All the thrills

THE expansion of the Tivoli amusement park in Arroyo de la Miel has been halted as a legal battle over the site rages on.

Rafael Gomez, the owner of the Arenal 2000 company, sued the park's buyers Tremon after claiming the company never completed the payment for it.

Plans worth €300 million which were set to modernise the site have been unable to go ahead. The land title belongs to Tremon with management still in the hands of Gomez's firm.

Water result

THE La Concepcion reservoir has reached near full capacity after weeks of above average rainfall, according to data from the regional Environment Board.

The amount of water at the site is now estimated to be around 61 billion litres.

The reservoir, which supplies most of the Costa del Sol, has had to drain about 7.12 billion litres, equivalent to the amount consumed in the province in a month.

'He's a life saver'

EXCLUSIVE

By Karl Smallman and Matt Ford

A family on the Costa del Sol has publicly thanked a holidaying geologist who found a British expat who had been missing for a week and returned him to them safe and sound.

Forty-eight-year-old expat and chef, Anthony (Tony) Oldham hadn't been seen since Friday March 23 in Plaza de España in Arroyo De la Miel, Benalmadena.

Tony had been due to meet his fiancée Karen Lincoln in the afternoon but didn't show. He had no money, no phone, no ID and only the clothes he was wearing.

The Euro Weekly News stepped in to help the family by being the first newspaper to cover the story and share it with our 'army' of more than 25,000 followers on Facebook.

And the story had a happy ending when Tony was found 'safe and sound' but confused and distressed.

Spanish geologist Ignacio Ruiz, 47, from Sevilla exclusively told the Euro Weekly News how he found Tony.

"I'm in Torremolinos for the Easter holidays and this morning I went for a walk and saw a man sitting on a bench near La Nogalera.

"He was looking rough and I asked him if everything was OK.

"Obviously it wasn't, so I decided to sit with him and chat a little.

Ignacio said, "We talked and after half an hour when he told me he had been away from home a whole week and nobody had heard from him during all that time I convinced him to let me drive him home.

"I just wanted to help him. I've read your report that Tony's been taken to the hospital, so I hope he gets well."

And Chloe Lincoln, Karen's daughter, said: "I cannot even begin to describe our emotions at the moment.

"But thanks to an amazing person who had seen the appeal, he brought Tony home safe and sound.

"We just want to thank everyone so much for all of their help and support during this past week, you truly are incredible.

Karen also added her thanks to everyone who got involved and confirms that Tony is recovering from his ordeal at a Malaga hospital.

NEWS EXTRAAttack of the drones

MARBELLA could become one of the first Costa del Sol municipalities to employ flying drones for 'surveillance,' which the council says would include searching for missing people, wastewater control, reconstruction of traffic accidents and urban planning.

Egg-cellent

MALAGA CITY welcomed a record number of Easter visitors this year, with the number of Spanish and international holidaymakers increasing by 5.8 and 7.1 per cent, respectively, according to the Costa del Sol tourist board.

Total flop

A 27-YEAR-OLD Ukrainian expatriate has been held on suspicion of beating and robbing a homeless man as he slept on a bench in Malaga City.

The next big thing?

Hit Channel 5 show seeks new stars

BARGAIN LOVING BRITS IN THE SUN is coming to the Costa del Sol after three brilliant years on the Costa Blanca and a summer in Blackpool.

The hugely popular series will be filming in the coming months and the team at Blakeway North TV are looking for their next raft of colourful, fun and interesting, hardworking and charismatic Brits, all trying to live the Spanish dream.

They are seeking people who are both trying to 'live twice the life for half the price' but are willing to work hard to get it.

The production team is looking for anyone who is coming over from the UK to start a new business, a new career and a new life.

Or someone trying something new like chasing their dream as an entertainer, or setting up as a yoga teacher, a bar owner, hairdresser or whatever.

Anyone who is coming to start again or trying something new would be perfect. But it's not all about new people, the show's producers want to meet the established faces of the Costa del Sol, following people in their lives and making their way over the summer of 2018.

From putting on weddings, to parties, selling second-hand cars, whitening teeth, or working five jobs to keep the sunshine dream alive.

Or maybe you are trying something new with an established business and taking a big risk to keep the business going? Let the team spend a week or so in your life and see what it takes to make it in the sun.

Maybe you are someone who lives on a caravan park or in a static home community for most of the year doing everything you can to keep the sunshine lifestyle affordable. What do you do to live a Champagne life on a lemonade budget?

The show also want to find anyone who is working hard for their own charity and people who are running events throughout the summer. But you guys out there know better than us who the big characters are and what the big events and new things are.

So in a nutshell if you are, or know anyone who fits the bill and also has a big story happening this summer get in touch.

Sting in the tail

LOCAL councils have urged beachgoers to be vigilant after hundreds of Portuguese man o' war jellyfish appeared on the Costa del Sol. A special maintenance team was forced to remove the venomous blue and purple blobs from beaches and the sea in Marbella and San Pedro de Alcántara after they were blown in from the mid-Atlantic Ocean.

Spring storms in

THE Costa del Sol remains in the grip of changeable spring weather. A cold front rolling in from northern Spain is set to see temperatures plummet over the weekend, reaching lows of 16°C by Tuesday, according to national weather office AEMET. And umbrellas could be needed on Friday and Saturday with rain and strong winds forecast.

Tot plunge horror

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD boy died after plummeting from a Costa del Sol flat. The child fell 12 metres from a second floor window after he opened it and leaned outside, with medics pronouncing him dead at the scene after horrified neighbours called an ambulance. He was with his grandparents at the time.

Flyway code

A WOMAN has been fined for flying a drone over an effigy of Jesus. The 49-year-old tourist from Madrid was approached by police after they spotted her flying the robot 20 metres above the masses gathered in Malaga City on Easter Sunday. She did not have a licence allowing her to use it over a crowd.

Easter beating

A WOMAN suffering from bipolar disorder has been held for 'kicking and scratching' an Alhaurin de la Torre councillor. The culprit reportedly accused the official of kidnapping her daughter before launching the attack at the town's leisure centre. She has been slapped with a restraining order forbidding her from approaching the victim for two years.

THE BIG PICTURE Nº 8

Tickled pink!

ON THE MARCH: Greater flamingo males.

IT is Europe's second largest congregation of greater flamingos, and the only inland site where they breed.

And the courtship dance of 40,000 of the majestic birds is underway at Laguna Fuente de Piedra, one of the largest natural lakes in the Iberian Peninsula.

Measuring 6.5 kilometres long by 2.5 kilometres wide, the lagoon is set for a bumper year after drying up completely in 2017.

Recent rains have filled the shallow basin, serving up ideal conditions for the flamingos, which are attracted by teeming brine shrimp in the salty water.

The tiny crustaceans give the birds' feathers their pink hue, with those of youngsters plain grey.

Their courtship ritual sees many separate colonies form, with groups of 15 to 50 males at their centre.

They perform an elaborate dancing display with exaggerated neck stretching, head stretching and preening, plus group moves in which they march and turn as one.

And once the chicks hatch they are raised in a 'creche' watched over by many adults.

The dance of the flamingos can be seen throughout April both at Fuente de Piedra and other sites along Spain's Mediterranean coast, including Doñana National Park, Mar Menor in Murcia, Santa Pola in Alicante, and the Ebro Delta in Cataluña.

Fair enough

ANDALUCIAN PASSION: Women wearing traditional flamenco dresses dance a Sevillana.

IT was voted number one in travel guide Lonely Planet's top 10 cities to visit in 2018.

And as the dust settles on Andalusian capital Sevilla's world famous Holy Week celebrations, the city is already gearing up for another of its internationally renowned events.

The week-long Feria d'Abril (April Fair) traditionally takes place a fortnight after the end of Easter, and this begins on Sunday April 15.

Women rock flamboyant, glamorous flamenco dresses, while men slip on their best attire and parade on horseback throughout the vibrant festivities, which feature plenty of eating, drinking and dancing the time-honoured Sevillana.

Dating back to 1847, the event was started as a livestock fair by two councillors from northern Spain, the Basque Jose Maria Ybarra and Catalan Narcisco Bonaplata.

Their idea was approved by Queen Isabella II - who ruled Spain from 1833 until 1868 - and the first fair took place at the Prado de San Sebastian on the outskirts of the city centre.

But just a year later the fair began to mutate, as the first three casetas, traditional wooden buildings housing bars and eateries still used today, sprang up.

They belonged to the French Duke and Duchess of Montpensier, the city council and Sevilla casino, and their introduction eventually saw the event become an enormous celebration which today brings together more than 1,000 casetas and tens of thousands of people on a new site in the Los Remedios neighbourhood.

The casetas mostly belong to important local families, clubs, trade associations, political parties or groups of friends. They function as informal restaurants during the day but from around 9pm to 6am are filled with crowds of dancing revellers drinking sherry, beer and wine.

There is also a giant amusement park for families.

But the daily proceedings begin with a parade of carriages and horse riders carrying leading citizens to the La Real Maestranza bullring for the controversial daily bullfights.

For more information about this year's feria see the website: www.feriadesevilla.andalunet.com/?lang=en.

Harry's style goes Spanish

HE donned suits by Gucci and Givenchy at the recent Victoria's Secret Fashion Show.

And former One Direction singer Harry Styles, 24, became the new face of Andalusian designer Palomo Spain during his shows in Madrid and Barcelona this week.

The Sign of the Times hitmaker temporarily dropped his signature Gucci style, slipping into a different black-and-white outfit by the Cordoba-based fashion house at each of the gigs.

Harry rocked a houndstooth-style checked blazer with flared trousers in the Catalan city, then opted for a matching finely-striped outfit with white lapels in the Spanish capital.

Designer Alejandro Gomez Palomo has just turned 26 and was creating clothes for doll brand Barbie three years ago, but a meteoric rise has seen him open shows at Paris Fashion Week, with stars including the Rolling Stones, Beyonce, Miley Cyrus and Rita Ora buying into his whimsical style.

Eiza does it!

SHE shot to fame in last year's hit action movie Baby Driver.

And Mexican actress Eiza Gonzalez, 28, has jetted to Spain to film new flick Paradise Hills in Barcelona.

The star set pulses racing after strolling to the set wearing just a loose-fitting t-shirt and skinny jeans.

STRANGER CHING: Millie Bobby Brown.

MARBELLA-BORN actress Millie Bobby Brown is set for a giant pay rise.

The 14-year-old Stranger Things star has reportedly put pen to paper on a contract worth €2.6 million ahead of filming the third series of the hit Netflix series.

And while all the young stars of the supernatural drama have been rewarded with improved deals after the second series received rave reviews, Millie's agents have negotiated the biggest salary.

According to US media reports she was due to receive €19,500 for each of the upcoming series' nine episodes, but will now take home at least €200,000, with some rumours suggesting she will be paid a whopping €285,000 per show.

That would put the Emmy-award nominated performer in the same wage bracket as cast-mate Winona Rider.

Light as a feather

SHE recently revealed that she has lost two stone.

And Loose Women star Linda Robson, 60, showed off her toned figure as she posed in a swimsuit in Marbella.

The former Birds of a Feather actress was enjoying a sunshine break with son Louis and daughter Roberta, and she shared a series of snaps on social media.

Dyer straits

DANNY DYER'S daughter, Dani, has been spotted frolicking on a Costa del Sol beach.

Having recently being forced off the ITV2 show Survival Of The Fittest due to injury, the reality star, 22, was pictured in a range of skimpy swimwear as she enjoyed a spot of bat and ball on the sand.

Lisa appeal goes on

Ambassador interviewed on Spanish TV

THE case of missing Scot, Lisa Brown, has appeared on Spain's version of Crime-watch.

The TVE show Desaparecidos broadcast the latest appeal to find the mum-of-one, who was 32 when she vanished from her Costa del Sol home in November 2015.

Investigators and her family believe she was murdered by Liverpoolian boyfriend Simon Corner, 36, who last month went on the run for the second time since her disappearance.

It comes after Lisa's brother, Craig Douglas, launched a fresh appeal for information at a press conference in Los Barrios, Cadiz, alongside British ambassador to Spain, Simon Manley, and Crimestoppers director Roger Critchell.

A reward of up to €115,000 is being offered for information relating to the case.

And Mr Manley once again stepped up to be interviewed by presenter Silvia Intxaurreondo during a 14-minute slot on the show with a two million viewership.

Craig, 48, told Scottish media: "The TV appeal is a massive boost. As far as I'm led to believe it's Spain's answer to Crime-watch UK."

"The police needed someone to speak

Spanish so Simon Manley, the British ambassador, appeared.

"We're uplifted that they're taking an interest."

"The police haven't said yet if they've had any new leads from the show. We're keeping our fingers crossed."

He added: "I think everybody knows Lisa's dead. That's the harsh reality of it."

"I don't think Corner will ever hand himself in, so we're relying his associates turning on him.

"In the passages of time people fall out, especially in the circles he runs in."

"We think there's a small group of people in that area of Spain and Gibraltar who know exactly what's happened."

"It took us more than two years to raise £100,000 through crowdfunding. It's a figure that stands out."

OUR VIEW

Red faces over blue passports

THERE seemed to be an incredible irony surrounding the decision to move back to blue passports to show that Britain was recapturing its true independence from Europe.

Firstly it appears that in actual fact the move to a red passport was only a strong recommendation from the European Union and had Britain decided that it wanted to keep the colour blue (or some argue black), then it could have done so.

The real controversy has raised its head with the fact production of these new passports has been put out to tender in accordance with EU rules which meant effectively any qualified printer in any member states could bid to undertake the work.

Almost predictably, the bid from British printer De La Rue - which currently holds the contract - was rejected as being too expensive and it appeared that the job would be given to a printer based in France and Holland.

Quelle horreur, this symbol of Britishness would for the first time be printed outside of Britain at a time when the country wanted to be seen as standing strong and outside of European domination.

It is suggested that the winning bid was £120 million (€137 million) cheaper than De La Rue, but the company has managed to win a respite of a further two weeks in order to allow them to challenge the decision, based on the fact that they believe that their product will be better and more secure.

Time will tell but you couldn't make this story up!

THE fight for one of the Costa del Sol's last virgin beaches goes on.

It comes as Malaga Football Club - owned by Qatari Royal Family member Sheikh Abdullah bin Nasser Al Thani - continues to fell trees on the site at Arraijanal, between Torremolinos and Malaga City.

The recently fenced plot is earmarked for a €6.5 million football academy.

But residents of the local Guadalmar community and nearby Churriana, plus a number of local scientists, nature-lovers and environmental campaign groups say that the project is illegal.

Police have this week moved to expel a number of activists who were camping near the site for a fortnight, leading to several climbing some of the last remaining trees, where they have remained for six days.

Police called firefighters to pull them down, but they refused to do so as their own wage row with the council rumbles on.

The fury triggered after local construction firm Bilba started work has seen a petition on the ARRAIJANAL: Currently unspoilt but under threat.

Football fury

Critics say legal claims 'being ignored'

Change.org online platform draw more than 65,000 signatures, and the story has been picked up by national television.

Requests for work to be halted until the site can be properly mapped have now been submitted to Malaga Council, the Junta de Andalucía regional government and Churriana Council, while a complaint has been filed with the Guardia Civil's nature protection arm SEPRONA.

Critics are adamant that they think the academy is a good idea, but that Arraijanal is not the right location.

An environmental impact analysis was allegedly conducted without an archaeologist present when official studies dating back to the late 1980's show that the plot houses important Roman remains.

It is also home to a range of wildlife including endangered plants and is an important corridor for 167 species of migratory and resident birds, according to one study.

Officials at the football club have thus far been unavailable for comment, but sources have reportedly assured local media that it has 'all the legal permits necessary to complete the first phase' of the project.

Mayor of Malaga Francisco de la Torre said this week that he "sees no grounds" for the protests, after the Euro Weekly News last week exclusively reported flaws that allegedly contravene European law in the environmental impact analysis submitted in support of the scheme.

But those in opposition to the site say they have received 'administrative silence' after their reports - supported by the University of Malaga - were filed at the beginning of March.

Burning problem

They claim that workers or security guards sparked the blaze.

Sea Grill launches trendy tapas menu

PUENTE ROMANO beachfront restaurant Sea Grill has transformed itself into multi-choice foodie venue.

For lunch, Sea Grill is offering a salad buffet and a wide choice of hot dishes. For dinner, a fine dining a la carte menu, with dishes from Tandoori oven, Mediterranean Sea and Brazilian grill.

On top of that, it has just launched its new and trendy tapas concept - Petit Sea Grill. The upper area of the restaurant has changed its look to over-sized sharing tables and comfy high chairs.

