting.

Some public buildings will also have panels installed to increase green energy production.

More money for advice

A RECENT report suggests that Spain's consulting business has continued to grow and was worth €1.28 billion in 2016.

The past two years have seen a return to strength after several years in the doldrums and should continue in the immediate future according to Source Global Research, a company with offices in Dubai and the United Kingdom.

Whilst the Spanish economy continues to recover and there is a continued need for cyber security, the only potential pitfall seems to be that companies are reluctant to see an increase in consultancy charges which were reduced during the years of the financial depression.

According to the report, the financial sector is showing the strongest use of specialist consultants while the public sector, charged with driving down costs is still a difficult market.

Many companies are aware that they have a lot of catching up to do to pull the Spanish digital sector into the modern age as, although some innovations have been highly successful, many companies still don't invest the sort of money that they should to compete on the international market.

Large companies that want to move forward have sufficient funds to simply purchase existing businesses, thus acquiring niche specialists, but medium sized and smaller companies are finding it more effective to bring in short-term advisors as they try to expand their market penetration.

Electric vehicles

ALTHOUGH the figures are still tiny, sales of electric cars in Spain increased dramatically to 673 vehicles in July.

This represents an overall increase of 81 per cent over July 2016 and, to date, 3,636 of this type of vehicle have been registered in Spain according to the Spanish Association of Manufacturers of Automobiles and Trucks (Anfac).

The hybrid market has seen an even greater boost with 32,072 cars registered - a massive increase of 90.6 per cent.

Anfac claims this is due to a rise in public awareness of the environmental advantages and a wider choice.

Quote of the Week

"We are pleased to announce that we will create 900 new jobs within three years," said Fred Pattje Amazon director of operations confirming further expansion in Toledo.

PANAMA CANAL: No payment for additional work.

Panama Canal claim rejected in Miami

A BRIEF statement on the Facebook page of Jorge Quijano, Chief Executive of the Panama Canal Authority revealed that a claim for $192.8 (€163) million has been rejected.

This will come as bad news to Spanish company Sacyr SA which alongside Belgian, Italian and Panamanian companies had claimed this amount for additional work undertaken on the Panama Canal in 2016.

According to this consortium, the amount represented an unexpected overspend when required to create a temporary water infrastructure on the Pacific entrance of the canal.

The matter had been passed to an arbitration organisation in Miami who according to Quijano not only rejected the claim but found that the consortium should pay more than $23 (€19.5) million to the authority to cover its arbitration expenses.

None of this has been formally confirmed by the Miami based organisation, nor has there been any comment at the time writing from the consortium.

» BUSINESS EXTRA

Growing market

ESTATE AGENT Savills which has recently come to an arrangement with Spanish agency Aguirre Newman is excited by the market. It says that investment in Spanish property exceeded €5 billion in the first half of the year.

Euro stronger

DUE to fears that Britain has no viable Brexit plan and the economy may be suspect, the euro has strengthened against the pound once again. Bad news for pensioners relying on sterling income but those who wish to purchase pounds will be pleased.

Madrid in

ALTHOUGH Cataluña is thought of as the financial powerhouse of Spain, a report suggests that 50 per cent more foreign companies invest in Madrid than Barcelona. Informa D & B also said that Madrid has more registered self-employed.

Slow coach government

AMERICAN business research and consultancy company Bloomberg has taken an unusual look at Spain and criticised the government for inactivity.

Speaking to an Oxford University economist, it is suggested that whilst the economy grows, the government is proceeding at what is described as 'at a snail's pace' with only four laws passed in the last seven months.

The 2017 budget was eventually passed but no significant new reforms have been introduced to help business expansion.

SECURITY STAFF STRIKE AT EL PRAT BARCELONA AIRPORT

€300,000 fine on the cards

FOLLOWING the breakdown of talks between Eulen and staff, the company that manages security at Barcelona El Prat Airport could be fined €300,000.

Security staff are in conflict with employers as they demand better working conditions and more staff, but this breakdown could cost Eulen dearly as it works under contract from AENA which has overall management of the airport.

The existing agreement allows AENA to take direct action against Eulen and, as its staff are about to undertake a number of potentially crippling strikes during the airport's busiest time, the courts have been asked to approve the levy of two fines, each of €150,000.

Ironically, AENA had already approved an exceptional payment of €425,000 effective from Saturday July 1 in order to allow for the recruitment of additional staff, to ensure that passengers were able to proceed through the airport without unnecessary delay.

AENA has also rejected a request from Eulen to assist in the mediation procedures with its employees, which would be a complete change of procedure, as it has never been involved in trying to settle a dispute between a contractor and their employees.

With the bad publicity arising from passenger delays for passengers from non-Schengen countries, caused by new EU passport checking regulations and now possible long delays to leave, Barcelona could find itself losing a large number of visitors who could easily go elsewhere in the medium term.

The local government has become involved and demanded that a minimum level of service is maintained over each 24-hour period, but as the workers' representatives and the employer appear to be at loggerheads, long delays in very hot conditions will do nothing to sooth passenger

STRIKE THREAT:
El Prat Airport security staff.

Barcelona El Prat is Spain's second busiest airport after Madrid Barajas with 44 million passengers using it in 2016. Its busiest international routes are with London airports Gatwick, Heathrow and Stansted and passengers from those three airports account for 6 per cent of all movements.

tempers or indeed those of the workers who are handling them.

The Catalan government recognises the concept of the right of workers to strike, but also wants to ensure that highly visible operations such as the important El Prat Airport do not present a negative face internally or to the outside world.

Higher costs for firms

THE 2017 budget deadlock meant that new social security charges for self-employed had to be suspended, but they will now cost an average of €100 per annum.

Many were taken by surprise when they discovered that their monthly payments had risen by 3 per cent after the increase was approved by Congress, although there was a corresponding uplift of the minimum income to be required to pay this contribution.

The actual amount involved will vary depending upon declared income and, as with the UK, the more you earn, the more you pay and even the reduced rate for those aged over 48 has been increased in line with other rates.

IMF SURPRISED BY ECONOMIC GROWTH

As some pensioners benefit from new rules

THE International Monetary Fund (IMF) is the latest group to upgrade expectations for the Spanish economy by the end of 2017 by half of 1 per cent.

It now forecasts that growth will rise to 3.1 per cent from its original forecast of 2.6 per cent and confirms that it is surprised how well a number of EU economies, namely, Spain, France, Germany and Italy are doing.

Next year, it expects Spain to lead economic growth within the European Union with a slightly lower 2.4 per cent which will be well above the average, and even beat former 'power house' Germany.

Despite the positive news, the IMF report warns that there are potential pitfalls ahead due to excess capacity, ageing populations and delays in investment, leading to little advance in productivity.

Focusing on Spain, the organisation worries about the high public pension payments - the value of which is higher than the European average - and wants to see an increase in private pension schemes.

MORE MONEY: Pensioners can afford little extras.

Otherwise, it believes that the age to receive the state pension will have to be increased.

Clearly, this and the demand that pension rises should be capped and IVA be further increased are not popular with Spanish residents, and the National Government, ever-decreasing in popularity, will have to be very careful about its actions.

As opposition parties complain that the new growth in the economy has not been reflected in the day-to-day affairs of those who are in work, one group will be pleased with the government, as 252,000 women will see additional payments with their pensions.

Those pensioners who had two children will receive at least a 5 per cent bonus and this will be increased for each additional child up to a maximum of four in order to recognise the importance of women who broke their years of social service contributions to increase the population.

More female pensioners in Andalusia than any other province will benefit from this increase.

Beware intelligent appliances

THERE has been a great deal of discussion recently about the safety of intelligent household devices and possible hacking of information.

Equally worrying for some, according to Mintel, the world's largest market intelligence agency with global offices in Europe, the Far East and Asia, is the fact that different companies can purchase information from manufacturers.

The report suggests that in Britain just 30 per cent of those interviewed believed that insurers could be trusted to manage the data, and more than 75 per cent are apprehensive about theft of the information or the fact that it could be sold on.

As more of these sophisticated devices find their way to Spain, similar fears are likely to arise.

FROM IMMIGRANT DISHWASHER TO MICHELIN STAR CHEF Two special women are honoured

THE Eckart 2017 Award for Innovation has been presented to head Chef María Marte and managing director Luisa Orlando at the Michelin-starred restaurant El Club Allard in Madrid.

An international jury awarded the accolade in honour of Marte's extraordinary career path from dishwasher to Michelin-starred chef, and for Orlando's bold decision, as a manager, to support her from the very beginning.

María Marte's cuisine stands for an innovative concept that melds contemporary cooking methods with Caribbean elements which create a fascinating Mediterranean-Latin-American fusion.

After travelling to Spain from the Dominican Republic in 2003, Marte took on a job as a cleaner and dishwasher at El Club Allard, though her ambition from the outset was to become a chef.

Defying hurdles and prejudices, she managed to fight her way into a job as a kitchen assistant and by 2006 she became the right-hand woman to Chef Diego Guerrero, who was awarded the restaurant's first Michelin star in 2007 and its second in 2011.

When Guerrero unexpectedly left in 2013, managing director Orlando decided to take a bold and unprecedented step and appointed former dishwasher María Marte as head chef.

Together, they have successfully defended the two-Michelin star rating of El Club Allard.

Moreover, Marte is the only female from Latin America to currently hold two Michelin stars.

More foreign investment

SPANISH energy distributor Gas Natural Fenosa is selling 20 per cent of its business to two overseas investors for €1.5 billion.

The agreement with Allianz Capital Partners - a London based operation with offices across Europe - and Canadian pension fund CPPIB is likely to be finalised by early 2018 when approved by the different regulatory bodies.

Currently the company has 5.3 million supply points across 1,100 different towns but wants to use the investment to expand its operation to take in many more locations.

This is the third sale of significant percentages of Spanish energy companies to overseas investors so far this year with a total spend of more than €4.5 billion.

Losing mental capacity whilst living abroad

by Stone King

Charlotte Macdonald

Contact me at international@stoneking.co.uk

MANY UK expatriates living in Spain own properties in the UK and have pensions and investments in the UK. They rely on their UK assets to maintain their lifestyles (and those of their families) in Spain. If they can no longer manage their affairs in the UK due to a loss of mental capacity, it can cause many difficulties.

“ You can choose a person or people, who you trust, to act for you when you are no longer able. ”

The best way to avoid the legal and practical difficulties that can occur with the loss of mental capacity is to plan for it in advance by drawing up a document called a 'Lasting Power of Attorney' ('LPA').

An LPA must be made while you have full mental capacity.

What is an LPA?

An LPA is a legal document that enables you to appoint one or more attorneys to act for you when you are no longer able to act for yourself.

Your attorney can be a professional,

such as a solicitor or a family member or friend.

There are two types of LPA: 'Health and Welfare' or 'Property and Financial Affairs'

An LPA must be made while you have full mental capacity. It is therefore important to make one while you are in good health.

Why should you get an LPA?

You can choose a person or people, who you trust, to act for you when you are no longer able.

If you lose your mental capacity and do not have an LPA, then your family (or the authorities) will have no choice but to make an application to the Court of Protection to appoint a 'deputy' to look after your affairs, which can be time consuming and costly.

Will my LPA be recognised in Spain?

Unfortunately there is no international type of LPA which is guaranteed to work in both the UK and Spain.

The advice we give to our clients at Stone King, is that if you have assets in both Spain and the UK, your only safe option is to appoint attorneys in both jurisdictions.

ONE thing that does surprise me (not really!) is why the media has carefully avoided mentioning the fact that the Grenfell Tower block was filled with 99 per cent of ethnic immigrants?

As these apartments were presumably allocated by local council authorities, does this not seem in direct contradiction to the government's oft spouted ambition to do everything in their power to 'integrate immigrant cultures into the British way of life'?

It seems to me that all they achieved in this instance was to create a towering ghetto of people who would, by the very nature of their environmental existence, have found it difficult to take on British culture and values, even if they had wanted to. At best, this biased selection process is a misdirected exercise in culture relationships and, at worse, blatant racism.

I would be extremely interested to know how many of those in charge of tenant selection, were actually immigrants themselves? As time passes, and people of ethnic origins (often quite rightly) move into more and more decision-taking positions, the emergence of reverse racism is subsequently ever-present and needs to be severely dealt with.

I'll cite you one example of what I'm alluding to. My nephew, aged 21, moved back to Northern Ireland after a year working in Spain.

Having no immediate employment, he decided to sign on at the local Social Security offices. Waiting in the queue he found himself behind two black ladies, colourfully attired in the costumes of whatever country they originated from.

He then patiently stood and waited for some 20 minutes, while the clerk behind the counter, also of ethnic origin, laboriously, and in great detail explained all the benefits that the two enquirers were entitled to.

When they finally moved away, my nephew took up their place and politely explained to the man that he had been out of the country for a year and what was his position regarding any benefits?

Curtly and rudely he was informed he had been out of the country too long and couldn't be helped. Next!

Er, just a minute. The aforementioned woman had never lived in the country.

GRENFELL TOWER:
Lessons to be learned.

How come they were entitled to 20 minutes of the clerk's attention, while my nephew, who had been born, bred and previously worked in Northern Ireland, was rudely brushed aside with no explanation whatsoever! Now if that example doesn't smell of reversed racism, I don't know what does.

As more immigrant members of our society move into these higher authoritative positions, they have to be monitored very carefully and deterred in the strongest possible way of practising the racism many of them may well have been accused of for years.

However misdirected, some will be hell bent on some form of 'revenge' and, given an inch, the miles they will take will undeniably lead to the demise of our own rights and with it our grasp on society as we know it.

Should the bartender be behind bars?

IS it perhaps outrageous to place any responsibility on the bartender and establishments that serve the alcohol that in turn lead to an accident or fatal incident? In some states in the USA this is the case.

It is undeniable that although we are all responsible for our own actions there are contributing factors that can act as detonators, a link in a chain reaction of incidents. Bartenders overserving customers can be considered as such.

Perhaps this question goes beyond legality and is more a question of morality, social responsibility and community spirit.

Our Danish tourists are vulnerable to sunburn leading to a marked increase in cancer. This has led their government to create a very cool marketing campaign to appeal directly to the Spanish population to take an active part in keeping this tourist sector safe; to remind them to sit in the shade, to wear a hat, to use suntan cream.

Marbella Moments

by Nicole King

The British government could follow suit and create a campaign on alcohol poisoning as this too is making our citizens sick and is not doing anyone's reputation any good either!

They could point out that most Brits are used to drinking beer and if they do drink a spirit, the gill is a unit of measure so small in comparison to what is served locally that they are not ready for what comes next!

Added to this is the fact that most of what they're served is cheap, low-grade alcohol, with which they're plied upon arrival and throughout their stay. Plus they come from a country where the trend amongst the young is to go out to drink and to get drunk rather than going out to have fun and have a drink.

Is it really all their fault then

that they fall apart and throw up after being bombarded with so much alcohol? They're not ready for Spain, they're too vulnerable and no one is there to help them.

So, should the bars and restaurants be responsible for the condition of their clients when they leave their premises? Should they be legally liable?

When I think of a bartender I envision a kindly-faced person who's making sure the customers are happy, that they don't leave without paying or become disorderly. Locally perhaps these are not the priorities of some of the establishments who need to take advantage of the summer sales to stay alive, who under this financial pressure overlook the influence this may have in other people's lives.

In this vein, businesses may even encourage their bar staff to ignore common sense in favour of greater sales, placing an even greater responsibility and conflict of interest on the poor employee, the bar tender.

He or she however would be the ones to have to live with a guilty conscience if anything untoward then happened to a client, if that extra 'sale' proved to have been the weak link.

Professional bartenders are trained in the art of serving and also in knowing when to stop; as skilled in preparing drinks and cocktails as looking out for the patron's best interests.

If, therefore, Marbella's establishments also aspire to this same level of professionalism we eliminate the need for our bartenders to think about being behind any other bars than their own.

In my opinion

Views of a Grumpy Old Man

WE all see, and some of us even have our favourite 'Looky Looky' men, especially in the coastal regions of Spain where we live.

They sell all sorts of stuff and mostly copies of famous brands and when you buy your Rolex or Louis Vuitton bag you know full well that for 20 or 30 euros it's not real.

Is it correct? Maybe not. The big companies complain it's damaging to their business. Some of us think that the person that buys a 'moody' Rolex for €20 is highly unlikely to buy a real one for €12,000, but it's something that is pretty much accepted rightly or wrongly. But there is a darker side of the fake business and some of it is even life threatening and that is what is making me seriously grumpy.

I've seen copies of famous brand toothpaste, shampoo, booze and cigarettes which all, when tested, contained poisons. Every brand of mobile phone and the accessories, game consoles and most electronic items are being sold, not in the back streets somewhere, but openly on ebay and other online sources. People are looking to buy items for themselves or as gifts only to find that when it arrives, and sometimes after it blows up or shorts out, that what they have bought is fake and it seems the powers to be can do very little about it.

One of the things to look out for is the price. If you see a brand new iPhone7 for €300 I can almost guarantee it's a fake, even if it's advertised as an unwanted gift. If something looks too good to be true then it most likely is. The other day I was looking for a new keyboard for a Microsoft tablet I have. It's a model which has been superseded but which works perfectly well.

I phoned Microsoft and they didn't have them any more so I looked online and there were loads of them for sale... not one of them real but being advertised as genuine. They were all being shipped from China. I finally found one that actually said it wasn't original but was made to work with the tablet I had, so I've had a punt at that via Amazon. I'll let you know if it works.

It also works the other way round. I put a watch on ebay to sell and the amount of people that tried to get me to deliver it saying payment had been sent was quite astonishing. So be careful when buying and selling. It seems everyone on the internet is trying to con you. It's a shame but that's what greed does. Been conned? Email mikesenker@gmail.com.

Wake up to yet another useless bit of research!

DISTURBED sleep can lead to dementia! This according to the latest research that a single night of disturbed sleep increases levels of a brain protein linked to Alzheimer's disease.

But perhaps it's drinking too much coffee that causes us to sleep badly, and so reportedly increases the risk of developing Alzheimer's? But worry not as, according to yet another study, drinking coffee might prevent dementia and even help us 'live longer'!

Well, let's look forward to the next bit of research showing that the two balance each other out. So, we end up living as long as we would have lived if we'd rarely drunk coffee and always got our eight hours. But hang on! Didn't I read somewhere that foisted on us because the experts - possibly the same experts who told us about disturbed sleep, coffee drinking and what we can safely consume (wine - good or bad now? Can't keep track) - insisted way back its fumes were the height of cleanliness.

Headlines almost daily about some illness or other are disturbing to the elderly and simply cause anxiety. Generally, it's poor research with little to support the findings conducted by some second-rate scientists attempting to acquire yet more dosh for some second-rate university. It's not for public consumption, it's scientific rubbish. Trouble is, we taxpayers are paying them to 'research' this pseudo-research. Who would've guessed? The Marriage Foundation says 'marriage is good for you.'

Well, I never! Why do so many ineffective, expensive quangos need to justify their existence by assuming the public are gullible idiots?

THURSDAY THOUGHTS

By Graham Braben, Almeria

I am not growing old

FOR many young energetic people across the world the tribulations of the older generation are of little interest until time reels them in and they suddenly realise they are approaching the decrepitude they thought would never come.

But at least in Spain the family unit tends to be more appreciative of older relatives and less likely to leave them lonely and uncared for when they most need support. The climate here also helps elderly people get out more so that they can stay active. In cooler months the old men in Spain all seem to venture out in brown trousers and a dark red pullover, topped off by a cloth cap.

On formal occasions the same trousers are teamed with a light beige jacket and a pork pie hat. Older Spanish ladies, meanwhile, wear what they want but reach a certain age at which it becomes mandatory to have their hair cut short, permed, and turned copper red. I saw a group of five elderly ladies chewing the fat on the promenade and they looked like unlikely sisters because they all had this same hairstyle. I wonder if when the time comes they go into the hairdresser and ask for 'old lady hair, please.'

Having said that, I just passed a man in the street who cannot have been less than 85, and he was sporting a wavy reddish brunette hairpiece that appeared to be made of nylon. It would have looked better on a lady but 'better' is a relative term here. I have never seen a more obvious syrup in my life. And for any confused Spanish readers, syrup is slang for a wig. To check this just ask any Englishman sporting what looks like a wig and ask him 'is that a syrup, mate?' He will be delighted to tell you.

Personally I am determined never to grow into an old person.

Cover up should be for all!

THE Nicole King article about Time to cover up (CDS Issue 1674) was timely given Marbella's plans to introduce laws making it illegal to walk around unclothed except at the beach or pool.

As highlighted from time to time in the EWN, many tourists - and I fear occasionally expats - decide it is acceptable to walk around without a shirt, or perhaps in a bikini bottom and top.

In my book it is not, and I am no fuddy duddy.

However, I do not agree with Nicole that 'one important thing differentiates Marbella from the rest of the world is our 'class,' with this backing the plan that wearing clothes is now officially on the citizen conduct code.

What class! Marbella has little if any more than many other places. Many residents and perhaps visitors have money, but many additionally

Early cheers of concern

Welcome to Spain.

Hopefully most of the summer visitors will be able to recall all their antics when they return home.

I make this point as at 9.50am yesterday three men - not teenagers but aged in their 50's or 60's - raised three pints of beer in a poolside toast.

Maybe from the UK (I am British myself), or perhaps German or Scandinavian, it does not matter. My surprise was that even before 10 in the morning some tourists start their day with an alcoholic drink, and the three I saw were clearly keen to record the moment, with a lined up Selfie!

While I am no grumpy pensioner, I question such early habits... even on holiday!

K Becke, Nerja

have shady backgrounds, and in numerous cases, little money.

I have lived in various places in Spain over the last 20 years and feel residents and tourists alike - THROUGHOUT Spain and not just in 'classy' Marbella - should face through laws the need to cover up when out and about... just like in Nice in the south of France, which does have some true class!

N Peden, Sotogrande

Grumpy view

TODAY I reached a new level of grumpiness.

There were several reasons, ie our village of Los Pacos, Fuengirola, has had its one-way system reversed due to roadworks. This normally would just create a 'grump,' but after taking the longer route round I discovered the roadworks had led the normal delivery of the EWN to be affected at my two usual pick-up points.

With my grumpiness level rising I was forced to head to Los Boliches in search of the paper on a very hot day and without a bottle of water to hand.

Grumpier by the minute as I go to pick up an EWN I trip over the small entrance step and end up on my hands and knees.

EWN in hand, I return home against a seemingly endless tide of 'beach people' dodging around families laden with chairs, rubber rings, parasols, cold boxes, children and all other paraphernalia people seem to find necessary.

Eventually back home hot and sweaty, I pour a glass of cold water and open the EWN to my favourite section 'Grumpy Old Man.'

But there is NO 'Grumpy' column to be seen!!

My own grumpy level now reaches the RED zone!

Is Mike Senker not grumpy this week? No, that's not possible, but I need my own weekly Grumpy fix!

Luckily I had some back issues of the EWN!

But please EWN delivery man get back to normal next week.

Martyn Wood Fuengirola

Editor's note: Our apologies over the hiccup in deliveries.