The tapas menu includes traditional Spanish bites, as 'Salmorejo' with Cured Cheese and Iberian Ham Fitter or 'Pisto Machego' with Quail's Egg, aside to international bites, such as Sea Bass Ceviche or California Roll.

All tapas can be paired with high quality wines. As from this week onwards Sea Grill has an impressive wine selection, served by the glass.

Sea Grill is open for lunch from 1pm - 4pm, for dinner 7.30pm - 11.30pm Sea Grill tapas is open every day from 11am - 11pm

Gardener swindles absent boss

THE gardener of a luxury Costa del Sol villa has been held after being accused of ripping off the property's owner.

He reportedly used a personal account his employer had set up at a San Pedro de Alcantara hardware shop to snap up tools worth €4,000 before peddling them to a second-hand shop in Estepona.

But the store owner became suspicious, leading police to visit the owner at his second home near the Guadalmina golf club, where he confirmed that he did not sanction the purchase.

The green-fingered fraudster was arrested at his home.

Serial thief held

A 42-YEAR-OLD Spanish man has been held in connection with at least six break-ins at a Costa del Sol hotel.

Police said in a statement that the suspect travelled to Fuengirola by bus before posing as a client and entering rooms by using a piece of plastic to open doors without damaging the locks.

His Cuban partner, 45, has also been quizzed and charged with receiving stolen jewellery and selling them to second-hand shops.

Investigators were alerted after guests arrived to their room as the alleged culprit was rummaging through their belongings.

The Torremolinos resident escaped by leaping off a balcony before hiding out in a Benalmadena flat until he was tracked down.

From beast to feast

BRITAIN is expected to be warmer than the Costa del Sol by the end of this week.

Drier and brighter conditions are forecast in the south and east of the country with Saturday set to be the warmest day of the week when the mercury hits 18 Celsius - well above normal for the time of year - while values will struggle to beat 17 Celsius in Mediterranean holiday resorts.

Forecaster Katie Greening, of The Weather Channel, said: "UK temperatures will be about 5C to 7C above average in a south-easterly airflow.

"Rain and cloud will dampen temperature anomalies over the British Isles, western France and northern Iberia but it will still be 3C to 5C above the seasonal norm."

Lift of luxury

A 45-YEAR-OLD man has been arrested in Barcelona on suspicion of robbing €130,000 worth of items from three luxury homes in Marbella and Estepona.

Investigations began last summer after three robberies, located in Puerto Banus, Elviria and Estepona, were reported to police.

According to reports, in all three cases the thief took advantage of the fact that the homeowners had left their homes and managed to steal items worth a combined estimated €130,000.

Police believe that those involved were specialised and watched the residents leave their homes from a nearby car before committing the robberies within three minutes of them leaving.

Among the items taken from the houses were cash, bank cards, jewellery and other luxury items, while a safe was stolen from the Estepona property, which allegedly contained €6,000 in cash.

And after months of searching, police were able to locate the 45-year-old man in Barcelona and subsequently arrest him on suspicion of robbery.

MAKING the proposed Marbella and Estepona rail line high speed is not up for discussion, the government's sub-delegate in Malaga has said.

Miguel Briones told Europa Press that debate would only delay the project. He added it would not address the needs of the Cercanías commuter line.

"A disservice is being done to the citizens of the Costa del Sol and to tourists who arrive here when such a debate arises," he added.

The comments follow an announcement from the Minister of Public Works Iñigo de la Serna that €6.5 million would be spent on the project. It is part of the €142 million allocated to Malaga Province for Spain's proposed national budget.

Briones said a study would be undertaken to find the best option for the proposed line.

"The final project will allow for a connection between Fuengirola and Marbella," he said.

The Cercanías line currently runs between Malaga and Fuengirola, where it terminates. There has been a push to extend the rail link to Mar-bella for almost two decades.

Jose Luis Ruiz Espejo, the general secretary of the leftist Partido Socialista (PSOE) in Malaga said the amount allocated to the project was "derisory."

The money put aside for it would prevent it from being completed, Ruiz-Espejo added.

Rescue centre takes in 100 dogs a month

by Karl Smallman

AN animal rescue centre has claimed it takes in a staggering 100 dogs a month as more animals are abandoned by their owners on the coast of southern Spain.

And now the association has shared a heart-breaking video on social media of a water dog that was recently found tied to their gates to raise awareness of their work.

Dutchman Peter Koekebakker and his Swiss wife Madeleine run the Prodean Protector of La Linea shelter in Andalucía which currently homes around 600 unwanted pets.

He said when they went to release him from the gate they noticed he was very stressed.

"He was biting and had to be calmed, he had probably been mistreated, in addition to being tied up.

"He also had numerous fleas and ticks and an infection in the ears."

Peter and his volunteer team work continuously to look after the abandoned dogs and find new forever homes for them.

It costs between €4,000 - €5,000 a month to feed and care for the dogs.

The shelter was founded in 2005 next to the municipal dog pound (perrera) in La Línea de la Concepción.

Peter says all the funding for the shelter is paid for by sponsors and private donors. There is no Spanish government, regional or municipal help.

GORE BLIMEY: Revellers taunt a bull in Gaucin.

A TRADITIONAL event involving bulls in the mountain village of Gaucin has sparked outrage.

Animal rights campaigners say the 'bull on a rope' celebration - which sees the animals led over a defined course with a long rope around their heads while participants try to avoid being gored - is cruel and should be banned.

It comes after a man was hospitalised when he careered into a security barrier during this year's contest, which last Sunday saw more than 10,000 revellers flock to the village.

During the event, three bulls from the local Gavira ranch are released into the village over the course of several hours, where they roam between a fenced square with space for spectators and a number of selected streets with window ledges and balconies for entrants to escape the animals.

Mayor Pedro Godino told Spanish media that the Easter Sunday tradition "dates back hundreds of years and is celebrated in many Spanish towns and villages, and it must be preserved in Gaucin since it is the only one in Malaga Province."

FIREFIGHTERS in Malaga City have been hailed after saving a dog from a house fire, after smoke left the animal on the verge of death, an official statement said.

Traffic joy

ALHAURIN DE LA TORRE Council has unveiled plans to repair 13 roads around the town, with a €7 million contract for the scheme up for grabs in the wake of damages caused by storms in recent years.

Country club

THE population of the Genal Valley in the Serrania de Ronda has plummeted by 12 per cent in the last 15 years, according to the National Statistics Institute, with the village of Atajate now having just 167 residents.

Dog's strife

Animal shelter at breaking point

MALAGA City's animal rescue centre has "completely collapsed" according to its president.

Carmen Manzano revealed that the centre is currently housing 889 animals, three times its capacity, despite the number of cats and dogs taken in dropping to 1,600 last year, 400 less than in 2016.

But more pets were cast aside after suffering sickness or injury.

"People have pets but don't want to pay for their health-care," the official said. "Going to the vet is expensive so they just leave them for us to cure, but we have very limited resources."

And the problem has been worsened by the number of adoptees plunging from an annual average of 1,500 to 1,300 last year, while international adoptions dropped to just 166.

"The market is saturated and the demand for dogs in other European countries has fallen," confirmed Ms Manzano.

It comes after laws regarding potentially dangerous breeds were tightened in some countries, where requests 'have fallen drastically.'

In addition to cats and dogs, volunteers have rescued 109 other animals - including ferrets, rabbits, turtles, hamsters and various birds - so far this year.

FIREFIGHTERS have rescued a homeless man who plummeted into an underground rubbish bin on the Costa del Sol.

Medics confirmed that the 60-year-old had suffered bruising but was otherwise unharmed.

He had the misfortune of plunging several metres down into the pit housing the organic waste, and his rescuers said they believed he was trying to search through the rubbish inside.

Also dubbed ecological islands, the subterranean recycling bins are a common sight in Spain.

JACK KNIFE: The man careered into a parked car before being pinned down by police.

Well fuelled!

A 'DRUNK' British holidaymaker was held by Spanish police after stealing a Coca Cola delivery lorry in Benidorm.

Footage emerged online showing the unnamed man shouting in English while being pinned down by an officer as horrified pedestrians look on.

He reportedly made off in the vehicle while the driver and his colleague were making a delivery on the corner of Avenida Mediterraneo and Calle Filipinas, before crashing into a parked car.

The video was shot by one of the delivery men, who explains that "this drunk foreigner stole our lorry and everyone is watching. We called the police and pulled him out before they arrived.

"It was just unbelievable."

The culprit reportedly refused to undergo a breathalyser test before he was taken away, but it is unclear if he has been held in custody.

As he protests one of the police officers is heard to say in English: "Don't move a bit, buddy."

Benidorm's security councillor Lorenzo Martinez told local press that the dramatic incident showed "once again how effective our police are."

MAKING A SPLASH: Darian after accepting the swap.

Teen swaps social media username for luxury trip to Spain

by Matt Ford

A 15-YEAR-OLD boy from the United States is on his way to Spain after a cruise company offered him a €4,000 holiday in exchange for his Snapchat username.

Darian Lipscomb set up the handle @CarnivalCruise on the photo-sharing platform in 2012, when he was aged nine.

"When I was nine years old, I went on a cruise and got really excited and wanted to share it with my friends," the teen told local media in his hometown of Prospect, Virginia.

But American-British firm

Carnival Cruise Line decided they wanted the handle for themselves.

Marketing chiefs left signs featuring the brand's 'chief fun officer,' ex-basketball star Shaquille O'Neal, asking 'Hey Prospect, does anyone know Darian?' around the town, before sending a lorry with a giant poster on the side to Darian's home.

"I answered the door, walked outside and saw my name on a big truck. I was really surprised," he said.

Darian agreed to trade his username for an all-expenses paid luxury trip to Barcelona on the maiden voyage of the company's brand new cruise liner, Carnival Horizon.

Organisers of the whacky scheme say he and his family will receive customised surprises throughout the holiday, which will be documented on the operator's social media accounts.

Carnival official Robyn Fink said: "We thought this would be a fun way to claim our handle and reward a 'superfan' at the same time," before describing the trip as a "once-in-a-lifetime" experience.

Darian says he has yet to decide what his new Snapchat handle will be.

Murder suspect held

Brit teen hands himself in to Dutch police

by Matt Ford

A BRITISH teenage murder suspect who was thought to be holed up in Spain has handed himself into police in the Netherlands.

Detectives have been hunting fugitive Bradley Blundell, 18, since John Pordage, 34, was shot through the heart outside a petrol station in Chelmsford, Essex, last summer.

And Essex police have confirmed that extradition papers are being readied after Blundell turned himself in at a station in Dutch capital Amsterdam on Saturday.

Detective Chief Inspector Martin Pasmore, of the Kent and Essex Serious Crime Directorate, told UK media that the victim's family have been informed.

"A number of agencies both in the UK and abroad, including the National Crime Agency (NCA), have been involved in this search, and we extend our thanks for their welcome assistance," he added.

Mr Pordage died from a single gunshot during an early morning confrontation at a BP garage on August 5 last year.

A 16-year-old boy was last month cleared of the attack but charged with perverting the course of justice during a trial at Chelmsford Crown Court.

And 18-year-old co-defendant Saul Stanley was found guilty of firearm offences before being jailed for five years.

Investigators initially thought that Blundell had fled to Ibiza in the wake of the shooting.

€30,000 animal cruelty boost

NEW amendments to animal protection laws in Spain now mean that owners who abandon or beat their pets could face fines of up to €30,000.

With an estimated 140,000 dogs alone being abandoned on the street every year in Spain the legislations are designed to give authorities teeth in their battle against animal cruelty.

Organising, hosting or having your pet take part in any animal fighting rings will also incur fines of up to €30,000.

Shelters will also no longer be allowed to put animals down for non-medical reasons, as there were some operating on a 10 to 20 day period to home them. Owners could also face fines of up to €2,000 for not carrying out mandatory medical procedures such as vaccinations, keeping their pets in squalid conditions and not feeding them sufficiently.

Not having the correct paperwork for your pet can also lead to a €500 fine.

Roadside death crash

THE director of a Welsh tech firm has been killed in a bicycle crash on Menorca, Balearic Islands.

A 25-year-old American man has been held in connection with the incident after he failed a police breath test.

Dad-of-three Phillip J Rasmussen, 47, of Aberporth, Ceredigion, was hit on the the road from Sant Lluís to Alcaufar at kilometre eight.

Medics were unable to save the financial officer for Cardiff company IQE, who died at the scene of the accident.

"The news of Phil's death has shocked and distressed all of us at IQE," said chief executive Drew Nelson. "We will do

LAW CHANGE: Brits can use their streaming services wherever they are in Europe.

Holiday fix

Brit telly addicts can watch their pay TV abroad

NEW legislation that has come into effect this week will allow Brits to use their streaming services wherever they are in Europe.

From April 1 the EU's introduction of new portability rules for online content services will mean Brits can legally stream their favourite TV unrestricted across the EU.

Broadcasters including Sky and Amazon are to allow Brits on the beach to access their pay-TV subscriptions while they're on their holidays via online TV services NOW TV, ITV Hub+ and Prime Instant Video. "Holidays are all about unwinding and its clear TV is a big part of how Brits relax, so it's great news that from April 1 you can swap your sofa for a sunbed and your cuppa for a cocktail and never have to worry about missing your favourite TV on holiday again," said Gidon Katz, managing director of NOW TV.

Previously, travellers could not legally access UK TV on devices in mainland Europe, forcing TV fans to either miss their favourite shows, watch local TV or turn to illegal streaming services to get their fix.

NOW TV has conducted research to show the lengths Brits go to watch TV whilst away.

The research reveals just how far Brits will go to get their TV fix abroad, as nearly half (46 per cent) admit to missing TV so much they end up watching foreign shows they don't understand.

Shockingly, 30 per cent of 18 to 34-year-olds even confessed to missing a trip abroad or changing their holiday dates so they didn't miss their favourite show or big match on TV.

Men, in particular, can't kick their football habit with one in six (16 per cent) confessing they have spent hours walking from bar to bar to find somewhere to watch sport. And instead of relaxing on their break three in five (59 per cent) spend time on holiday worrying about missing an important match.

Over a quarter of people (26 per cent) admitted to sitting through a foreign game show despite not understanding either the questions or answers, 4 per cent were brave enough to knock on a local's door and ask to watch their television and 6 per cent travelled to a neighbouring town in search of a TV screen.

While pay TV services are being forced to provide their customers with access, providers of free TV have been given the choice and the BBC will not follow suit.

"We are interested in being able to allow UK licence fee payers to access BBC iPlayer while they are on holiday, and welcome the European Union regulation to help make this feasible," said a spokesman for the BBC.

"There are complex technical issues to resolve."

FIREBALL: Astronomers said a rock from an asteroid created a trail of flames visible in the skies over Murcia.

Great ball of fire

Space debris spotted over Murcia

by Joe Gerrard

A TRAIL of flames in the sky seen by astronomers was caused by a rock from an asteroid, the Astronomical Complex La Hita in Toledo said.

The phenomenon was reportedly visible from Murcia, as well as Almeria and Granada, at around 6.17am on Monday.

It was recorded by monitors operated by the University of Huelva and astronomical observatories in Calar Alto, Almeria, La Sagra and the Sierra Nevada, both in Granada and Sevilla.

Professor Jose Maria Madiedo, of the university, analysed data from the sighting which suggested the fireball had been caused by the debris' entry into the Earth's atmosphere.

Astronomers believe the rock was travelling at around 83,000 kilometres per hour when it passed over southern Spain.

It was sighted first over Granada before crossing into the skies above first Almeria and then Murcia, where it was about 29 kilometres high.

The monitoring was undertaken by the SMART project which aims to track the skies to record the impact of rocks from space on the Earth's atmosphere.

Human traffickers caught

Iraqi group 'smuggled migrants from Spain to UK'

EUROPOL has supported Spain's Guardia Civil in dismantling a criminal group believed to have been smuggling migrants - mainly Albanian citizens - from Spain to the UK, as well as refugees from Afghanistan, Iraq, Pakistan and Syria.

The gang used regular ferries from the northern Spanish ports of Santander and Santurtzi to carry out their criminal activities.

Their modus operandi was to smuggle the migrants through restricted areas at the ports and hiding them in trailers, containers, caravans and lorries waiting to board the ferries in restricted parking bays.

The gang also helped transport the migrants to the Spanish towns of Cantabria and Biscay from other countries and temporarily housing them there.

The investigation, known as investigation Hegira, began when the Spanish authorities detected a growing number of Albanian citizens had been intercepted trying to access the port of Santurtzi. Further investigations revealed there was an organised crime group operating in Cantabria and Biscay.