We shouldn't be dictated to (Leapy Lee)

Hi Lee

What I cannot understand is why nobody (Not Even the Stays) mentioned the time period that would elapse from Leave to Actually Leaving EU. Something very suspicious about that???

So now we know I am sure the Remain would have won easily... I voted out thinking it was just a matter of a few months and we are out. Now we find 20,000 laws passed by EU have got to be reversed (nice earner for solicitors). So I think what will happen now is after two/three years of rising prices blamed on Brexit etc etc. The People will ask for another vote and May & Co will get what they want a Remain vote at least 90 per cent.

Exactly what she and the rest are aiming for.

Col Bro

UK airports warn of European flight suspensions post-Brexit

IT'S not that non-EU countries can't fly to the EU. The problem is that as the UK has made no firm proposals, there will literally be no rules. A legal vacuum, as stated here. Sure, non-EU flights do land in Europe, but within a defined legal framework. Unless something is agreed, there will be no such framework; there's no blanket third-country plan the UK can just default to. Airlines have to plan a year ahead and with no deal, they couldn't.

Brit holidaymakers furious with new border check rules causing delays

WHY are the Brits complaining. The main reason Brexit was voted in, was because Britain wanted more border controls. Do the British public really think that they should not be subject to the same treatment in other countries???

Even before Britain had the referendum they were the only European country where there were delays at customs. Wake up Brits this is what you wanted.

Fruit and veg boost for Mercadona shoppers

PROBABLY more to do with shoppers choosing a cheaper item and then producing a ticket for less than the real value and the till not knowing whether the item is what the label says and Mercadona losing money, can't imagine it's for client convenience.

THE trade off is longer queues at the checkout. CJ

STRATEGICALLY PLACED: Swedish buyers can enjoy a luxury lifestyle near Puerto Banus without breaking the bank.

Swedish buyers head for sunny south of Spain as the market heats up

SWEDISH buyers looking for a second home in Spain have increased by just under a third; and are amongst the top three nationalities of foreign purchasers, according to leading Spanish home-builder Taylor Wimpey España.

Total year-to-date sales, as of April 2017, are up by 31 per cent and Swedish purchasers now account for 16 per cent of all purchases made.

Loose monetary conditions, rising wages and general optimism in the economy have fuelled prosperity in the Swedish economy with SEB (Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken A/B) forecasting growth of 3.1 per cent this year and 2.6 per cent in 2018.

Marc Pritchard, Sales and Marketing Director of Taylor Wimpey España, has observed firsthand the rise in demand from Swedish buyers.

Marc and his team now translate all property brochures and contracts in Swedish as a matter of course, and for the last three years have had a Swedish version of Taylor Wimpey España website to meet demand.

"The past 12 months have seen a real boost in sales to north Europeans, especially Swedish buyers. The regular, direct, low-cost flights from Sweden and neighbouring countries to the Costa del Sol on Spain's southern coast has made it a hotspot for buyers in 2017.

"Almost half of all Swedish buyers are choosing the Costa del Sol with the new 'Acqua' development in very high demand. Its major pull is a perfect location for a competitive price.

"The new homes are very close to the well-known harbour of Puerto Banus, minutes away from the beaches of Marbella. Swedish buyers are excited to live the high life without the high price tag," stated Marc Pritchard, Sales and Marketing Director, Taylor Wimpey España

Another aspect of Acqua's appeal is its community vibe with 130 homes set across four buildings, each of four storeys.

As the name suggests, Acqua has its own residents' swimming pool with each three bedroom, two bathroom home boasting ample space for families and lots of natural light.

Prices start from €265,000 +VAT, the homes are just a four-minute walk from Alcantara beach. Just five minutes from Puerto Banus and with great transport links to enjoy the best in leisure and entertainment, including the best golf courses on the Costa del Sol. Only 40 minutes drive from Malaga airport.

For more information, please contact Taylor Wimpey España on 08000 121 020 or visit <http://taylorwimpeypain.com>. Residents outside of the UK will need to call 00 34 971 706 972.

Reggae Rock

■ FOLLOWING his many visits to Gibraltar Maxi Priest has co-written a song about the Rock. During his time there a video was produced showing much of what Gibraltar has to offer as a tourism destination. He also held a concert in Gibraltar last year, which is featured in the video.

Pardon plea

■ THE Unite Union has seconded a call from the Equality Rights Group for government to grant legal pardons to those convicted in the past for homosexual offences. They argue that as these acts were decriminalised in 1993, the stigma associated with a prosecution should be wiped away.

Migrants remanded

■ FOUR young men who were rescued from the sea last week in a dramatic action by the Ports Authority have been remanded in custody. They will join three adults, all from Casablanca at HM Windmill Prison whilst awaiting a decision by the courts on their future.

Spain won't blackmail Britain over Gibraltar

By John Smith

THE Spanish Foreign Minister Alfonso Dastis has said he will not insist that Spanish sovereignty over Gibraltar be a condition of any Brexit deal.

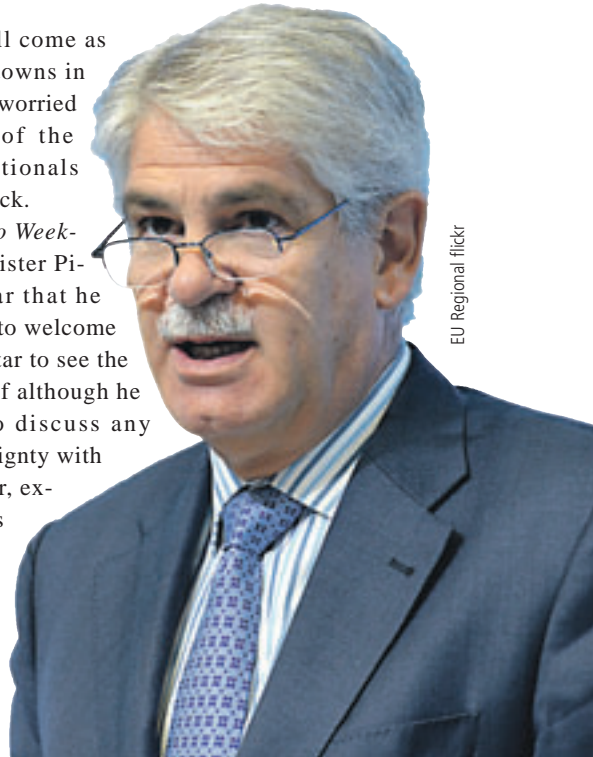

It has been made clear that any veto that might be allowed on Gibraltar negotiations would only come into place after Brexit, but in advance of his visit to the Campo de Gibraltar he has told Spanish media that although the sovereignty claim over Gibraltar is very important he did not want to take any action that could jeopardise the future of Spanish cross-border workers.

Mr Dastis said the joint sovereignty proposals remain on the table, adding Spain will try to convince Gibraltar they're worth exploring but this will come as good news for the towns in the Campo who are worried about the future of the 12,000 Spanish nationals who work on the Rock.

Last week in Euro Weekly News, Chief Minister Picardo made it clear that he would be delighted to welcome Mr Dastis to Gibraltar to see the Territory for himself although he would not wish to discuss any form of joint sovereignty with the Foreign Minister, except to confirm it is not acceptable.

Firefighter crowned British Champion

A FIREFIGHTER from Gibraltar Matthew Coulthard performed outstandingly in the British Firefighter Challenge competition held at De Montfort University, Leicester.

He is part of the local Firefighter Combat Challenge team who have been competing on different stages throughout the world.

At this event, he competed against firefighters from around the world in eight different but related tasks. The competition proved extremely tough, with firefighter Coulthard finishing first in the race, which earned him the Gold medal and the title of British Champion.

He was also invited to join a team of firefighters from Humberside for the team relay, where his contribution to the team earned them the silver medal, narrowly missing out on becoming overall champion.

Matthew earned three medals in total, British Champion (Gold), Overall (Silver) and Team Relay (Silver).

La Sala Gibraltar

THE incredibly talented Nikki Rae will be bringing her note perfect tribute to Adele back to La Sala Gibraltar next Saturday evening. She has been making a name for herself along the Costa del Sol and in Gibraltar with her perfectly studied tribute to her favourite singer. For reservations which are highly recommended, visit www.LaSalaGibraltar.com or call +350 200 16870.

DNA testing

ALL members of the Royal Gibraltar Police Force who attend a crime scene and anyone else present will have their DNA collected. This is part of the RGP's new database system and to have an officer's DNA on file can speed up investigations as well as allowing forensic scientists to isolate unknown genetic material at the scene of any crime.

In addition, everyone taken into police custody will have a DNA sample taken for profiling and testing against crime/victim samples.

Missing person

A LOCAL woman who was reported missing after she crossed the border into Spain on Sunday has been found. The 39-year-old was said to be in good health and has now returned to Gibraltar where it appears that she is helping police with their enquiries.

The RGP has thanked all members of the public who responded to a missing persons appeal and the Spanish authorities have been notified.

Wet and wonderful

THREE theme days for the holidays are taking place at the Bayside Sports Complex as the Summer Sports and Leisure Programme sponsored by NatWest moves into its final two weeks.

Thursday Maze of Doom for nine-year-olds and over - team building and mind bending activities carried out in the Maze of Doo' which will be set up in the Tercentenary Sports Hall. Theme - Pirates of the Caribbean - relevant fancy dress optional.

Friday Finding Dory for five to eight-year-olds. Team building and treasure hunt based activities, organised to help find Dory which will be set up in the Tercentenary Sports Hall. Theme - Finding Dory - relevant fancy dress optional.

Friday August 18 Aqua Extravaganza a water themed day to mark the end of the Summer Sports and Leisure Programme. Swimwear, flip flops, towel and a change of clothing will be needed as everyone is guaranteed to get wet.

Cycle routes in Spain

WITH summer hotting up, why not take the opportunity to explore some of the country's most picturesque routes by bike. With the wind on your face and some of Spain's breathtaking beauty to blow you away, here's our top five suggestions to consider.

1. Vía Verde de Ojos Negros (from Teruel to Valencia)

This route runs for 160km in two stages though of course there is endless beauty along the way. The route will take you along disused railways and is the longest of a nationwide networks of via verdes (rail trails). The first of two stages is in Teruel passing through the stunning Sierra Menera whilst the second draws you down into the interior of Valencia right down to a shimmering coastline.

2. The Transpirenaica (Cabo de Higuer to Cabo de Creus)

the outstanding mountain range from the Cantabrian coast to the Mediterranean in Girona. Part of Europe's marked system of footpaths and cycle tracks, it is not only a cycle track but one geared to the perfect all-round tour complete with stop-offs in charming villages filled with history, quaint bars and of course, natural beauty.

3. The French Way of the Camino de Santiago

The famous Camino de Santiago has become the mecca not just for Christians but for lovers of a challenge and a route which embraces nature, spirituality and tranquillity. The French way which runs for 800km between Saint Jean de Pied de Port, in France, and the cathedral of Santiago de Compostela (northwest Spain) is manageable at any time of the year given the cooler climates.

4. The Vía de la Plata Route

The Via de la Plata or 'cobblestone way' comprises 26 towns and cities dotted along the way stretching from Gijon on the Cantabrian coastline to Sevilla in Andalucia. The route comes complete with an app and special passport giving cyclists plenty of discount opportunities to be found along this ancient trade route dating back to before the Romans.

5. The Camino del Cid

'The Way of El Cid' well-known for its historical relation to the famous medieval knight is a cultural route spanning the country from northwest Castilla to the southeast Mediterranean coastline. There are various theme-based itineraries available depending on the distance and story you wish to follow.

AQUARIUS (January 21 - February 19)

You like to do your own things in your own way and in your own time. That certainly shows this week. It can cause a bit of a stir with family. Even so, it will inspire someone close to step forward and make their own stand. Put someone straight when they step out of line.

PISCES (February 20 - March 20)

The kind nature that is so much a part of you is only too evident this week. A situation makes you feel frustrated and you need to find a way forward. A bit of expert advice goes a long way even if it does mean that you still have to go it alone. Be strong and remind yourself that this is for someone else.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20)

As you prefer living in the here and now, you find it difficult to understand and tolerate people who plot and plan in advance. It is tedious in the extreme to consider every little detail of something which may never happen. Because there is this relaxed attitude, you have developed a larger-than-life personality.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21)

This time of year reminds you just how much you enjoy home comforts. Plan ahead now for those chilly winter nights when the air is crisp and the wine is mulled. The urge is to work with others this week and that in itself throws up plans for evenings ahead. Having planned a romantic weekend there may need to be some adjustments.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

Your mind, as ever, is changeable. This is a fun time to dabble at this and that to bring a bit of variety to your life and work. Meeting new people and starting new projects means that it is a busy time at work but the rewards are high.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

This is an emotional week, when it is difficult to keep things to yourself. Get together with others and do a bit of social networking. Talk, and if you cannot bring yourself to confess to a problem, say that it is a friend of yours who has it. Certainly, you need to share this concern to get a balanced picture. Things that are held inside can get blown out of all proportion. Think of something to spice up your love life at the weekend because it is a romantic time.

LEO (July 24 - August 23)

There is a highly social week ahead with social gatherings here and there. A trip means that finances start to look brighter. You may find it necessary, if you are to progress, to consider a move to another job or area. Get involved with people who have been in the same situation. This gives you a good guide as to exactly where you want to be. Someone fresh brings a romantic lift to the weekend and you are reminded of how things used to be.

VIRGO (August 24 - September 23)

There is a great impatience this week when someone flatly refuses to see something through to the end. You do not admire sloppiness and your reaction shows this. It may be necessary for you to sort out a situation which has been going on far too long. As you dislike loose ends in any respect, your patience may come to an end.

LIBRA (September 24 - October 23)

Energy is high and there is a lot of fun to be had. An invitation sent out brings an old friend to your table. This is not as straightforward as you think it will be. Odd stirrings make you confused. Could it be that going back is the right way to go forward? Remove yourself for a while to consider rather than be torn in two directions at once.

SCORPIO (October 24 - November 22)

You feel like a fish out of water in a confused and noisy situation. Perhaps you are not making the right kind of friends, so take control of the quality of people who you associate with. Maybe it is relatives that are causing concern. You cannot choose your relatives, but it is possible to see less of them.

SAGITARIUS (November 23 - December 21)

This is a great social week. Your puppy-like enthusiasm attracts others and a barrage of good vibes comes your way. Indeed, your relaxed attitude allows someone close to get their own life a bit more into perspective.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 20)

People look to you to guide them through the maze of right and wrong this week. Your talent for bringing humour into the most tense situations is invaluable midweek. Summer is a socialising time for you and it is all steam ahead as you issue invitations and receive some back.

Code Breaker

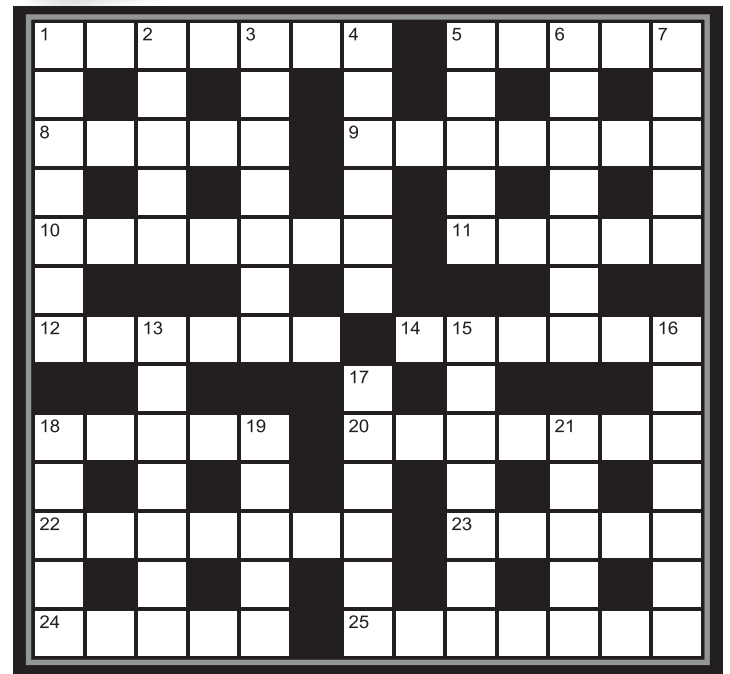

Each number in the Code Breaker grid represents a different letter of the alphabet. In this week's puzzle, 1 represents W and 18 represents L, so fill in W every time the figure 1 appears and L every time the figure 18 appears. Now, using your knowledge of the English language, work out which letters should go in the missing squares. As you discover the letters, fill in other squares with the same number in the main grid and the control grid.

BOOKS

How to Stop Time

By Matt Haig

FROM bestselling writer of The Radleys and The Humans, Matt Haig, comes a brand new and original, bittersweet story of self discovery and the certainty of the inevitable twists and turns which life presents.

The story follows Tom Hazard who in the eyes of all those around him might just appear your average 40-year-old but who inside is harbouring a deeper, stranger and even more dangerous secret.

Suffering from a rare condition, Tom has been alive for centuries and has sailed through 'Elizabethan England to Jazz-Age Paris, from New York to the South Seas.' He has seen time pass and lived its history. Yet Tom is craving to settle within a present 'normality' whilst burning to escape a past riddled with a more fiery past.

Throughout the novel, we see Hazard struggling to zigzag between identities, dodging his own fears of resurging buried secrets from his past.

DVD

Wakefield

Directed by Robin Swicord
Starring: Bryan Cranston, Jennifer Garner

THIS story is told from the point of view of Howard Wakefield (Bryan Cranston), a successful attorney who falls into an absurd, sinister trap of obsession and voyeurism.

We first meet Wakefield commuting home from New York City when he finds himself falling asleep in the attic above his garage. However Wakefield has no intention of leaving the attic to reassure his frantic wife and family. Instead he decides to squat there and to use it as a spying bunker.

As the plot and psychological undercurrent of the film begins to ripple, we will see him observing every move of his wife Diana (Jennifer Garner) and his family, witnessing their every move without him as he becomes caught up in a narcissistic web of power, in the knowledge that he alone carries the key to his whereabouts.

Ageing with grace

IS your man getting better with age under the Spanish sun? According to new research from leading market intelligence agency Mintel, as many as 75 per cent of men aged 65 and over feel confident about the way they look, compared to just over half (56 per cent) of men aged 16-24 and an average of 61 per cent of all men.

While 67 per cent of all men say they look good for their age, this increases to a self-assured 71 per cent of those aged 65 and over.

Proving Britain's men are happy to accept ageing with grace, almost four in five (78 per cent) men questioned agreed that it is acceptable to have some wrinkles, while 68 per cent said that skin ageing is a natural process that can't be stopped.

Roshida Khanom, Associate Director, Beauty and Personal

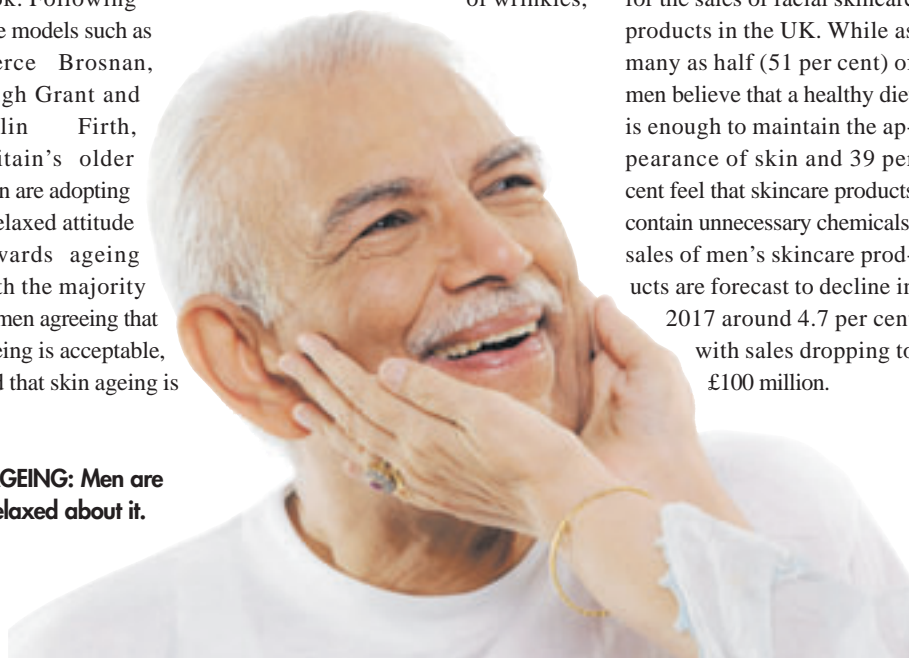

Care at Mintel, said: "Today's older men are brimming with self confidence, with high proportions thinking that they look good for their age and feeling confident about the way they look. Following role models such as Pierce Brosnan, Hugh Grant and Colin Firth, Britain's older men are adopting a relaxed attitude towards ageing with the majority of men agreeing that ageing is acceptable, and that skin ageing is a natural process. Whilst advertising in the women's facial skincare category often features photo-shopping to optimise the appearance of skin and reduce the appearance of wrinkles, such images may not appeal to men. Allowing skin to look aged but healthy may instead have greater resonance."

However, this new found confidence is not doing much for the sales of facial skincare products in the UK. While as many as half (51 per cent) of men believe that a healthy diet is enough to maintain the appearance of skin and 39 per cent feel that skincare products contain unnecessary chemicals, sales of men's skincare products are forecast to decline in 2017 around 4.7 per cent with sales dropping to £100 million.

Avoid DVT

JETTING off this summer? The Spanish Society of Physicians of Primary Care (SEMERGEN) reminds holidaymakers that flights longer than four hours can increase the risk of deep vein thrombosis (DVT) occurring and in flights of more than 12 hours, the condition increases substantially with the risk higher in those with pre-existing conditions that can increase the risk factor, such as those who have had recent surgery, cancer treatment, trauma, pregnancy or who have previously had DVT.

The condition is a blood clot that forms in a vein when blood slows and thickens and clumps together and mostly occurs in the lower leg.

To help reduce the risk remember to drink lots of water and stay hydrated, keep moving as much as possible, even if you are just doing feet and leg exercises whilst sitting. Special stockings can also be worn during flights to help prevent the condition. For those with any concerns, consult medical advice before flying.

Axillary hyperhidrosis

What is axillary hyperhidrosis?

Underarm excessive sweating, also called axillary hyperhidrosis, is a chronic disorder that causes the sweat glands to produce excessive, abnormal volumes of sweat even though the temperature outside has not increased to cause such high levels of perspiration.

As is to be expected, axillary hyperhidrosis is exacerbated in the summer months when it is warmer.

What are the consequences of hyperhidrosis?

Sweating is the body's natural mechanism for controlling internal temperature. The problem is when sweating becomes excessive and reaches a level of severity that makes it impossible to conduct everyday activities. It affects both men and women, and in Spain almost half a million people suffer from the effects of excessive sweating on a social, psychological, emotional and physical level.

Hyperhidrosis causes irritation, itching and lesions due to the folds of skin in the area affected and the constant humidity to which the skin is exposed.

fer from hyperhidrosis are also affected on an aesthetic level as it can have a severe impact on patients' social lives and self-esteem.

In some cases, it can even lead to frustration and depression.