The Guardia Civil raided three houses in Bilbao, Portugalete and Santander, two of which were used as safe houses where the authorities seized numerous IT and mobile devices, bank cards and ID documents and passports from different countries.

The investigation also saw the collaboration of the Belgian police, who assisted with the house searches in Spain.

Seven members of the network were arrested - Iraqi, Albanian and Spanish nationals.

Europol's European Migrant Smuggling Centre (EMSC) supported the investigation by providing analytical and operational support and hosting an initial operational meeting at its headquarters in The Hague.

During the action days, Europol provided on-the-spot support by deploying an analyst to Bilbao equipped with a mobile office and a Universal Forensic Extraction Device.

This allowed for real-time cross-checks against Europol's databases as well as data extraction from the seized devices for further analysis.

Holiday horror

Irish boy, 10, killed in hit-and-run

TWO men have been held after a 10-year-old Irish schoolboy was killed in a suspected hit-and-run accident while on a family holiday in the Canary Islands.

Carter Carson, from Newtownabbey in County Antrim, described as 'a happy go lucky wee boy,' was on holiday with dad Stuart and his partner Claire when he was hit by a car in Adeje, Tenerife.

The little boy died from his injuries in the intensive care unit at hospital the following day.

The occupants of the red Alfa Romeo fled the scene and did not stop to offer assistance, with Spanish investigators later revealing that two Latvian men have been held in connection with the incident.

Initial press reports suggested the suspects were British.

In a statement Joanne Griffith, principal of Abbots Cross Primary School said, "The whole school community is deeply saddened by the sudden loss of one of our pupils, Carter Carson.

CREDIT: Guardia Civil

TWO QUIZZED: The red car with black wheels allegedly involved in the fatal accident.

"Carter was a quiet, hard-working boy with lovely manners and a gentle, caring nature. He loved a game of football and was an enthusiastic member of our school running club and our football club.

"He was recently our star pupil of the month and no one had a bigger smile than Carter when he received his Star Pupil Award.

"Our thoughts and prayers are with Carter's immediate and wider family circle and we, as a primary school family, will do all we can to support them and Carter's many friends in school in the weeks and months ahead.

Friends of the Carson family have been raising money to pay for the repatriation and funeral costs, and have incredibly now raised almost £12,500 after setting a £3,000 target.

On the crowdfunding page it said, "Carter was a happy go lucky wee boy who just loved his footy. I can't even put into words how heartbreaking this is. Sleep tight wee man xxx."

FATALLY GORED: The Easter bull-running festival in Arcos de la Frontera, southern Spain.

Easter death shock

One killed and 20 injured in bull run

A MAN has been fatally gored at an Easter bull-running festival in southern Spain and a further 20 people hurt, one seriously.

The well-known local man, in his 50's, was gored in the lungs by a 510-kilo bull named Trampero, in the first run of the bulls at the festival in Arcos de la Frontera in Andalusia.

Despite being rushed to hospital in Jerez the man died from his injuries.

A shocking video of the incident that drew screams from horrified onlookers has been widely circulated on Twitter.

Another man was reported seriously injured in the second bull run when his stomach was pierced. He was treated at the field hospital before being transferred to Villamartin.

More than 20 minor injuries were reported during the afternoon.

Over 120 safety and security personnel took part in the festival including Guardia Civil officers, Local Police, Civil Protection volunteers and paramedics.

In a statement, the mayor, Isidoro Gambin, expressed his 'support and affection' towards the family and close friends of the deceased.

TO INFINITY AND BEYOND: Mike Barnes was awarded the prize for best photograph.

Staying focused in battle

EACH spring, four of the Costa del Sol's photographic groups (Lake Vinuela Photographic Club, Costa Camera Club of Nerja, Costa del Sol Photographic Society and Shutterbugs) take part in 'the Battle' for the Best Photographic Club trophy. Each group chooses and submits 12 of their best photographs taken within the year to be adjudicated by an independent judge.

This year it was Shutterbugs photographic group's turn to host the event and appoint the Judge. They chose Paul Yaffe, who is renowned for being one of the world's most influential photographers, in addition to being a professional adjudicator. He spent much of his working career in the UK and now resides on the Costa del Sol.

Once again, 2018 proved to be a very closely marked contest with the Costa Camera Club of Nerja being the very worthy winners, and Shutterbugs coming a very close second. The award for best photograph was awarded to Mike Barnes of Shutterbugs for his photograph of the Monument to the Conquerors of Space, taken in Moscow at the Museum of Cosmonautics.

For more information regarding meetings, photo shoots and competitions, take a look at Shutterbugs' website www.shutterbugs-spain.org.

With questions regarding your property, related to family, tax and financial issues, any queries regarding your vehicle, any administrative proceedings, and a whole host of day-to-day situations.

How the service works

A legal consultant will be tasked with answering your call or email, providing fast and efficient answers to all your queries, as many times as you need. If they cannot provide an immediate response, because a particular query requires more in-depth research or additional legal consultations, then a response will be provided within a maximum 24 hours.

24-hour emergency legal consultations

For emergency cases, regardless of the time of day or night, customers may consult specialist legal advice, which due to the gravity of the situation, cannot wait. Examples of these types of 'emergency situations' are any incidents relating to the home being burgled, domestic violence, or emergency travel matters.

Attendance of a lawyer

Should the insured be arrested as a result of a road traffic offence, Linea Directa will provide them with a lawyer at the corresponding police station to assist them with any preliminary police statements. This assistance will be provided within four hours of the request for the service.

A spring in their step

ADANA, the Association for the Rights of Abandoned Animals, will be holding their sixth Spring Dog Walk this Saturday.

They will meet at the car park of the Estepona Palacio at 11.30am for registration and start off at 12.00 noon. The walk will take place along the Paseo Marítimo to the Avenida Juan Carlos roundabout and back again.

The cost to register is €5 and all proceeds will go towards the care of ADANA dogs. ADANA bags, keyrings and t-shirts will also be available to buy.

Bring along your dog for a brisk walk in the company of other dog lovers. ADANA volunteers will be walking ADANA dogs and will be collecting funds and handing out flyers advertising the Annual Dog Show to be held on Sunday April 29.

Darwin is a natural selection

TRIPLE A are looking for a new home for Darwin.

His previous owner has passed away and there is no one who is able to look after him.

He is rather like an Australian Shepherd dog with a lovely temperament. He is well behaved and gets along well with people and other dogs. He would make a good pet for a family or for an elderly person as he walks very obediently on a lead.

For more information, contact Lesley on 642 731 068 or call www.tripleamarbel la.org.

DARWIN: make the right choice and give him a home.

Sugar and spice

WHILST a good diet is essential to diabetics, sometimes a treat is in order.

So when the Diabetic Support Group met on Good Friday they were greeted with hot cross buns.

The speaker was Dr Rachel Garrod who specialises in pulmonary care. In addition to her talk about diabetes, she also gave a very useful talk on how to avoid falls.

On Easter Sunday they held a successful Easter Bonnet party at Anne's house in La Cala where they enjoyed a selection of bring-and-share dishes, including hot chilli, lasagne and Colombian chicken and rice.

Many of the ladies sported some great bonnets and designs ranged from flower pots to chicks, eggs and bunny ears. It was all great fun.

If you would like to find out more about Diabetes go along to one of their meetings or telephone Anne on their helpline no: 607 879 450.

No April Fools

MANY members of the RBL served in the RAF, so recently members of the Mollina RAF branch came together to share their memories in celebration of the RAF's 100th anniversary.

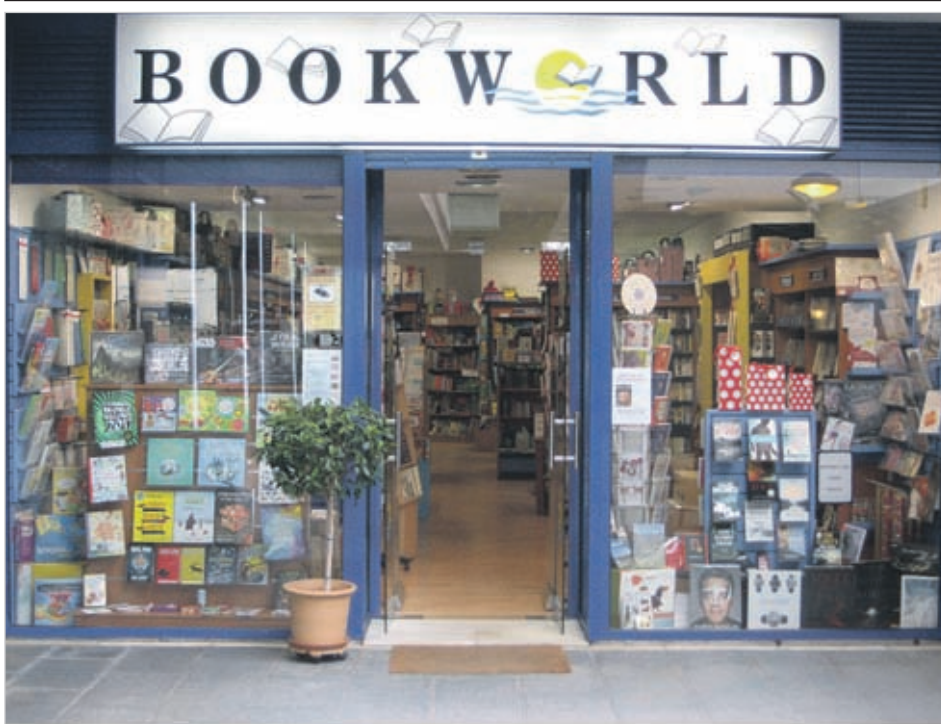

The five RAF and one WRAF who shared their stories worked in different times and places, spanning from the era of piston-powered aircraft through to the cold war and its jet powered V bombers.

Some memories were humorous, some poignant, but all offered an insight into how they best remembered their service days. At the time of their deployment - often at a very young age - some had never been away from home before and faced a completely new living and working environment hundreds of miles from their families.

David Grey, one of the members who shared his experience, said "I didn't realise how diverse our experiences were, one tends to think that service is service, when nothing could be further from the truth."

A HUGE basket of 12,000 plastic bath ducks was released on to the Aa river in Saint-Omer as part of a charity fundraising duck race this week.

GERMANY

Parcel bomb

BERLIN police confirm a parcel bomb delivered to a German trade association, the fourth delivered in recent months is an attempt to get money illegally from logistics giant DHL.

Food row

A FOOD BANK in the German city of Essen found itself at the centre of the country's increasingly divisive debate about immigration and announced that it would once again allow non-Germans to sign up for its services.

Migrant boost

IMMIGRANTS with limited German are among those most at risk of facing life on the street. Now, a new site offers information in multiple languages so people of all backgrounds can know their rights.

Got the hump

TWO camels escaped from their circus enclosure in Bremen to head for a nearby fast food restaurant. The pair gave the well-known brand's menu a miss, and instead plumped for a healthy vegetarian alternative.

SWEDEN

Lenny crevice

LENNY KRAVITZ, 51, accidentally showed the audience more than they paid for at his Stockholm show last week as early in the concert he bent down low and his leather trousers split.

Passport king

SWEDEN has the world's most powerful passport, according to a new report by consulting company Nomad Capitalist. Out of 199 countries, the Scandinavian country came out on top, followed by Belgium, Italy and Spain.

Swede success

'TODAY Sweden officially noted that we have passed 10 million inhabitants,' former Foreign Minister and former Prime Minister Carl Bildt wrote in a Twitter post.

Family focus

SWEDEN'S immigration service has forced to turn single men away because it no longer has sufficient accommodation to house them and will concentrate on families.

BELGIUM

Sexism storm

A DRIVER who told a female police officer she should do a woman's job is the first person to be convicted of sexism under a new Belgian law.

Fever pitch

BELGIUM and the Netherlands peacefully swap 27 football fields of land as they adjust their national borders to reflect.

On the march

CATALAN independence: 45,000 protesters march in Brussels to support exiled president Carles Puigdemont. Demonstrators also want the EU to support Catalan independence.

Culture clash

BELGIUM has become the first country in the world to appoint a woman as its ambassador to Saudi Arabia, in an apparent show of defiance to the oil-rich autocracy notorious for its abuses of women's rights.

NETHERLANDS

Gramp theft auto

THE Dutch infrastructure minister has rejected claims that police discriminated against elderly motorists by suspending their driving licences. In the last three years 229 drivers over the age of 70 had their licences confiscated.

Trunk fall

THE first baby elephant to be born in Emmen's Wildlands Zoo has arrived right on cue for the Easter holiday weekend. The male calf was born at around 12.30am on Monday and was named Mauk by staff.

Big bang teary

PEOPLE living close to Schiphol airport are taking government inspectors to court for failing to take action against excessive aircraft noise.

Private protest

HAIR SALONS, bakeries and transport firms are just some of the private sector businesses targeted in a national strike that will begin on Sunday, if employers' and workers' organisations fail to agree on new contracts.

Foreign policy

ISRAEL'S ambassador to Norway, Raphael Schutz, has stirred up protests from Norwegian political leaders after he described one of his many Norwegian critics as being 'a descendant of Quisling.'

Mountain horror

A NORWEGIAN man in his 40's was killed when he was caught in an avalanche on the steep slopes near Kleppstad at Vågan in Lofoten last Sunday despite warnings that the area was dangerous.

Back of the grid

IN March, six months after the prices of the toll on the ring road in Oslo were significantly increased, traffic has declined by 4.5 per cent compared with the same month last year.

DENMARK

Class divide

DENMARK is unlikely to adopt Sweden's air travel tax as the government considers low-income people can travel less or will have to stay at home.

Moving on RECENT demographic statistics in Denmark show as many as two-thirds of marriages are likely to end in divorce so plans are designed so that minors are given top priority in the event of a marriage breakdown.

What a nerve

THERESA MAY will be in Copenhagen next Monday to meet with her Danish counterpart Lars Løkke Rasmussen. The meeting is expected to concern the poison attack in the UK, while Brexit will also be on the agenda.

Data sting

THE Danish intelligence agency is storing sensitive data in a secret database and politicians have demanded an explanation from the Justice Ministry over PET revelation.

Spanish firm wins UK deal

A SPANISH construction firm has landed a €161 million contract to build a motorway in the UK.

Madrid-based Sacyr beat off the competition to bag a 60 per cent slice of the €250 million scheme for the 26-kilometre A6 motorway between Dungiven and Durmahoe Dualling in Northern Ireland.

The stretch is part of the North Western Transport Corridor connecting Belfast and Londonderry, and the remaining 40 per cent of the project will be carried out by local Willis Bros.

Summer cheer for TV fans

SOME of the UK's biggest television broadcasters have relaxed their online regulations.

Britons in Spain and mainland Europe are now able to access pay-TV subscriptions, including Premier League football, without breaking the rules due to a new European Union digital single market decree.

Firms including Sky, ITV, Netflix and Amazon have been forced to open up their online TV services Now TV, ITV Hub+ and Prime Instant Video to users on the continent since Monday.

By Matt Ford

Prior to the move subscribers were unable to legally access their accounts and were forced to miss their favourite shows or rely on illegal streams.

"The new portability rules for online content is great news for TV lovers everywhere," said Gidon Katz, managing director of Sky's Now TV service. "Holidays are all about unwinding and it is clear TV is a big part about how Brits relax, so it's great news that you can swap your sofa for a sunbed and your cuppa for a cocktail and never have to worry about missing your favourite TV on holiday again."

Free TV service providers are not adopting the new measure, however.

The BBC says that its iPlayer registration system is not secure enough to stop non-licence fee payers accessing content, while ITV and Channel 4 currently rake in around €1.1 billion per year selling shows to European broadcasters, meaning they are unlikely to ever follow the recommendation.

Airlines' €4m payout insult

MORE than 10,000 British travellers are being denied compensation from airlines totalling €4.6 million.

TUI, formerly known as Thompson, owes the most, with 5,000 passengers awaiting claims totalling €2.7 million, with budget carrier easyJet failing to reimburse more than 3,000 holiday-makers €1.7 million.

Travellers are entitled to compensation if their flight is more than three hours late, but law firm Bott and Co said that TUI in particular "displays ignorance" by disobeying court rulings.

Quote of the Week

Under plausible assumptions, the de-leveraging process of the public sector towards levels considered safer will be very gradual in Spain... possibly taking up to several decades." Bank of Spain Governor Luis Maria Linde.

MPs set to vote on delayed budget

THE Spanish government has presented its 2018 draft budget, six months late.

It comes after political instability in troubled northern region Cataluña delayed the process.

Finance Minister Cristobal Montoro said he forecasts a 2.7 per cent rise in gross domestic product and that unemployment will fall to 15.5 per cent this year.