Is there a cure for hyperhidrosis?

In this day and age there is! There are several solutions that bypass the need for surgery and being administered drugs over extensive periods of time. One effective treatment type involves the use of botulinum toxin or Botox. In a painless procedure, the substance is injected into the skin using very thin needles and it blocks the action of the sweat glands lessening the production of sweat.

What is more, there is also the option of laser treatment which consists of applying heat in a localised manner to the glands in order to stop them from producing sweat. Both treatments are safe, effective and lead to immediate recovery.

In order to choose the most suitable treatment, it is vital for a diagnosis to be made and an assessment to be conducted by a specialist doctor.

HEARTBURN is often a side-effect of summertime over-indulgence.

It is estimated that around seven million Britons suffer from acid reflux, which is where acid or other substances leak from the stomach into the gullet, or oesophagus, causing a burning sensation and a recent survey has shown that for a third of sufferers, their condition gets worse during holidays abroad.

A small amount of reflux is normal, but when reflux occurs at least once a week, it is defined as GORD; gastro-oesophageal reflux disease and cases are on the rise. Experts believe this is due to a poor diet rich in high-fat foods which exacerbate reflux, and the rise in obesity.

So can you help reflux? As it is more a problem in those who are overweight, experts advise lifestyle changes to reduce weight and try and identify foods which can trigger attacks. So to avoid heartburn ruining your summer, try and avoid these foods:

Pastries. Pastry is made with butter and is rich in fat and this fat takes more time to be broken down by the stomach meaning it has to produce more acid.

Spicy foods. These are often believed to be the main cause, but some experts say it would be more the fat in curries that causes a problem, rather than the spices themselves, so unless you know spicy foods particularly upset you, in which case avoid it, curries could be back on the menu.

Fruits. Certain fruits and vegetables can bring on heartburn, particularly citrus fruits such as oranges and grapefruits, due to the acid in them.

Alcohol. Unfortunately, whilst many of us may enjoy a summer tippie or two, alcohol is known for triggering attacks, but to help limit the damage, avoid fizzy drinks such as Champagne and Prosecco as they can cause more acid.

Poor hygiene conditions in Spain and Europe ! Please send us your opinion !

It is well known that restaurants, hotels and customer service related businesses of all kinds have employees that are in direct contact with food or with other people; unfortunately what is not known, is that many of those employees don't use any protective skin disinfectants against bacteria or viruses, before or during work !

Also, in the guest restrooms at best hand soap is offered, but it is scientifically proven, that soap only removes visible dirt.

Note: Washing hands with soap is not disinfection!

Unfortunately, there are no real hygiene regulations in Spain for disinfection of the hands, and protection for the consumer suffers because of this. There are not even disinfection products available in the waiting rooms at the doctors!

We would like your opinion on the current hygiene situation.

Please report to us any deficiency of poor hygiene !

Your experience and what you have monitored are very important to us!
Thank you in advance for your support.

Please send any deficiency you detect to:

Shoulder pain, rotator cuff injuries and pain

I READ a fascinating study at the weekend (what can I say? I love what I do!) that showed again that scan results DON'T show you what's causing the pain.

Pain and your MRI

This particular study looked at rotator cuff tears in the shoulder. They did an MRI scan of nearly 400 patients and then asked each patient about their pain.

Then they compared the answers the patient gave about their level of pain and

If you aren't making progress, get a second opinion.

the MRI findings.

Guess what? Patients with lots of damage visible on the MRI scans were NOT in more pain.

This is confusing . . .

For most patients this is how it goes:

- Have injury / feel pain
- Go to Doctor
- Doctor recommends scan
- Doctor looks at scan
- Prescribes treatment based on the images

So what happens when you feel a LOT of pain and there is hardly any damage on the MRI?

Why is the shoulder important?

In the muscles and tendons of the shoulder, particularly the rotator cuff, there are lots of nociceptor nerve cells. These are a particular kind of nerve cell that send 'damage / danger' signals to the brain.

So a small injury to the shoulder activates a HUGE danger signal to the brain.

And the brain interprets danger as pain.

What to do

Get treatment as quickly as possible. The longer your brain is receiving an onslaught of pain/danger signals the more work is required to lower that message.

These pain/danger signals can also result in pain seeming to 'spread' and include the elbow and wrist.

Tennis Elbow and Carpal Tunnel like symptoms can often be related to a shoulder injury that wasn't looked after properly.

Don't be dismissed - when you have a BIG pain / little damage situation, it can be easy to find yourself in the position of not being taken seriously. In an age where an MRI is the gold standard, if there isn't significant damage on the picture, the pain in the person can be ignored. If you aren't making progress, get a second opinion.

Halitosis

SPECIALIST: Doctor Luis Perez Belmonte.

WHAT is halitosis?

Halitosis, also known as bad breath, can be defined as the combination of unpleasant odours that are emitted by the mouth. It affects up to half the population.

What causes it?

There are two types of halitosis, oral halitosis and extra-oral halitosis. The first forms in the oral cavity itself, and is usually due to the accumulation of oral biofilm (bacterial plaque) on the tongue.

However it can also be caused by other things such as: Periodontal issues, dental cavities, smoking and others. When halitosis originates from outside the oral cavity, it is called extra-oral halitosis. It tends to be caused by systemic disorders of the upper or lower respiratory tract, the digestive system as well as hepatic or renal illnesses.

Can it be prevented?

Maintaining adequate oral hygiene, including brushing your teeth and tongue, as well as mouth should be enough to prevent halitosis.

Should I seek medical help?

You should always see a specialist in order to determine the origin of the halitosis and how best to treat it. In most cases it is due to problems within the mouth however sometimes it can be the sign of a more serious illness.

How can I tell if I have halitosis?

In general, halitosis is difficult to diagnose, as it is highly unlikely that a person will notice their own bad breath. In some cases a person merely suspects they have bad breath.

If in doubt, it is worth speaking to people you trust who would be able to notice bad breath. Help from an orthodontic specialist can also aid diagnosis. When diagnosing someone with halitosis, fundamental aspects of their life, such as their general health, their habits, and their oral hygiene are taken into account.

Real food for real people!

THE people behind the fresh new cool and urban café brand, Tomate have just opened another branch in the ever popular Banus area, making a total of four properties close to Marbella.

It's not just recipes that have a secret ingredient and owners, Laura and Jose Zorita modestly say it's just about keeping things real as Tomate consistently delivers fresh and fun food, in a funky environment. They offer a variety of home-made food, made with love which is ideal for any time of the day be it breakfast, brunch, lunch, light dinner or take-aways.

Often asked if they are a health café, they respond that they simply prefer real food for real people, saying "We like to eat well and feel well, which is possible with our menu."

FRESH FOOD: In a funky environment.

Best-known for their freshly pressed juices, baguettes, wraps, salads, soups and fashion burgers, they also have a fantastic dish of the day which is always changing and is very creative. They bake all their own cookies, cakes, brownies and tarts accompanied of course by the best coffee in town! (So be sure to grab their coffee card for a free coffee).

Each of their four locations is totally unique. In Marbella, the Ricardo Soriano 20 property is in the urban mix, with an upbeat tempo. Tomate San Pedro at Calle Cordoba 15 is set in a quiet walking street, with a cosy and homely atmosphere.

The café in Puerto Banus, in Calle Rivera on the second line, is for the night revellers as it is open all night for take-aways whilst Tomate Banus, in front of the PYR hotel in Plaza Antonio Banderas has recently opened and has an eclectic mix for the hustle and bustle of the area.

In the summer months from May to September you will be able to satisfy your Tomate cravings at any time of the day or night in Banus as the Puerto Banus Tomate will be open all night whilst Banus is open all day thereby satisfying customers 24hrs a day.

So if it is an 'Incredible Hulk' green juice or a 'Freda Kahlo' Mexican burger or a real 'Caesar Club,' then Tomate is the place to be.

Find the cafés on Facebook, under Tomate fresh fun food or Instagram and Twitter as @tomatefreshfun. Marbella 952 968 253 San Pedro 951 196 494 Banus 952 636 923

Elvis lives in Mijas

WEDNESDAY 16th August 2017 is 40 years to the day since Elvis Presley passed away. You can be sure that all around the world Presley impersonators will be performing their tributes to the King of Rock'n'Roll.

However, here on the Costa del Sol we have one of the best Elvis impersonators in Europe. I refer to the coast's popular showman Johnny G.

At Spotlight Events, we had a call last week from an American lady asking about Johnny G. She explained that she had seen his show at the Salon Varietes in Fuengirola. She said "As an ardent Elvis Presley fan I'm not normally keen on Elvis tributes and was in two minds as to whether to go, but boy was I glad I did! When I saw him and he started to sing and move my jaw dropped. I couldn't believe it. My jaw just dropped! He was Elvis Presley to a T."

So for Elvis fans everywhere Mijas Auditorium is the place to be on Wednesday August 16 and pay homage to the king with Johnny G in The Elvis Memorial Concert. Spotlight Events are producing this truly sensational show for one very special night only. They have also laid on coaches from all along the Costa del Sol including Marbella and Torremolinos.

And make no mistake this is not just another Elvis impersonator singing some of his favourite songs. This is a dazzling musical extravaganza with a 10-piece live band and gorgeous dancers plus a backdrop of original films of the man himself.

Together they present one of Europe's biggest and most authentic tributes to the king of Rock'n'Roll, performing all of your favourite Elvis Presley hits as they tell the story of his life with arrangements from the early years, through the movie years to the 1968 Comeback Special right through to the glitzy Vegas years.

So for true Elvis fans everywhere we suggest the only place to be on Wednesday the 16th is up in Mijas Village with Johnny G.

Man with the sexiest voice alive

MICHAEL BOLTON is preparing for an unforgettable live concert at Puente Romano Tennis Club for Crazy Music Productions tonight when he will deliver hit after hit in his trademark soulful style in front of a packed audience.

The American singer and actor is visiting Mallorca as part of his Greatest Hits World Tour and he promises it will be a night out that his fans will never forget.

Michael's achievements include selling more than 75 million records, recording eight top 10 albums and two number-one singles on the Billboard charts, as well as winning multiple

American Music Awards and Grammy Awards.

Michael first rose to fame as a songwriter in the early 80's when he wrote 'How am I supposed to live without you?' for Laura Branigan (who had previously released Gloria). The song hit the US pop charts and went to number one.

Branigan went on to release another of Michael's songs, I found someone but it wasn't until Cher released the song two years later with her own version that it gained the recognition it deserved. Michael went on to co-write several more songs for both singers.

Michael would achieve his greatest success in the late 1980s and early 1990s as a singer on the adult contemporary charts. One of his first major hits was his 1987 interpretation of the Otis Redding classic Sittin' On the Dock of the Bay. Redding's widow, Zelma Redding, said she was so moved by Bolton's performance "that it brought tears to my eyes. It reminded me so much of my husband that I know if he heard it, he would feel the same."

Always interested in soul and Motown classics, Michael's success with that song encouraged him to release his version of the standard Georgia on My Mind, with which he had another hit. In 1991, Bolton released the album Time, Love & Tenderness which featured his Grammy Award-winning cover version of When a Man Loves a Woman.

Michael sported his iconic locks until 1997 when he did the unthinkable and cut it off for charity. Even today, 20 years, he remains synonymous with those locks. "I had no idea it would be such a big deal. I remember I was in London and I was watching some serious news story, when they interrupted the bulletin with, 'News just in - Michael Bolton cuts his hair!' It was hysterical.

"But we raised about $9,000 (€7,600) for women and children at risk, so it was worth it." Michael is passionate about his charity work. In 1993, he established The Michael Bolton Charities, to assist women and children at risk from the effects of poverty as well as emotional, physical, and sexual abuse.