State expenditure is to climb by 3 per cent to €327.9 billion, of which €246.28 billion will be set aside for pensions, payments to regional governments and unemployment benefits.

State income from taxes will soar by 6 per cent to more than €210 billion, the wage ceiling for income tax exemption has been boosted by €2,000 to €14,000 per annum, and there will be rebates for those earning less than €18,000 per year.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER: Spain's finance minister Cristobal Montoro and President of the Congress of Deputies Ana Pastor Julian present the long overdue 2018 draft budget.

ing less than €18,000 per year.

Prime Minister Mariano Rajoy's cabinet has already approved the draft, which now faces a parliamentary vote amid calls for the leader's resignation should it fail to be passed.

» BUSINESS EXTRA

Bubble alert checked out

INDUSTRY experts have warned that Spain faces a 'supermarket bubble' after the total reached 20,100 by the end of 2017, up from 17,148 in 2008 and equivalent to 3.4 for each 1,000 citizens compared to a European average of 2.6.

Pretty penne

SPAIN'S Ebro Foods - one of the world's leading rice producers - has snapped up 70 per cent of Italian filled pasta firm Bertagni, the world's oldest, for a fee in the region of €130 million, according to reports.

Jobs boom

THE number of people registered with social security in Spain has topped 18.5 million for the first time since December 2008, but critics say that more than 80 per cent of employment contracts issued in March were temporary.

Travel giant forks out

EUROPE'S largest travel and tourism firm TUI has splashed €110 million to buy back part of Spanish hotel room company Hotelbeds Group.

The sale includes the group's Destination Management division, which comprises the global brands Destination Services, Intercruises and Pacific World.

TUI sold Hotelbeds for €1.2 billion in 2016, but CEO Fritz Jousen said that it had proven impossible to split the company at the time, and that the purchase represents good value for money.

He added that the aim is to sell additional 'in-destination' activities to holidaymakers between them booking and leaving on their trips.

"That's a period where we can virtually exclusively offer these customers such services," the executive said.

EURO

EUR/GBP: Down from £0.89 to £0.87

EUR/USD: Up from $1.21 to $1.24

The outlook of the European Central Bank (ECB) has been a major source of movement for the euro in recent weeks amid discussions over when the bank would seek to begin raising interest rates.

While the ECB's March policy meeting saw the bank remove the easing bias from its policy statement, the news that the ECB would be winding up its stimulus programme was undermined by a dovish outlook from President Mario Draghi.

The euro also found its advance limited in March as more modest Eurozone economic data was seen as further evidence that growth in the bloc may have begun to level out in 2018.

Looking ahead, the ECB's path towards tightening monetary policy is likely to remain in the spotlight for EUR investors over the coming month, with the euro possibly spiking if the bank strikes a more bullish tone in April's policy meeting.

Pound

GBP/EUR: Up from €1.12 to €1.14

GBP/USD: Up from $1.37 to $1.41

Speculation of an upcoming rate hike from the Bank of England (BoE) was the main contributing factor to the pound's advance in March, which saw GBP climb to its highest levels of 2018.

Some impressive UK wage growth figures saw most investors lock in a May rate hike from the BoE, limiting the impact of hawkish comments from policymakers in the wake of the BoE's March policy meeting.

Sentiment was also lifted by some positive progress in Brexit negotiations as the UK and EU were able to come to an agreement over a transition period.

Brexit developments are likely to continue dictating the direction of the pound over the next month, with market sentiment likely to dip again unless some positive progress is made towards a post-Brexit trade deal with the EU.

US Dollar

USD/GBP: Down from £0.72 to £0.70

USD/EUR: Down from €0.81 to €0.80

The Federal Reserve voted to raise interest rates again in March, with anticipation of the hike lending some underlying strength to the US dollar throughout the month, although a more cautious outlook from the Fed saw USD tumble in the immediate wake of the decision.

The US dollar has also faced considerable pressure in recent weeks as Donald Trump shocked markets by announcing blanket tariffs on steel, triggering concerns about the possibility of a US-led trade war.

The potential for further US political or trade uncertainty is likely to keep USD on its toes over the coming weeks, with any further shake up in the White House likely to reflect negatively on the US dollar.

'HOLY GRAIL OF SHIPWRECKS' ROW GOES ON €14bn treasure hunters

THE Colombian government has sparked outrage after pledging to spend millions in public funds to raise a treasure-filled Spanish warship from the depths.

The galleon San Jose was found by an American search team in 1981 after lying at the bottom of the sea for more than 300 years.

The 60-gun Spanish navy vessel was transporting a six-year haul of gold, silver, and precious jewels back to Spain from the Americas in 1708, when it was attacked by the British Royal Navy.

But the ship was blown up after a battle broke out, with almost 600 Spanish sailors drowning as it sank in the Caribbean Sea near the Colombian port of Cartagena.

According to estimates, the booty on board is now worth €8-14 billion, and president Juan Manuel Santos last week revealed plans for a €57.5 million splurge to recover the precious cargo.

He said that some of the cash will be spent on building a laboratory and museum for preserving archaeological and cultural remains.

However there is an ongoing dispute between Spain, US-based salvage company Sea Search Armada (SSA), which found the wreck, and Colombia over who should claim the haul.

Madrid has always claimed that the boat flew the state flag, was crewed by Spaniards and that the site is a Spanish war grave, a tactic it has successfully used to reclaim sunken warships in the past.

The SSA agreed to share details of the galleon's location with Colombia in 1984 on the understanding it would receive a 35 per cent cut of the treasure.

But the Colombian parliament failed to honour the deal, passing a law entitling SSA to a 5 per cent 'finder's fee' taxed at 45 per cent.

SSA sued, sparking an 18-year legal battle which ended in 2007, when the Colombian Supreme Court ruled that SSA should receive 50 per cent of the hoard.

In 2015, President Santos claimed that a Colombian team had located the wreck in a different location to that reported by SSA and reasserted ownership of the ship.

He appears set to push on with plans to raise the San Jose as the decades-long quarrel rumbles on.

Built on deep foundations

A SPANISH banking foundation has been named the third-largest organisation of its kind in the world.

The Foundation of the Valencia-based La Caixa group is worth €24 billion, according to the Coordinadas Institute of Governance and Applied Economics.

The organisation - which manages social welfare body Obra Social - is beaten only by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, which has assets valued at €32.8 billion, and the UK-based Wellcome Trust, worth an estimated €26.3 billion.

La Caixa also ranks third globally in terms of annual investment, having spent more than €500 million on philanthropic projects for the 10th consecutive year in 2017.

The Gates Foundation last year laid out €3.4 billion and Wellcome Trust €1.4 billion.

High street battle goes on

SUPERMARKET TAKES AIM AT ONLINE GIANTS

FRENCH supermarket giant Carrefour is to massively expand the number of products available to Spanish internet shoppers.

The retailer's offshoot Carrefour Spain wants to increase its range of goods by launching a digital marketplace open to third party suppliers.

And the move will see the firm's catalogue skyrocket from its current 100,000 items to more than two million.

It comes after the chain successfully opened online marketplaces in France and Poland, with a Belgian version in the pipeline.

Rafael Sanchez-Sendarrubias, director of ecommerce for Carrefour Spain, said: "We consider that it is a disruptive and quite interesting idea for our customers."

"The biggest advantage of a marketplace is the speed: to be able to have a wide offer in a very short time."

"A marketplace is a magical place that can bring together the interests of customers and sellers."

One intriguing aspect of the marketplace platform is the 'click and collect' service, allowing customers to pick up their goods from a local hypermarket or smaller outlet.

High tech digital terminals will also be installed in the firm's shops so customers can make online purchases if they are unable to find what they need in store.

As internet market leader Amazon proved after installing collection lockers in American supermarkets, introductions like these can increase footfall.

Carrefour's online offering is already established in Spain, attracting 87 million visits, 35 million unique users and around 320 million page views per year, according to figures from the National

ONE STOP SHOP: Carrefour hopes the new platform will send sales soaring.

Institute of Statistics.

Carrefour says that third party suppliers will be able to list their products on the marketplace free of charge and with no fixed time limit, and will also consider selling popular products in its stores.

Business-owners can simply upload their products to the platform and wait for the orders to come in via email from the marketplace team.

They must then pack and send out the orders, before being paid by Carrefour, which will snap up an unconfirmed cut of each sale.

The move marks an increasing trend by brick and mortar retailers to increase their range by hosting third party suppliers online as they struggle to compete with Amazon and eBay.

Power supplier scoops €770m mega contract

SPANISH multinational electricity firm Iberdrola has bagged a €770 million contract to link the United States and Canada.

The Bilbao-based company beat off competition from 45 rivals to win the 20-year agreement.

It will see a new 230-kilometre high voltage line built, which when complete will send electricity generated from 'clean' wind and water sources from Canada to Maine, New England.

The scheme is expected to generate 3,700 jobs and become operational in 2020 according to Iberdrola president Ignacio Sanchez Galan.

He added: "The awarding of this contract reaffirms our commitment to clean energy and long-term infrastructure projects... while also increasing our presence in the US, a key market for future investment."

The project is expected to supply 1.5m customers while reducing carbon dioxide emissions by the equivalent of 296,000 cars.

The cheats can cry all they like

OTHERS THINK IT

OH dear. Poor little dinkums.

Didn't the sight of all those weeping willow wielders fair bring a tear to your eyes? Well it didn't mine. These so called Australian 'sportsmen' were not sports at all. They were cheats. They weren't crying because they were repentant, they were crying because they got caught.

Had their underhanded, unsporting actions gone undetected, they would have been splashed across the media all butch bronzed and beaming - with eager sponsors queuing up to pour even more money into their already over-stuffed coffers. And there's the rub. These days sport is all about money. Gone are the glorious days of true sportsmen and women who competed against each other out of pure pride and sporting rivalry.

During the amateur days of yore, apart from a couple of countries who used events as propaganda exercises, I can't recall any accusations of cheating by the competitors or officials. Nowadays they are all at it. Doping, drugging, betting and game throwing are now regular features on the back pages of the nationals. Hardly any corner of the sporting world has not been infected by this greedy virus that leads to the 'win at any cost' attitude that prevails among the athletes of today.

And you know what really sticks in my craw. Sooner or later they all seem to wheedle their way back in. Even those who commit, what are to my mind unforgivable offences, are, after the authorities have considered their wrists have been slapped hard enough, allowed back in to carry on as though nothing has happened!

Well, if I had my way, this unsporting bunch of arrogant manipulators would never be allowed to partake in any sporting event again. I also think they should be heavily fined and stripped of all past medals and winner's awards. After all, who knows how long they have been at it? We must bear in mind, that they have also been cheating the public. When sports fans indulge in these events we like to think that everyone involved is competing against each other in an equally fair and legal manner, otherwise what's the point?

No, they can cry all they like. If it comes on top, they should all get the chop. Don't lie and cheat if you can't take the heat! That's my opinion anyway. After all it's just not cricket is it clobber?

Another pair of wailers this week were the despicable duo who were dubbed 'the Beatles' (I bet that pleased Paul and Ringo!), by their equally despicable Daesh leaders after they were quite rightly relieved of their UK citizenship.

'We don't belong anywhere' they simpered. 'We won't get a fair trial.'

'Who's going to campaign for us.' What?! 'Our Mums won't know where we are,' they drivelled on. You really couldn't make it up. Perhaps they should have thought of these things when they were sawing off the heads of journalists or torturing and crucifying innocent aid workers. I wonder what sort of a fair trial those poor victims got? Not a lot I'll be bound.

No-show diners take big bite out of restaurants' piece of the pie

Nora Johnson

Breaking Views

Nora is the author of popular psychological suspense and crime thrillers and a freelance journalist. To comment on any of the issues raised in her column, go to www.euroweeklynews.com/3.0.15/nora-johnson

NO-SHOWS, the curse of many UK restaurants, are now so commonplace that some name and shame them online like local papers once did to paedophiles.

Over one single weekend a Peterborough restaurant lost £3,000, while over a month an Edinburgh chef had 450 no-shows and cancellations. Apparently, people book several restaurants, making a final choice on the night.

Perhaps it's all down to impersonal online booking systems making it too easy to 'ghost' without blame?

Similarly, no-shows for house viewings with estate agents are also common across the industry. Sadly, this is how many people behave these days and actually think it's OK.

Maybe one solution for restaurants is non-refundable deposits - or like an increasing number of restaurants especially in hipster Hackney, decline all bookings and simply open the doors? And if it gets full, just turn 'em away.

No shows at restaurants are bad enough, but in the NHS, they come at a huge cost - last year alone they cost the NHS £1 billion - and take away appointments from those really in need.

As for 'ghost' appointments, I know of someone who regularly books a GP's appointment a month in advance, then if she doesn't need it, simply cancels. Which is one way round the problem of not being able to get an appointment, I suppose - and sums up today's '#me, me, me' culture.

While a no-bookings system clearly wouldn't work in today's NHS, it's not unknown.

One GP's surgery, I read about decades ago, had benches. You arrived, took your seat and slid along onto the bench in front as patients were seen, until you were next in line.

Finally, heard about the waiter fired for rudeness in Canada claiming he was 'just being French'? But rudeness is hardly a uniquely French trait, is it? Many European countries, umm, serve up something similar.

Perhaps he should be 'time-travelled' back across the pond to Torquay, and have a stint at that bastion of politeness, Fawlty Towers. Question is: would he get his just desserts there from Basil?

Spanish Queen's peerless blue diamond at Noble Jewels sale

Nick Horne The Rich Pick

Freelance correspondent, London, England

AFTER the Wars of Spanish Succession were concluded more than 300 years ago; at Parma in Italy, Princess Elisabeth Farnese married Philip V of Spain.

While the intrigues of Europe swirled, a spectacular wedding gift was making its way from the Philippines to Madrid. Spain had issued instructions to the Governors of its colonies throughout its overseas empire that suitable wedding gifts were to be sent to Madrid.

A year later in August 1715 a fleet assembled and sailed from the island of Cuba. The Golden Fleet - 12 ships carrying a fortune in gold bullion and a casket of enormous emeralds - set sail for Europe and Spain. Unfortunately 10 days later a hurricane scattered and destroyed most of the fleet off the coast of Florida.

One vessel survived and escaped and she was carrying a pear-shaped blue diamond sent by the Governor of the Philippine Islands, a gift to the new Spanish Queen.

Blue diamonds were viewed as the ultimate royal gift, blue was identified as the colour of royalty - blue blood - and like the famous Hope and Wittelsbach diamonds the Farnese Blue was found in the Golconda mines of India, which was the sole source of diamonds until the discoveries in Brazil in the 1720's.

As Elizabeth and Philip's descendants married into Europe's royal dynasties, Elizabeth Farnese passed the diamond to her favourite son Philip Duke of Parma (1720-1765), continuing down the line passing through four of Europe's dynasties.

Documented by Maria Anna von Habsburg (1882-1940) Arch Duchess of Austria, the wife of Elias Bourbon, Duke of Parma (1880-1959) created a detailed inventory of the family jewels such that a record exists charting the fascinating history of these jewels. Among them the Farnese Blue.

Each May in Geneva ever since, the famed sale of the Jewels of the Duchess of Windsor, Sotheby's auction house has held the Royal and Nobel Jewels sale, this year titled 'Magnificent Jewels and Noble Jewels.'

The fascination of pedigreed 'Nobel Jewels' and their desirability remains strong. Dr Philip Herzog von Württemberg, chairman of Sotheby's Europe said: "With its incredible pedigree, the Farnese Blue ranks among the most historic diamonds in the world. From the first minute I saw the stone, I could not resist its magic and as such it is a huge privilege to have been entrusted with its sale."

The peerless Farnese Blue a 6.16 carat pear-shaped blue diamond has an estimate of €2.99 to €4.28 million. But the story is priceless.

TECH FOR THE TIMID

REMEMBER when computers were huge chunky towers with noisy fans, colonising vast areas of our desktop or floor?

Oh, how insensitive of me: yours still is. Forgive me if I've become slightly supercilious now that I have a tiny new desktop toy and have seen the future of computing.

A complete computer in a cube, it's barely a CD case on steroids, stuffed with the latest processor, memory and solid-state hard-drive, and it's light-years more powerful than many computer towers big enough to smuggle children across Checkpoint Charlie.

Welcome to the era of the Mini PC. Albeit a belated welcome, because while the rest of us have been getting on with life the universe and everything, Intel, HP, Asus, Gigabyte and scores of Asian innovators have been jumping on the Mini PC bandwagon. Indeed, the device I am now wooing is already in its sixth generation.

As fewer consumers buy traditional desktops, and with laptops dominating the new computer market, compressing laptop miniaturisation into a hybrid desktop version was inevitable.

Don't cry for me Argentina if something breaks, says Terence Kennedy

Inside these compact cubes is a tightly-packed circuit board, a processor with or without an almost silent fan depending on its power, one or two RAM (memory) sticks, and either your own SSD (solid state hard-drive) or an onboard one, depending on the model and price range.

Mini, or cube, or 'NUC' computers (Next Unit of Computing, a truly awful name Intel probably went with because no-one dared to contradict the boss) free your desk of the clutter of a monster machine. They can even be bolted to the back of the monitor, out of sight and reach.

Less than a €100 buys you a basic Chinese mini (just add a keyboard, monitor or mouse), all the way up to several hundreds for one which could calculate Pi to several squintillion decimal places, make coffee and play an infinite number of cat videos.

They come ready-made, or as so-called 'barebones' systems where you choose and install your own memory, storage media and operating system.

They're also bought as fancy home theatre media centres, to power in-store marketing displays, and as the ideal solution for workers who 'hot-desk' between workplaces, just unplug the cube and pop it in your briefcase.

Mini magic

HARD to believe you can buy a complete Mini PC for just €89 in a growing market for these tiny wonders.

But beware: for that you only get an 'Atom' processor (slow), 2 GB of memory (barely adequate for Windows 10) and 32 GB of on-board storage (which will soon fill up).

Amazingly it does include a legitimate copy of Windows 10, whose licence alone would probably cost you that.

Far better to pony up for something better. This new love of my life has a quad-core processor, 8 GB of RAM and 240 GB of storage, and gave me change from €300.

Now you must excuse me while I pursue my latest affair. I wonder if it prefers flowers, chocolates or a bottle of Rioja?

Astrology: get ready, set, go!

Sally Trotman

www.sallytrotman.com

Sally Trotman is a qualified Counsellor who works with Astrology, Numerology and the Tarot. Each month she will deliver the forecast as an intuitive tool to aid increased self awareness.

SUN in Aries: The fiery influence of this sign throughout most of April helps you to feel motivated and inspired to reach your goals.

Be confident and bold in your approach. As Aries is the first sign of the zodiac, consider where you need to take the lead this month. Take the initiative in love, work and socially to feel confident and positive about yourself!

On April 20 the sun moves into the more earthy and steady sign of Taurus. Later in the month use this energy to make practical plans to ensure your vision stands the test of time.

Get in tune with the moon:

The new moon in Aries on the 16th of the month will help you to plant the seeds for your vision. Now is the perfect time to create a vision board (pin pictures from newspapers and magazines of your dreams to a cork board) and seize opportunities that present themselves to help you create your desires. Aries is a sociable sign, so make fun a priority!

ARIES: The first sign of the zodiac.

Say yes to parties, lunches and weekends away. At the end of the month the full moon in psychic Scorpio will help you to discern what is working for you and what needs to change in your life.

This sign of rebirth can be intense and transformative, so prepare to make changes in any area of your life which may have become a little stagnant. Graciously release the old and become open to embracing the new.

Numerology: go with the flow

Number 4: This number brings your attention to the structure of your life, your daily routines and home. Is there anything you would like to change in these areas?

This would also be a good time to add something new into your routine, perhaps taking up a new hobby, making your fitness regime more of a priority or improving your home.

Is your daily routine serving you or do you need to make some simple changes, such as getting more rest or drinking more water? Take some time this month to make lifestyle changes which will help you to feel happier and healthier.

The Emperor: assert yourself

The Emperor is represented in the tarot deck as a mature man in charge of his destiny. He represents power and authority, whilst assuring protection and security. He also reminds you to balance your head with your heart.

Listen to your inner voice this month and blend this with practical action to help you reach your goals more quickly and easily.

Who are the influential males in your life? Consider who is an important role model to aspire to, and become the very best version of yourself.

Repeat this affirmation throughout the month to help you: I am clear, confident and calm in my approach to life.

Your 2018 forecast

Astrology, Numerology and the Tarot are ancient tools of divination which aid self-awareness. By looking at the unique numbers and planets in your date of birth, I will intuitively guide you to become clearer, calmer and more confident about your direction for the year ahead.

I offer consultations by Skype, FaceTime, WhatsApp video and email. Sessions cost £30 for 30 minutes, £40 for 45 minutes or £50 for an hour. Contact me at sally.trotman@btinternet.com to book in and visit www.sallytrotman.com for more information.

LPL strengthening their service

AS founders of LPL we are so pleased to see our Spanish representative Greg Bryan signing an agreement with the Administrador Fincas Colegiado which represents Administrators throughout the Alicante region.

This agreement gives a fantastic cost benefit to their membership. The members are made up of the bulk of community administrators in the region and there will be a direct benefit to the hundreds of communities represented by administrators when instructing LPL by paying fees for successful collection at a reduced rate.

It also allows us to meet regularly with the membership to discuss debt related issues in the UK, Spain and throughout Europe generally.

Of course LPL are pleased to also benefit from the services offered by the Alicante AFC by way of training, marketing, ongoing trends in the market place and as well as updates on Spanish law in particular.

LPL has been proud to also be associated with Malaga AFC with whom we have enjoyed a similar relationship for a number of years. Hundreds of communities in the Malaga region consistently benefit from lower costs and over the years we have had the opportunity to meet many administrators and their teams to understand the problems that all communities suffer from time to time.

I hope that the same benefits will translate to communities in the Alicante region and beyond.

Suffice to say that whilst we would all prefer there to be no community debt, it is a sad fact of life that management fee debt will continue. It is a problem not only in Spain, but LPL are also working for communities in Portugal, Cyprus and elsewhere, the problems are no different, it is just the language that changes.

It is worth noting that property laws and government controls on property purchase in Cyprus have, up until recently, been very lax indeed, allowing developers and land owners to take advantage of potential and future buyers. Obtaining high value deposits with no prospect of final build and also leaving other buyers obligated to pay high management fees on incomplete developments.

Fortunately the law is changing much along the lines of Spanish Horizontal law but if any of the readership have experienced problems in Cyprus, please let LPL know as we can put you in touch with specialist advisors who may be able to assist.

As some of you may know, LPL recently celebrated 40 years of successful collection. The recent contract signing with Alicante AFC is another milestone in our continued growth throughout Spain.

If your community has any management fee collection problems, wherever you may be situated, please do not hesitate to contact us on 0044 205 514 019, direct to Greg Bryan our representative in Spain on 0034 689 408 412 or email gbryan@lplgroup.com.

It all started on a small scale more than ten years ago. Today, the band is in demand all across Northern Europe, and in many parts of the USA as well.

From hobby to the big time

Bjarke Baisner sings, looks, acts and performs just like the legendary Freddie Mercury. And his four band members are equally enthusiastic. That's why the Queen Machine tribute act is the closest you can get to the real deal, and fans flock to their concerts in the thousands. "We are just like Queen in their younger days. When they were in their prime and always able to surprise on stage. This is also just how our audiences expect to see us," explains Peter Jeppesen, guitarist and spokesman for the band. He has been on board ever since things first got going in '07. "Back then it was just for fun, but things suddenly got serious – and in a good way. We went from playing for small audiences in tiny venues to standing before crowds of 10-20 thousand people at huge festivals. I don't quite get it, but people want to see us. They want to see Queen." And Queen Machine does their utmost to deliver the goods.

All the little details

The popular band takes great pride in developing their act and preparing for their performances, and they focus on all of the little details in order to make their concerts as authentic as possible. "We are always coming up with new shows and we pay attention to all of the subtleties so that we can get as close to the real Queen as we can," explains the Danish guitarist. For this reason, their costumes are tailor-made to look like the original ones worn by Queen, and their light shows and staging are set up just as they were at Queen concerts in the 80s. Attention is paid to every detail, including those which are too small to fully appreciate, such as the guitarist's plectrum, for example.

Brian May and Roger Taylor say okay

It is no ordinary plectrum; it's the old, original sixpence coin that Brian May used at the height of Queen's fame. "A few years ago, we had the pleasure of meeting Queen's original guitarist, Brian May, and the band's drummer Roger Taylor. They know us and our show, so we've got the thumbs up from them," concludes Peter Jeppesen cheerfully. The band has a long summer ahead touring across Europe and the USA, where they had a big breakthrough last year. But before then, Europe's best Queen tribute act will play their first concert ever on Spanish soil. On April 21, they will bring their legendary show to Castillo Sohail in Fuengirola.

About Cudeca

Since the cancer hospice Cudeca was established in 1992 it has cared for more than 14,000 cancer patients on Costa del Sol. Some patients stay in-house at Cudeca's hospice in Benalmádena, while others receive out-house treatment and care in their homes. All cancer patients can ask Cudeca for help regardless of the person's sex, age, religion and nationality. Last year alone Cudeca took care of more than 1,400 patients. And the number is growing every year. Therefore, the cancer hospice is in need of more resources. Just eight percent of Cudeca's budget is covered by public contributions. In other words, 92 percent is generated by private donations, charity shops and numerous charity events.

Beautiful Castillo Sohail

The old medieval castle in Fuengirola is considered one of the most beautiful concert venues in Andalucía. But this hasn't always been the case. Castillo Sohail was extremely damaged by wars in the past and at some point it was almost virtually destroyed. From 1995-97 the townhall restored and partially rebuilt the old castle. Now 15-20 concerts and other cultural activities are held at Castillo Sohail every year.

Paul Maxwell

The evening will offer lots of entertainment and really good music.

Paul Maxwell – also known as The Piano Man – performs frequently at the most popular venues in Marbella and has performed several times with prominent names like Lionel Richie, Gary Moore, Michael Bolton and Ricky Martin. Paul Maxwell will perform the biggest hits from Elton John, Louis Armstrong, Tom Jones and Tina Turner as well as his own music.

TV COUCH CRITIC

by Adam Whalley-Lewis

FANS of Saturday Night Take Away, Saturday ITV might have wondered how the show would feel with Dec flying solo for the final programmes. The show is after all Ant & Dec's Take Away and we all know that the Two Ronnies wouldn't have been the same with just one pair of enormous black rimmed glasses.

So, the big question was something like 'will Dec cope without Ant'? Answer, Yes. There were the predictable mutterings in some of the Sunday newspapers about Dec's body language showing he was nervous and him speaking more quickly than usual, but I didn't notice any problems. Of course there was an Ant-shaped gap for most of the show, but it lost none of the energy and bounce fans tune in for.

The penultimate show was packed with a gaggle of stars including Davina McCall and Paloma Faith and didn't Paloma look stunning in red leather? The 'This Time Next Year' segment featured Davina wearing enormous white boats, rather than shoes and a lovely Mum who was poorly on Mother's Day weekend so was surprised by her children last Saturday.

Her son Paul sang with the Jersey Boys, daughter Katie conquered her fear of flying with some therapy and a packet of hob-nobs (who knew?) and second son Craig sat so far away from Davina on the sofa I think they must have had competing aftershave and perfume on - clearly someone was worried about them getting too close. Oh and Craig introduced Mum's half-sister who nobody had seen for 30 years.

A take away on Saturday evening, a fondue set and a cuddly toy

Cilla would have been proud. The final Take Away of the current run is on ITV on April 7.

In TV news this week, Ben Fogle claims he was sacked from Countryfile because he sounded too posh. Well, the sacking was in 2009 and I don't think him sounding too posh was the real issue, do you? The Island with that Bear bloke is back and social media went into meltdown when the contestants were split into two groups according to their income.

The 'rich' team didn't want to engage with the 'not so rich' team - I didn't want to engage with any of them to be honest. Picture you knowing you are on a TV show, on an island and your outfit of choice is a black bikini top under a wet, white t-shirt and you are half way there. Oh, and the Have I Got News for You team are ramping up for yet another series of this never-ending show by claiming female politicians are not robust enough to host the show. Bull, red rag, you do the maths.

Another duo in the form of Mel and Sue have brought The Generation Game back to BBC1 on Sunday evenings, albeit for a very short run. I'm not sure what some people were expecting, but a show born and raised in the 1970's was always going to look just a little bit naff in 2018 and rely on some canned laughter. We still have the conveyor belt of prizes and if you are old enough to remember Sir Bruce and the cuddly toy, you probably weren't disappointed.

Finally this week, BBC TV is covering the 21st Commonwealth Games until April 15. If the opening ceremony was anything to go by, we are in for a sporting treat. Happy viewing.

Marbella Moments

by Nicole King

WHETHER you know it or not, Marbella Town Hall is very, very supportive of the international community and is very committed to helping us, but frequently some issues are actually created by us and only affect us and we shouldn't expect anyone else to take on the responsibility.

This is why I first wanted to help create a link with our local town hall and our international community, to explain things from their point of view too.

However having launched myself into our thriving multinational community I have been privy to so many points of view. It's quite fascinating: so many mini parallel universes dotted along our coastline that take you across the world without going anywhere.

I now have dear Russian, Iranian, Iraqi, Moroccan, Belgian, Dutch, French and Swedish friends as well as English to name but a few! What an eye opener it is to actually be able to see things through their eyes, from their experience and what an opportunity!

How cool could it get if we all take advantage of this practically unique set-up to meet and mix all these personalities from so many varied nationalities, seizing the moment to understand each other's beliefs and appreciate each other's ideas and points of view?

I've often thought that it would be a great idea for local kids to do exchanges within our international community, for example to practise their languages and get an international experience at a young age without the expense, but being fully immersed in another culture.

To put this into practice however takes more than just an idea.

Getting our cinemas and bars to ensure customers are of legal age before letting them into 'adult' movies or serving them with alcohol would certainly be a good idea to help parents of teens feel happier when their kids go out at night.

Our new #ZeroHero project is such a good idea that it won Marbella Now TV an award out of 40,000 other candidates of Linea Directa collaborators for our social value last month. However, no matter how good these two ideas may be, unless the owners of those local businesses get involved and embrace their social responsibility and commitment to our resident community, ideas they'll stay.

Similarly there are many services offering support to the isolated, elderly and infirm international community but if the hospitals and health care professionals are unaware of all that 'goodwill' out there everyone's efforts will go to waste.

This year's UNMS2018 therefore is mainly about communication, creating a network grapevine and our Marbella's movers and shakers committing to the community. Which really does, in one way or another, affect us all.

If you are interested in attending or finding out more information on this or previous United Nationalities Events please visit www.marbellanowtv.com.

I think it's a liberty!

Mike Senker

Views of a Grumpy Old Man

I WAS having a chat with a friend of mine and we were discussing bank charges here and I was moaning about charges that appear now and again. It's nothing monstrous but just like, in my case, I hadn't spent enough on my debit card over three months so they 'fined' me.

My friend then proceeded to tell me a horror story and asked my advice. I'm now going to tell you and I hope someone out there can let me know if this is common practice. I can't tell you the name of the bank but here's the story.

He was selling his house to buy a flat - all very simple, no mortgages involved, just straightforward payments in and out. He paid a deposit on the flat of €19,500 and the bank charged him €78 for that which is 0.4 per cent.

He then paid €379,637.82 into to the bank, a bank he has, by the way, been with for 17 years. They charged him €759.35 for paying the money IN to his own account. They then charged another €300 for him to pay €217,646.38 for his new place then another €150 for paying €37k to his lawyer. So, all in all, for making three payments and paying some money in they charged him just under €1,288. Why? What we don't understand is the charge for paying the money in to your own account - it's horrendous. The charge for the bank transfers are also too high but I appreciate there must be some charge.

When my friend queried these charges the bank refunded €300 but said 'you should have discussed it beforehand.' I think it's a liberty. Has anyone else come across this? He was told, off the record, because interest rates are so low, the banks are instructed to get money off customers any way they can which sounds like when I used to work the markets years ago.

This then brought me on to the subject of cancelling stuff here. Some time ago I got a reminder that my house insurance was due next month - with the same bank as it happens. So I looked around to make sure I was getting the best deal and guess what - I wasn't. We decided to cancel and go with a new company.

The bank then informed us that we can't do that as we have to give three months' notice to cancel the policy! What a joke! When I asked why all I got was the usual 'it's in the terms and conditions, page 105, sub section 96, blah blah.' Anyway we cancelled it and told them to sue us if they want to. We were even told we could get blacklisted. Nothing ever happened and we are now with a new company.

The yolk's on us says sharp eyed reader

RELUCTANT as I am to suggest that there is egg on Leapy's face, BUT 'the yolk's on him'!

Please would someone kindly tell him (or the beleaguered proof reader) that yolk is 'the yellow part of an egg that nourishes the young before it hatches'?

Methinks he means yoke, 'a wooden crosspiece fastened over the necks of two oxen and attached to a plough or wagon,' ie a symbol of oppression.