Michael continues to be inspired by Motown and soul music and his audience can expect to hear many of his most popular numbers from his current album Songs of Cinema as well as many of his greatest and most popular hits How Am I Supposed To Live Without You?, How Can We Be Lover?, Time, Love And Tenderness, Can I Touch You There and his unique interpretations of classics such as Fly Me To The Moon, Summertime and That's Life when he performs in Palma.

Craig David TS5 - see the show again at Aqwa Mist

HUNDREDS of people flocked to La Sala by the Sea in order to witness the TS5 Pool Party presented by Craig David with Mayfair Sessions.

The whole concept grew from a number of private sessions that Craig undertook at his Miami home and then expanded to see him presenting his favourite sounds to clubbers around the world.

He gave an incredible performance to an excited crowd and those who missed this first presentation can see the multi award-winning singer, songwriter, producer and DJ at the Aqwa Mist nightclub in Banus on Friday August 25.

The Spiders from Marbs

SUNDOWN SOUNDS see the debut performance of The Spiders from Marbs next Thursday at 9pm in front of La Cala de Mijas Town Hall.

The free Sundown Sounds is an initiative of the Mijas Town Hall and is run by concert event organisers, Big M Promotions headed by Martyn Wood.

The Spiders from Marbs was formed by members of the Costa punk band, The Reinfected, for a very simple reason.

favourite Bowie songs into the repertoire of Punk without fundamentally changing the idea.

They decided they could double the enjoyment by devoting a band specifically to Bowie, who is the main inspiration for many of the band, whether they grew up with him, or came to him later in the 80's or 90's.

The name of the band is the clue to the music they play. Nearly all the songs are from the era when David Bowie styled himself as the androgynous alien, Ziggy Stardust, and his band were known as the Spiders from Mars.

Their repertoire is largely taken from Bowie's most productive and iconic period, the albums Changes, Rise and Fall of Ziggy Stardust, Aladdin Sane and Diamond Dogs. They also pay homage to Roxy Music, who were unquestionably the other leading innovators in the Glam-rock avant guard of the early 70's.

Singer and front man is extractor and media producer Roland Quesnel from England, whilst lead guitarist Mats Riedeborn, hails from Sweden. They are joined by rhythm guitarist Martin Hope who is a founder member of cult Birmingham punk band The Accused. On drums is Ivor Nussbaum from London and on bass, from Sevilla, is Jose Wela.

Beware the walking dead in La Cala

WHEN hell is full, graves will open and spill out the Walking Dead and at 11pm next Saturday, Zombie Survival makes its first visit to La Cala de Mijas.

According to the mayor this is "a new event, which is very successful both nationally and internationally that will finally be held in Mijas for the enjoyment of all our young people."

Participants will gather at Butibamba Park for 23 hours of zombie adventures which will take them around the town and down to the beach.

During the event, participants will have to complete a series of missions, which will be given to them by the actors throughout the night as they try to survive with the scenes based on the characteristics of the town.

Tickets for the event can be obtained online at either www.entradium.com or www.survivalzombie.com, at the Hotel Carmen or on the day in Butibamba Park prior to the start.

The streets of La Cala will be filled with special effects, zombies and military who will guide the participants throughout the night. Children under 14 years must be accompanied by an adult and those between 14 and 17 years must present signed permission from their parents.

Noto is about the food and people

IT'S been just a year since Italian restaurant NOTO Food & People opened its doors for locals and tourists in Nueva Andalucia.

But what a year it's been, already becoming a firm favourite in the area. It is now known for its amazing food, broad well thought menu, modern stylish interior and unique atmosphere. NOTO has easily got a place amongst the top restaurants of Marbella and Italian chef Luciano Pappalardo does an amazing job in the kitchen finding a balance between traditions and innovations.

He has created a wonderful menu including hot and cold starters with classics such as bruschetta and carpaccio dishes to red tuna tartar and cold roasted veal. Fresh salads and soups also complete the extensive starter menu which will leave you spoiled for choice.

Obviously being an Italian restaurant, pasta, pizza and risottos dominate the main courses but meat and fish lovers will also love the range of fillet steaks, shoulder of lamb, duck, marinated seabass and king prawns. More unique dishes include ossobuco served with saffron risotto and slow cooked boneless goat with asparagus and mushroom sauce.

FIRM FAVOURITE: Chef Luciano has created a wonderfully extravagant menu.

A Whole Lotta Led

IN 1996 a band called No Quarter decided that they wanted to bring the sound of the Led Zeppelin albums to the stage and became Whole Lotta Led.

This is not a tribute but a bunch of five highly professional musicians who don't wear wigs or pretend that they look like Zeppelin but just perform a variety of different songs, reproducing the Zeppelin sound to the best of their ability.

The line-up consists of vocalist Lee, guitarist Nick, bass player Geoff, drummer Charlie together with keyboard player and second guitarist Martin which means they can reproduce many of the earliest numbers which were originally augmented on vinyl with overdubs.

This is a band that is playing at least one major gig a week and they normally choose one of the albums to play in full or even one of the most famous Zeppelin gigs and deliver all of the numbers from that to a welcoming audience.

The longest gig that they have ever performed lasted four and a half hours but for their upcoming Estepona Bull Ring visit, they will probably have a 90-minute slot and will make sure that all of the most popular and requested numbers are to the fore.

This is a big show which needs a lorry to carry around the huge drum kit and up to 15 different guitars, amplifiers and speakers so it is going to be a slightly stripped down band travelling to Spain but spokesman Lee is confident that they will be able to deliver a superb performance.

"This is our first gig in Spain and we are very excited about it" he told EWN "hopefully it will lead to further visits. We are delighted to be part of this venture, especially as we also love the music of Deeper Purple and Think Floyd who we will be performing alongside."

To learn more visit www.wholelotted.co.uk.

If you yearn to hear live versions of Kashmir, Stairway to Heaven, Black Dog, Whole Lotta Love, Immigrant Song and many more, then visit the Pink Purple Zep Fest at Estepona Bull Ring on August 26 with doors opening at 7.30pm.

Entry costs €25 and VIP tickets which are selling out quickly cost €70.

Call 674 909 202 or visit www.pinkpurplezefest.com.

WITH
GARRY WAITE

A FEW weeks ago we featured an article about allergies. I mentioned there are many restaurants now who take the whole allergy thing very seriously. In fact there are laws that govern menus and menu content here in Spain. Staff has to be trained with regard to this.

But it does get a bit silly at times. A young chef in Australia has got to the end of his tether having received three orders in one evening that proves that some people take the opportunity to use 'allergies' as a way to rewrite the menu! His post on Instagram got a huge response from fellow restaurateurs as well as food writers.

As one contributor wrote, "There is nothing wrong with having a food preference or not liking certain foods. Please don't call it an allergy though. True food allergies are rare, but for those who have them they are deadly."

Another said, "As a chef for over 30 years I have had enough of fake allergies, it makes a chef's life so hard and the life of allergy sufferers very hard."

NO ALLERGIES: If you don't like something, then just say so.

Some of the requests that Chefs get are: 'Shellfish allergy but love oyster sauce' - 'Gluten free but love gluten as long as it's not a piece of bread' - 'I'm Vegetarian but I love a chicken wing.' How about Pescaterians that eat chicken?

I used to have a delightful young lady client who was Vegan. She used to eat with us a lot because our chefs could always produce something interesting for her. But on some occasions she would order a Fillet

Steak. Her reason for the change of mind was because she claimed Vegan as her sort of detox and her steak an occasional guilty pleasure. That I understand.

The classic of course is a couple on their first date. When ordering, it is not unusual to hear, "I'm allergic to onions" but invariably they just want to avoid onion breath!

So, the moral of this story is if you have a genuine allergy then say so, If you don't like or want a particular thing, just say so. But don't lead the staff and kitchen into the fear there is an allergy - as that entails many different variants!

Apologies and thanks

I WAS a little disappointed, yet pleased, that someone had picked me up on my oyster article of last week.

Perhaps the headline distorted the article. I was not saying that oysters were responsible for food poisoning, but that they did not contribute to the illness any more or less than mushrooms, chicken or shellfish in general.

In fact I think the article showed that oysters were considerably less likely to cause food poisoning than other items. (include mayonnaise and eggs in general)

But I thank Eddie Cheeseman (what a great name for a foodie!) for his contribution to the argument.

A little knowledge can be a very dangerous thing indeed. I used to offer £1,000 to anyone who could find an oyster farmer who told you that you just swallow, and not chew, an oyster,

As you stated oysters are now purified by law, an allergic reaction to them is rare in the extreme. The only thing that can interfere with the cleansing process is unfortunately human intervention.

As you failed to point out there are now many oysters for sale here in Javea in most supermarkets. French mostly but more recently from areas in Spain. Tortosa (just below Barcelona) and Ponedvedra on the west coast, all delicious.

However, they are often displayed in supermarkets standing on end (so all the water falls out) and still no oyster knives on sale with them?

We like to think we had something to do with the increased sales locally following our oyster hut at a seafood festival here in Javea.

Personally I have introduced hundreds if not thousands of people to the delights of oysters (even in schools) for the first time, explaining fully what they were used for, and are used for now, and to date no-one has ever spat one out.

You can be assured that over 95 per cent of people who have a negative response such as 'I don't like them' or say 'Ugh!' when you mention oysters have never even tried one.

If you do decide to 'have a go' find someone who knows all about them and can open them in front of you.

There is so much material that could have been in your article including the difference between native and Pacific oysters yet you chose food poisoning?

Regards

Eddie Cheeseman
The Oyster Man

Thanks Eddie, as much as I often chew my oysters I do like the squashed sensation at the back of my throat as well, and I certainly agree about the oyster knives. There is surely more damage done by inexperienced 'oyster openers' than there is by eating them!

As to the difference between the different oysters, I am more than happy to receive education! My sister is unfortunately one of those that 'spitting them out' or not even attempting to try them - they fall in to the mussels, clams and snail varieties is her defence and she still insists in branding them as 'bogies'!

On that note! I will bid you farewell until next week and should aspiring restaurateurs need some help or advice, please do not hesitate to contact me. A toast to Good Food, Good Wine and Good Friends.

Claret or Rioja?

WHEN it comes to Viña Tondonia, most people would not tell the difference. The quality of this wine from Bodega Lopez de Heredia ranks among the best for Rioja aficionados, but with a leaning to French Claret!

In 1877, its founder Don Rafael fell in love with the region and especially with the mythical area around the hilltop town of Haro. He recognised that there was a magical combination of soil and climate which would offer the perfect environment for producing a wine that would eventually become world famous

The fermentation takes place in vast, impressive vats which are up to 140 years old. Beneath the winery is a complex network of underground galleries; hundreds of metres of slowly maturing, home-made barrels filled with ethereal liquid are kept for years before release. They take things to such a distinct level that their Reservas are aged for considerably longer than the minimal legal requirement for Gran Reservas - rather than 18 months + five years, they spend five to six years in barrel, then the same in bottle.

As Luis Gutierrez - robertparker.com says, while awarding 93 points to the 2005 vintage explains :

“The 2005 Viña Tondonia Reserva is a blend of 70 per cent Tempranillo, 20 per cent Gamacho, 5 per cent Graciano and 5 per cent Mazuelo from their vineyards in the meander of the Ebro River, where they have some 100 hectares of vineyards. The wine fermented in the original oak vats that are now some 140 years of age. There is no temperature control and malolactic was also in the vat. The wine was transferred to oak barrels where it slowly matured in their deep, humid caves for no less than six years. After this, it was bottled unfiltered after being fined with egg whites. I think the quality gap between Reserva and Gran Reserva has been getting smaller since the 2001 vintage and this 2005 is nothing short of exceptional. It's clean and complex, with more freshness. The wine is very spicy and with a palate that feels very balanced, livelier than in the past. It has a long finish where the flavours are clean. Easy to drink and very pleasurable.”

Not one you pick up from the Supermarket on a daily basis, but available at good wine shops at around 20€ a bottle. Santé.

10,000 approx, the number of oysters consumed, by Eddie over 25 years.

2,000 approx, the number consumed, by yours truly, over a longer period

Elegant gardens with little effort

GARDEN MAINTENANCE: Well manicured yet natural gardens require good planning.

DICK HANDSCOMBE

FOR most readers July was a hot, dry rainless month, the exceptions reported being heavy damaging hail storms in Andalusia and along the northern coast line.

Current weather forecasts suggest that the drought conditions will continue but with more clouds around and a slight lowering of temperatures.

Gardening should be reasonably comfortable now for first time for some weeks.

Over the past 30 years, successful gardening in Spain has had to concentrate on recognising and focusing on the emergent risks such as:

- Less summer rain and later autumn 'gota frias' as a result of concreting the Mediterranean coastline.

- More imported plants as a result of needing to replace the stock of plants killed off in gardens and garden centres by the horrendous March 2005 air frosts.

- Large forced versus smaller naturally grown plants for sale.

- Plants for sale designed to be grown artificially versus naturally.

- Failure to use natural and normally safe insecticides and fungicides on a regular basis

- Increase in non-Spanish gardeners and property purchasers with a genuine interest in gardening.

- Failure for owners and gardeners/odd job men/women to develop garden strategies together.

Reflecting on this point, what is required from the plots? If undecided or to review your objectives, here is a basic audit:

- Is there shade to be able to sit out during the hottest days or hours?

- Is there colour all year round without enormous water bills? Remember the multitude of greens are the most important.

- Is there a regular source of salad leaves in large containers, raised beds or in the garden?

- Is food available from the garden? Leaves, flowers, roots, fruits and meats are more important than local supermarkets or regional macro markets.

- In summer, is essential garden maintenance done before the sun is hot and sweltering?

- Are there sheltered windless winter spots to enjoy a rest from eating out and internal/external views?

- Is eating at home preferred to eating at local restaurants which are struggling to survive?

- Are the kings and queens of the garden the resident owners, family or holidaymakers, pet dogs or invading cats?

But stick to priorities. Which is preferred, that the garden looks natural or artificially pristine? Summer is to be enjoyed.

Spanish succulents

FOR even the most experienced gardeners, tending plants under the ruthless Spanish sun can be a challenge at the best of times. The abundance of cacti and succulents in Spanish gardens and public places is apparent.

The Spanish like their plants to require minimal attention in the heat as well as being able to survive cooler periods. Some species, such as Aloe Vera and Agave, are also multi-functional and can be used in tea or herbal medicines.

Cat-sit in luscious Limousin, France!

IT seems to be cat season this summer, there are some wonderful house-sits involving the care and cherishing of pet cats all over Europe.

As David the Dogman says on his Saturday TRE radio show, "We love our pets and their care is the most important thing for their welfare."

Meet 'Moo,' a 12-year-old cat who was abandoned as a tiny kitten and rescued by Michael and his family, she is very sprightly and agile for her age and quickly became a much-loved member of the family.

On Michael's recent retirement and relocation to France, naturally he took Moo with them and she soon settled into their new home, claiming the two-acre garden as her own.

He now prefers to have house-sitters stay at their home, just one hour from Limoges city in the pretty Limousin region and is looking for a sitter for one week from Wednesday September 6 to Monday September 11. Can you help?

LIVELY MOO: The rescue cat who dominates this two-acre garden.

Do you need a house or pet-sitter? Get in touch. House-sitting can be a win-win for both parties, free house and pet-sitting, and the experienced and checked sitters get free accommodation! Do dogs really dream about their owners?

ACCORDING to a new theory developed by a Harvard psychologist, dogs are likely to dream about their owners when they sleep. It has already been shown that our four-legged friends have a similar sleep pattern to humans, consisting of a phase of deep sleep followed by a period of REM (rapid eye movement). As dreams are believed to take place during this time, there is no reason that a dog's night-time reveries wouldn't be similar to those of humans.

Given that humans tend to dream about the information they process during the day, Dr Deidre Barret, a Clinical and Evolutionary Psychologist at Harvard Medical School, believes there's no reason that dogs shouldn't do the same. As dogs are extremely attached to their owners, Dr Barret claims that it's likely that a dog's dreams are in some way related to their owner; be that the owner's face, smell or what they do to please or annoy their owner.

Unfortunately for cat owners, feline companions are thought to be more self-interested when they doze. As they are more independent by nature, their dream-life will likely reflect this, so they are more likely to dream about hunting prey and their outdoor pursuits.

A dog is not a hairy human baby Anthropomorphism

THIS is the word that is used when it is believed that dogs have the same feelings and emotions as humans and that they understand human language. A mistaken belief, of course. Dogs are not small, fur-clad human beings. They are canines. True, they are man's best friend and companion because their natural instincts and hierarchical society blends into that of humans, and because they show loyalty and devotion to the hand that feeds them.

As we have seen in the chapter on wolves, this bonding between man and dog happened thousands of years ago when both man and wolf lived similar nomadic lives as hunters roaming the country to seek food.

The dog's adaptation to our way of life was assisted and accelerated by man using selective breeding to develop the most desirable features, first to work for humans and then to turn them into pets.

Even so, there remain, of course, fundamental differences between humans and their dogs. To take just one example, dogs live totally in the present moment.

They do not worry about the past. They do not dream about the future.

They are not endowed with imagination or feel grief, hate, jealousy or greed or other emotions that bedevil human society. They do have a high sensory ability which is often mistaken for a kind of sixth sense.

They will understand that certain words like sit, stay or down require the right reaction if they are to be rewarded with a tit-bit or praise. They will understand whether a tone of voice and facial expressions are good or bad when they are spoken to, in whatever language, but they will not understand longer phrases.

Human emotions are often attributed to dogs when, in fact, they are reacting instinctively. It is assumed that dogs are happy to see their owners when they return home and it looks pleased and wags its tail. All it is doing is reacting in the same way a wolf puppy reacts when the pack returns with food from a hunt.

It behaved in the same way when it was feeding from its mother along with the rest of the litter. It is true the dog is enjoying a pleasurable experience but it is not pleasure in human terms.

Another example of anthropomorphism is when it is believed that a dog is 'sulking' when it returns home from a stay in kennels, or is grieving over the death of a member of the family. In the latter case, what it will be feeling is the loss of a higher member of the 'pack' and the anxiety caused by no longer knowing its position in the family hierarchy. It will also be confused by the vibrations of distress it picks up from the family.

Once the 'pack' has settled down again, the dog will make a quick recovery, for it lives in the present and doesn't mourn the past.

So please do not attribute dogs with human emotions. Try, instead, to understand their simple canine minds, which are untroubled by so many of our emotions.

PACK HIERARCHY: Dogs have natural wolf instincts.

CHARITIES

ACE CHARITY "El Refugio" in La Cala de Mijas is a registered charity. We have on average 275 dogs in our care and we receive no help from the Town Hall or the Andalusian government. We desperately need foster homes and adoptants for our many dogs, especially the small ones and puppies who do not do well in a big shelter. We are grateful for any help offered, including donations of food and blankets. Visiting times are from 13.00 to 15.00 and you can always turn up or make an appointment by calling Denise on 669 018 736. Our website is www.ace-charity.org where you can view all the dogs in our care. (93320)

ADANA THE ANIMAL SHELTER IN ESTEPONA. We always need volunteers to walk and socialise with our dogs and help with cleaning. We also need good homes for our animals that you can see on www.adana.es. Kennels open every day 10-1.30, Camino de Casares, near Parque de los Pedregales, Estepona. (5 minutes from the Poligono) For more information call 952 113 467, available from 10.00am until 14.00pm. (93319)

SEPE the horse and donkey charity is open to the public week-ends from 10.00 to 5.00. Volunteers are much needed in all departments and are welcome at anytime. For our riding for the disabled classes, we are also in need of extra helpers. We are nationally registered by the Spanish Ministry of the Interior (164640) but only with your support can we give the equine a voice. If you can just commit to 2 or 3 euros a month it will really help make a difference. You can find us at Lauro Golf Equestrian Centre, Alqueria, Alhaurin de la Torre. Tel. 608 258 950 info@sepeonline.net www.sepeonline.net

AT SOS ANIMAL REFUGE we have dogs, young and old looking for homes. Some of our dogs have been with us for some time and would love to find a cosy spot to curl up in and a knee on which to rest their heads. If you have room in your heart and home we would love to hear from you. We do not put our dogs to sleep - no matter how old, they are safe with us. For day to day needs and to pay for veterinary care, we much appreciate the support we receive. We desperately need items to sell on our market stall to help raise funds and are happy to come and collect. So if you are having a clear-out, please contact us on 605 227 155. If you would like to know more about re-homing, please call 653 257 875. Visit our website www.sos-animals.org or please phone Sandy on 952 385 923 or 666 814 056 if you would like to make a donation or help in any way. (93317)

Electric fence

THE race to replace the combustion engine with the battery may soon hit a major hurdle. Alarming reports from Amnesty International and Unicef have found that slave children in Africa are producing much of the raw materials for the electric car revolution.

Tens of thousands of children are mining cobalt in the war-torn Democratic Republic of Congo. Meanwhile the amount of lithium mined in Afghanistan is expected to double in the coming decades.

Concerns have been raised about the dependence of an electric future on a few resource-rich and very poor countries. There may simply not be enough cobalt and lithium to produce the expected 70 million electric cars being sold annually by 2050.

Clarkson Quote of the Week

This is the thing you have to remember. Alfa build a car to be as good as a car can be... briefly.

Some might say...

Player's car of the year

by Matthew Elliott

DESPITE commanding annual, even monthly, salaries in the millions, the favourite car of premier league footballers is the Range Rover Evoque.

The modestly priced car can be snapped up new for less than €40,000 and is a far cry from the flash Ferraris and Lamborghinis often associated with the sport's top earners.

One caveat is that it is the most popular car bought by premier league players on finance. Regardless of their wealth, finance deals remain as popular among the stars as they are among the public thanks to their flexibility.

Last year more than a million people bought cars in the UK on finance deals. Fear of a ticking debt time bomb won't trouble the top players, many of whom earn in excess of €100,000 per week and could buy a new Mercedes every day if they felt like it.

The Evoque tops a list of the 10 most popular footballer cars and stands out like a sore thumb. Second and third are the Lamborghini Aventador and Mercedes Onyx G6 Coupe respectively.

The best of the rest includes the Bentley Continental GT, Ferrari F12 Berlinetta, Lam-orghini Huracan, Jeep Kahn Sahara, Porsche 911 GTS, Bentley Bentayga, and McLaren 675LT Spider for the adrenaline junkies.

In company like that the less conspicuous Range Rover Evoque serves a simple purpose. It allows the superstars to nip into town for errands without attracting too much attention.

SPV Racing brings LeMans life style experience to Costa del Sol

At Club el Nautico by Alexandra in Benalmadena harbour August 12 - 13 SPV Racing brings its Ligier LMP3 Racing Car, which has competed at this year's Road to Le Mans race. The SPV team will undertake live 'pit stop' demonstrations, tyre changing and refuelling.

IN true LeMans spirit the event runs for 24 hours, the start is as the tradition with LeMans and the flag comes down at 3pm on Saturday August 12 and the checkered flag comes down on Sunday the 13th at 3pm.