However, 'the yolk of fascism' does conjure up surreal images - in the style of Monty Python - of a bizarre episode of Celebrity Master Chef, with Mussolini et al, competing in a pancake tossing competition.

I could go on but I do not want to over egg the pudding!

A sad typo loving person who really should get out more...

Brexit is final live with it

DAVID WORBOYS says in his letter (Issue 1707) 'what we all know is that a majority in the UK now favour Remain.' He sounds very sure of this, so perhaps he could tell us where he gets his information.

Only last Friday the result of a substantial poll by BMG Research showed that 57 per cent agreed with the following statement 'The government should get on with implementing the result of the referendum to take Britain out of the EU.' Only 22 per cent disagreed with this statement.

Airports to reduce price of water

Nice to see someone is doing something about the ridiculous price of water in airports. Let's hope other countries follow, especially France where a 50cc bottle will cost you 3.65€ unless you can reach to the top shelf of the self serves and get the 'discounted' water at 2.50€ at CDG. The airport does have the odd drinking fountain where you could fill an empty bottle, but how many people carry an empty bottle!

Saya Sendiri

Give us water fountains then we can fill them before we board. Simple.

Elizabeth Bennett

In Dublin airport it is piled high in the corridor just past security with an honesty box for €1 beside it. I've watched and never seen anyone take them for free.

Jackie Fitzgerald

Hopefully airports in England will also do the same as I don't think it's exclusive to Spain.

Cyclists - know the law in Spain

Maybe cyclists using the public roads should be made to take a test as I've never seen one that adheres to rules. Or make it simple and introduce a few classes in schools at the age of 16 (as I wouldn't let anyone under that age ride a bike on the road).

Jennifer Knowles

I ride a bike regularly on the roads here and I see motorists breaking the law especially using mobiles and have no respect for the laws about passing cyclists. I too drive a car and a motorbike and adhere to the laws.

Peter Anthony Boland

They ride all over the road, cycle across the crossings, pull out and never stop at crossings. One just missed my husband down by the beach front.

One dead in bull-running festival

Stupid tradition and what is probably worse is that the bull is killed afterwards! Sorry for family, but do wish they stopped this.

Sian Foster

It's time to stop these stupid events. People are dying because they are too drunk even to walk.

Fran Ramirez

It may be a tradition set up many moons ago, but in this day and age when I feel strongly against cruelty to animals there is no place for this particular tradition or bull fighting.

Gillian Evans

May to early October, we have hardly any rain and they again become depleted, and this is a time when farming and tourism (and evaporation) uses most of the water.

Is it not time to build some desalination plants around the coast so we do not have to keep our eyes on falling stocks of water every summer? It is in and near coastal areas that a greater part of the population lives, so the fresh water would be where it is needed.

Gimme shelter

THROUGH the column of your esteemed newspaper I would like to draw attention to the concerned authorities that there is need of a bus shelter and bench for tourists at C/Gerona in front of Hotel sol Pelconos Benidorm.

The spot has been identified and functional for tourists in Benidorm. The tourist bus arrives every one hour and 15 minutes for a tour of Benidorm.

The said bus stop without bench and shed has and is causing lot of inconvenience to adults/old age people, mostly tourists.

Vexogram

MY wife Christine and I were Page 1 Pinups on Issue 1355 in 2011. The headline was 'Pickpocket trickster ruins couple's day.'

We were in Spain recently for one of our regular visits to our holiday home near Vera, when your Issue 1705 took a leaf out of that pickpocket's leaf and also ruined my day! I noticed that the Hexogram puzzle had disappeared from your puzzle page and it's not returned!

Please bring it back! I'll be over again in late May for a few weeks and will look for it! Please don't let me and many other readers down... bring it back and leave it back!

Rex Martin, Vera

Editor's note

Rex, thank you for your observation. Unfortunately, the size of any free paper is dictated by the number of adverts received which means that some weeks editions are thicker than others. This therefore means that the puzzles section can be either two or four pages. When four pages, there is a Hexogram puzzle and when two it is dropped.

Trivia from around the world

 The Green Zone or Tornio Golf Club has nine holes in Sweden and the other nine in Finland.

 Anywhere between 30 and 40 per cent of Mongolia's population is nomadic, with families moving around the country with their livestock to seek the best conditions at a given time.

 Bolivia, not Brazil, is the world's leading exporter of Brazil nuts.

 The Democratic Republic of the Congo hosts the world's largest United Nations peace-keeping mission, consisting of around 21,000 soldiers from about 50 countries.

 Around 70 per cent of all university graduates in the United Arab Emirates are women, who also fill about two thirds of all government jobs.

 Russia, Greenland, Canada, the USA, Norway, Iceland, Sweden and Finland

DID YOU KNOW?

Around 93 per cent of Africans have access to a mobile phone, but less than one in three have proper drainage systems. The lead author of the report which compiled the data said many used their mobiles while not having electricity at home.

YOUR STARS FOR NEXT 7 DAYS

AQUARIUS
(January 21 - February 19)

You are about to tackle some tough tests. Work and personal hurdles could preoccupy you, but after the weekend you'll be able to sort out the ice from the cream. No matter how awkward things seem on Monday or Wednesday, trust your ability to wait for the right moment, rather than risk spoiling your plans.

PISCES
(February 20 - March 20)

Feisty Mars and the fiery Sun are warring with changeable Pluto, so avoid any tearaway temptations on Thursday or Friday. You could be emotionally vulnerable, or even lulled into a false sense of security. However confusing the planets may seem, even out the odds as best you can by ensuring your worries take second place.

ARIES
(March 21 - April 20)

Hassles and battles are on the cards. If things don't happen as fast as you'd expected, or domestic and workaday blips assail your patience, transform them into an opportunity to show your special qualities. Potent planetary influences urge you to look, listen, learn and refuse to allow petty stumbling blocks to undermine your confidence on Tuesday and Thursday.

TAURUS
(April 21 - May 21)

Astrologically, it's not unreasonable to assume that when sparky Mars and the zesty Sun conflict with restless Pluto, life could become a tad frustrating. You might find it hard to tolerate hypocrisy and setbacks, but fortunately, it's all just a passing cloud. Regardless of any lack of continuity, concentrate on keeping going and prepare for next week's brighter outlook.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

Punchy Mars and the heady Sun are set for a scramble with touchy Pluto. You've been there before, so despite any administrative bumps, gossip whirls or curious rejections, don't be too sensitive. Add up what you've achieved, subtract your fears and keep your emotions under control.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

Upfront Mars and the upbeat Sun will be at loggerheads with powerful Pluto. You might not appreciate some of Friday or Saturday's antics, so be ready to use your charm, or perhaps your equally wicked sense of humour will do the trick.

LEO
(July 24 - August 23)

This is an intense week, and if you get stuck with a particular issue, jumble your words, or just can't seem to do anything right, it might be worth finding out if the grass is greener on the other side.

VIRGO
(August 24 - September 23)

Quirky planetary niggles will surface without warning. A variety of talks, news and last-minute changes surround your family members, friends or colleagues. No matter what affects your personal or occupational activities, stay focused, decide what your goals are and, just as importantly, find the easiest way to move forward without losing your healing sense of humour.

LIBRA
(September 24 - October 23)

Even the best-made plans can suddenly sink without a trace. Your dreams for a fresh start in one particular direction still need tender, cautious care, and you may equally need to be wary of overstepping the mark where money's concerned.

SCORPIO
(October 24 - November 22)

You will need bucketloads of humour and understanding as impatient Mars and the sprightly Sun engage with touchy Pluto. Stay well clear if you want to escape potential power struggles.

SAGITTARIUS
(November 23 - December 21)

If you suspect that some things are not what they seem, you could be right. Repel doubts, ban anxieties and stick to facts and tact. If certain individuals or situations continue to conspire against you, change course and do something entirely different. What goes around will come around quicker than you think.

CAPRICORN
(December 22 - January 20)

Storms in tea-cups need loads of sweet-talking. Of course, if you can't be bothered with it all, fair enough; keeping quiet could be the best way to deal with problems, glitches or sudden backfires. If you can't take a break, at least chill out with whatever or whoever brings you the greatest pleasure.

A company that cares about mobility problems

PROFESSIONALS in the sector since 2010, Total Access understands the needs of those who find it difficult to move up and down stairs and offers a solution for every problem.

Originally situated in El Albir, the company has just opened another branch in Marbella, as the two principals in the area; Carlos Arbona and Quirze Giner believe that they can assist expatriate residents in Malaga Province who have mobility problems.

The problem may be a simple difficulty in climbing due to age or an infirmity such as arthritis in which case a stair lift may be the answer, but for those who are confined to a wheelchair then an internal or external lift may be more helpful.

Even a simple ramp or adapted bath or shower could make life easier for young and old alike.

All of the material used by Total Access is imported from major manufacturers in Germany and Holland and there is a team of skilled installers on hand to ensure a speedy and professional installation for your new equipment.

Reliability is the keyword to the company's ethic and with installation of most units can be undertaken in a single day and with all work insured, the majority of the worries that may exist with such an important decision will become things of the past.

Total Access will visit potential clients at home, review their needs and then prepare an immediate written proposal based on client wishes, taking into account any financial guidelines and in some cases, financing can be arranged.

Offering a range of different aids including stair lifts, platforms, internal lifts and even water lifts for swimming pools.

There is no doubt that Total Access can help make life much easier for those both young and old who are finding access and egress difficult.

Once an arrangement has been made and the work has been completed, so confident are the owners of Total Access in the quality of installation that they encourage customers to retain 10 per cent of the purchase price for two weeks after completion in order to give them peace of mind that in the unlikely event of any malfunction that the problem will be ad-

Facing the music

THE face is obviously on the front line when it comes to trying to retain one's youth.

But new research suggests that if you really want to freeze the ageing process in time, you will have to leave the north face and advance south to the lower half and neck.

Of course there isn't a product on the market that can beat gravity, and for most people the first signs of trouble start in the mid-30's with the decline of collagen and elastin.

However, both surgical and non-surgical lower facelifts are all the rage now, and cosmetic surgeons are increasingly championing the use of Botox in the lower face.

An injection can be placed into the masseter muscle (the one used to clench the jaw) to re-adjust downturned mouths or into the platysmal bands to smooth out the neck.

Women are also adding skin tightening treatment to their beauty regime, purchasing products which use a radio-frequency energy to heat up the lower layers of the skin, stimulating collagen production.

Some will invariably go for full surgery on the lower face, and those who do should expect one or two nights in hospital, two weeks off work and three weeks off exercise.

Credit: Flickr, Health Women

IN the hectic hustle and bustle of the modern world, finding time to switch off and disconnect can be difficult.

However, with cases of anxiety and depression reportedly on the rise, it's now more important than ever to put aside the time to focus on yourself and de-stress.

It's easy to confuse the true purpose of meditation. It's about clearing your mind of any thoughts whatsoever, not trying to concentrate harder on something.

Meditation has been shown to have a positive effect on mental health conditions such as anxiety, insomnia and depression.

ing focus and promoting relaxation, which can do wonders for concentration levels.

It also has a positive impact physically, as well as mentally, as it lowers high blood pressure and helps to reduce any tension-related pain, such as ulcers, headaches or muscle and joint problems.

HEALING: Herbs and spices have lots of health benefits.

Staying spicy

WHILE most people have a cupboard full of herbs and spices at home, which they will arbitrarily add to dishes and culinary experiments, they are mostly unaware of the many health benefits they possess.

However, the nutritional value is much higher when the herbs and spices are fresh and organic and haven't been sitting on a shelf for a long time. Try to grow them yourself if possible, but if you can't, buy high quality organic products.

Most herbs and spices have antiviral and antibacterial properties and are packed with nutrients. Several are also high in b-vitamins and minerals.

Even sea salt contains more than 90 trace minerals, while many herbs and spices contain more antioxidants than most fruits and vegetables.

Turmeric, for example, contains curcumin which is a compound known to fight cancer and is often taken medicinally to reduce inflammation and improve joint mobility.

Meanwhile cayenne helps to improve the absorption of nutrients, boost circulation and protect against heart problems.

Oregano, on the other hand, is high in antioxidants and its leaves and oil are used to treat coughs, congestion, fevers and aches.

Bladder problems? Urine luck

EMBARASSING bladder problems could be a thing of the past for thousands of women, thanks to a simple jab.

Stress urinary incontinence (SUI), which is more common in mothers and overweight women, could be treated by an injection as opposed to invasive surgery.

Studies show that eight out of 10 women have seen an improvement with the procedure, meaning it could be a game changing alternative to the now banned mesh-implant operation previously on offer.

Health experts last year warned against mesh-based operations, after reports of complications with healing which left women suffering severe pain.

Now there could be a safer, non-invasive option that involves having up to four injections of watery gel in the tissue surrounding the neck of the bladder.

The jabs, which thicken the tissue to stop urine leaking, are carried out under local anaesthetic and last just 15 minutes.

Initially reserved for older women considered not fit for surgery, the treatment has no known side effects, apart from the pain of the injection, which has been compared to a dental anaesthetic jab.

A superb restaurant in a great setting

VILLALINDA is a stunning restaurant that can be found on the A-387 road from Fuengirola up to Mijas Pueblo, Carretera de Mijas about 1 km, north of the AP7 motorway junction on the left.

It has been open for just over a year and for those of you who have not had the opportunity to visit are highly recommend to do so. There are four dining areas, the Wine room, Sun room, Side room and Patio together with a huge terrace giving breathtaking views.

Some words that define the menu are: freshly cooked to a high standard, very reasonably priced, exceptional: flavours, presentation and delivery. Besides the fully a la carte menu Restaurant Villalinda offers as well a weekly special menu from Tuesday to Saturday from 6pm, three courses for €25 and a truly mouthwatering Sunday Roast from 1pm.

Also available are several vegan and vegetarian choices. To complement the lovely food, they serve a large selection of wines, the professional waiters will be pleased to help you to choose the right one with your meal.

The large terrace will be open again from May 1 which is perfect for an after work drink in the lounge bar area where they offer a menu with over 60 different gins to choose from or enjoy a relaxed dinner with your loved ones.

It's another birthday for the timeless JoysLive

TIME passes so quickly that it is almost impossible to believe that the new JoysLive in Puerto Banus is celebrating its fifth anniversary tonight (Thursday).

The premier nightclub on the frontline of Banus overlooking the marina is exciting every night but every anniversary celebration so far has been really special and what's more, entry is free.

A whole host of regular JoysLive favourites will be performing although there are two stars who really shouldn't be missed.

Paul Piano Man Maxwell and his band will be on stage, performing some of the great numbers that have made him so popular not only on the coast but have also elevated him to the first choice of support for such visitors as Seal, George Benson and many more.

Also appearing on a night which will almost certainly see some surprises, will be Cuban star Yanela Brooks who really knows how to get a party going.

This stunning pianist, composer, arranger and singer Yanela was born into a family of musicians and started learning the piano at the age of seven.

The scintillating Yanela Brooks.

Since then, she has performed with some of the great Latino bands, appeared before 30,000 people in Madrid, taken part in a number of nationwide tours, appeared as a contestant on Spanish TV in La Voz as a stunning Tina Turner and has released a selection of singles.

You are always guaranteed a great night at JoysLive which is open until the early hours, but tonight is going to buzz with some of the best music on the Costa del Sol.

3rd United Nationalities of Marbella Summit

THIS fascinating and important event will be held at Velvet Marbella, Avenida Del Prado local 2, 29660 Marbella on Tuesday April 24 from 10am to 2pm.

Please register now and join us for this year's Marbella Community Get-together #UNMS2018. www.marbelanowtv.com / UNMS2018.

Their last two summits really did sum it up and the organisers have clearly detected what is missing in the international community and what we, as a community, can do to resolve these issues that frequently only affect us, the expats, the foreigners.

This year's event is in collaboration with local consuls and other emblematic community members due to the importance of the matters in hand. Nicole King, whose brainchild this event is said "We implore school directors, presidents of charities and associations, press, restaurants, bars, clubs and discotheque owners, and anyone in a position to offer their services to our community and one another, to register for this event as Marbella community members with each other's well-being in mind. Together there is much we can do. We are #BetterTogether"

Registration will take place from 9.30am to 10am and then the Summit will commence with the main topics for discussion:

Summary results of the last two UNMS events. Establishment of a

Establishing which businesses are taking part in the #ZeroHero project (rewarding the designated driver).

UNM card and cross business / charity networking.

Register now www.marbelanowtv.com / UNMS2018 for this 100 per cent interactive FREE community event.

There will also be an exclusive networking luncheon from 2.30pm to 4.30pm at Velvet Marbella for which there will be a separate charge.