On static display will be a number of LeMans cars, the oldest a Ford from 1931 that competed 85 years ago. LeMans cars from Ferrari, 458 GT3, and Porsche 997 GT3 will also be displayed. In total seven cars and a lot of pit equipment will be lifted by crane up on the deck of Club el Nautico by Alexandra

"We want to give people a chance to experience the LeMans spirit and see how the whole team works together to achieve success. Every pit stop will be perfectly orchestrated and every one of the 12 team members will do exactly the right thing at the right time," said SPV Racing CEO Raul Garcia.

Visitors will be able to see how it is to be a team member by changing tyres on a race car. The winner of the tyre change competition will have the opportunity to be in the pits with SPV Racing at one of the LeMans Cup Race.

If your interest is more on the driving side you will be able to drive LeMans cars in the GTROS sim racing simulators. GTROS, a Malaga-based company, and SPV Racing are collaborating in training drivers in advanced racing simulators for development of driver skills for both new and professional drivers.

At the event the visitors will be able to experience a LeMans cars in GTROS simulators and if they want challenge SPV Racing drivers Alvaro Fontes and Andy Cummings. The fastest challenger will be invited to ride with Alvaro Fontes at the fantastic Ascari Race Resort outside Ronda in SPV Racing Radical SR3.

Race cars are regarded by many as 'a piece of art.' At the event visitors will be able to see various art pieces from four very outstanding artists, who practise in four different artistic disciplines.

Phillip Dutton-White is displaying watercolor and acrylic paintings of LeMans and racing cars. François Duerinckx will have a number of pop art sculptures and photographic prints related to motorsport on display. David Marshall the renowned sculpture is displaying sculptures made of engine parts and Stephane Abrantes will show photographic racing pictures.

Club el Nautico Restaurant and Lounge, which is being gradually refurbished, will be serving its very own selection of tapas, some with Nordic influence, as well as holding the Gala Dinner on Saturday evening.

Just as at LeMans when the sun settles it is time to chill with live music and DJ enjoying the spectacular views at Club el Nautico by Alexandra.

On Sunday its family and fun at 10.00am. the focus is on children's activities. From 12.00 until the checkered flag comes down at 3pm there is a barbecue and finals in the simulator and tyre change competitions as well as the wettest race of the season for the drivers.

A very special version of the LeMans circuit has been designed in the waters outside Club el Nautico by Alexandra. Fifteen competitors will take the traditional LeMans start on the beach heading out into the water competing for the honours and prestigious golden bucket.

It is SPV Racing's intention to give the Costa del Sol a taste of the LeMans endurance race and lifestyle. SPV Racing is 'on the Road to LeMans' a journey toward the 24hr race in Le Mans, France.

"We want to share our experiences with our partners, fans and followers and make this a yearly event at this fantastic venue"

THE Classic Car Club of Andalucia has grown in stature and numbers considerably over the past nine years.

There are a number of celebrity members and motor-sport luminaries as members and a first class number of life-time honorary members. These include former Jaguar works racing driver, Win Percy, former WEC champion and Porsche works racing driver, John Fitzpatrick. These two are still the only Brits ever to have taken on the famous Australian race, the Bathurst 1000 and won it! That was in 1976 and 1980.

Retired McLaren F1 Team boss Jo Ramirez and also one time Ayrton Senna F1 teammate and now Sky TV F1 commentator, Mark Blundell, Dragon's Den TV star and classic saloon racer, Theo Paphitis, and top classic saloon racing driver, Kerry Michael MBE, are also among the glittering list of honorary members. The Club is indeed blessed! At one recent Clubnight it was discovered that no less than five of the members dining together that night had competed on the 1979 International Welsh Rally together but possibly didn't know each other then!

From the world of rallying we have British Open champion and Ford World Championship co-driver Peter Davis. Jackie Ashby, former British Ladies Rally Champion is a member. So too Alison Evans, the only lady to finish the Monte Carlo Rally as a driver and a co-driver. Former British Open Champion and Audi works co-driver, Roger Evans too. Former BL works supported rally driver, Ian Giles, is the Club Presidente and there are many, many more.....

SPV Racing weekend

AT the recent Clubnight there was a talk from the owner of the Le Mans LMP series SVP race team, Lars Lindberg, which was fascinating. SVP Racing are inviting CCCA members to their fun weekend and demonstrations of Pit-Stops etc in Benalmadena Puerto on Saturday and Sunday August 12 and 13. See the Club Facebook pages for more information.

The Euro Weekly News itself is very much involved in this superb weekend and will publish more information. Do come along and have a look, there will be something for everyone.

CCCA racing along!

The Ennstal Classic Rally, Austria

WHILST mentioning some notable Club members they are not all retired! Two CCCA members were recently in Austria competing on the famous Ennstal Classic Rally. These were Jo Ramirez, driving a Porsche 911, and Clément Eijffinger in his very pretty Alfa Romeo. There will be photos from the event on this page. Both cars finished the event and this is what CCCA's Jo Ramirez had to say about the Rally:-

"The Ennstal-Classic is without doubt one of the best, if not the best, Rally in Europe. Run in beautiful countryside around the river Ennstal, between the towns of Grobming and the Schladming-Dachstein. A region crossing some of the greatest driving roads in the world. This year, on it's 25th anniversary, they seem to have found the very best roads ever, with amazing scenery and almost no traffic at all, wherever you turn your head. It is like a post-card, and you want to stop and take a photo, waiting for Julie Andrews to come down the mountain singing 'The Sound of Music'!

"The Rally is run over three days with around 450 km for each of the first two days, and a short run on the last day. Almost 270 cars were present from 1924 to 1972. There is a superb dinner party every night, in wonderful locations, and a gala dinner for the prize-giving night. Not only the cars are interesting, but also the people, and a wonderful atmosphere prevails at all times. For me, it is also very special because on this rally I met my partner, Ursula, who was, and still is, an unpaid worker for the Rally.

"When someone enters the rally for the first time they will enjoy it so much they will want to keep going year after year. Stirling Moss has done them all, except this year due to poor health, I have done it for 15 years and counting and five-time Le Mans winner Derek Bell, Jochen Mass, Hans Stuck, Alex Wurz, Rauno Aaltonen, Walter Rohl, Marc Surer and Dieter Quester are also regulars. Mark Webber and Neel Jani did it last year, and came back this year, and so many other personalities from different walks of life also enter and remain fascinated like Rowan Atkinson, Patrick Dempsey, Franz Klammer and many German and Austrian personalities from show business. Wolfgang Porsche, the owner of Porsche, and his son Ferdinand also have become regular participants since Porsche has become one of the Rally's Sponsors.

"As a competition, the Rally has a lot of special stages where you should keep to an average speed of about 50kph over the most twisty and 'up and down' road sections with photo cells hiding all along the stages. It is this which makes the Rally not only skilful but interesting, rather than boring timing controls like those on the Mille Miglia.

"This year the Classic Car Club of Andalucia had two entries, myself and Clément Eijffinger. I entered a Porsche 911 and Clément entered his beautiful Alfa Romeo. We finished almost together in the final classification!

I hope we will both be back next year and maybe with others from the CCCA!"

That's it until next time! Next CCCA events are in September.

Football history, Mourinho buys player for record sum

United splashed out £145.8m (€161m), Chelsea £130.4m (€144m) and Everton £94.9m (€105m). Spurs paid out nothing!

• Jose Mourinho has become the first manager in football history to spend £1 billion (€1.1 billion) on players.

• Robbie Keane has joined former Spurs teammate Teddy Sheringham at Indian club Atletico de Kolkata.

• Bolton fielded 10 trialists in a pre-season friendly against Marine.

Cricket

• England's Jonny Bairstow was dismissed for 99 in the last test v South Africa - the 85th player, the 15th Englishman, to miss a century by one run since the Second World War.

• In a T20 blast match, Nottinghamshire scored a record 106-0 off the first six overs with Alex Hales smashing 95 as Durham were beaten by five wickets.

• England will play the West Indies in the first day-night test match at Edgbaston: Thursday August 17 to Monday August 21.

• India scored 600 in two innings as they clinched their series 2-0 over Sri Lanka.

• Australian cricket's chief executive has insisted that it's time to get the show back on the road and end a long-running dispute that has left 230 players unemployed. There's increasing urgency ahead of this winter's Ashes series.

• The capacity of The Oval cricket ground is to be

Round-Up

• Two-time convicted drug-cheat Justin Gatlin was booed as he tore up Usain Bolt's farewell script by stealing the 100m gold medal at the World Championships. Bolt took bronze in his last individual race as Christian Coleman made it a USA one-two.

• South Korean Kim In-Kyung won the Women's British Open golf title at Kingsbarns, Fife; England's Jodi Ewart Shadoff finished second.

• South African rugby clubs Toyota Cheetahs and Southern Kings have joined the Guinness-sponsored PRO12 competition.

• England's Joanne Pavey received her 10,000m bronze medal 3,633 days after finishing fourth in the 2007 World Championships - moving up a place after Turkish drug cheat Elvan Abeylegesse was disqualified. Likewise, Britain's Jessica Ennis-Hill has received a gold medal for her 2011 world heptathlon victory - following the disqualification of Russian drug-abuser Tatyana Chernova.

• Either Birmingham or Liverpool will stage the 2022 Commonwealth Games. A decision is likely in September.

Coming Up

• The PL season kicks-off tomorrow night with Arsenal v Leicester, followed on Saturday/Sunday by Brighton - Manchester City, Chelsea - Burnley, Crystal Palace - Huddersfield, Everton - Stoke, Manchester United - West Ham, Newcastle - Spurs, Southampton - Swansea, Watford - Liverpool and WBA - Bournemouth.

• Today, the US PGA golf championship starts at North Carolina's Quail Hollow club and England play Spain in the first game of the Women's Rugby World Cup in Dublin.

Don't miss this!

The 72nd La Vuelta a España starts on Saturday August 19. Riders pedal 3,297.7 kilometres, taking in 21 stages, including five mountain climbs and on Wednesday August 30, Tour of France winner Chris Froome, Spain's Alberto Contador and Mark Cavendish will cycle the 187.5km from Lorca to Cala Alto, taking in Aguilas, San Juan, Villaricos, Vera, Garrucha, Mojacar, Turre, Los Gallardos and Sorbas.

Winner of the Women's Euro.

SEAD KOLASINAC:
Celebrating his goal during the Community Shield final.

DID YOU KNOW?

On Friday August 20, in 1920, cricketer-footballer Jack Darnon took five wickets for Surrey v Middlesex at Lords in the afternoon and kept goal for Brentford v Millwall in a league game at night.

ter John Edrich, to score a half-century in 10 successive tests (he's only two behind record holder, AB de Villiers) while Farah won his 10th major race in a row with victory in the World Championships 10,000m. And the 5,000m is still to come before he ends his track career in Zurich next month. Thereafter, he'll run marathons only.

Football

• After the opening games of the new football season, Bristol City and QPR lead the Championship; Fleetwood, Oxford and Portsmouth are the top three in FL1; Luton (8-2 winners over Yeovil) head FL2 and Celtic, with Leigh Griffiths' 200th career goal beat Hearts 4-1 to set the pace in the SPL. Forest Green Rovers drew 2-2 with Barnet in their first-ever FL game.

• Arsenal lifted the first trophy of 2017-18, beating 10-man Chelsea 5-2 on penalties in the Community Shield – their 15th 'Shield' win.

• Bayern Munich defeated Borussia Dortmund 5-4 on penalties to win Germany's Super Cup and on Tuesday, Real Madrid met Manchester United in the European Super Cup.

• Everton are in but Aberdeen are out of the Europa League and Celtic are still active in the Champions League!

• England's lionesses failed to roar when losing 3-0 to Holland in the Women's European Championship semi-final. The Dutch beat Denmark 4-2 in the final.

• Between Tuesday May 30 and Tuesday August 1, 2017, Manchester City spent £218m (€241m) on new players; Manchester

MO FARAH:
Won 10th gold.