Oh what a night (or nights) in May

AFTER 3,787 performances, the London production of Jersey Boys came to a triumphant close on March 25, 2017.

From the cast of this West End show was formed the vocal band Valli Seasons, taking this exciting musical on the road.

Big M Promotions have been able to contract Valli Seasons for a few very special shows in Spain during May 2018.

Winner of 57 major awards worldwide, including the Olivier Award for Best New Musical, Jersey Boys, the internationally acclaimed hit musical, told the remarkable rise to stardom of one of the most successful bands in pop music history, Frankie Valli & the 4 Seasons.

Valli Seasons perform all of the songs from this musical, helping the audience discover how four New Jersey boys, from the wrong side of the tracks, invented their own unique sound, were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame, and went on to sell 100 million records worldwide.

This new and exciting group is made up of;

Jon Boydon completed an impressive six-year run in Jersey Boys playing the role of Tommy Devito for over 2,000 theatre performances. Other theatre credits include the West End hit show We Will Rock You as well as What a Feeling, Jesus Christ Superstar, The Rocky Horror Show and All You Need Is Love!

Michael Conway spent three years in Jersey Boys, as well as appearing in Flashdance the Musical, Fiddler on the Roof and Pirates of Penzance. Recently Michael has been travelling the world with two vocal groups. The 4Tunes made up of four West End singers and renowned A Cappella group 'The Magnets' supporting Kaiser Chiefs, Rick Astley and Gregory Porter.

Kieran Ratcliffe was an original London cast member of Jersey Boys where he mostly played the role of Bob Gaudio and also covered the role of Frankie Valli. He also represented Jersey Boys as Bob Gaudio for the 10th anniversary of the Red Cross Ball (Zurich) for Bill Clinton. Most recently he has appeared as a vocalist for Adele and in the Disney movie Mary Poppins Returns movie.

Jake Samuels has appeared in Jersey Boys, Dirty Dancing, Wicked, Edward Scissorhands, Starlight Express and the RSC's Beauty & the Beast.

This sensational production features Frankie Valli & the 4 Seasons worldwide hits, including: Beggin', Can't Take My Eyes Off You, December 1963 (Oh What a Night), Walk like a Man, Bye Bye Baby (Baby Goodbye), Sherry, Big Girls Don't Cry and many more.

The venues and dates are:

Wednesday May 2 - La Sala Banus (Dinner/show)

Thursday May 3 - Salón del Mar, Torre del Mar

Friday May 4 - Moonlight Bar, Benalmadena

Saturday May 5 - Felipe VI Auditorium, Estepona

Sunday May 6 - Avanto Concert room, Mijas Costa

Monday May 7 - To be confirmed

Big M Promotions are the sole promoters of the Valli Seasons in Spain.

Tour information including where to obtain tickets can be found at www.costadeldisco.com or call 658 579 695.

Foreign nationals celebrate their culture

THIS weekend, extended for the first time to two days, Torremolinos hosts the 24th Day of the Foreign Resident in the Plaza de La Nogalera.

So successful have previous events been that the decision was taken by the council to expand to two days (Saturday and Sunday) to accommodate the plethora of gastronomic, artisanal and folklore activities that make up the programme.

The event is intended to highlight the cosmopolitan character of the town and an amazing 28 associations and groups from 21 countries will be promoting their culture and history in the Plaza de La Nogalera.

Organised by the Department of Cultural Promotion, this year at the request of the groups themselves, the programme will take place throughout the weekend, on

A Mariachi band from Mexico performing at a previous event.

Saturday from noon to 10pm and Sunday noon to 6pm.

This Day of the Foreign Resident becomes an opportunity to know and share the traditions of the multiple nationalities that coexist in Torremolinos.

A total of 13,113 people from 120 countries reside in Torremolinos, and they represent one fifth of the municipal register (67,701 people at the end of 2017).

The associations, clubs and international collectives that are taking part in this Day of the Foreign Resident represent Germany, Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Philippines, Finland, Wales, Honduras, India, Ireland, Morocco, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru, Republic Dominican Republic, Russia, Singapore and Venezuela.

A dry pleasure

BACCHUS CELLAR

by Lorenzo Barbareschi

SHERRY, an anglicisation of the Spanish Jerez, is a fortified wine from white grapes grown near Jerez de la Frontera in Andalucia.

After fermentation the wines are fortified with grape spirit to increase the final alcohol content. Wines suitable for ageing as Fino and Manzanilla are fortified until they reach a total alcohol content of 15.5 per cent. As they age in barrel, the wines develop natural yeast known as flor that helps protect them from excessive oxidation.

Wines chosen to undergo ageing as Oloroso are fortified to reach an alcohol content of at least 17. They do not develop flor and oxidise slightly as they age, giving

Because fortification takes place after fermentation, most Sherries are initially dry, with any sweetness added later.

Jerez has been a centre of viniculture since Phoenician times in 1100 BC, with the Moors - after conquering the region - introducing distillation and producing brandy and fortified wine.

During the Moorish period, the town was called Sherryish, from which both Sherry and Jerez are derived.

By the end of the 16th century, sherry had a reputation as the world's finest wine and both Christopher Columbus and Ferdinand Magellan took it on voyages to the New World.

Because sherry was heavily exported to the UK many of the Jerez cellars were founded by British families.

Wines from different years are aged and blended before bottling, so sherry bottles do not usually carry a specific vintage year.

Sherry is traditionally drunk from a copita or catavino, a special tulip-shaped glass.

Happy tasting.

MOST house gardens and apartment terraces in Spain benefit from being designed as a series of interesting mini gardens. Preferably each with its own soul and style, but integrated into an overall holistic landscape that enables great living and garden wanders all the year round.

Even only four to six metres on one or two sides lends itself to five distinct gardens. One on each side and a fifth under a covered terrace. The latter can be attractive all year round with shade from the high sun in summer and the warmth of the low winter sun. Such a terrace garden immediately integrates the house into the garden.

Success in having a number of integrated mini gardens is in choosing what to have in each area and how you separate them. Possible types of mini garden include the following:

- ♦ The pool or jacuzzi garden surrounded by shrubs and trees to give privacy and a sense of being in a natural glade when cooling off or sunbathing. Also this is a good way of hiding the pool away during the non-pool months. So many gardens are dominated by a pool in the most prominent spot where it adds no real interest.
- ♦ Seasonal flower gardens.
- ♦ A Japanese raked chipping or water and rock-based garden.
- ♦ A water garden with fountains and fish ponds.
- ♦ A dry cacti and succulent garden.
- ♦ A rockery or embankment garden.
- ♦ A container garden with 50 to 100 plants in containers of various shapes, sizes and colours.
- ♦ A specialist mini botanical or collector's garden.
- ♦ A rose garden with a collection of climbers, standards and bush forms.

It's a small world

LITTLE TO THE IMAGINATION: A planted garden pond or small vegetable gardens.

- ♦ A mini orchard with perhaps a secret garden hidden in the centre.
- ♦ A vegetable garden planted in the soil or in raised beds or containers.
- ♦ An oasis garden mainly planted with palms or a dry riverbed garden.
- ♦ An Arabic style garden incorporating coloured ceramics in the floor walls, water features, containers etc.
- ♦ A water plant garden around a pond.
- ♦ A desert garden with plants planted through sand or stone chippings layed over black plastic.
- ♦ A lily garden glowing with masses of lilies during late spring and summer.
- ♦ A greenhouse and potting shed garden for those who like to grow from seeds and cuttings.

♦ A wild garden of natural herbs, shrubs and trees allowed to grow fairly wild like a miniature L'Arbada garden, as can be visited near Pedreguer in the Alicante region.

There are so many possible styles to choose from.

If you came to Spain for the sunny weather then get out to enjoy it in a garden created to draw you outside so that you live in it in preference to the house for much of the year.

How to make your home look unique

IT'S easy, when trying to copy the latest design trends, to fall into the trap of decorating your house to look like a model home.

While this no doubt still looks stunning, it's the unique touches that correspond to your own personal taste which make your house feel like a home, and they also help create good talking points for when you have guests over.

this, investing in a good work of art is always a good place to start.

Whether it's a beautiful water-colour painting from a talented local artist or a large print by one of your favourite photographers, art is an investment and speaks volumes to your taste so be sure to choose wisely.

Another easy way to make your home look unique is to juxtapose antiques with more contemporary pieces.

The great thing about antiques is that you're guaranteed none of your friends will find the same marble coffee table in the local furniture shop and they help to add character.

Play around with colour and textures.

Don't be afraid to go bold if you think it's something you can live with. After all bright colours add vibrancy to your surroundings, and can be a real mood booster.

Keep your dog safe this Easter

MOST people think of hot cross buns as a tasty, Easter treat; however, dog owners are now being warned to keep their dogs away from the simple snack as it could potentially poison them.

This is because hot cross buns typically contain ingredients such as sultanas, raisins, lemon zest and the spice nutmeg, which are considered toxic to animals.

While most dog owners are aware of the dangers of giving chocolate to dogs, the dangers of other poisonous foods, such as hot cross buns, are less well known by the public according to experts.

Raisins and sultanas can reportedly cause kidney failure in dogs and cats, as there's a toxic compound in the fruit which also causes vomiting, diarrhoea, and extreme fatigue. Hot cross buns also sometimes contain nutmeg, which contains Myristicin. This compound is toxic to dogs if consumed in large amounts and can cause hallucinations, increased heart rate, abdominal pain and seizures.

Meanwhile citrus fruits, such as lemons, can cause vomiting, diarrhoea and depression in both dogs and cats.

If you suspect your pet has consumed something toxic, consult a vet immediately.

TRAINING DAY: A good trainer is important to make sure your pet stays well behaved.

Owners save by joining a network

ARE you the owner of multiple pets, and need help when you travel or go on holiday? If you are afraid of moving your pets away from home for the time you are planning to be away and concerned about the stress this might cause, think about joining HouseSitMatch.com.

How do you benefit as a home and petowner?

By joining the HouseSitMatch membership network you can meet experienced and checked sitters safely online. For a small annual fee you can meet sitters online, and make arrangements for them to look after your pets and property while you are away. What is more, the sitters do not charge a penny, they look after your pets for free in exchange for free accommodation.

Why join a network like HouseSitMatch?

HouseSit Match is a managed online network which we believe makes us more secure. We ID check all members on joining, and we work hard to ensure that every pet is cherished by checked pet-sitters in your home. All our house-sitters also go through ID as well as police and background checking.

How you benefit as a home and pet owner

Our membership offers a secure network to help you find suitable sitters. We don't reveal your contact details, or your address. You simply post an advert when you are planning to travel, we publish the advert with your dates and photos

Training tips

David THE Dogman

columnists@ewnmediagroup.com

MOST of my readers are aware that I have been involved in the canine industry for over 60 years having covered most aspects from police work, Air Sea Rescue film work and most importantly teaching the public how to bring up their dog. Running all types and levels including agility and flyball at all levels.

Looking at the dog training industry today I, and many of my colleagues, are appalled that so many young people are starting up classes with no experience and have never entered a 'proper' competition apart from their local animal shelter etc. This goes on in many countries especially the USA, UK, Australia, etc.

It is so simple today to join organisations run by bogus individuals who sell certificates over the internet which suggest you have passed many exams and have had hands on experience.

I wonder if they could present their own dog to demonstrate how good they are? However you must not be impressed by this, as they may not have trained the dog. Let them show you what they are able to do with your dog.

Today whilst writing this article I received an email from my friend David Davies who was an instructor in the UK Police force:

'I am afraid everything is about money these days.'

The canine world is going bonkers here in the UK. There are new trainers, behaviourists, walkers, creches etc opening up everywhere.

Most are run by youngsters who have only been around dogs a few years, months in many cases. What I struggle to accept is when this involves creatures. No one can be involved at a senior level with animals until they have many years' experience. I mean experience, not simply had a few dogs, cats etc. One must have worked with them in a very diverse and involved way beforehand.

There is a young man opening up near me. He has minutes of experience and is running a workshop on how to train your dog using motivation, he seems to think [believe] he has invented this concept.

How do you start? Talk to your vet who will be aware of the trainers in the area. In fact many vets now run schools at their premises like Pointer Clinic East.

Take a look at as many schools as you are able to but do not take your pet.

Explain to the 'instructor' that you're thinking of having lessons. Now you can see what goes on, shouting and rough handling is out.

It is also an idea to have a chat with those attending with their dogs to see if they have advanced in training and behaviour.

Look before you book as you would with your children.

YOUNG DOMESTICATED cats rescued from the killing station need kind homes. Fully vaccinated and neutered. We will also deliver to England for a donation to the charity. Please give one of these beautiful cats a home so we can save more from death. Can be seen without obligation at Cat and Dog World Kennels. Tel. 630 197 435 (246764)

CHARITIES

ACE CHARITY "El Refugio" in La Cala de Mijas is a registered charity. We have on average 275 dogs in our care and we receive no help from the Town Hall or the Andalusian government. We desperately need foster homes and adoptants for our many dogs, especially the small ones and puppies who do not do well in a big shelter. We are grateful for any help offered, including donations of food and blankets. Visiting times are from 13.00 to 15.00 and you can always turn up or make an appointment by calling Denise on 669 018 736. Our website is www.ace-charity.org where you can view all the dogs in our care. (93320)

ADANA THE ANIMAL SHELTER IN ESTEPONA. We always need volunteers to walk and socialise with our dogs and help with cleaning. We also need good homes for our animals that you can see on www.adana.es. Kennels open every day 10-1.30, Camino de Casares, near Parque de los Pedregales, Estepona. (5 minutes from the Poligono) For more information call 952 113 467, available from 10.00am until 14.00pm. (93319)

SEPE the horse and donkey charity is open to the public week-ends from 10.00 to 5.00. Volunteers are much needed in all departments and are welcome at anytime. For our riding for the disabled classes, we are also in need of extra helpers. We are nationally registered by the Spanish Ministry of the Interior (164640) but only with your support can we give the equine a voice. If you can just commit to 2 or 3 euros a month it will really help make a difference. You can find us at Lauro Golf Equestrian Centre, Alqueria, Alhaurin de la Torre. Tel. 608 258 950 info@sepeonline.net www.sepeonline.net (93321)

AT SOS ANIMAL REFUGE we have dogs, young and old looking for homes. Some of our dogs have been with us for some time and would love to find a cosy spot to curl up in and a knee on which to rest their heads. If you have room in your heart and home we would love to hear from you. We do not put our dogs to sleep - no matter how old, they are safe with us. For day to day needs and to pay for veterinary care, we much appreciate the support we receive. We desperately need items to sell on our market stall to help raise funds and are happy to come and collect. So if you are having a clear-out, please contact us on 605 227 155. If you would like to know more about re-homing, please call 653 257 875. Visit our website www.sos-animals.org or please phone Sandy on 952 385 923 or 666 814 056 if you would like to make a donation or help in any way. (93317)

ARCH- Andalusian Rescue Centre for Horses welcomes visitors and volunteers to our stables every day from 9-11am. Come along and help out, or sponsor or adopt one of our horses, donkeys or ponies. We always need help with fund raising to look after the abandoned and abused animals. Our aim is to rescue, rehabilitate and re-home. We are a small friendly team - why not join us. Find us in Alhaurin el Grande, behind the Venta Miralmonite on the road from Alhaurin to Coin, (A404), Urb. Viña Borrego, follow the yellow signs. Charity registered with the Junta de Andalusia No 8448. www.horserescuespain.org or info@horserescuespain.org or archrescue@yahoo.co.uk Tel 656 935 613 or 659 408 664 Our Charity shop is located in Calle Melendez Pelayo, just off Calle Gerald Brenan, Alhaurin el Grande. Tel: Liz 600 651 007. We always need volunteers and stock for the shop. We can also arrange collection. (93322)

SITUATIONS VACANT

Join Europe's No.1 Sofa Specialist

DFS, Europe's number one sofa specialist, is now open in Mijas Costa and we have some tremendous job opportunities.

If you are looking for a career, job security, a top salary and great working environment, then get in touch with the DFS recruitment team now. With successful stores throughout Europe, the New DFS store at Mijas Costa is a terrific place to work.

At DFS attitude is as important as experience. So if you have the right personality and you want to be part of something new and exciting in Spain, this could be your chance of a lifetime.

You can apply by emailing your current CV to mijascosta@dfs.co.uk stating the position you are interested in. Final date for receiving CV's will be 20th April 2018. All interviews will be held in store in both Spanish and English.

Salespeople:

With a reputation second to none, built over 40 years, working in sales at DFS provides terrific earning opportunities and is lots of fun. If you have a winning smile, a great personality and enjoy meeting people, DFS will be a tremendous company to work for.

We are only looking for people with a proven retail sales track record, ideally in furniture. You will be given all the support and training necessary to become a success in DFS. You will also need to be fluent in both Spanish and English and any additional languages will also be an advantage.

making everyday more comfortable

PROOFREADER/ADMIN NEEDED FOR IMMEDIATE START

EuroWeekly is looking for a proofreader/admin. This is a full-time position for an enthusiastic, native English speaker who will provide a vital service for the production department.

You need to have an excellent understanding of written journalistic English and be able to work under pressure and to deadline. You'll need to be adept not only at cutting copy but also rewriting and attention to detail is vital. You'll be a team player and have worked with Microsoft Word. Some knowledge of Spanish would be an advantage.

If you feel you have the attributes we're looking for and want to be part of the team at head office in Fuengirola (Los Boliches), then email us your CV with a covering letter to recruitment@euroweeklynnews.com

Peugeot celebrates 206 anniversary

PEUGEOT'S best-selling car of all time, the Peugeot 206, celebrates its 20th anniversary this year.

The original 206 was launched in the form of a hatchback in 1998 and had seen over 5.4 million global sales by December 2005.

The car remains Peugeot's best-selling vehicle to date with 5.1 million sold in Europe and 8.3 million globally.

In celebration of the landmark anniversary, Peugeot took on the challenge of recreating one of the most iconic 206 adverts, 'The Sculptor.'

The advert was originally filmed in Jaipur, India, in 2003 and depicted a young man converting his Ambassador into a 206 after seeing the car in a newspaper advert. The man makes the modifications by repeatedly crashing his Ambassador into a wall and encouraging an elephant to sit on it to make it resemble the Peugeot 206.

ICONIC: Peugeot's 2003 'the Sculptor' advert (inset) has been recreated as part of the celebrations.

the Peugeot 208 GTi, using a team of engineers at Ajeenkya D Y Patil University, based in Pune, India.

Mark Pickles, Peugeot marketing director, said: "It's been 15 years since 'The Sculptor' advert appeared on TV screens and as Peugeot has recently acquired the Ambassador brand, it seemed a fitting way to mark the 206's anniversary year.

"The outstanding work that the Ajeenkya D Y Patil University team has put into the vehicle modification has been incredible to watch.

"The anniversary of the Peugeot 206 is a great opportunity to recognise the vehicle's success in becoming Peugeot's best-selling model of all time. On sale between 1998 and 2008, the 206's reliable build and iconic design made it a popular choice of vehicle."

Lancia rally car set for comeback

LANCIA has announced a limited run of new Stratos cars 40 years after the original went out of production.

The car, known for its success in rally racing, is set to be revived in three different models: a supercar, a GT racer and a Safari rally version.

The company has planned a 25-car run with each model expected to fetch around £600,000 (€676,000), although this has not been confirmed.

It will feature a short wheelbase, an angular nose and a rear spoiler lip all reminiscent of the 1970's Stratos which made its name during rally's golden age.

A Ferrari V8 has been floated as the engine which can produce around 550bhp.

The new Stratos will also have a lightweight body with suspension tuned for tight roads.

Each model is set to be styled according to buyers' tastes.

This means you could completely recreate the 1970's version, provided you have the money.

The interior harks back to the original Stratos with its stripped-back dashboard design and even includes storage for race

Dyson set to enter electric car market

ELECTRONICS maker Dyson has announced it has earmarked £2 billion (€2.25 billion) for an electric car project.

The company is planning on a starting range of three vehicles but it will not include its 'solid-state' battery in the first design, according to British media. Dyson declined to confirm this.

The first of the three new cars will reportedly have a limited production run in the single digit thousands before output is ramped up for the latter two.

Sir James Dyson, the firm's founder, said the first model would look different to anything on the market when the company first unveiled the project last September.

He added he was confident the company would meet its target to have the new car ready for sale by 2020/2021.

Dyson is weighing up whether to include lithium ion batteries in the first car. There are plans to use solid-state ones in the latter two, according to sources quoted in the Financial Times.

The company has been developing solid-state batteries for years. They are able to charge faster and last for longer.

New Mercedes C-Class comes with 'well-being' features

MERCEDES has unveiled its new C-Class model which is equipped to pump sounds and smells into the inside and massage the driver.

Comfort control settings that play music to best fit a given mood and changes in lighting to set the atmosphere are also set to be included.

The car will be available as a saloon or estate when it makes its debut later this year.

It is also set to include self-driving technology that originally featured in the company's S-Class model. The system consists of cameras and radars capable of seeing up to 500 metres that then help the car adjust its speed for roundabouts, junctions or sharp bends.

The multimedia system is controlled through a 10-inch central screen mounted on the dashboard. This will be touch-based, with some features also compatible with voice control.

The 3D Sat Nav will warn the driver about weather as well as giving information on petrol stations, parking and tourism as part of a 'concierge service.'

Prices are expected to start at around £30,000 (€33,000) when the first cars are delivered in August.

CREATURE COMFORTS: The car includes mood music and lighting and an onboard computer assistant.

Real host Atletico in Madrid derby

REAL MADRID host rivals Atletico in the Madrid derby on Sunday, with both sides looking to strengthen their positions in this year's top four.

Atletico moved to within nine points of leaders Barcelona after a 1-0 victory against Deportivo on Saturday, with Kevin Gameiro's goal enough to separate Atletico and the struggling side.

They travel to a Real side who themselves come into the game off the back of some good form, having won all of their La Liga games in March and got themselves up to third in La Liga.

A win for Real will see them move to within just a point of their Madrid rivals, but a win for Atletico would see them move five points clear and all but guarantee Champions League football for next season.

Elsewhere, Barcelona will look to continue their unbeaten run in La Liga against Leganes after they extended it even further in dramatic fashion during a 2-2 draw with Sevilla last weekend.

But it was not meant to be for Sevilla as Barcelona scored two in the final two minutes of the game through Luis Suarez and Lionel Messi to ensure their record run continued.

Barcelona can now make it 38 games unbeaten in La Liga as they host Leganes on Saturday almost a year to the day since they last suffered defeat in the league; a 2-0 loss to Malaga on April 8, 2017.

Tomorrow (Friday), Malaga travel to Deportivo in a battle at the bottom of the league, having registered their first win of 2018 last time out against sixth placed Villarreal.

Chory Castro's penalty was enough to give the Malaga boss his first win since taking over the side in January and register Los Boquerones' fourth win of the season, but was not enough to take them off the bottom of the table.

Clarence Seedorf's Deportivo La Coruña find themselves in a similar position, struggling to survive and have picked up just one win in their last 16 La Liga matches.

Elsewhere, Sevilla will look to get back into the Europa league spots against Celta Vigo after being leapfrogged by Real Betis, who went into sixth following their win against Getafe.

The Champions League quarter-finalists have slipped out of the top six having picked up just one point from their last three games.

In the weekend's other fixtures, Real Betis host Eibar on Saturday, Sunday sees Levante play Las Palmas before Real Sociedad take on Girona and Villarreal face Athletic Bilbao on Monday.

Premier League preview

Derby day could see Citizens crowned

MANCHESTER CITY can officially wrap up the Premier League title with six games to spare if they beat bitter rivals Manchester United at the Etihad on Saturday.

Pep Guardiola's side moved to within just one win of the title after a 3-1 victory over Everton on Saturday as they became just the third Premier League side to beat all other teams in a single Premier League season.

First half goals from Leroy Sane, Gabriel Jesus and Raheem Sterling were enough to blow away the Merseysiders on the day, despite a 63rd minute consolation from Yannick Bolasie.

The result means just a win against United at the Etihad on Saturday will be enough for City to wrap up their third title in the past seven years and the earliest title ever to be won in Premier League history.

Elsewhere, Liverpool will look to overtake Manchester United into second place as they host Everton at Anfield in the Merseyside derby.

The Reds come into the game in scintillating form having lost just one of their last eight games as they continued their good run of results with 2-1 win over Crystal Palace.

Having fallen behind to an early Luka Milivojevic penalty, Sadio Mane equalised early in the second half before Mo Salah's 29th Premier League goal of the season secured the result for Liverpool.

On Sunday, Chelsea face West Ham in a London derby looking to bounce back from their heavy defeat to top four rivals Tottenham last weekend.

The Blues are all but assured not to finish in this season's top four after the damaging 3-1 defeat to Spurs as Dele Alli scored a brace and Christian Eriksen's stunner were enough to condemn Chelsea to their ninth defeat of the season.

The result leaves them eight points behind Spurs in the table with just seven games left to play in the race for the top four.

their position in fourth, while their opponents are desperate for points in the fight against relegation.

Stoke are in real danger of relegation from the Premier League this season and currently sit in 18th place, eight points away from safety following last week's heavy defeat to Arsenal.

Elsewhere, West Brom play Swansea City at the Hawthorns and will be desperate for a result after they slumped to a record eighth successive league defeat at the hands of Burnley on Saturday.

In the weekend's other fixtures, Watford play Burnley, Bournemouth host Crystal Palace, Brighton face Huddersfield Town, Leicester City are against Newcastle and Arsenal take on Southampton on Sunday.

Spain's RWC decision delayed

GOVERNING body Rugby Europe has again delayed a decision on the outcome of the Spain vs Belgium World Cup Qualifying match.

The Spanish Rugby Federation (FER) has asked Rugby Europe to look into their final qualifier after they lost 18-10 to Belgium which meant Romania qualified for next year's World Cup instead of Spain.

The FER had requested that the officials be changed prior to the match, due to the potential conflict of interest, and have now asked for the game to be replayed on account of 19 decisions they feel were unfair against them.

A Rugby Europe referees' selection committee had an initial meeting in Poznan following the match, which included the Spanish Rugby Federation President, Alfonso Feijoo, before a conference call between the Rugby Europe Board of directors was set to take place on Thursday last week.

It had been thought that a decision would be imminent following the conference call, but that call has now been rescheduled due to the need to 'gather, clarify and share all the additional information' before making an accurate decision.

by Benjamin Park

MALAGA gave themselves a small lifeline in their battle to avoid relegation as they ended their 18 match streak without a win with a 1-0 win over Villarreal on Sunday.

Los Boquerones had not won in the league since a 2-1 win over Real Sociedad on December 10, but fully deserved their victory as a first half Chory Castro penalty was enough to see them past an underwhelming Villarreal side.

The result, just their fourth win of the season, was not enough to take la Malaguistas off the bottom of the table, but did move them to within 11 points of safety with eight games left to play.

On an afternoon with few clear-cut chances, Villarreal had the first real chance of the game as midfielder Pablo Fornals drilled a half volley from outside of the box, but his shot was always rising and whistled just over the bar.

Malaga then responded in the 31st minute as Uruguayan winger Diego Rolan, who proved a menace all afternoon, cut in from the left and curled a right footed shot just over the bar from the edge of the box.

And it was Rolan who brought the game deciding moment just five minutes later, as he danced his way through the Villarreal defence before being judged to have been tripped in the box by Villarreal 'keeper Sergio Asenjo.

Veteran midfielder Chory Castro stepped up to take the penalty and coolly converted past Asenjo in the Villarreal net as he drilled the ball straight down the middle to score Malaga's fourth goal of 2018.

Malaga then had another golden opportunity before the half-time interval but Youssef En-Nesyri could only direct his header from Roberto Rosales' cross straight at the goalkeeper.

Chances were few and far between in the second half but the best chance fell to Villarreal's Roger Martinez in the final minute of the match but, after skipping past two Malaga defenders, he could only drill his shot from outside the box straight at Roberto.

Chory Castro's goal ultimately proved enough for the home side as Jose Gonzalez secured his first win as manager since taking over the side in January; while Malaga also scored their first goal in more than 360 minutes of football.

Los Boquerones now host relegation rivals Deportivo La Coruña in a must-win game tomorrow (Friday) if they are to have any real chance of staying up this season.

Clarence Seedorf is yet to taste victory as Deportivo manager since being appointed in February, with his side picking up just three points from a possible 24 since the Dutchman took charge.

Malaga will leapfrog tomorrow's opponents with a win due to their better goal difference and provided Levante fail to beat Las Palmas on Sunday, will move to within eight points of safety with seven games left to play.

CABOPINO GOLF is located on the border between Marbella and Mijas Costa, opposite the charming little Cabopino port. The course was designed by Mr Juan Ligués Creus, whose layout presents spectacular views of the Mediterranean Sea and the surrounding pine forest.

Ron Garrood, Golf Director of CostaLessGolf, after playing there last week, reports that the course is currently in fantastic condition and playing very well, with manicured tee boxes, consistent quality of bunkers and smooth firm true greens, playing here is a real delight.

The course plays 5.170 metres and is a par 71, with three par 3's, two par 5's and the rest par 4's amongst the many spectacular holes, the par 4, third hole would be the one to mention.

The tee box perched on the side of the cliff presents you with a tee shot that has a drop of nearly 80 metres to the fairway and then you face an elevated green protected by a large bunker.

Holes 13 and 15 are also attractive, with streams and lakes.

Cabopino Golf allows all categories of handicap golfers to enjoy a day out. At the entrance to Cabopino Golf are the excellent facilities of the Golf Academy and Driving Range.

THE CABOPINO COURSE: Offers something for everyone.

The Driving Range has a capacity for 60 players, with a depth of 250 metres and 160 metres wide, distance markers, bunkers and the natural layout amongst the pine forest make an interesting and challenging practice session.

The Academy offers lessons for individual ladies and gentlemen, groups for children and corporate groups.

Cabopino offers outstanding value for two players including shared buggy for only €135 until May 31. Tel 0034 952 661 849 or email enquiries@costalessgolf.com.

Garcia going for Masters

SERGIO GARCIA returns to Augusta National this weekend looking to become just the fourth man to win back-to-back Masters' titles.

The Spaniard enjoyed a fantastic season last year, winning three times on the European Tour including his maiden major win, becoming just the third Spaniard behind Seve Ballesteros and Jose Maria Olazabal to win the coveted Masters green jacket.

He was subsequently named European Tour Golfer of the Year in December but despite his amazing season last year, Garcia's name doesn't appear among the favourites to take the title this time around.

Dustin Johnson, Rory McIlroy, Justin Thomas, Jordan Spieth and a resurgent Tiger Woods head the list of favourites for Augusta, but ahead of this week's competition, which begins today (Thursday), Garcia has admitted that it doesn't bother him where he is placed going into the tournament.

He told Sporting Life: "That doesn't really matter to me because at the end of the day I know what I'm capable of and I know how I'm playing."

"Obviously I feel like my game is in good shape. I'm really happy with all my new equipment. I've had a couple of good weeks so I'm excited to go back there and defend my title as well as I can be and as well as I can do."

"If I'm looked at as a favourite or not it doesn't really matter, because it depends on myself and what I do and or what I believe."

Garcia heads into the competition on the back of marrying his long-term partner last year, while the couple also welcomed their first daughter.

They decided to name her Azalea after the flowers which bloom around the Augusta National course and on his return to the Masters' famous course earlier this week, the 38-year-old told USA Today:

"It is so special. The drive down Magnolia Lane, it's a different feeling, a special feeling. To have Azalea come and see where the idea of her name came from is unbelievable. It's an amazing combination of feelings and sensations."

"I've had a great career and an amazing life, and now it's even better. Winning the Masters, marrying my best friend, an amazing woman like Angela, seeing beautiful Azalea every day. We can't wait to see what the future holds for us."

RETURNING CHAMPION: Sergio Garcia will look to become just the fourth man to win back-to-back Masters' titles this weekend.

by Benjamin Park

LEWIS HAMILTON will look to get Mercedes back on track this weekend as Formula One returns for the first night race of the year in Bahrain.

Last year's champion appeared to be in control of the season opener in Australia two weeks ago and had led until lap 20, before pitting and finding out he was then more than 10 seconds behind Ferrari's Vettel.

Vettel had made the most of the Virtual Safety Car period to essentially use a 'free pit-stop' and came out some 13 seconds ahead of the Brit, with Mercedes later confirming that a problem with an offline tool caused the confusion.

WINNING WAYS: Hamilton will look to get back to the top in Bahrain.

The Ferrari driver went on to claim the Australian Grand Prix, with Hamilton saying he was in 'disbelief' following his second placed finish, but ahead of Bahrain, the Brit told Sky Sport News that the race is anyone's to win.

"We go to Bahrain and there's going to be ups and downs," he said.

"Ferrari are really quick on the straights, they are going to be rapid in the next race, and they are always good when it comes to hot circuits. Bahrain, even though it's a night race, is still tough on the tyres."

"So I really have no idea - but I can tell you it's not going to be easy and it's going to be close."
